WESTMINSTER, - MARYLAND

W. L. W. Seabrook, - Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 31, 1903.

The space occupied by the account of the controversy between the Westminster Water Company and the Mayor and Common Council of this city deprives the editor oft he opportunity to comment upon any question of general interest this week.

More Milk Note Suits Instituted.

The Frst National Bank of Westminster, by J. Milton Reifsnider and Osborne L Yellott, attorneys, has instituted suits in the Circuit Court for Baltimore county against Oscar Almony, Whitehall; William G. Brown, Gwynnbrook; Christian H. Crouse, Glyndon, and William Eckhart, Phœnix, to recover on certain promissory notes given by them to the United Milk Producers' Association and indorsed to and discounted by the plaintiff. The amounts claimed are: Oscar Almony, $96.25 and interest; William G. Brown, $82.50 and interest; Christian H. Crouse, $82.50 and interest, and Wm. Eckhart, $55 and interest.

The notes in these cases are in the same class as those in the case of the bank against Mr. Levi Black, of this county, which was decided last week, by the Court of Appeals, in the bank's favor. The suit in that case was brought by the bank to recover from Mr. Black the amount due upon two negotiable promissory notes made by him and payable to the order of the United Milk Producers' Association, now insolvent. To the declaration containing the common counts and also alleging that the notes were endorsed to the plaintiff by the payee before the Milk Association's insolvency the defendant filed 12 pleas, the substance of which was that the notes were not so indorsed; that J. B. Councilman, the secretary and treasurer of the association, had not the power or authority so to indorse them; that the notes were procured by fraud; that the notes were deposited in the Old Town Bank, of Baltimore, as collateral security for advances, and that the Old Town Bank was to hold and negotiate the same, while the plaintiff knew the notes were given for the accommodation of the association. A demurrer to most of these pleas was sustained and judgment was entered for the bank. The Court of Appeals affirms this judgment, saying that no agreement in writing was made as to the notes being for the association's accommodation or as to their being for collateral security, and that even were the facts as stated in pleas allowed, the bank could recover, as it was a purchaser for value without notice.

Death of Rev. Philip C. Edwards.

Rev. Philip Corin Edwards, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Doubs, Frederick county, died on Monday morning at 3.50 o'clock of gastritis after an illness of nearly four months. He was born June 14, 1840, in Trythoga, Gulvul parish, Cornwall, England, which is near the town of Penzance, in Mounts bay and in sight of the Lizard Point and Mousehole, the home of the world-wide renowned class leader, William Carvasso.

As stated last week Mr. Edwards was a brother of Rev. John Edwards, a former pastor of Centenary M. E. Church. In early life he worked in the tin mines of Cornwall and afterwards engaged in farming. He came to this country in 1881 and entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1884.

Mr. Edwards was twice married. His first wife was a sister of the wife of his brother John. By the first marriage there were a daughter, Mrs. Reverdy King, who lives in Calvert county, and two sons, Revs. John R. and Richard N., who are both ministers in the Baltimore Annual Conference. Mr. Edwards married a second time Miss Jodie Vincent, of Baltimore, a member of Jefferson Methodist Episcopal Church, and to them were born two sons and a daughter, the eldest son, Walter, being 15 years old and the younger, Reid, 14 years old. The daughter, Mary, is 12 years old.

Mr. Edwards' mother, who lives with her son, Rev. John Edwards, at Pikesville, Baltimore county, is in her eighty-seventh year and has a sister in Melbourne, Australia, in her ninety-second year.

A frightful railroad collision occurred on the Central Railway of New Jersey, near Westfield in that State on Tuesday night. A Reading Express train of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, while running at a speed estimated at 65 miles per hour, crashed into the rear end of a local passenger train, the heavy engine plowing its way into the rear car, which was in turn driven into the next one and that into the third, wrecking them completely. The fourth car was also partially wrecked. The three shattered cars took fire and prevented the rescue of many of the injured, who perished in the flames. The engine of the Reading Express turned over on its side and both the engineer and fireman were very seriously injured. None of the passengers on the Express were hurt. The accident occurred by the local train, which left New York fifteen minutes before the Express, having been detained by a hot box. A flagman was sent back and when the train was ready to start called in. He left torpedoes on the track as signals, but they were either not observed or the tremendous momentum of the flyer could not be checked. The local train was moving slowly when the collision occurred. The number of the dead has been ascertained to be 20, with several others supposed to be fatally and about 50 more or less seriously injured. The collision, it is alleged, was caused by the failure of the engineer of the Express to obey the danger signals set by the flagman of the local train.

George M. Fultz, one of the best-known residents of the upper end of Baltimore county, died Saturday morning at his home, near Hoffmanville, in the Sixth district. He was taken ill while feeding the stock in the barn. The cause of death was heart trouble. Mr Fultz was about 66 years old and was superintendent of the paper mill at Beckleysville, belonging to the Shrewsbury Savings Institution previous to its destruction by fire a short time ago. He was married twice and leaves one son, Rev. Chas. E. Fultz, pastor of Otterbein Memorial U. B. Church at Woodberry for several years. The funeral took place on Tuesday at 10 o'cock from the Methodist Episcopal Church at Eklo. Sixth district. Mr. Fultz was a member of Spicer Post, of the Grand Army, and that organization had charge of the obsequies. He served in the Eighth Maryland Regiment, Volunteer Infantry.

The formel presentation of the statues of Charles Carroll of Carrolton and John Hanson, of Maryland, to be placed in Statuary Hall at the National Capitol, will be made by Ex-Gov. John Lee Carroll and Mr. Douglas H. Thomas today. Exercises in connection with the presentation will be held in the Senate, beginning at 1 P. M., and in the House of Representatives beginning at 3 P. M. In the Senate Louis E. McComas and Geo. L. Wellington, of Maryland; John W. Daniel, of Virginia; Chauncey M. Depew, of New York; George F. Hoar, of Massachusetts, and J. B. Dolliver, of Iowa, will speak, while in the House addresses will be delivered by Representatives George A. Pearre and Charles R. Schirm, of Maryland; John Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, and John J. Fitzgerald, of New York.

Last Saturday night a wagon, with twelve passengers, slipped off the icy road between Thurmont and Deerfield and fell down a steep embankment, dragging the horses with it. The wagon was smashed to pieces and all its occupants more or less injured, but none of them dangerously.

The anniversary of the late President McKinley's birthday, 24th inst., was celebrated at many localities with appropriate ceremonies. At Canton, Ohio, among the events of the day was a banquet given by the Canton Republican League, at which President Roosevelt was present and made the principal speech. Referring to President McKinley's policy in relation to the Philippines, he said: "Again his policy was most amply vindicated. Peace has come to the Philippine Islands, together with a greater measure of individual liberty and self-government than they have ever before known. All the tasks set us as a result of the war with Spain have so far been well and honorably accomplished, and this nation stands higher than ever before among the nations of mankind."

Official announcement has been made of the extension of the jurisdiction of the following officials of the Western Maryland Railroad Company over the West Virginia Central and Pittsburg Railway: B. H. Griswold, general traffic manager; Robert Casson, general auditor; T. D. Woodrow, auditor; L. F. Timmerman, secretary; J. T. M. Barnes, assistant secretary and treasurer, and H. B. Henson, comptroller. This is part of the plan of merging the two roads, both of which are owned by the Gould interests, and concentrates the departments of the West Virginia Central in Baltimore.

Mrs. Susan McClure, widow of James A. L. McClure, formerly a lawyer of Baltimore, died Friday of last week of heart failure at the residence of Mrs. Charles Bainbridge, Glen Ridge, N. J. Mrs. McClure was a native of this county, and a daughter of the late John S. Stansbury, a merchant of Baltimore. Her funeral took place from the residence of her sister, Mrs. A. J. Myers, 922 McCulloh street, Baltimore, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Services were conducted by the Rev. Peregrine Wroth.

Patrons of rural free delivery throughout the country have been notified that after February 1st, all wooden mail boxes must be replaced with metal boxes approved by the Postoffice Department, to insure the delivery of mail.

It is generally believed that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is doing all it can to block the Gould interests in its work of extending the Western Maryland Railroad from Cherry Run to Cumberland.

Ira W. Rouzer, Western Maryland Railroad telegraph operator at Pen-Mar, has resigned, and will go to Mobile, Ala.

Mr. James G. Uhler died on Saturday, at his home, at Woodensburg. He was 26 years of age and leaves a widow.

A Revival at Union Bridge.

A correspondent of the SENTINEL, at Union Bridge, sends the following account of a revival of religion at that place: "The revival services of the Methodist Protestant Church of Union Bridge, which have been in progress for the past two weeks, have been very interesting as well as successful. Sunday, January 25th, was Decision day. At the morning service 22 persons united with the church and at the evening service there were other conversions.

Thursday evening, January 22nd, a men's meeting was held, conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. T. Read. The lecture room was filled and the meeting was a decided success. Another meeting of the same character for men was held Thursday evening, January 29th. Rev. J. M. Holmes, D. D., one of Baltimore's most noted speakers, addressed the meeting. These meetings will be held every Thursday evening for several weeks.

Rev. Mr. Read has been untiring in his efforts to make the meetings a success and much credit is due him."
