Wheat harvest is well advanced in this county though some grain still remains to be harvested. From observations and reports received it is evident the crop is better than was anticipated a month or two ago. The wheat, as a rule, stands thin on the ground and is short in the stalk, but the heads are of fair size and well filled with large plump grains. In a good many instances, where the grain was sowed at an early period last fall, the yield will be very satisfactory and the grain of very fine quality. Grain sown late in the fall, especially in corn ground, is generally very short in quantity and, it is said, in some cases has been ploughed under as not worth harvesting.

A woman who says her name is Mrs. Emma Bennett, and that her home is in Virgiia, was brought to this city from Hampstead, on Wednesday, and sent to the alms house pending an investigation into her sanity. She says she had been in Baltimore at work, but left there and walked to Glyndon. From Glyndon she walked to Hampstead, on Tuesday, and was cared for at Stick's Hotel, Tuesday night. On Wednesday morning State's Attorney Weant was notified about her case and sent Constable Elias N. Davis to bring her to the alms house. She appears to be twenty-five or thirty years old. An official inquiry concerning her sanity will be made on Monday.

The stores and other places of business in this city, with few, if any, exceptions, will also be closed. There is a patriotic tendency to make much of the day, which should be fostered. In response to a general request made by the financial and mercantile institutions of the State, Gov. John Walter Smith, by a proclamation has made Saturday, July 5, a legal holiday. In consequence of this the banks will be closed from Thursday till Monday and the public offices also.

Mr. J. E. Leeper, a horseshoer, of York, Pa., performed a remarkable feat in his trade, at the shop of Mr. George A. Bell, this city, on Thursday, having made four horseshoes in 3 minutes 30½ seconds and shod a horse with them in 5 minutes 24 seconds. The shoes were of the light description with which racehorses are shod and six nails were used in fastening each, instead of eight. The shoes were made from straight bars of iron of the proper shape and weight. Messrs. Elias N. Davis, Atlee W. Wampler and Michael Hann were the judges and timekeepers. They decided that the work was done in a first-class manner, the shoes fitting the hoofs of the horse perfectly.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Matthews were of English birth, but came to this country about 50 years ago. Six children survive her. They are: Mrs. E. J. Thompson, Miss Sue M. Matthews; Messrs. W. E. Matthews, of Sellersville, Pa.; John J., Arthur W. and George M. Matthews, of Baltimore. Mr. Franklin Emory Wooden, a former resident of Hampstead, died at his home in Baltimore on Thursday morning, of complicated liver trouble, in his forty-third year. Deceased was a son of Mr. Wm. S. Wooden, of Hampstead, which he superintended until recently compelled by failing health to retire. He leaves a widow, to whom he was married ten years ago, and two sons. His parents and the following brothers and sisters also survive him: Mrs. John E. Masenheimer, of Manchester; Mr. Wm. L. Wooden, Misses Estella, Cora and Bertha Wooden, of Baltimore. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. E. K. Bell, of First English Lutheran Church. Interment will be made at Loudoun Park.

An interesting all-day anniversary service was held by the Sunday School of the Methodist Protestant Church at Finksburg, on Sunday last, which was attended by probably 600 people, most of whom remained throughout the day. The services were in charge of the pastor, Rev. J. E. Nicholson, and consisted of singing by the school and addresses. The address at the morning service was made by Rev. H. L. Elderdice, D. D., president of Westminster Theological Seminary. The principal address in the afternoon was made by Dr. J. W. Hering, who has attended nearly every anniversary of the school since its organization thirty-four or thirty-five years ago. Rev. S. Simpson, Ph. D., also made a short address. All the addresses were interesting and instructive and were heard with close attention by the large audiences. Charles R. Woods, Esq., led the singing, which was very fine and highly pleasing to the people in attendance. The generous sum of over $48 was contributed in the collections taken during the day, an amount sufficient to defray the ordinary expenses of the school during the entire year.

At the graduating exercises at the Oread Institute, Worcester, Mass., on the 18th inst., thirty-three young women, representing twenty-five States and Canada, received diplomas. Among them was Miss Cora May Schaeffer, daughter of Postmaster M. Schaeffer, of this city. Missouri, Massachusetts and Iowa were the only States from which there were more than one graduate. Canada had two. Miss Schaeffer was one of the ushers on the occasion. Among the exercises were demonstrations, by members of the graduating class, in bread-making, laundry work—ironing a shirt waist—and salad-making. An address was delivered by Dr. C. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University, who said, among other things, that he "believed the world to be at the dawn of a practical education" and that the pupils of the Oread Institute "were at the core of that education." He said he "had attended the graduating exercises of many schools, but had never seen a commencement to compare with this;" that in the type of the exercises the institute was "setting a new example."

Tax Collectors and Tax Levy.

At their meeting on Monday the County Commissioners appointed collectors for the several districts of the county, for the ensuing year, as follows:

The commissioners also, at the same meeting, made the tax levy for State, county and road purposes for the current year. ## WEDDING BELLS.

Green-Friss.

At high noon on Thursday Miss Grace Friss, daughter of Mr. Allen Friss, and Mr. Edward N. Green, of this city, were married at the parsonage of Carroll charge, Reformed Church, the pastor, Rev. James B. Stonesifer, performing the marriage ceremony. The bride's sister, Mrs. Chas. Eckenrode, of Washington, D. C., was matron of honor and Mr. Howard Green, of Hampstead, brother of the groom, best man. The bride wore a gown of white chiffon and carried carnations. The groom and his best man wore the customary black. Only the immediate families and friends of the contracting parties were present. Mr. and Mrs. Green left on the 1.20 train for Atlantic City and were liberally showered with rice by numbers of their young friends collected at the station to witness their departure.

Wade-Blanchard.

The people of this city were treated to a genuine surprise on Friday evening of last week, when it was announced that Miss Helen Geneva Blanchard had been quietly married to Mr. Burton P. Wade, of Ireland, and that they had left by the last train of the day for New York, with the intention of sailing on Saturday for the groom's home beyond the sea. The bride is the only child of Mrs. M. Blanchard and the late B. G. Blanchard, of this city. It is learned that the marriage was decided upon suddenly by the contracting parties on the morning of the wedding day. The bride met Mr. Wade abroad, where she spent several years, mostly in the South of France. Mr. Wade's visits here were not frequent. During the last month he was here, but went about so quietly that his presence was known to few persons. It became necessary for him to sail for his home at once, and it was agreed that he should return about two months hence, when the marriage was to be solemized. At the last moment, however, he prevailed upon his fiancee to consent to an immediate wedding and sail with him across the seas. The hasty decision left no time for the preparation of a trousseau and the marriage was solemnized in the quietest possible manner at the home of the bride's mother, on Green street, shortly before 6 o'clock, Friday afternoon. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. E. B. Taylor, rector of Ascension Episcopal Church of this city. The groom, it is stated, is the owner of a large landed estate in the Emerald Isle. It is said he also possesses a very large landed estate in Texes, and came here recently from that state, where he had been inspecting his possessions. The bride is a young lady of estimable character, amiable and kindly and graceful in manner and those who know her well are assured that Mr. Wade has drawn a high matrimonial prize. It is pleasant to the bride's friends, also, to learn that the groom is a high-toned and honorable gentleman and well endowed with worldly wealth. Many true-hearted wishes for their happiness follow them across the broad Atlantic.

Metzger-Eppley.

Two of the most estimable young people in this county were wedded at the home of School Commissioner John B. Eppley, in Union Bridge, at half-past two o'clock, on Wednesday afternoon. The bride was Mr. Eppley's daughter, Miss Mary Helen Eppley, and the groom Prof. Elmer C. Metzger, a member of the faculty of the Maryland Collegiate Institute, who was called to that institution a year ago, from Delphi, Ind. Miss Edna K. Eppley, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Prof. C. W. Roller, of the Collegiate Institute, best man. The bride wore a gown of white organdie, trimmed with lace and cream satin ribbon, and carried Bride roses. The bridesmaid was similarly attired. As the bridal party entered the parlor Miss S. Marie Myers, of Union Bridge, rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march in a very skillful manner, and, while the ceremony was being performed, "O, Promise Me," very softly. Elder Charles D. Bonsack, of the German Baptist Brethren's Church, Meadow Branch, was the officiating minister and performed the marriage ceremony, according to the form of the denomination, in a very impressive manner. After the ceremony a reception was held and a most bounteous and tempting wedding luncheon served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John B. Eppley, parents of the bride, and family; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Eppley and family, Miss Nellie S. Heefner, of Waynesboro, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Eppley, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Eppley, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Brown, Elder and Mrs. E. W. Stoner, Mrs. John D. Myers, Mrs. C. H. Stein, Misses S. Marie Myers, Jesse Hollenberger, Grace Lee Rinehart, Mary S. Repp, Stella Smith, Prof. J. J. John, of Union Bridge; Prof. Isaac S. Long, of Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hesson, Mrs. A. H. Huber, Misses Anna Eppley, Rebecca Eppley, of Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. John Garber, of Frederick county; Mr. and Mrs Samuel Repp, Miss Nannie Repp, of Johnsville; Miss Margaret McDowell, of Baltimore; Miss E. Bettie Ensor, of New Windsor, and others. Prof. and Mrs. Metzger left by the fast mail train at 5.45 o'clock for a trip to Atlantic City, where they will remain two weeks. The bride wore a going-away gown of brown Venetian cloth, with white silk waist, and black and white hat. The bridal presents were numerous, beautiful and valuable. The editor of the SENTINEL extends his hearty congratulations and best wishes to the happy young couple and at the same time returns thanks for the courtesy of a box, of generous size, filled with cake, confectionery and other articles from the wedding luncheon.

They Praise Sheriff Crawford and Alms House Steward Hann.

The venerable Goldsborough S. Griffith, president of the Maryland Prisoners' Aid Association, and Rev. W. C. Stoudenmire, the general agent, recently visited the jail and alms house of this county, among others, and are quoted as speaking in complimentary terms of their condition.

"The jail," they say, "is in good sanitary condition and nicely kept by the sheriff, Mr. F. A. Crawford and his deputy. Religious services are regularly held for the prisoners by the students from the Western Maryland College, located in Westminster.

"The almshouse, near Westminster, contained 31 inmates; 13 male and 18 female. Of the above there are two colored male and two colored female. This institution is in good sanitary condition and exceptionally good care is taken of the poor unfortunates by Mr. E. B. Hann, the superintendent, and his wife, the matron. Comfort and good cheer prevail and we were glad to see the marked change. Religious services are held every Sunday by a committee from the town and the college. One of the insane women, at times very violent, ought to be placed in an insane asylum, where there are proper facilities.

"The County Commissioners, Messrs. D. S. Diehl, J. N. Dehoff and D. J. Hesson, called on us at the almshouse and gave us a very pleasant interview, out of which we hope for some good results."

For the Sentinel.

Death and Burial of Abraham Long.

Near Sams Creek on last Monday morning Mr. Abraham Long died suddenly, while sitting in his chair, and on Wednesday afternoon his remains were interred in the cemetery of the M. E. Church at Bethel. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. David E. Stem, Charles Nicodemus, Frank Roberts, Fred. Sharretts, William Devilbiss and Morgan Nicodemus; Charles P. Baile of New Windsor, funeral director. The funeral discourse was delivered by Rev. B. F. Clarkson, of Unionville, assisted by the preacher in charge, Rev. R. Kolb. The assemblage of people was quite large considering it was harvest time. Mr. Long was for many years a consistent member of the M. E. Church at Bethel and was very much respected by all his neighbors and acquaintances. One son, Mr. T. Milton Long, and three daughters, Mrs. Mary Sharretts, Mrs. Lutie Ecker, and Mrs. Cecilia Stitely, survive him. His wife died some months ago. The age of the deceased was 82 years, 3 months and 18 days.

"The Rev. Dr. Jeremiah Zimmerman has just received the degree of Doctor of Laws (LL. D.) from Pennsylvania college at Gettysburg, the leading Lutheran college in this country. This degree was conferred for scholarship.

"At the meeting last evening of Central City Commandery, Knights Templar, of which the Rev. Dr. Zimmerman is eminent commander, Mayor J. B. Kline, captain general, congratulated the commandery on the eminent distinction of being the only commandery in this country having as its commander, one who has been so highly honored for his scholarship in receiving the degrees of Doctor of Divinity and Doctor of Laws.

"Chancellor J. R. Day and former Dean Leonard of the Syracuse university, were among those who recommended and urged the conferring of the degree of Doctor of Laws by by the Pennsylvania college upon Dr. Zimmerman, and they gave the highest endorsement of his scholarship.

"Dr. Zimmerman is well known as an extensive traveler, having spent several years in continuous travel in Europe and the East for study.
