The preliminary docket for the April term of the Court of Appeals of Maryland contains the case of the Washington County National Bank of Williamsport, vs. Joseph L. Motter and Earnest H. Darby, receivers of the Undine Milling Company of Carroll County and others. The case, however, as we understand it, has no application to any present Carroll county interest.

A gentleman in this city, who has for years past maintained quarters for the martins, says he has observed that heretofore these birds, which are only seen here during the spring and summer months, have invariably arrived on good Friday and departed on a certain day in August. This year, however, they broke the habit and put in an appearance on Tuesday last, coming in large numbers and filling the air with the noise of their chattering.

Accompanying the statement is a halftone picture of the missing young man, who, however, as far as we have been able to ascertain, has never been a resident of this city.

Reifsnider, Jr., announce the formation of a partnership for the practice of law in the courts of Maryland and the United States and in the governmental departments of the United States, with offices at No 10 East Lexington street, Baltimore, and in the Piper Building at Towson. Mr. Reifsnider was formerly in active practice in this city, and is so well grounded in his knowledge of the law that his opinions and arguments had great weight with the court. He was formerly associated with his father, Ex-Judge Charles T. Reifsnider, in the firm of Reifsnider & Reifsnider, and later was senior member of the firm of Reifsnider & Grimes. His ability and knowledge of the law are such that his success, in the larger field upon which he has engaged, can scarcely be doubted.

We have been requested to state that, weather permitting, the members of Harmony Grove M. P. Church, at Gist, will organize the Sunday School tomorrow, Sunday, 29th inst., and that a full attendance is desired.

Frank Clingan, of Taneytown, charged with assaulting Mr. Gustavus Hebner, of the same place, had a hearing before Justice J. F. Rinker, of this city, on Thursday morning, was adjudged guilty and committed to the House of Correction for three months.

Mr. Jacob S. Taylor, formerly of the vicinity of Patapsco, died at his home, No. 302 Roland avenue, Baltimore, on Tuesday, in his 31st year, and his remains were brought to this county and interred in the burial ground of the Church of God, between Patapsco and Carrollton, after funeral services, conducted by the pastor, yesterday at noon.

On Thursday Mr. J. Wm. Earhart, trustee, sold the following property of the late John Miller: 1½ acres of land, with buildings, about 3 miles from this city, on the Westminster and Littlestown turnpike, to Mrs. Rebecca Miller, for $300; 7 acres of land, in the same locality, to same, for $56; 4½ acres of land, in Myers' district, for $37, and 1 acre, 85 perches, on the Stone road, for $82.69; total $475.69. Messrs. Roberts & Crouse were the solicitors.

Sandyville is ahead on the big hen egg question, Mr. George S. Barnhart, of that place, having exhibited in the SENTINEL office, yesterday, an egg, produced by a hen belonging to Mr. Wm. Tanner, which measures 7 by 8½ inches in circumference and weighs over five ounces. Mr. Tanner says it is a Republican egg and emblematic of the prosperity incident to Republican policy, a suggestion rendered more emphatic by the fact that it is only one of quite a number of the same sort produced by the same hen, which continues to lay them.

Messrs. Grant Chew and Daniel Bush, of Patapsco, were arrested yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff Kreglo and Constable Davis, under a warrant sworn out before Justice Wm. Moore, of this city, by Mr. George T. Noel, who charges them with having assaulted and robbed him of his watch and a sum of money, at Patapsco, last week. They were brought to this city and taken before Justice Moore, who held them for a hearing at 10 o'clock, Tuesday next, fixing bail at $100. Bush found a surety, but in default of bail Chew was committed to the county jail.

A gentlemen in this city who recently advertised, in the SENTINEL, a house for rent, secured a tenant after the first publication, but neglected to notify us to discontinue the advertisement until it had had another insertion. Then he informed us that he was receiving so many inquiries through the appearance of the ad. that he wished it discontinued forthwith. A gentleman at Union Bridge, who advertised a warehouse for rent, also informs us that he has secured a tenant and directs us to stop publication of the ad. These are only two minor incidents of many which come to our notice showing that it pays to advertise in the SENTINEL.

Mr. Wm. B. Seabrook, a native of this city and grandson of the editor of the SNETINEL, who is a member of the junior class at Newberry College, Newberry, S. C., was one of the disputants in a public debate between the Phrenakosmian and Excelsior Literary Societies of that institution, in the Newberry Opera House, on Friday evening of last week. The question discussed was a practical one—Resolved, That the government should own and control the railroads. Mr. Seabrook represented the negative, and a unanimous decision was given in favor of his society, the Excelsior, by the judges. Similar debates have been held by the societies, annually, for a number of years past, and this was the first victory of the Excelsiors.

The SENTINEL has received from Mr. McC. Brown, postmaster of Brunswick, Ga., a copy of the Brunswick Journal of the 21st inst., which contains an article describing the thriving condition of the town as particularly indicated by the increased revenues of the postoffice. Heretofore the office has employed three clerks, but this force is to be augmented by the appointment of two more, while the salaries of the present clerks are to be increased by from $100 to $300 per annum. With this increase in rates and the salaries of the additional clerks the cost of running the postoffice will be $1700 to $1800 more than heretofore, and this is regarded by the Journal as a sure index of Brunswick's prosperity. Postmaster Brown was formerly a citizen of Uniontown, this county.

In the organization of the treasury department of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, which is to take place April 1st, Mr. C. W. Rhodes, a native of this county, who has been chief clerk of the department for the last six years, is to be promoted to an office then to be created—that of assistant treasurer. The treasurer states that, practically, Mr. Rhodes has been performing the duties properly pertaining to such an office for years. Mr. Rhodes is a brother of Mrs. Sophia S. Matthews, of Reese, this county. A Baltimore paper says that his entire business life has been spent in the treasury department of the company, which he entered as a mere lad, and that he qualified himself for this promotion by filling successively almost every position in the treasury and by a knowledge not only of the past financial history and condition of the Company, but of its present, and by a knowledge of the intricacies and subtleties of finance. The treasurer relied on Mr. Rhodes as assistant treasurer, though nominally chief clerk of the department, for the past six years.

Sales of Real Estate.

On Saturday last Mr. Clifton L. Murray, trustee, sold the Worthington Hotel property in Hampstead, containing an acre and a-half of land, with buildings, to Mr. George E. Wareheim, of Baltimore, for $1400. Messrs. Reifsnider & Grimes were the solicitors.

On Monday Mrs. Annie L. Petry, executrix of the late Jacob Petry, sold the farm of the deceased, about 3½ miles from this city, near the Meadow Branch turnpike, and containing 154 acres, 1 rood, 6½ perches of land, with improvements, to Mr. Harvey M. Petry, for $47.15 per acre, making a total of $7,274.80. Guy W. Steele, Esq., was the attorney and Mr. J. Thomas Roop auctioneer.

Captured Though Fleet of Foot.

An exciting and ineffectual attempt was made at Union Bridge on Monday afternoon to arrest a colored man named James Murphy, of Harrisburg, Pa. Murphy was formerly employed at the Union Bridge hotel as a waiter, and is charged with having stolen a mackintosh coat from Leo Hatton, the colored porter of the establishment, in December last, when he left Union Bridge and went to Hagerstown. A warrant for his arrest was sworn out before Justice William Moore, of this city, in January, but he was reported non est. On Monday he returned to Union Bridge, and Mr. Charles F. Stell, the proprietor of the hotel at which the alleged theft was committed, attempted to hold him until an officer could be summoned, but he broke away, just as Bailiff Ogle appeared, and fled down the railroad track, followed by the bailiff and a number of other persons who joined in the pursuit. Several shots were fired to arrest his flight, but he paid no heed to the bullets and continued his race with the fleetness of a deer, soon distancing his pursuers. On Tuesday morning he was found sleeping in a barn at Uniontown and was taken into custody. He had a hearing before Justice Moore on Tuesday afternoon and, in default of $100 bail, was committed for the action of the grand jury. The accused is said to be the husband of the woman who was arrested in Union Bridge last summer for the alleged theft of the dress suit and suit case of Governor Murphy, of New Jersey, from the City Hotel, at Gettysburg, Pa.

Milk Note Cases Settled.

The dockets of the Circuit Court for Carroll county are being rapidly cleared of the suits instituted against the makers of the notes drawn in favor of the United Milk Producers' Association of Baltimore City by citizens of the county. Many of these notes were held by the Old Town Bank of Baltimore, as collateral for loans to the association, and under decisions of the courts it was generally believed the bank could enforce payment of the notes of this class. They have not, however, been permitted to go to trial, an agreement having been entered into between the bank and the defendants, whereby about thirty-five of the latter have liquidated the claims against them by the payment of 75 per cent. of the principal and interest and one-half the costs of the proceedings in the court. These cases are entered upon the dockets "settled and off." Upon the same basis nineteen judgments by confession were entered on Monday, as follows: Henry E. Englar, $89.95; Ezra B. Garner, $68.39; Millard F. Hann, $87.85; Thomas J. Hann, $164.90; Wesley A. Harman, $183.30; Richard W. Martin, $62.75; Samuel W. Pfoutz, $62.75; Robert Gist, $144.34; Oliver A. Hull, $78.06; William R. Koontz, $94.13; Maria L. Orendorff, $95.08; John E. Rickle, $78.44; Wesley E. Sauble, $125.51; Sarah E. Warner, $76.07; Samuel Haines, $109.82; Isaac Smith, $78.44; Frank Keefer, $76.07; McClellan Keefer, $73.79.

These judgments are for the full amounts of the notes, but, as stated above, are to be settled upon payment of 75 per cent. of the principal and interest, and half the costs; provided such payment be made within thirty days from the 23rd inst.

Much Rain and High Water.

The rainfall in this county on Sunday and Monday last was excessive, but came in heavy showers with intervals of gentle precipitation between, thus avoiding very dangerous inundations along the streams flowing through the county. The waters in these streams, however, generally overflowed the banks and submerged the meadows and lowlands adjacent thereto and, in most instances, rose to a height not often exceeded. It is said that, notwithstanding the great volume of water precipitated, damage to the roads by washing was not very great. Fields where the soil is loose suffered considerably and are seamed to some extent with ugly gullies. The Patapsco, about Finksburg and Glen Falls Stations, became so swollen that it could not be crossed. This rise was caused, in a great measure, by a break in the milldam owned by the Citizens' Water Company of Westminster, at Cranberry Station, on Monday morning. About twenty-four feet of the dam gave way, down to the foundation, releasing the large volume of water it contained. The dam was emptied completely, flooding the line of the Patapsco below it, but not causing much damage along its banks. Large quantities of fish were stranded on the banks of the stream when the waters subsided, affording much sport to those piscatorially inclined. It is said that one party only desisted from picking up the fish after he had secured at least half a bushel of them.

The Water Company used the power furnished by the dam to pump from its pool to the reservoir, but fortunately has also steam power which can be used for the same purpose, and thus water-renters are not likely to be incommoded by an insufficient supply of the aqueous fluid. It is said that about $200 will cover the loss to the company by the damage to the dam. In fact the company was about to expend a considerable sum in repairing tht dam and hence its loss was really only nominal.

In all the streams of the county the waters were high but the damage reported is inconsiderable. Beyond delaying some of the rural free delivery carriers and other travelers, who were unable to cross the swollen waters at various places in the county, not much inconvenience was experienced and little loss was sustained.

DeVries-Koller.

A very pretty and interesting wedding took place at Freedom Methodist Episcopal Church South, at 3 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Emma Koller and Mr. John Oliver DeVries were united in the holy estate of matrimony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. James J. Koller, a well known Freedom district farmer, a former resident of this city and an ex-steward of the county almshouse, and the groom, who is himself a prominent young farmer, is a son of Mr. John O. DeVries, one of the members of the Board of School Commissioners of this county. The church was decorated with palms and ferns. The bride wore a gown of grey crepe de chene, trimmed with blue panne velvet and medallions, with white chiffon hat and white gloves, and carried Bride roses. The ushers were Messrs. James W. Koller, brother of the bride; Geo. W. DeVries, brother of the groom; James E. Price, of Westminster, and John S. Bushey, of Freedom. Miss Jane Reaver, of Westminster, presided at the organ and rendered the wedding march from Lohengrin as the bridal party approached the altar, "O, Promise Me," softly, during the ceremony, and Mendelssohn's wedding march at its conclusion. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Whitehill, the pastor. The marriage was witnessed by a large number of the friends of the contracting parties. The bridal presents were numerous and handsome. After a bridal trip Mr. and Mrs. DeVries will reside on the groom's farm in Freedom district.

Is Mr. Machen to Retire?

Washington correspondence of the Baltimore Sun, under date of the 25th inst., states that changes are to be made in the administration of the Postoffice Department at Washington, by which the work of the department is to be concentrated in the hands of the P. M. General and his immediate assistants. Several chiefs of divisions, it is considered, have had too much authority in matters involving large outlays of money. The correspondence referred to follows this explanation by saying:

"It was authoritatively stated tonight that August W. Machen, Chief of the Rural Free Delivery division of the Postoffice Department, will soon retire from office. Mr. Machen's retirement is said to be a sequel to the retirement of George W. Beavers, General Superintendent of the Bureau of Salaries and Allowances.

"Mr. Machen has been chief of the Rural Free Delivery division since the Cleveland administration. When the McKinley administration was inaugurated Mr. McKinley retained Mr. Machen in office."

Mr. Machen's home is or was, in Toledo, Ohio, but for several years past he and his family have spent the summers in this city, returning to Washington in winter.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mrs. Lydia Miller.

Mrs. Lydia Miller, a venerable resident of this county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Zepp, at Marston, in New Windsor district, on Friday, 20th inst., at the age of 89 years, 1 month, 25 days. Five children—three daughters and two sons—survive her. Mrs. Miller was a daughter of the late Abram Albaugh and a half sister of Mrs. Levi N. Snader, of this city, who is now the sole survivor of a large family. Funeral services were held at Bethel M. Church on Sunday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. Dr. James Fraser, president of New Windsor College.

Mrs. Charlotte M. Shipley.

Mrs. Charlotte M. Shipley, daughter of the late Levi T. Bennett, of this county, and widow of the late Vincent T. Shipley, of Texas, Baltimore county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George C. Duncan, Marble Hill, on Monday morning, aged 66 years. Her surviving children are Messrs. Howard B. Shipley, of Woodberry; Harry V. Shipley, of Cockeysville; Emory C. Shipley, of Texas, and Mrs. Duncan, and she leaves eleven grandchildren. Mr. Henry Bennett, of Cockeysville, is her brother, and Mr. Nimrod T. Bennett, of Warfieldsburg, is her nephew. Her father resided near Bloom and was quite a prominent citizen of that vicinity and one of the tax collectors of this county.

Peter Shipley.

The many friends of Mr. Peter Shipley, who, fifteen years ago, was a well known citizen of this county, will learn with regret of his death, which occurred in Baltimore on Thursday, 19th inst. Mr. Shipley was best known to our people as a traveling vendor of medicines and other goods. His residence, when a citizen of this county, was at Fenby P. O., in the building in which the postoffice was located. In 1889 and shortly after the death of his wife, who was a sister of Mr. Howard T. Smith, near Smallwood, he moved to Baltimore and in time married again. His second wife was Mrs. Emma Edler. For sometime previous to his death he had been employed in the machine shops of Messrs. Brown & Bro. He is survived by his second wife and by two children, daughters by his first marriage. His age was 64 years. His funeral took place from his late residence, 1016 McHenry street, on Saturday, and his remains were interred in Mt. Olivet Cemetery. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Howard T. Smith, H. W. Smith, Wm. Ryan, Robt. Morrow, Mr. Taman and Mr. Vane. Mr. Shipley was a member of Monroe Street M. E. Church, in the work of which he took an active part. He was also a member of the Independent Order of Red Men.

Charles P Cassell.

Mr. Charles P. Cassell, of this city, died at his home on West Main street, about 9 o'clock, Tuesday morning, after years of ill health and much suffering from asthma, complicated for some time with pulmonary disease. Mr. Cassell was a native of this city, and a son of the late Reuben and Margaret Cassell. For about twenty years past he was bookkeeper at the Schlosser tannery, at Tannery, on the Western Maryland Railroad, and, though during a large portion of the time suffering so severely that he was an object of universal sympathy, was efficient and faithful in the discharge of his trust, qualities which were thoroughly appreciated by his employers, Messrs. England & Bryan, of Philadelphia. It was a wonder to many how one so frail in health was able to exhibit the energy which characterized him in the performance of his duties. There were periods when no exercise of the will sufficed to keep him at his post, but when such intervals were passed and a modicum of physical strength was regained he returned to work with apparently renewed energy and so discharged the duties of life faithfully until almost within the shadow of its last hour. He was at the office of the tannery as late as Saturday last and made up his reports in a neat, clear and legible hand.

Mr. Cassell was a man of strong convictions and was well informed in relation to current events. He was an ardent Republican and always ready to defend his principles intelligently and forcibly, but with such courtesy that he numbered some of the strongest Democrats of the community among his best friends. He was, since his youth, a member of Grace Lutheran Church, this city. His age was 47 years, 10 days. He leaves a widow and one son, Master Chester Cassell, and the following sisters and brothers survive him: Mrs. Frank W. Mitten, of Gettysburg, Pa.; Mrs. Edward V. Clarke, of Chicago; Mr. John Clayton Cassell, of Philadelphia; Messrs. Wm. H., James H., and Frank R. Cassell, of this city. Funeral services were held at Grace Lutheran Church yesterday morning, the pastor, Rev. Dr. P. H. Miller, officiating.

The brothers and brothers-in-law, of the deceased were the active pall-bearers, and the following members of Westminster Lodge No. 41, Independent Order of Mechanics, with which he was connected, acted as honorary pall-bearers: Messrs. John B. Saylor, John H. Gerke, Harvey A. Stone, Jacob H. Handley, Wm. R. Anders, W. W. Bemiller, E. D. Bowersox, John E. Deeds and J. Harry Cootes.

The employees of the Schlosser Tannery attended the funeral in a body as did also those of Westminster Lodge, I. O. M., as an organization. Many beautiful flowers, of various tasteful and appropriate designs, were sent as tributes of respect and affection by friends at home and abroad. After the funeral services at the church the remains were interred in the Cassell burial ground in Wakefield Valley.

The farmers along the line from here to Sykesville have organized a telephone company and are rapidly constructing a line. The line will likely be in working order by the end of next week. This end of the line at present will be at the residence of Mr. L. M. Bushey, but the intention is to extend the lines over the county and to Westminster. It must certainly prove of great benefit to the farmers and business men whom it will reach. The company has contracted for some twenty-five or thirty phones at present.

Mr. Gusty Hood has removed from Mr. J. W. Parrish's tenant house to Mt. Airy.

Mr. Charles Will is having the lumber sawed for a new barn, which he intends to have erected during the summer. Mr. Morley R. Farver will do the carpenter work.

Mr. Geo. W. Hess will remove to New Windsor on Tuesday, March 31st, and will take charge of the grocery store of Messrs. C. E. Engel & Co., where he will be pleased to see all of his old friends. Mr. Hess had charge of the same business for about three months last summer and conducted the business very successfully.

The Sunday School of Messiah Lutheran Church will be reorganized on Sunday morning, March 29th. It is hoped there will be a large attendance.

Much interest centered in the annual election of the Dug Hill Fire Insurance Company which took place at the company's office in this place on Saturday last. These annual occasions have been without special interest for some years, but as it had been known for some weeks that there would be a possible change in the board of directors which would also make a change in the organization of the officers, a different spirit was manifested in the event this year. Messrs. Chas. Brilhart, of this place, and H. T. Wentz, of Lineboro, who were aspirants for the secretaryship, heretofore held by Mr. John R. Strevig, had made quite a canvass among the policyholders, so that on Saturday 539 proxies were voted and 60 individual votes, resulting in the election of Messrs. P. H. L. Myers, John C. Denner, Geo. C. Stansbury, Whitfield Stansbury, George P. Panebaker, Theo. Tracy, Phanuel Wentz, John Royer, Joshua Koutz, Chas. Brilhart, Wm. Y. Frizzell, David J. Brown. In the organization Mr. P. H. L. Myers was made president; Mr. Chas. Brilhart, secretary; Mr. Jno. C. Denner, treasurer, and Mr. Ferdinand D. Schaeffer, general agent.

The members of Carroll Encampment No. 17, I. O. O. F., scored a red letter occasion for their organization on Monday evening, 23rd inst., upon the occasion of a visit from Grand Patriarch Adrian Hughes and P. Grand Patriarch Joseph Hofstetter. These gentlemen arrived by the evening train from Baltimore and were entertained at supper by Grand High Priest George S. Motter, at his home on South Main street. As the encampment had been hustling to increase the membership for some time, they had five candidates for this occasion, three of whom received the patriarchal degree and two were exalted to the Royal Purple degree. After the closing of the regular meeting a special meeting of the Grand Encampment of Maryland was called and opened by Grand Patriarch Hughes. During its session the Grand Encampment degree was Conferred upon P. C. Patriarchs H. F. Leese, D. L. Dubbs, G. W. J. Everhart, H. M. Smith, H. R. Rohrbaugh, H. T. J. Lamotte, Jacob Wink, W. D. Hanson and Jas. B. Houck. After the close of the grand session the line of march was taken up to the lower hall where a committee had refreshments in readiness, consisting of sandwiches, coffee, ice cream, fruits, &c., to which all did full justice. Cigars were passed and a smoke enjoyed around the council fires, while speeches were made by the grand officers and members of Carroll. During the period the Grand Patriarch embraced the opportunity to present to the Grand High Priest, D. Deputy, Grand Master, Chief Patriarch, Rec. and Fin. Scribes, neat pins, with triple links, as a souvenir of special close friendship. The midnight hour was well in sight ere the good nights were said and all retired to their homes.

Mr. Ezra Frock died at his home, one mile northeast of town on Monday morning, in his 37th year, leaving a widow, one son and one daughter to mourn his loss. For several years he was gradually growing weaker from pulmonary trouble which latterly made rapid inroads upon his frail constitution and he passed peacefully away. His remains were laid away to rest on Wednesday, Rev. S. M. Roeder officiating. Masenhimer & Bergman had charge of the funeral. Mr. Frock was a native of the vicinity of Deep Run, this county. He was a natural born musician which talent he had improved, not only in the bounds of that section, but as a teacher of some note, which was a solace in his declining days.

On Monday evening the home of Mrs. J. M. Motter, on South Main street, was all ablaze with lights, indicative of a dual social occasion, which was given in honor of their guest, Mrs. H. T. Weaver, of Gettysburg, Pa., and also to celebrate the anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Motter's daughter, Miss Fannie G. Ross, to whom it was a surprise; but, with her usual equanimity, Miss Fannie was soon herself and gave each a warm welcome and introduced them to the social whirl of the evening, which made the time quickly pass away. When the refreshment period came it was marked with an abundance of delicacies to tempt the most fastidious epicurean taste and all were enjoyed with cheerful pleasure by the guests, who retired at a late hour, with many kind wishes for the hostess and special guest of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. David Witter and child, of Westminster, spent Sunday with Mrs. Witter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Loats, and were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Loats.

Mrs. Dr. E. G. Shower, of Baltimore, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Shower, on Foundry avenue.

Mrs. Samuel Miller and child are visiting Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shaffer.

Our fox hunters are enjoying fine sport weekly, as they have foxes within several miles of town on either side that have been putting up some fine chases for several months.

A quintette of Hanover boys arrived in town one day last week just in time to meet a party of searchers, who were sent after the fugitives. After a few mandatory instructions from parents, a trio agreed to return but the rest are still fugitives from parental control.

Mr. Buckingham moved from the Bosley home on South Main street, on Tuesday, to Hampstead, and Mr. E. Gardner and family occupied the vacated home.

At the sale of Mr. C. Stemmel last week cows sold as high as $61, and one horse $165, while the rest of the stock brought exceptionally high prices.

Sunday night and Monday broke the record in down-pours in this section. Gutters overflowed, streets were flooded and low lands were covered with the accumulated waters.

Mr. Wm. Keck has bought the wood on 10 acres of the Old Fort Farm for $190, which he will cut down and saw into lumber.

The flitting of Mr. Wm. Warehime passed through here on Tuesday while moving to Mr. Jacob Folk's farm, near Alesia.

On Monday morning, as Messrs. Oliver Bollinger and Richard Deagen, of Millers, were descending Dug Hill in a buggy, amid a drenching shower and when near the home of Mr. George P. Panebaker, the coupling of the vehicle broke and threw the occupants out upon the ground. Mr. Panebaker went to their rescue, extended his hospitality by sheltering them and their horse until after the shower, when he used his ingenuity in repairing the buggy and sent them happy upon their journey.

Mrs. F. K. Herr and daughter, Miss Bessie, of Westminster, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Herr's home folks, the Trumps. Mr. Trump Herr is paying a week's visit at the home also.

Mrs. Bert Bubb, of Glen Rock, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Dubbs.

Miss Miriam Roeder, of our town, has been appointed teacher of the Freedom school and will enter upon her duties on Monday next.

The committee gave a unanimous decision for the negative. Music was furnished by the Shoemaker and Grimes Orchestra.

The next meeting of the society will be on Friday evening, April 3rd, when the following program will be rendered:

Recitation, - - - Miss Golda Frizzell.

Negative—Messrs. Fred. Jenkins, Charles Wright and Gus. Stem.
Recitation, - - - Miss Grace Stem.
Recitation, - - - Miss May Anthony.

There will be a general debate of from 20 minutes to a half hour, open to the house. No admission has been charged to any meeting of the society heretofore, but to clear up a little debt the society has incurred through the winter a small admission of five cents will be charged at the door for this one evening. But surely no one will object to this for such entertainment as the society is furnishing.

Miss Ida Cauthorne, our public school teacher, is very ill.
