tobacco freely until he was 90, when he took a new chute and swore off.

The most extraordinary old person of the year was Signora Catelina Flores, of Passadena, Cal., who peacefully passed away at the age of 117, having continued her usual round of work until the day of her death. She had lived under the shadow of the San Gabriel mission for more than 90 years.

Largest Baby.

The largest child born in Illinois saw the light of day in Waukegan in July, when Mrs. George Catlin gave birth to a daughter weighing 21¼ pounds.

St. Louis factories eclipsed all competitors in the production of the dainty known as sauerkraut, using for this purpose 2,700,000 cabbages and manufacturing more than 100,000 half barrels, which were shipped to all parts of the United State.

Most Suicides.

Fifty persons committed suicide in in Chicago during the month of May, the greatest number ever recorded in a single month according to the health department.

The largest gun in the world, a 16-inch weapon, requiring years in construction, was completed at the Watervliet arsenal in June, this being the most powerful engine of destruction yet devised by man.

Record For Immigrants.

May was the record month for immigration, the total number of steerage passengers from foreign countries passing through Ellis Island being 88,500. The one-day record was broken on May 3, when 6,513 men, women and children from almost every country in Europe, as well as a few from Asia and Africa, stepped foot on American soil for the first time. The largest number of steerage passengers that ever arrived at New York in one vessel came in March on the Hamburg-American liner Batavia, the number being 2,692.

Achievements in Livestock.

Turning to great achievements in livestock, Shamrock, the champion steer of the Third International Live Stock Exposition, won the prize in his class. He was sold at auction, bringing 56 cents a pound on the hoof. His weight was 1,805 pounds, making his total cost $1,010.08.

The Aberdeen Angus bull, Prince Ito, sold at auction at the Chicago stockyards in February for the record price of $9,100. The largest shipment of cattle ever taken across the Atlantic went on the steamship Norseman, of the Dominion Line, in August, there being 1,179 head of cattle and 1,398 sheep.

"My boy," said the old gentleman in a kindly tone, "there's only one thing that stands between you and success."

"And what is that?" asked the the youth.

"If you worked as hard at working," explained the old gentleman, "as you do at trying to find some way to avoid working, you would soon be rich."

"Minister made one mistake when he wuz preachin' Bill Bremmer's funeral sermon."

"What was that, Abner?"

"He said Bill allus seen his duty afar off."

"Didn't he! Of course, he didn't. Bill wuz the derndest near-sighted fellow in the whole township!"

Mrs. Nextdoor—"I suppose your daughter is happily married?" Mrs. Naggsby—"Indeed she is. Why, her husband is actually afraid to open his mouth in her presence."

Mrs. Benham—"If mother comes to spend a month what will you do?" Benham—"Go away for a month."

The rate at which some people live is only regulated by the question of how much credit they can get.

Running up bills is not the sort of exercise that does the most good.

A WINTER DAY.

I wonders whah de vi'let's hid
Dat used to smile along de lane;
I wonders what de bull-frog did
To stop his singin' dat refrain:
I miss dat gorgeous butterfly
Dat used to flutter 'roun' so free;
I wonders, as I passes by,
If dey all is a-missin' me.

I hyuhs de wind a-blowin' shrill
Among de poplar trees so high;
A shroud of snow is on de hill
An' crape is on de mo'nful sky.
I feels jes' like I does at night
When all de folks is gone away.
I's lonesome wid a touch o' fright,
I wish dey'd all come back to stay.

Annual Report of Weather Service.

The annual report of the Maryland State Weather Service has been issued by Local Director Oliver L. Fassig. The book contains an exhaustive statement of the Maryland and Delaware section of the climate and crop service of the Weather Bureau in co-operation with the Maryland State Weather Service, and was prepared by Dr. Fassig under the direction of Chief Willis L. Moore, of the national bureau. In connection with the report a map of the State has been issued showing by a series of colors the amount of rainfall in the different sections. The aggregate was 49.20 inches, or 6.97 inches above normal. This amount, however, did not cover the whole State, as Allegany and Washington counties had less than 40 inches, while a section of Garrett, Anne Arundel and Carroll counties and all of Harford, Cecil and Kent county, Md., and New Castle county, Del., had over 55 inches. All other portions of Maryland and Delaware had between 40 and 55 inches.

The mean temperature for the entire territory was 53.6 degrees, or exactly normal, having averaged this for the past32 years. The highest mean occurred at Cambridge, where56.6 degrees were recorded, and the lowest at Deer Park, which made a record of 46.2 degrees. The highest recorded during the year was at Boettcherville, Allegany county, Md., on June 14, July 18 and 19, and at Great Falls, Montgomery county, Md., and Milford, Kent county, Del., on July 18, when the mercury reached 104 degrees. The lowest occurred at Sunnyside, Garrett county, Md., on February 20, when the mercury fell to 17 degrees. The annual range within the section was 121 degrees, while the greatest local range was at Boettcherville, where 107 degrees occurred, and the lowest, 85 degrees, was at Pocomoke City, Worcester county, Md., and Newark, New Castle county, Del. The greatest local daily range was 54 degrees at Chewsville, Washington county, Md., on September 8, and the lowest was at Clearspring, Washington county, Md., on September 28, and at Denton, Caroline County, Md., where it was zero.

The precipitation for the entire territory was 49.20 inches, or 6.79 above the normal, while in Baltimore it was 50.13 inches, or four degrees above normal. The greatest amount was 61.38 inches at Bachman's Valley, Carroll county, Md., and the least amount was 33.75 inches, at Westernport, Allegany county, Md. The greatest local rainfall occurred during September, at Colora, Cecil county, Md., where the amount was 12.93 inches, and the lowest was 0.73 inches, at Taneytown, Carroll county, Md., during May. The greatest fall in 24 hours was 6 inches, and occurred at Colora, September 25 and 26.

The prevailing wind direction was from the northwest, and the total movement was 60,166 miles at Baltimore and 62,116 miles at Washington. The maximum velocity was 70 miles per hour at Baltimore on July 20. There were 38 thunderstorms during the year and a snowfall of 19.7 inches.

AMERICAN LIFE INSURANCE.

In connection with the commemoration of the founding of American Life Insurance on February 1st, 1843, the Canadian Society of New York is putting up at 56 Wall Street a tablet in honor of Morris Robinson, the first president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company. Robinson was a native of Nova Scotia, though connected by birth and marriage with powerful New York families; but he came back to this country when a young man and became one of its leading financiers in the first quarter of the last century.

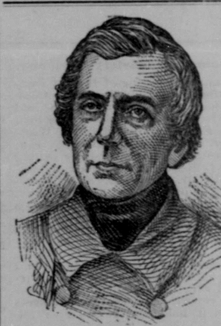

RICHARD A. McCURDY.

President of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York and one of the striking figures in the wonderful development of modern life insurance.

The branch of finance which he started with practically no capital except good judgment, honesty, and conservatism, has steadily prospered until it has reached a position of the first importance. The volume of business of this single company in the first year was scarcely a million and a half; today the 103 American companies have nine billions of insurance in force and the money now in their hands from premiums amounts to two billions. Ten thousand dollar policies, which used to be sought only by the very wealthy, have become a necessity in comfortable middle-class homes, and million-dollar policies are not unheard of. Two such have already been written by the Mutual; one for George W. Vanderbilt of New York, who pays an annual premium of $35,000; the other, for the late Frank H. Peavey of Minneapolis, well-known as the "Elevator King." The latter was paid about two years after it was taken out, Mr. Peavey dying of pneumonia in December, 1901; but in accordance with the conservatism that has done so much to make modern life insurance possible, as an extra precaution his policy had been reinsured by the Mutual to the extent of $750,000 in twenty other companies. That the Mutual was not seriously disturbed by payment of the $250,000 for which it stood individually responsible, so to speak, can be understood from the fact that at the date of settlement this company had on hand $20,000,000 in cash, while its total assets were $350,000,000.

In the exercises commemorative of its 60th anniversary the broadened scope of life insurance is likely to receive not less attention than its bigness. As a science it has progressed wonderfully since 1843. When the New York Mutual started it wrote only "straight" insurance for life or for a period of years; now policies have been devised which enable a man to husband his resources against the future in the easiest and most efficacious way, and from a mere form of protection it has been developed into a great plan of investment, directed by the most expert financiers, while the protective advantage has been in no way sacrificed. Beginning in young manhood, the policy-holder protects his family and makes his maximum savings at a time when his earnings are at their highest without pledging himself to carry any heavy burden after middle age has been passed.

HE FOUNDED MODERN LIFE INSURANCE.

Morris Robinson, who established the first modern life insurance company in America and to whose memory the Canadian Society's tablet in Wall street is raised.

HE HOLDS THE OLDEST POLICY.

William E. Shepard, of Englewood, N. J., whose life insurance papers are the oldest now in force in this country, having been issued during the first week that the Mutual Life of New York opened for business.

And not only for families but for estates and business interests life insurance has come to be used as a means of protection. It has become very common for two or more partners to insure their lives for the benefit of the survivor or survivors. Some firms likewise are taking the precaution of insuring the lives of leading officials; and the custom of insuring individual lives for the benefit of religious, charitable or educational institutions grows steadily from year to year, affording a unique means by which people of moderate means can help along causes in which they are especially interested by making several yearly appropriations within their means, in the form of life insurance premiums, with the knowledge that eventually they will become benefactors to a considerable amount.

Of the original policy-holders in the first American mutual company three are still alive. All of them took out their policies in the first year and two of them in its first week, and an interesting circumstance is that all three are living in the state of New Jersey and that the oldest living policy-holder—Mr. Charles H. Booth, who is approaching his 100th birthday—and the holder of the oldest policy—Mr. William E. Shepard—both are residents of the town of Englewood.

The present head of the Mutual is Richard A. McCurdy, who, as its president, has come into the front rank of American financiers. With him are associated as trustees—the Mutual has no salaried board of directors—such representative men as Cornelius Vanderbilt, Stuyvesant Fish, and, William Rockefeller of New York; Effingham B. Morris of Philadelphia; William Babcock of San Francisco, and Justice Rufus W. Peckham of the United States Supreme Court.

The site on Wall Street at which the Mutual Company began business in 1843 is famous as having been occupied in the latter part of the seventeenth century by Captain William Kidd. The present building on this plot, erected in 1836, and recently remodelled into one of the fine buildings of this famous thoroughfare, is now the property of Senator George Peabody Wetmore of Rhode Island, and on its front is affixed The Canadian Society's commemorative tablet of bronze.

Wall Paper! Wall Paper!

I wish to call the attention of my friends and the public in general to the fact that I now am ready to show one of the ever exhibited in this county, bought direct from the factory, in full bundle lots, so you get it only from second hands, no two or three profits coming off it. Of course the consumer pays them all. Sam Jones says it takes a potter pup nine days to get his eyes open. I have known some people to get their's open in fifteen minutes in a wall paper deal. They thought it was two pieces instead of one, and the border they did not understand, &c. That is always their plea. Remember I am the only paper hanger in the county that carries a stock and don't have the expense of running a store therefore I have no opposition. Is you think I can't save you money, come and see me and bring size of your room, or send size by mail and I will tell you what your job will cost, and send samples and convince you that Gladhill's is the place to save twenty-five cents on a dollar on all Wall Papers.

Finest and Cheapest Lines of WALL PAPER

L. GLADHILL,

Why Not Cure Your Cough or Cold?

WESTMINSTER, April 10th, 1890.

MR. JOS. B. BOYLE:

Dear Sir:—For many years I have suffered intensely, on taking cold, from a very troublesome cough, for which I have used a number of various remedies, and obtained but TEMPORARY RELIEF. During the past Spring I was again troubled with the same cough, and through a friend was induced to try YOUR Pectoral Syrup, which not only gave almost INSTANT RELIEF, but a PERMANENT CURE. It gives me great pleasure to say that I believe it to be the best remedy I ever used for the purpose for which it is recommended. Hoping that any person afflicted as I was may be fortunate enough to give it a trial, I am, Truly yours,

EDWARD LYNCH.
