LOCAL ITEMS.

315 tickets were sold at the ticket office, this city, on Sunday for the Linwood campmeeting.

Advertisements for the public sale of some valuable real estate will be found in the SENTINEL.

Mr. Joseph B. Taylor, of this city, has accepted a position in a wholesale millinery house in Baltimore.

Dr. B. G. Franklin, of this city, has sold his farm, containing 131 acres, near New Windsor, to Mr. Lewis C. Zile, for $8,000 cash.

Some improvement is noted in the condition of Postmaster Milton Schaeffer, who for a week or ten day has been confined to bed with a maligant carbuncle on his neck.

State Auditor George R. Ash, Esq., of Cecil county, was in this city, this week and examined the account books in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court and Register of Wills.

The potato crop in this county, it is said, will be a large one and on the strength of the outlook prices have declined to 35 and 40 cents per bushel. Earlier in the season they sold as high as 80 cents per bushel.

Chicken thieves are committing depredations at the West End of this city and in the neighborhood of West Main street and Pennsylvania avenue. Somebody suggests that a dose of shot might prove a good preventative of this sort of thieving.

Mr. Simon P. Weaver, of this city, attended the session of the State Camp, P. O. S. of A., in Baltimore, this week, as the representative of Camp No. 5, of this city. There are 9 camps in this county, of which Camp No. 15, at Winfield, has the largest membership, numbering 122.

The firm of Messrs. Ellis & Bonsack, commission merchants in Baltimore, of which Elder Charles D. Bonsack, near this city, is a member, has removed from No. 305 South Charles street, to No. 17 W. Camden street. The change of location was made necessary by the growth of their business.

Mr. Joseph Myers, of Tyrone, left a generous basketful of fine peaches at the SENTINEL office, on Wednesday, for the employees. Mr. Myers has 500 to 700 bushels of peaches on his trees this season and will have them for sale up to the 1st of October. It is his intention to frequently visit this city with a supply to be disposed of at reasonable prices.

The County Commissioners, at their meeting on Monday, passed an order, upon the certificate of two physicians, that Annie C. Kitzmiller, of Franklin district, be sent to the Second Maryland Hospital for the Insane, at Springfield, as an insane pauper, and there detained until the restoration of her reason and her discharge according to law. Other business transacted at the meeting was of routine character.

Mr. Josephus Stonesifer, a well known resident of this city, who for many years industriously followed the trade of shoemaking, died at his home on Ralph street, on Thursday morning, from cancer in the face, with which he had been suffering for over two years. Mr. Stonesifer was about 65 years old. He leaves a widow, one son and two daughters, all grown. His remains were interred in Westminster Cemetery yesterday afternoon.

The Sunday School of Centenary M. E. Church, this city, picnicked in the grove at the pool of the Westminster Water Company on Thursday, and the Sunday School of the M. P. Church at the same place on Friday. A union picnic of the two schools was intended, but the threatening weather in the early morning led to a postponement. Later the school first named resolved to take the risk of rain and carried out its part of the original program, encountering only a slight sprinkle.

On Saturday last Chas. E. Fink, Ivan L. Hoff and Benj. F. Crouse, Esqs., trustees, sold all the real property belonging to the estate of the late Jesse Fleagle, near Mayberry, as follows: The home farm, containing 92¼ acres and lot adjoining, containing 5 acres, to Mr. John C. Spangler, for $3250; a tract containing 36 acres, 25 square perches, to Martha J. Shriner at $17.25 per acre, $623.69, and a wood lot containing 6¼ acres, at $40 per acre, $250; total, $4,123.69. Messrs. Roberts & Crouse were the solicitors.

Milton Lugenbeel, alias Harry Alexander, who was arrested in Baltimore on a charge of larceny, was brought here on Thursday afternoon, and, in default of bail, committed by Justice William Moore for the action of the grand jury at the November term of court. The specific charge against him is the larceny of two gold watches, a toilet set and a watch chain from Mrs. Melville and another lady at Gaithers. The accused formerly resided in Franklin district, but now claims to be a citizen of Baltimore.

Rev. Jas. B. Stonesifer, pastor of Carroll charge, Reformed Church, who had been spending several weeks at Winchester, Va., and other points in that vicinity, was given a brilliant and enjoyable reception by Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Affleck, at their residence in Winchester, on Tuesday evening. About 75 guests were present, many of them former parishioners of Mr. Stonesifer. The handsome residence was beautifully decorated and made especially attractive for the occasion. Refreshments were served and a delightful time experienced by all present.

The wedding of Mr. George E. Kerlinger, of New York, in his boyhood a resident of this city, and Miss Lotta Lee Fisher, of Baltimore, which was set for Thursday, at Trinity M. E. Church South, on Madison avenue, did not take place, on account of the serious illness of the intended bride's mother. The church was lighted and crowded with friends of the parties. Rev. W. H. D. Harper, presiding elder of the district, was in the altar waiting for the arrival of the bridal party, when he was handed a note explaining the situation and announced that the wedding had been postponed.

The August non-jury term of the Circuit Court for Carroll county, which began on Monday last, transacted very little business and the court was in session for the disposition of cases for about the briefest period of any term in its history. Associate Judge Thomas was on the bench and appointed Pius J. Orendorff and Robert D. Hewitt, bailiffs at the gates. The dockets were called and contain 117 trial cases, 22 originals and 8 appeals, all of which were continued till the November term. The recognizance docket was called and ten or twelve peace cases disposed of. The whole time occupied in the session was about two hours.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edwin Weaver, of this city, with their son, Mr. D. H. Weaver, and wife, of Coatesville, Pa., are at Ocean Grove, N. J. The Messrs. Weaver called at the office of the Ocean Grove Times, soon after their arrival, and received a most cordial greeting from the editor, Mr. John E. Quinn, a former Westminster boy, who still cherishes a warm regard for the place and for many of its people. Mr. Weaver, the elder, in writing to a friend in this city, says Ocean Grove and Asbury Park, which are only separated by a space that can be walked over in five minutes, "beat Atlantic City all to pieces." Mr. Weaver relates some interesting experiences of the sights and scenes through which his party is passing.

When Col. and Mrs. Wm. A. McKellip entered the dining room of The Westminster, at the dinner hour on Sunday last, they were surprised to find all the other guests of the house already present and standing to receive and greet them, and to see the room beautifully and profusely decorated with flags, flowers, &c., while on their table was a pyramid of choice flowers arranged to display the national colors. The meaning of the scene was comprehended by them when Rev. D. G. Miller, who, with his wife, was present, at the request of Mrs. Crout, the genial hostess of the Westminster, offered up a fervent prayer, invoking the Divine blessing and protection upon them in their new relations beyond the sea. They were visibly and deeply affected by the compliment, which was paid them through the thoughtful kindness of Mrs. Crout.

Battery B, Fourth U. S. Artillery, which had been in camp at Mt. Gretna, Pa., passed through this city on Thursday, on its return march to Fort Meyer, Va., near Washington, D. C., where it is stationed. The battery, which is under command of Capt. S. M. Foote, comprised six guns and as many caisons, manned by 108 men. Its horses, which are in fine condition, number 106 and there are 12 mules with baggage wagons and ambulance. The battery came here from Hanover, Pa., on Thursday morning, and shortly before noon halted on West Main street, where the noonday meal of the officers and men was supplemented by a liberal supply of hot coffee, watermelons, &c., provided by Mr. Charles C. Gorsuch in his usual generous and public spirited manner. The march was then resumed and on Thursday night camp was made on the line of the Washington road, five or six miles from this city. Other officers of the battery beside the captain are: J. A. Moore, first lieutenant; C. C. Weisel, second lieutenant, and J. C. Gregory, surgeon.

President of Two Colleges.

At the opening of the ensuing collegiate year Dr. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland College, will assume also the presidential chair of Adrian College. This college is in the thriving little Michigan city of the same name, which has a population of 10,000. Adrian College was organized in 1859, is co-educational, is under the control of the Methodist Protestant Church and sustains much the same relation to that denomination in the West that Western Maryland College does in the East. It includes in its board of trustees George C. Smith, the head of the Westinghouse Electrical Manufactory at Pittsburg; Judge William B. Priddy, of Spring Lake, N.Y.; Hon. H. C. Smith, member of Congress from Michigan; F. C. Chambers, president of the American Coal Company, of Steubenville, Ohio, and has property estimated to be worth $225,000. Its catalogues show an average annual enrollment of about 200 students. The president unexpectedly resigned last month. The presidency was tendered Dr. Lewis, and he was urged to accept it, but Western Maryland College was unwilling to give him up. The trustees of Western Maryland held a special session August 5, and consented to Dr. Lewis giving as much of his time to Adrian College as he could, without detriment to the interests of Western Maryland College, and the Michigan college, knowing Dr. Lewis' record at Western Maryland College, has accepted him on these terms. He will proceed at once to engage a new faculty and direct the management of Adrian, making bi-monthly visits there during the year.

Watermelon Parties.

The watermelon party given by Mr. Charles C. Gorsuch of this city, to the white children of the town, at his beautiful residence on West Main street, on Monday evening, was a very successful and enjoyable affair, not only for the children, but for many of their elders, who assisted Mr. Gorsuch and his family in entertaining them or were welcome spectators of the function. The house and grounds were thrown open and were crowded with as happy a set of youngsters as could be found in the country. Electric lights made the house brilliant, while vari-colored lights on the front lawn and chinese lanterns in the grounds in the rear of the residence made them uniquely attractive. An orchestra discoursed delightful music, and dancing in the sitting room interested many of the guests, while games and plays were being indulged in by large groups of children on the rear lawn. These diversions were continued until the watermelon feast was ready to be served, when the tables erected for the purpose were speedily surrounded by crowds of eager boys and girls, who were fed until their appetites were fully appeased. There was no stinting, the supply of watermelons provided for the occasion having been practically inexhaustible. It is estimated that from 600 to 700 persons were about the house and grounds during the evening, while many others viewed the animated scene from the street in front of the premises.

On Tuesday evening the colored children of the city and vicinity were also given a watermelon party, by Mr. Gorsuch, on the grounds of the colored M. E. Church, Union street, and had a very happy time. Numbers of white ladies and gentlemen were spectators of the scene and others assisted in serving the melons.

Carrollton Items.

Mr. John Dutrow, the well known blacksmith of this vicinity, who was stricken with paralysis on Thursday of last week, died on Thursday morning. He was born in this neighborhood and resided here all his life. He was over fifty years old. He leaves a widow, one son and one daughter. The son is married, the daughter single.

Miss Rosie Richards, near Carrollton, spent last week with friends in Baltimore.

The Sandyville Sunday School picnic was held on Saturday last and was largely attended.

The Emory M. E. Sunday School picnic was also held last Saturday and there was an unusually good attendance.

Mr. Michael E. Walsh has put a gate to the entrance of his farm, adjoining that of Mr. Levi Valentine, which is creditable in appearance.

Daniel Items.

Little Ida Ruth Frizzell is very ill with cholera infantum. Dr. Brooks is attending both the sick children.

Col. and Mrs. McKellip Sail For Europe.

Col. and Mrs. Wm. A. McKellip, of this city, sailed from Baltimore for Europe, on Wednesday, on the North German Lloyd Steamship Brandenburg, and were bidden bon voyage by a number of friends, among whom Grand Army comrades of Col. McKellip largely predominated. Collector Stone had placed the tug Guthrie, of the revenue service, at the disposal of the party, which conveyed them to the steamer, where they were joined by others anxious to give the new consul to Magdeburg a parting greeting. After visiting the captain's stateroom, which had been assigned as the quarters of Col. and Mrs. McKellip on the voyage, and in which there were many beautiful flowers, the gifts of friends, the company was several times photographed and pictures taken which were published in several of the Baltimure papers on Thursday morning. A magnificent floral horseshoe, presented by the G. A. R., occupied a conspicuous place in one of these pictures. Just before the steamer sailed Capt. John R. King, representing the G. A. R., addressed Col. McKellip in the following complimentary terms:

Your comrades of the Grand Army Club of Maryland, and representing every Grand Army post in our state, have assembled to bid you and your wife bon voyage on your way to the post of duty to which you have been assigned by the President as consul at Magdeburg, Germany. The presence of so many of your comrades and friends on this occasion is but a reflex of public opinion that the honor so fittingly bestoyed upon you by the President has met the unqualified approval of the press and people from one end of our state to the other.

We cordially unite in congratulating you on being the first Maryland soldier that has ever received the distinguished honor of an appointment to an important consulate, and we feel assured that the confidence reposed in you as a representative soldier and eminently distinguished citizen will not have been misplaced. As you have measured up to the highest conceptions of duty of American citizenship—when the fell besom of war's fierce destruction was sweeping over our devoted land, threatening to forever destroy the proud heritage bequeathed to us by our fathers—so, too, no fear need be entertained that your course in the important position assigned you as the representative of our government will not be alike honorable to yourself, your comrades and your country.

How well we recall the days when public confidence and prayerful hope were centered in the boys in blue fighting at the front—a confidence that was not misplaced and a hope that was not a disappointment.

May He who guided you safely through the fiery furnace of war guard and guide you in the new field of public duty, where, as its official representative, you will be called upon to sacredly guard its honor and protect its every interest.

In responding, Colonel McKellip said:

I confess it is difficult for me to find language sufficiently expressive or words strong enough to convey to you my heartfelt appreciation of, and sincere thanks for, this personal manifestation of your kindness and good will, not only toward me, but to my wife as well. I take it to be a very great compliment at this moment of my departure for a foreign land to be honored by the presence of so many of my comrades to greet and wish us a bon voyage. Let me assure you that the pleasurable recollection of your presence on the Brandenburg today, and the expression of your warm and kindly interest in our welfare will abide with us wherever we shall go or wherever we may be.

But, comrades, I am not vain enough to believe, much less to feel, that you do this wholly on my personal account, but rather because you are pleased, and, to some extent, gratified that President Roosevelt has seen fit to bestow upon one of your comrades, a native Maryland Union soldier, too, an honorable position in the consular service of our country, the first President to accord such an appointment to a native Union soldier of our state since the close of the Civil War, although Maryland sent more than 50,000 of her sons into the Army and Navy to do battle for the right, to take part in the great conflict for the preservation of the Union, which was to determine the very existence of the nation itself, so that government of the people, by the people and for the people should not perish from the earth; and of that large number of men it is a proud reflection for me to know that the county of Carroll, from which I come, contributed well nigh, if not quite, 1,000.

The commission of consul of the United States at Magdeburg, Germany, which President Roosevelt has been pleased to issue to me, is received with all the more pleasure and gratification because it happens that I am the first native citizen, resident in Carroll county, to be accorded a general appointment of any kind by any president, Whig, Democrat or Republican, since its creation, in 1837, now more than 65 years ago, although it is the fourth or fifth county in wealth and population in the state.

It will be my earnest endeavor, by a faithful and courteous discharge of the duties incident to my position, to bring no discredit upon myself, but rather to labor diligently to secure the confidence and good will of the people amongst whom I shall reside, that the trade relations exisiting between them and the people of my country, if possible, may be increased.

Among those present to bid Colonel McKellip good-bye were Colonel and Mrs. S. K. Herr, W. L. W. Seabrook, Capt. T. Leonard Hoffman, Col. J. Woodfin Minifee, Capt. George W. Johnson, Capt. C. S. Birch, Major Fred Brackett, Lieut. John W. Saville, Capt. W. A. Davis, Capt. Fred W. Wild, Charles R. Augenbaugh, Col. B. F. Taylor, Major J. R. Kemp, Gen. Richard N. Bowerman, Dr. A. A. White, Capt. Frank Nolen, George Seibold, Capt. William Keifer, Lieut. H. C. Smith, W. B. Ree l, S. P. Weaver and Geo. A. Siddons. Col. McKellip's daughter and sister, Mrs. Julia Campbell and Miss Maggie McKellip, were also of the party.

As the Brandenburg headed down the river at 2 o'clock there were shouts of bon voyage and a fluttering of handkerchiefs from the pier. The party to see Colonel McKellip off again boarded the Guthrie, which accompanied the steamer to the mouth of the Patapsco. After an exchange of three whistles and shouts of good-bye, the tug returned to this city.

A DISAPPOINTMENT.

By a misunderstanding numbers of the friends and army comrades of Col. Wm. A. McKellip, in this city, were unable to bid him farewell, upon his departure for Magdeburg on Wednesday morning. It was generally understood that he would leave for Baltimore by the 9.11 train, but went on the 8.24 or Blue Mountain express. It was the purpose of his Grand Army Comrades to extend their farewells in a short address by one of their number, and the following was prepared and would have been delivered, but for the misunderstanding mentioned:

COMRADE MCKELLIP:—With feeling and sentiment of sorrow, as well as consolation and pride do we now meet you on the eve of your parting from us. Sorrow is felt by us for the loss of an ever faithful friend and active comrade, and were it not for the condition of yourself and your very highly esteemed partner in life, whose physical health you have so very much at heart, and which all of her very many friends and acquaintences hope will be very much improved by the change of residence and climate our protest to your leaving us would have been entered. But aside from the foregoing, the feeling of pride and consolation is engendered by the fact that you, comrade, have been highly honored by the appointment to such a desirable position, merited by your constant services to your country and friends, and noted and appreciated by those in authority. Now, friend and comrade, as the time of parting is at hand, take with you our sincere prayer for the success and happiness of yourself and estimable wife, which we all wish you to enjoy for a long time.

Freedom Items.

Wesley Chapel Sunday School, of Freedom, held its annual picnic, in Mr. Wilson's Grove, on Wednesday. The Mt. Pleasant Band was present and rendered excellent music, and with the addition of a merry-go-round, baseball and other amusements, it was a happy time for old and young. A large crowd was in attendance, notwithstanding the fact of another picnic in the vicinity and one to come off the next day in the State Hospital grove. The picnic was a success financially also, as everything was sold and the net proceeds exceeded those of any former picnic in the history of the school.

A Jolly Fishing Party.

One of the most interesting and enjoyable events of the season was a large fishing party, made up of ladies and gentlemen of this city, and vicinity, at Double Pipe Creek, on Wednesday. The party started from the residence of Mr. A. I. Geiman and occupied seventeen carriages. Soon after reaching their destination all did ample justice to a sumptuous dinner and then engaged in fishing, which was the principal feature of the afternoon, and was attended with very good luck. When all were satisfied with their success games were introduced and indulged in until supper was announced, and after that the pleasant homeward drive began. It was, indeed, an occasion of rare enjoyment to the participants, by whom it will be long remembered with pleasure. Those who constituted the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Gorsuch, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Geiman, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Leister, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer H. Hoppe, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Little, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Biggs, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Death of Mrs. Rachel Yingling.

Mrs. Rachel Yingling, (nee Miss Flickinger,) while attending the funeral of her sister, Mrs. B. E. Mikesell, at the Reformed Church, Silver Run, on Wednesday, 6th inst., was stricken with paralysis. She was taken to the parsonage, but later in the day was removed to the residence of her sister. Dr. Stewart was summoned and later in the day Dr. Seiss, of Taneytown, was called in consultation, but the combined efforts of these two eminent physicians, and the tender care of loving hands proved unavailing, and she died on Thursday evening, at 10 o'clock. She was the mother of eleven children, 9 of them now living. They are: Mrs. G. C. Harmon, near Uniontown; Mrs. Richard Kane, Westminster; Wm. H. Yingling, near Tyrone; B. Thomas Yingling, near Taneytown; Mrs E. Devilbiss, Pleasant Valley; Mrs. Thos. Myers, Wakefield; John, Maggie and Jane at home. Rebecca died in infancy and Elizabeth died several years ago. Her funeral took place at the Silver Run Reformed Church, Saturday morning, 9th inst., and was attended by a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and sympathising friends, Rev. Stewart Hartman officiating, and using for his text the 90th Psalm, 3rd verse, "Thou turnest man to destruction, and sayest, return ye children of men." The messenger of death came to her without warning, but she was ready for the summons. She was possessed of a quiet cheerfulness that caused all who knew her to love her. Her life page was unstained, in her heart was naught of evil, and to her children she was so dear a possession that life without her seems desolate. She connected herself with the church of her choice, the Reformed, about 57 years ago, at the old historic church, Silver Run, and in all these years her loyalty to the church never wavered. Her delight was to give to the cause of the Lord. Her age was 74 years, 6 months, and 2 days.

A CURE FOR CHOLERA INFANTUM.

"Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker, of Bookwalter, Ohio, "an infant child of our neighbor's was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered, and is now (nearly a year since) a vigorous, healthy girl. I have recommended this Remedy frequently and have never known it to fail in any single instance." For sale by all druggists.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Finksburg M. P. Church will hold a Harvest Home Supper on the church lawn next Saturday, August 16th, beginning at 5 p. m.

MARRIED.

In Union Bridge, August 13th, 1902, by Elder E. W. Stoner, Mr. Walter C. Alexander and Miss May S. Debow, both of this county.

DIED.

In Memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Willet, Deceased.

Dearest mother, you have left us,
We your loss most deeply feel;
But the precious Lord above us,
He will all our sorrows heal.
The cup was bitter, the loss severe,
To part with her, we loved so dear;
The trial was hard we'll not complain
But hope in Christ to meet again.
Forbear, dear friends, to mourn and weep,
While sweetly in the dust I sleep;
But only trust in Jesus name,
And you shall meet me once again.

By her daughter, Mrs. Milton A. Myers.
Pleasant Valley, August 12th, 1902.
