WESTMINSTER, - MARYLAND

W. L. W. Seabrook, - Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 10, 1903.

Ex-Governor Frank Brown has suggested the name of Gen. John M. Hood, former president of the Western Maryland Railroad and at this time holding that relation to the Consolidated Railways Company of Baltimore, as the Democratic candidate for Mayor of that city, at the municipal election next spring. His nomination would, without doubt, be a strong one and a good thing for the Democratic party of Baltimore. It would, however, involve a tremendous sacrifice on Gen. Hood's part and would not add to the honors he has already won as a thoroughly capable and successful railroad manager. He is engaged in much better business than is offered by the mayoralty of Baltimore.

Evidences are multiplying that the people of this country and their Representatives in Congress are becoming aroused to the importance and necessity of some proceeding to curb the rapacity and greed of all sorts of trusts and monopolies. Public officials are becoming bold in their denunciation of combinations and conspiracies to wrest extortionate prices from the people for the necessities of life. The meat combine has been roundly denounced by Assistant Secretary Bringham, who alleges that the price of meat is being kept at a much higher rate than is warranted by the supply of live beef cattle, upon which the price has been largely reduced. Congress is investigating an alleged conspiracy to keep up prices of coal, and bills have been introduced for the purpose of controlling other combinations. The President and Congress are said to be in accord in an earnest purpose to apply all legal means to deal with such organizations. They realize that the growth of these combinations and their exactions upon the people are fast creating a public sentiment that in the end will deal with them without law, unless legal means can be found to correct the enormous and increasing abuses under which the people are made to suffer. Difficulty, however, must be encountered in all government efforts in that direction, on account of the limited and restricted powers of the General Government. A constitutional amendment to enlarge those powers in the direction indicated is badly needed, and, we believe, offers the only solution of a very perplexing and dangerous problem.

The Next Election.

The next election in this State will be an unusually important one on account of the large number of officers to be chosen. In the first place the Legislature to be elected will elect a United States Senator to succeed Hon. Louis E. McComas, whose term will expire March 4th, 1905. Then the Governor, Comptroller of the Treasury and Attorney General are to be voted for and, in Baltimore City and in 18 out of the 23 counties, clerks of the courts are to be elected. Sixteen registers of wills are to be elected, Judges of the Orphans' Court, members of the House of Delegates and sheriffs in all the counties, State's attorneys in most of them, State Senators in Baltimore City, Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Calvert, Carroll, Frederick, Howard, Kent, Queen Anne's, Somerset, Washington and Wicomico counties, many County Commissioners and numerous minor officers.

The electors of Carroll county will vote for the following: Governor, Comptroller, Attorney General, State Senator, members of the House of Delegates, Judges of the Orphans' Court, States' Attorney, Sheriff, County Commissioners and County Surneyor, sixteen candidates in all.

The new owners of the Western Maryland Railroad appear to be making ready for the work of improvement all along the line and for the construction of the connecting line between the western terminus at Cherry Run and the eastern terminus of the West Virginia Central at Cumberland, a distance of about 65 miles. Vice-President Landstreet has announced the organization of an engineering corps which, it is thought, means an early start in building the connecting link. The chief engineer, John O. Barlow, is engaged in preparing plans for the work and it is announced that, as soon as possible after the specifications shall have been completed, bids will be asked for. It is to be made a double-track road and the Western Maryland also is to be double-tracked, the great volume of freight which will pass over it making that a necessity. At the Baltimore tidewater terminus a force is already at work, with machines, removing old piles and grading in the vicinity of what is to be Carroll Station.

Mr. Joshua Crawford, a farmer near Woodsboro, was instantly killed Friday of last week while attempting to drive his team of four horses across the track of the Frederick and Pa. Line R. R., 300 yards south of that place, while a train was approaching. The lead horses had cleared the track but the engine struck and killed the wheel horses and smashed the wagon to pieces. Mr. Crawford was hurled some distance to the left of the engine and when reached by the trainmen was lifeless. He was 56 years old and leaves a widow, one daughter and two sons.

The annual election of officers of the Washington County Agricultural and Mechanical Association was held at the court house in Hagerstown last Saturday afternoon. The old officers were all re-elected, excepting Charles Webb of J. and Daniel W. Reichard, directors. Mr. Webb, who has left Hagerstown, was not a candidate for re-election, and was succeeded by Frank W. Mish. Mr. Reichard was defeated by George M. Stonebraker, after a spirited contest, the latter receiving 208 votes to Mr. Reichard's 79.

Richard S. Hollingsworth, one of the nephews of Mrs. Olivia Warfield, widow of the late Dr. Jesse L. Warfield, has filed in the Orphans' Court of Baltimore notice of a suit to break her will. Mrs. Warfield's estate is estimated at $50,000 and the will and half a dozen codicils thereto distribute the estate, in small sums, to numerous relatives of the testatrix, a few friends and to churches and benevolent institutions.

About quarter before 3 o'clock Tuesday morning Martin E. Sprinkle, of Hagerstown, aged 24 years, a brakeman on the Western Maryland Railroad, was run over by an engine, while shifting freight cars at Emory Grove, and received fatel injuries. Both his legs were nearly crushed off. He was taken at once to the City Hospital, Baltimore, but died about 7 o'clock, Tuesday morning.

A big demonstration will be held at Canton, Ohio, on the 20th inst., in honor of the anniversary of the birthday of the late President McKinley. The occasion will also be celebrated by a number of the Republican Clubs in Baltimore.

The receipts of the Frederick County Agricultural Society last year were $19,679 and the expenditures $18,856.35. Among the expenditures were $1,010 for additional land, $2,241.31 for new buildings, and $3,120.20 for repairs.

Patapsco Items.

We had a snowfall of 4 inches here on Wednesday, but the weather is mild at this writing. Hicks and our hog's melt prophets are not very reliable in their predictions.

Mr. Milton Chew's new store-room at Reese is finished and he has opened a general store in it. He has associated Mr. Wm. Devilbiss with him in the business.

Mr. Wm. L. Richards has just completed the erection of a blacksmith shop in this place. Mr. John Banner has rented the shop and is carrying on the business.

Mr. Jeremiah Ebaugh, near Carrollton, has slaughtered two fine hogs which weighed 894 lbs. We set them down as Prohibition animals, from the politics of their owner. Mr. Aquilla Magee, near Reese, has slaughtered three which weighed, respectively, 450, 500 and 550 lbs. They are rated for like reasons, as of Republican breed. Mr. Calvin Chew, head clerk in Mr. William L. Richards' store, slaughtered two, 18 months old, which weighed 35 and 40 lbs., respectively. They were of Prohibition stock. Mr. Chew says they yielded nothing for pudding and pon-hoss and he has to feast on sauer-krout and hog jowl. He expects to improve the breed and come in for the big sausage next year. Anent that sausage, Tom, our champion eater, contemplates a trip to Bankert's Mill to get a whack at the 66-foot one which he thinks might make him a good square meal.

Dennings Items.

A most interesting and enjoyable surprise was given to Misses Grace V. and Maude S. Stem, on New Year's eve, by their friends. The evening was spent very pleasantly, playing all sorts of games and singing suitable for the occasion. At a late hour refreshments were served in abundance, after which they departed for their homes. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Stem, Misses Grace V. and Maude S. Stem, Bettie B. Manahan, Stella A. Aldridge, Golda M. Frizzell, Mildred M. Myers, Mary E. Brandenburg, Mayme D. Gosnell, Pearl C. Mercier, Margaret Alice Stem, Florence M. Stem, H. Pauline Stem, Messrs. Robert John Brandenburg, Ezekiel Tom Brandenburg, Raymond Clayton Myers, Roscoe Clarence Aldridge, Arthur Nace Albert, Harvey Willie Frizzell; John William Crumbacker, Roanoke, Va.; Carroll Ezra Stem; Charlie Radcliff Cummings, of Baltimore; Fred Yohn Cronk, of Winfield; David Hamilton Stem, of Dennings.

On the following evening a very pleasant social was given at the residence of Mr. Milton Myers, of Sams Creek. We were beautifully entertained by Miss Margaret Alice Stem on the organ and Mr. David Hamilton Stem on the violin. Then with a most delightful duet by Mr. Charles R. Cummings, on the banjo, and Mr. David H. Stem, on the guitar. Their selections were: "Aint Dat a Shame," "Bill Bailey Won't You Please Come Home."

The shooting matches which were held at Dennings on Christmas and New Year's days, by D. H. Stem, were very interesting. The Dennings boys are dexterous. Holly Bloom won three geese, David Stem two geese and three turkeys, Dr. Stitley two turkeys, Joshua Owings a turkey, Edgar Fowler a goose and others different prizes.

The young ladies of Dennings had a very interesting rifle match on Christmas day. Among the winners were: Miss Stella A. Aldridge, Miss Maude S. Stem; Mr. George Sawers, of Baltimore. There was a tie between Miss Stem and Mr. Sawers. "Of course the prize was divided."

The young folks of Sams Creek and Dennings have met on the ice frequently.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stem were presented a most delightful gift on Christmas morning. A hen came marching in the yard with eight beautiful little chickens.
