THE MORMONS.

SENT BY REV. P. J. SHRIVER.

Mormonism, or the Church of the Latter Day Saints, was founded in the year 1830 with six members at La-Fayette, N. Y., by Joseph Smith, who claimed to have had a divine revelation revealing the place where the book of Mormon could be found. It was said to be engraven on golden plates in the reformed Egyptian language 1400 years ago, sealed up unto the Lord, and buried in a hole in the ground in N. Y. State. When Joseph Smith had no longer any use for them they mysteriously disappeared again. The first edition which few present day Mormons have seen was edited with the following on the title page: "Joseph Smith Jr., author and proprietor." When he saw later the absurdity of it, as he claimed it was written by the prophet Mormon 1400 years before he was born, he had printed on the next edition, "Joseph Smith, translator." As Joseph Smith was looked upon as an inspired prophet, his word was law, and he won many converts. Having gained the confidence of the people, he had no difficulty in leading them as he desired. He first organized them into a colony, and then had each provided for. Those who could work were given employment and those who were unable to work were taken care of. Idleness is not allowed, and most of them practice temperance and few drink coffee and tea, as they consider them a stimulant too. I noticed in the paper last week a dispatch from Salt Lake City saying, "Health Day," is the new name of a legal holiday created by a bill introduced in the legislature. By the provisions the first Monday in October is to be the signal for a general cleaning up. On this day every person in the state must clean and disinfect thoroughly dwellings, stores, theaters, public buildings of every kind frequented by people, and any one failing to obey the law will be fined $50. The bill has met with considerable favor among the legislators, and it is said to stand a good show of becoming a law. As the Mormons are a sober and hard working people, they are always welcome to new countries. In Kirkland, Ohio, they built their first temple for worship. They were driven away by persecution and moved to Missouri. They left there for the the same reason, and went to Nauvoo, Ill., where their number increased to 12,000 and they became exceedingly prosperous. Some became discontented with Smith, he was arrested, taken to Carthage, Ill's, where he was killed by a mob. The intelligent Mormons know that Joseph Smith was an imposter, and that the book of Mormon was a fraud. Of course, it would not do for them to denounce it, as the superstructure of Mormonism rests or falls upon Joseph Smith and his fictitious book. Brigham Young, one of their number, became their leader after Joseph Smith's death. He lead the colony still further west and settled in Council Bluffs. I heard Mrs. Hammond of Washington say that when Brigham Young left her grandfather's place in Ohio, where he was hired, he took away his earthly possessions on a wheelbarrow, and when he died he was quite wealthy. It paid him financially to be a Mormon. In 1847 the colony moved once, and after a wonderful march by day across mountains and over prairies, and resting at night, while the younger folks indulged in dancing and music, they finally settled in Utah on the site of Salt Lake City. They could not have chosen a more beautiful situation, the climate is delightful, and the soil exceedingly rich. Salt Lake, with its brackish waters containing one barrel of salt to every six barrels of water, and its magnificent pavilion, said to be the finest in existence, is only a few miles away. In Utah the Mormons were beyond the boundary line of the States at that time, and they wanted to form a State of their own, and govern as they saw fit. Utah was then formed into a territory with Brigham Young as its Governor. Brigham Young taught polygamy as a means of grace and commanded every one to practice it. He is said to have had 19 wives and 78 children, but we met a Mormon in Salt Lake City, who told us that Brigham Young had told him he had 0 wives and he said he might have had even more. Brigham Young's birthday was celebrated with honor at the Lake the day we arrived in Salt Lake City. It seemed strange to read in the papers that five of his widows attended the celebration. We saw Brigham Young's extensive residence, including the famous Lion House and Bee Hive, where 18 of his wives lived, and the beautiful Amelia Palace opposite, which was built for his favorite wife Amelia Folsom, a cousin of Mrs. Grover Cleveland. Quite near is a pretty little chapel, the school house of his children, and a block away on the brow of the hill, is Brigham's grave, and his private graveyard, where his wives are buried in the order of their marriage, or sealings with him. In the center, and highest point in the city is Temple Block. It is a ten acre square, surrounded by a massive wall 15 feet high and 5 feet thick. In it stands the Mormon Temple, the Tabernacle, and the assembly Hall. The Temple is with one single exception the grandest and costliest Church building in the country. It is built entirely of white granite, at a cost of not less than $10,000,000 and took 40 years to build it. The Temple was open for inapection one or two hours, just before it was dedicated, but very few had the privilege of seeing the interior, as it was not made known to the public generally. No one is now allowed to enter the Temple except the very elect of the Mormons, those who conform to all the rules of the church and pay their tithes and they must pass into the Temple through an underground passage, from the annex where they change their outer garments. The Tabernacle looks like an immense terrapin back and is built wholly of iron, glass and stone. The roof is a single mighty arch, unsupported by pillar or post, and will seat 10,000 people and its acoustics are so perfect that a whisper, or the dropping of a pin can be be heard all over it. The organ is one of the largest and grandest toned in existence, was built of native wood by Mormon workmen and artists. The choir consists of from 200 to 500 trained voices. The assembly Hall seats 2,500 people. With the exception of the 1st Sunday in each month the Mormons attend service in the Tabernacle. The 1st Sunday in the month is a day of fasting and prayer. No food enters their motuh that day, as they claim it is good for their body as well as their soul. On that day each member attends his or her ward, or district church, where service is held. We accepted a Mormons invitation to attend one of these services. We have never been more cordially received in any church and were introduced around as "friends from the East," Sunday school was first held, which was divided into 4 departments, the Infant school, the Primary and Intermediate and the Bible class, each department going into their own rooms after the opening, and returning to the main room for the closing service. The church service was similar that day to a C. E. meeting. The subject was "fasting and prayer," and about 10 people took part in it, besides the leader, who happened to be that day the Apostle Richards, to whom we were introduced later.

You know the church is ruled by the President to whom its revelations come from time to time aided by 12 apostles, whose ranks are filled by the disciples as death carries one and another away. Those who took part in the meeting made some remarks, or read something in reference to fasting and prayer, and the meeting closed with Communion, a hymn and prayer. At the Communion, water instead of wine was used with the bread as they believe in total abstinence and water is less expensive, they told us, and was passed through the audience by young men. I noticed that mothers gave their babes and little ones communion too, and when I asked if the babies belonged to the church I was told they were born into the church, and are always a member unless they commit some crime and are expelled. Why should they not be, they said, when they are more pure than we are. It semed strange to us that young men should pass the Communion through the audience and we were told that these young men had offered themselves for missionary work and were waiting to be sent into the world to convert others to their faith. One of these young men told us he did not know when he would be sent but at a moment's notice he must give up his business, no matter what that business might be, or how well it was paying, and start out with only a small amount of money, depending on the charity of those he met for food and shelter. The Mormons claim, according to the Home Mission Echoes, that their book of Mormon is perfect and superior to the Bible, because it is the work of God, translated by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, while the Bible is the work of man and yet if you compare the 1st edition with the present edition you will find that they have made more than 3,000 important changes to conform with new revelations. The Mormon religion teaches a plurality of gods, that God is a man like us, only greater and that man will also be God in due time. Adam became God and was the father of Jesus Christ. Jesus was not begotten of the Holy Ghost and our salvation depends on Joseph Smith. The Church also teaches that the head of the Mormon Church ought to make laws for the entire nation. The Mormons are working quietly, but increasing more and more in power and we do not fully realize what it means. Many people are blindly lead into Mormonism without fully understanding its doctrine and gradually all over the country, churches and homes are being ruined by its sugar coated Christian phraseology.

We are accustomed to think of Mormonism as Polygamy and many are under the impression the Edmund's law has stamped it out entirely, so pay no more attention to the subject, when in reality we should be up and fighting against it. If they get a controlling power in Congress they will make laws to suit themselves as they did when they first went to Utah. When we realize that polygamy still exists, that the Mormons within 70 years have gotten control of three of the greatest states of the Union and one Territory and hold the balance of power in several others and own most of the land fit for agriculture from the Rocky Mountains to the Sierra Nevada, that they have 1700 missionaries in the Northwestern, Eastern and Southern States and in 1900 secured 63,000 converts, and in the past two years have been making greater progress, and right in our midst in Baltimore, on Howard street, they have one of their headquarters and last week a woman here in Baltimore was baptized according to their faith, should we not awake to the call to oppose the spread of Mormonism? Nothing but the united efforts of the Christian people of America can stay its progress.

MRS. LEWIS J. LEDERER,
BALTIMORE, MD.

In the "Greastest of Copper Camps."

"On the night I arrived in Butte," says Ray Stannard Baker, whose "Butte City: Greatest of Copper Camps," the April instalment of his "The Great Northwest" series in The Century, is likely to make Butte proud to the third and fourth generation, and to waken Easterners to a new realization of Butte City's fabulous resources—"on the night I arrived in Butte City I was awakened at two o'clock in the morning by an enterprising reporter who wanted an interview. He shouted his questions over the transom; I shouted my replies from my pillow. In parting he gave me the name of a man connected with his paper who he said was the 'real thing.' He concluded

"'He can give you more dope about Butte than any other guy in Montana.'"

A committee once called on Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese Minister, to request him to address a society connected with one of the fashionable churches of Washington. Casual mention was made of the fact that the youthful pastor of the church had recently resigned to enter upon a new field of labor on the Pacific Coast.

"Why did he resign?" ask Mr. Wu.

"Because he had received a call to another church," was the reply.

"What salary did you pay him?"

Four thonsand dollars."

"What is his present salary?"

"Eight thousand dollars."

"Ah!" said the disciple of Confucius, "a very loud call!"

There were strict orders in the Philippines regarding looting, and one day a lieutenant's suspicions were aroused by a private whom he saw peering eagerly under the piazza of a house on the outskirts of Manila.

"What are you doing there?" he demanded, in his gruffest tones.

"Why, sir," said the soldier, saluting, "I'm only trying to catch a chicken which I've just bougt."

Lientenant K——stooped and caught sight of a fine pair of fowls.

"There ars two chickens under there," he exclaimed excitedly; "I bought the other one. Catch 'em both

"Wa-al, some ways I'd like to an' some ways I guess I wouldn't" said honest Farmer Bentover when the suave dispenser of encyclopedias had paused in his siren song. "Ye see, if I was to sign for that 'ere cyclopedee in 47 parts, includin' the index an' appendictis, I'm sorter afraid I'd hev to work so hard to pay fer it thet I'd be too tired to enjoy readin' it; while if I read it at my lessure, as I'd ort to in order to git the good of it, I wouldn't hev time to earn the price. So, all things considered, I guess I'll hev to deny myself the privilege, as it were. Looks sorter like rain off to the northwest, don't it!"

"Short is the joy that guilty pleasure brings."

"Gaze not on things afar, neglecting what's at hand,"

"Who knows that 'tis not life which we call death, and death our life on earth?"

"Wise, to a certainty, was he who said 'judge not before you hear the speech of both.'"

"To be afraid of death is idle folly, for 'tis a debt that all of all must pay."

"Deep digging must go before high building."

"The only thing that comes to the man who waits is the dust of the procession."

"The stream of life never rises above its source."

"When a man is his own god he is other people's devil."

"Some men march to hell to the time of heavenly tunes."

Some people are such chronic kickers that they don't want to go to heaven unless there is an elevator.

The Hon. "Lew" Swank, who was a candidate for recorder in Marion, Ind., published in the local papers the following card:

Wanted—Ten thousand girls to kiss their sweethearts, and ask them to vote for Lew Swank for recorder.

That Lew won out we know, but we can only surmise to what exten osculation affected the vote.

Smith—"I hear Short, the coal man, has come into a large fortune."

Jones—"Well, he's entitled to it."

Smith—"Oh, he is, eh?"

Jones—"Yes. He's been lying in weight for it a good many years."

"I've always been taught to make a little go a great way," remarked the farmer, as he dropped a pebble from the top of the Washington monument.

Life with a man who has no bad habits must be exceedingly monotonous.

There is surely a reward hereafter for the man who lives up to his wife's expectations of him.

It's a rather shady transaction when a man has a family tree made to order.

If there was only a side door to Heaven may be men would get in.

Why Not Cure Your Cough or Cold?

WESTMINSTER, April 10th, 1890.

MR. JOS. B. BOYLE:

Dear Sir:—For many years I have suffered intensely, on taking cold, from a very troublesome cough, for which I have used a number of various remedies, and obtained but TEMPORARY RELIEF. During the past Spring I was again troubled with the same cough, and through a friend was induced to try YOUR Pectoral Syrup, which not only gave almost INSTANT RELIEF, but a PERMANENT CURE. It gives me great pleasure to say that I believe it to be the best remedy I ever used for the purpose for which it is recommended. Hoping that any person afflicted as I was may be fortunate enough to give it a trial, I am, Truly yours,

Wall Paper! Wall Paper!

I wish to call the attention of my friends and the public in general to the fact that I now am ready to show one of the ever exhibited in this county, bought direct from the factory, in full bundle lots, so you get it only from second hands, no two or three profits coming off it. Of course the consumer pays them all. Sam Jones says it takes a pointer pup nine days to get his eyes open. I have known some people to get their's open in fifteen minutes in a wall paper deal. They thought it was two pieces instead of one, and the border they did not understand, &c. That is always their plea. Remember I am the only paper hanger in the county that carries a stock and don't have the expense of running a store therefore I have no opposition. Is you think I can't save you money, come and see me and bring size of your room, or send size by mail and I will tell you what your job will cost, and send samples and convince you that Gladhill's is the place to save twenty-five cents on a dollar on all Wall Papers.

Finest and Cheapest Lines of WALL PAPER
