THE OLD-TIME SWIMMING HOLE.

A path that leads by the forest's edge,
Where the south winds murmur low,
Past the worn rail fence and the tang'ed hedge
Where the first wild roses blow:
Then up and over the haze-wrapt hill
And down to the gleaming goal
Where the shadows play through the livelong day
O'er the old time swimming hole.

The tall oaks bend o'er the water's side,
The willows are golden green,
Gnarled roots reach out in the twinkling tide
Where the minnows dart between.
And with hearts a-tune to the song of June
And joy in each youthful soul
We would quickly hie in the days gone by
To the old-time swimming hole.

And then with a leap and a sudden dash
We would plunge in the shady pool,
And there we would linger and swim and splash
And sport in the waters cool
While the ripples raced to the farthest shore
And broke on the pebbly shoal,
And our merry cries reached the arching skies
From the old-time swimming hole.

Ah, me! But the summers have flown since then
More fleet than the wild bird wings,
And we boys have grown to be worldly men
With sorrows that manhood brings;
But whenever a glamour enwraps the hills
And the scrolls of the past unroll,
How the winged thoughts speed over woods and mead
To the old time swimming hole!

"From Frisco to Baltimore."

Under the above heading the Baltimore American of Saturday last publishes the following statement in relation to the prospective extension of the Western Maryland Railroad:

"Before many weeks have passed the gigantic task of tunneling the South Mountain in the vicinity of Buena Vista will be started."

This was the statement made yesterday by one of the civil engineers who surveyed the new Wabash road from Baltimore to Cumberland, Md. The purpose of building this new railroad is to give an almost straight line from the Pacific Coast to tide-water at Baltimore. The engineer said the work of completing the road would be pushed rapidly forward.

The entire survey has been completed, and on Saturday the last data regarding the right of way was gathered in. In a short time the Wabash Company will accept bids for the construction of the road.

COMPLETED IN TWO YEARS.

When asked how long it will take to complete the new line, the engineer replied that it will be about two years before trains can be run regularly over it.

"The biggest part of the job," he continued, "will be the tunneling of the mountain, which alone will require more than a year to complete. This is a big undertaking, and the people generally do not appreciate the greatness of the task of drilling through the very base of the mountain for a distance of more than two miles. Work will be started at either side of the mountain. It will require thousands of pounds of dynamite to blow out the almost solid mass of rock that will confront us.

"From Baltimore to Cherry Run the road will be built in an almost direct line, and from the lattor place to Cumberland it varies but slightly. The new road crosses the main line of the Western Maryland about one-half mile above Midvale, near Edgemont. At Cumberland it connects with the West Virginia Central Railroad thus forming the connecting link between Baltimore and Pittsburg. When this road is completed it will be, indeed, a great transcoatinental line."

NO CHANGE IN W. M. ROUTE.

The civil engineer was interrogated regarding the likelihood of the Wabash abandoning the Western Maryland lines running between Hagerstown and Shippensburg when the new road is completed. He replied that unless some great unlooked for change is made the old Western Maryland will remain as it is and be operated just the same. It is a good investment as it now stands, and it is the purpose of the Wabash Company to improve it materially. The roadbed will be overhauled and some of the curves eliminated. New rolling stock will be added, and altogether the road will be remodeled and placed in good condition.

West of Pittsburg the Wabash system is busy building new connections to bring their business East. In Pittsburg it is buying and taking it by condemnation to get its lines into the city, and so secure a desirable place for its terminals and depot.

It has its eyes on the way out of Pittsburg as well, and is pushing it with much energy. Two railroads will be built to make the connection with the Wabash, one in Green county and the other in West Virginia. Charters were procured sometime ago by A. M. Neeper, at present counsel in Pittsburg for the Pittsburg, Carnegie and Western Railroad extension of the Wabash.

None but the initiated know the accuracy required in a printing office. The average reader who detects a misspelled word or a letter upside-down feels that his work on earth is not accomplished until he has called the attention of the over-worked editor to the glaring defect. He does not notice the thousands and tens of thousands of letters that are in place or the multitude of words correctly spelled, but his eagle eye is glued on the one that is out of place. So it is with our deeds. Man does a thousand good deeds and no attention is paid to them, but if he makes one mistake it is flashed all over the world. A life time may be spent in building up a reputation that that may be wrecked in a moment. The world is a harsh critic, exacting to a fault.

Hoax—"Why is the merchant who doesn't advertise like a man in a row-boat?" Joax—"Because he goes backward, I suppose." Hoax—"No; because he has to get along without sales."

"What ever induced you to use the typewriting machine?"

"Well, it's the only practical way I have ever found of avoiding the bother of dotting my i's and crossing my t's."

Mrs. Closefist—"Oh, George! The baby has swallowed one of your collar buttons." Mr. Closefist—"Great Scott, Maria! I wish you would be more careful with that child. Don't you know collar buttons cost money?"

TRUSTEES' SALE OF VALUABLE

REAL ESTATE,

Situated at Defiance, on the Public Road leading from Winfield to Woodbine Station, on the B. & O. R. R., in Carroll County, Md.

By virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court for Carroll county, sitting as a court of equity, passed in a cause wherein Horace L. Shipley and others are complainants, and Frank I. Lewis and others are defendants, the undersigned, the Trustees named in said decree, will offer at Public Sale, at the store of Horace L. Shipley, in DEFIANCE, in said county, on SATURDAY, September 13th,

1902, at 1 o'clock, P. M., the following described land and premises, being the same of which Larkin Shipley, Esq., late of said county, died seized and possessed:

1st. All that lot or parcel of land lying in the Village of Defiance, being the same on which the said Larkin Shipley resided at the time of his death, containing

26 ACRES, 2 ROODS AND 18 SQUARE

Perches of Land, more or less. The improvements consist of a Two-story Log Frame Dwelling House, containing 9 rooms and surrounded by a beautiful yard, decorated with rare shade trees. There is a pump of never failing water near the house, an orchard of choice fruit, Log Barn 63x21 feet, Buggy Shed, Corn House, Smoke House, Milk Cave, Potato House, and Store House 40x20 feet.

2nd. A lot in the village of Defiance, adjoining the land of John A. Snider, containing of Land, more or less. Improvements consist of a Two-story Log Dwelling House, containing four rooms.

1 ROOD AND 23 SQUARE PERCHES

3rd. A first-class Building Lot in the fork of the Sams Creek and Buckhorn roads, containing of Land, more or less. Improvements consist of a Shoe Shop. This lot is celebrated for having been the site of the first Odd Fellows' Lodge in Defiance.

2 ROODS AND 32 SQUARE PERCHES

4th. A Wood Lot, bounding on the Buckhorn road, adjoining the lands of Silas Jenkins and R. N. Conaway, containing 93 ACRES OF LAND, more or less.

5th. A Wood Lot adjoining the lands of H. A. Shipley and R. N. Conaway, containing

3 ROODS, 27½ SQUARE PERCHES

of Land, more or less.

6th. A Wood Lot contiguous to the above, adjoining the land of L. A. Shipley, containing

2 ACRES, 1 ROOD AND 37 SQUARE

perches of land, more or less

7th. A tract containing

71 ACRES, 3 ROODS AND 1 SQUARE

perch of land, more or less, situate on the east side of the Sams Creek and Buckhorn roads, adjoining the land of John H. Stem, and the tract of mineral land belonging to the estate of the deceased and which will not be offered at public sale. The Improvements thereon consist of a Frame Dwelling House, containing four rooms; a blacksmith shop and a well of never failing water. This lot is all cleared except about three acres and contains some of the choicest farm land in the community. Further information can be obtained of either of the trustees or of John B. Shipley residing on the premises.

All the aforegoing tracts and lots of land, except No. 4, form one body of land and will be offered as a whole and separately and will be sold to the best advantage of the estate.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-third part of the purchase money shall be paid by the purchaser or purchasers to the trustees on the day of sale, or upon the ratification thereof by the Court; and the residue shall be paid in two equal payments, the one to be paid in one year, and the other in two years from the day of sale, with interest, and to be secured by the notes of the purchaser or purchasers, with security to be approved by the trustees.

Mistakes to Avoid.

Not to yield on immaterial matters.
To endeavor to mold all dispositions alike.
To look for perfection in our own actions.
To expect uniformity of opinion in this world.
To believe only what our finite minds can grasp.
To look for judgment and experience in youth.
To expect to be able to understand everything.
To measure the enjoyment of others by our own.
Not to make allowances for the infirmities of others.
To consider everything impossible that we cannot perform.
To worry ourselves and others with what cannot be remedied.
Not to alleviate all that needs alleviation as far as lies in our power.
It is a great mistake to set up our own standard of right and wrong and judge people accordingly.

The Value of Newspapers.

From Danville Register.

As a general thing the people underestimate the value of the daily and weekly newspapers. It is frequently the case that those who abuse the newspapers of their community never contribute a penny toward making them useful. We have known business men to withhold their advertisements and subscriptions from a worthy paper and then find fault if they are not given complimentary notices in nearly every issue. There are preachers, too, who sometimes for the time being forget all about the Gospel and score the editors, when their only sin has been in saying that the preacher delivered a strong, able, forceful sermon.

The newspapers of the country are worthy institutions. If one would pause for a moment and ponder on what this world would be like without honest newspapers, he or she would soon come to the conclusion that the country could not get along without them.

Millions For Pensions.

WASHINGTON, AUG. 27.—The annual report of the auditor for the Interior Department shows that the disbursements from the appropriations for army pensions for the year ended June 30, 1902, amounted to $133,556,039, as follows:

Survivors of the Mexican and Indian Wars and the War of 1812..	$963,020
Invalids	100,707,109
Widows	28,155,687
Minors	33,989
Minors	1,112,304
Dependent relatives	2,400,616
Helpless children	123,139
Army nurses	93,362

The disbursements for navy pensions for the same period amounted to $3,844,702, as follows:

Invalids	$2,617,906
Widows	1,114,939
Dependent relatives	76,091
Helpless children	1,776

The total payments to pensioners were $137,400,741 during the year.

Two Big People.

Because Jane Woolsey, of Litchfield, Ky., arrested for making moonshine whiskey, is too fat to get through the courtroom doors, United States Commissioner Dud. Lindsey telegraphed to Washington for permission to hold court in the open air. It was found that she could not be taken up the narrow stairs leading to the court room. She is 5 feet 5 inches in height and weighs 430.

Wm. D. Lightburn, aged 55, when brought to a police station in New York, last week, for drunkenness, was dismissed because he was too big to go in a cell. He is 6 feet 10 inches in height.

PUBLIC SALE OF A

FINE SMALL FARM, AND WOOD LOT,

NEAR WESTMINSTER, Md.

By virtue of the power and authority contained in the last will and testament of Michael Morelock, deceased, duly admitted to probate by the Orphans' Court of Carroll county, on September 22nd, 1876, and recorded among its will records in liber J. M. P. No. 2, folio 263 &c., and an order of said Orphans' Court dated August 12th, 1902, the undersigned, administrators d. b. n. c. t. a., will offer at Public Sale, on the premises, on

THURSDAY, September 11th, 1902, at 2 o'clock, P. M., all that farm, containing

43 ACRES AND 23 PERCHES OF LAND, more or less, that Michael Morelock, deceased, devised to his widow, Mary Morelock, for life.

This farm is situated on the Uniontown turnpike about 3½ miles from Westminster, adjoining the lands of John Royer, Mrs. Charles B. Roberts, Noah Brown and others. The improvements consist of a Dwelling House of 7 rooms, good Bank Barn of suitable size, Wagon Shed, Dairy and all necessary outbuildings, and a fine young Orchard in excellent bearing condition. There is a good well of water at the buildings; about 3 Acres of the farm is Meadow Land, all the rest is in a high state of cultivation, and will crop with any farm in this productive neighborhood. It is conveniently located as to schools, churches, mills, stores, &c. This is a rare opportunity, for any one desiring to purchase a small farm.

At the same time and place will be offered a Wood Lot containing 62 ACRES OF LAND.

It is situated on the road leading to Wantz's mill, near the road leading from Westminster to Frizellburg, adjoining the lands of Jacob Wantz, William Wantz and others. It is fairly well wooded with good Rock Oak, Hickory and Chestnut Timber.

Terms of Sale.—One third of the purchase money to be paid in cash, on the day of sale, or the ratification thereof by the Orphans' Court of Carroll county, and the balance in two equal payments, one in 6 months and the other in 12 months from the day of sale, the credit payments to be secured by the bonds or single bills of the purchaser or purchasers with approved security, bearing interest, or all cash at the option of the purchaser or purchasers.

What to Teach Your Daughter.

Teach her that one hundred cents make a dollar.

Teach her how to wear a simple muslin dress and to wear it like a queen.

Teach her how to sew on buttons, darn stockings and mend gloves.

Teach her to dress for health and comfort as well as for appearance.

Teach her to arrange the parlor and the library.

Teach her to love and to cultivate flowers.

Teach her to say No and mean it; and to say Yes, and stick to it.

Teach her to have nothing to do with intemperate and dissolute young men.

Teach her to pay regard to the character of those she would associate with and not to how much money they have.

Teach her to have a place for everything, and to put everything in its place.

Teach her that music is an elevating and delightful accomplishment, and should not be neglected if there be enough money to give her instruction in it.

Teach her that the more she lives within her income the more she will save and the farther away she will keep from privation when reverses come.

Teach her to take advantage of every opportunity for reading, selecting such books as will give her suitable mental training and practical information for a good and useful life.

Teach her that modesty is the most attractive of all qualities, and that loud talking or laughter in public not only disgusts everybody that hears it, but will eventually destroy her self-respect.

Teach her a high sense of personal dignity, so that she may regard familiarity of touch or speech as an unpardonable affront to her womanhood.

How many bones in the human face?
Fourteen when they're all in place.
How many bones in the human head?
Eight my child as I've often said.
How many bones in the human ear?
Four in each, and they help to hear.
How many bones in the human spine?
Twenty-four like a climbing vine.
How many bones in the human chest?
Twenty-four ribs, and two of the rest.
How many bones the shoulders bind?
Two in each—one before, one behind.
How many bones in the human arm?
In each arm one; two in each forearm.
How many bones in the human wrist?
Eight in each, if none are missed.
How many bones in the palm of the hand?
Five in each with many a band.
How many bones in the fingers ten?
Twenty-eight, and by joints they bend.
How many bones in the human hip?
One in each, like a dish they dip.
How many bones in the human thigh?
One in each, and deep they lie.
How many bones in the human knees?
One in each, the kneepan, please.
How many bones in the leg from the knee?
Two in each, we can plainly see.
How many bones in the ankle strong?
Seven in each, but none are long.
How many bones in the ball of the foot?
Five in each, as the palms are put.
How many bones in the toes half a score?
Twenty-eight, and there are no more.

Had Been Away Some Time.

An elderly negro was shuffling through one of the local market houses the other morning, basket on arm, and glancing from side to side at the display of meats, vegetables, fruits, &c. A stall filled with fish caught his fancy, and he stopped before it. He seemed uncertain as to the quality of the offering, however, and, after carefully noting that the proprietor was busy with customers, stooped to smell the fish. The proprietor turned and caught him.

"You black scoundrel!" he exclaimed, grabbing the old negro by the collar. "What do you mean by smelling and poking your nose in my goods?"

"Wa'n't smellin' of 'em boss—'deed, I wa'n't!" exclaimed the old fellow, wriggling out of the angered dealer's grasp, but frightened and shaking. "I'se war only askin' th' fish a question, boss!"

"Asking the fish a question?"

"Yas, sah. I war just' askin, 'em," the old fellow went on, "if they had any news from sea lately."

The other customers were interested; and the dealer, feeling somewhat foolish for his outburst of anger, thought he would humor the old chap, and let the incident pass off pleasantly.

"Well, what did the fish say?" he asked, laughingly, and winked to the bystanders.

"Dey said as how they had no news from th' sea lately," came from the old fellow as he dodged further away, "'cause dey haven't been near th' water for a monf!"

Simple Remedy for Insect-Bites.

It is stated that, where or when spirit of sal ammoniac, whose favorable action upon fresh insect bites is universally known, cannot be applied, a simple means to alleviate the pain and swelling due to such bites, when still fresh, is cigar ashes, which are more liable to be obtainable than spirit of sal ammoniac. Place a little ashes from a cigar, cigarette, or pipe upon the part stung, add a drop of water—in case of need, beer, wine, or coffee may be used instead—and rub the resulting paste thoroughly into the skin. It is, of course, preferable to use fresh ashes of tobacco. The action of the tobacco ashes is due to the presence of potassium carbonate, which, like spirits of sal ammoniac, deadens the effect of the small quantities of acid—formic acid, &c.—which have been introduced into the small wound by the biting insect.

The Bootblack Kept His Word.

When John Dunfee, now a millionaire contractor, was a ragged bootblack 40 years ago he sat down on the steps of the Pike block in Syracuse, N. Y., to eat his lunch. The janitor emptied a pail of dirty water on him from an upper window.

"I'll own this block some day," said the lad, "and I'll fire you."

Last week Dunfee bought the block, which is valued at $225,000. The objectionable janitor, however, is not in the block anymore.
