It should have been stated also that the wife of each these gentleman accompanied him, but the manuscript of the report was misinterpreted by the printer, hence the omission.

Arnold, Poolsville, in the Washington district.

The Liberty and New Windsor turnpike controversy, of which an account was published in the SENTINEL of the 4th inst., is assuming a very interesting condition. The motion of the company to quash the inquisition and return of the sheriff's jury in the case was argued before Judge Thomas on Monday and was overruled, the court passing an order directing the company to raise its gates, located in this county, and cease the collection of tolls until the road shall have been repaired and put in proper condition for travel. This proceeding was followed by the filing of a petition by the company, setting forth that the necessary repairs had been made to the turnpike, and praying that the bar to the collection of tolls be removed and permission granted to charge and collect them as usual. The original petitioners for inquisition by a jury, in the case, oppose such action and a hearing of the matters in controversy, before the court, was set for yesterday morning, at 9.30 o'clock. Many witnesses were summoned on both sides and intense interest in the proceedings is displayed by citizens residing along the line of the turnpike. A conclusion by the court had not been reached at the close of this report.

The covering of a well on the side-walk on the Bond street side of Mr. H. Scott Roop's property, in this city, gave way as somebody was passing over it on Thursday, but fortunately did not go down entirely. The presence of the well at that spot was not known. It was a dangerous trap, but its discovery prevents further danger. It seems to be about 12 feet deep, but is probably much deeper, the sounding rod with which it was tested having come in contact with deposits of debris.

Blanche, the 10-year old daughter of Mr. Robert Flohr, near Gist, was seriously injured on Monday, by falling under the hind wheel of a four-horse wagon heavily loaded with stone. When she was relieved from its weight she was unconscious. Dr. W. D. Wells, of this city, was sent for and found that her left leg was broken in two places below the hip and her abdomen and other parts of her body severely bruised. He adjusted the fractures and under his treatment she is improving and will recover, notwithstanding the severity of her injuries.

At the same time the weekly and monthly, special and other deposits in the Westminster Savings Bank amounted to $696,965.63, and in the Westminster Deposit and Trust Company to $449,042.47, making a grand total of $1,939,465.25. It has a capital of $20,000 and a surplus and indivdual profit of over $2,000. The parvalue of the stock is $10. A number of the shares have sold for $11. The bank has been prosperous from the start.

Mr. W. R. Straw, road master of the Western Maryland Railroad, has called the attention of supervisors and section foremen to the importance of inspecting all crossties and seeing that they conform to the specifications adopted April 1st, 1898, with reference to quality, thickness, face and length. Every tie found less than 7 feet, 11 inches in length will be classified as second class, and every tie in excess of 8 feet, 11 inches will be rejected, unless sawed off to 8 feet by the owner or unless such owner shall be willing to accept a reduction of five cents on each of such ties to pay for the sawing. All ties now on hand must be made to conform to these specifications before being put in track. Persons furnishing the road with crossties should be careful to observe these rules, as they may thus be saved from annoyance and loss by the rejection or reduction in the price thereof.

The Oratorical Association of Maryland Colleges will hold its fifth annual contest in Alumni Hall, Western Md. College, Friday night, 24th inst., at 8 o'clock. The association is composed of the following colleges: Western Maryland, St. John's, Maryland Agricultural and Washington, and the officers are: Prof. James W. Reese, Ph. D., Western Maryland College, president; Prof. James W. Cain, A. M., St. John's College, secretary; and Prof. Chas. S. Richardson, Maryland Agricultural College, treasurer. The contest is to determine which of the four colleges can furnish the best speaker for the scholastic year 1902-1903, and the decision will be rendered by six judges, three on Thought and Composition, and three on Delivery. They have not yet been announced. Last year, at Chestertown, the judges were Hon. James Alfred Pearce, of the Court of Appeals; Dr. Bernard C. Steiner, of the Pratt Library, Baltimore; Rev. Dr. C. Ernest Smith, of Baltimore; Mr. M. Bates Stephens, State Superintendent of Education, Denton; Hon. George M. Upshur, Baltimore, and Rev. Wm. R. Turner, Washington, D. C. It is hoped that our citizens will give to this contest the encouragement which it received at the other places where it has been held.

Bids were opened at the office of the Supervising Architect at Washington, D. C., for sites for government buildings in this city and Hagerstown, on Friday of last week. Congress appropriated $10,000 for a site at Hagerstown and $4,000 for this city. A number of bids were sent in from the former place, ranging from $9,800 to $90,000. The lowest bid was for an interior lot. The only bids from this city were made by Mr. H. S. Roop, who offered a lot corner West Main and Bond streets, measuring 111 by 198 feet for $6,000 and also a lot fronting on Main street and running back 140 feet on Bond street for $9,500. The latter bid is said to be indefinite as the extent of the frontage on Main street is not specified. It may be, however, that the bids were incorrectly reported by the newspaper correspondents from whom the information has been obtained, as $6,000 would be a very moderate price for a lot, at West Main and Bond streets, 111 by 198 feet, with the buildings now upon it. But as both bids are in excess of the amount appropriated neither of them can be accepted. In fact it is absolutely certain that no satisfactory site can be secured for the sum appropriated, and it will be turned back into the Treasury. When Congress meets in December the failure of the department to utilize it will be officially reported, and Congress may or may not then increase the appropriation.

Son of Former Marylander Honored.

Mr. Mark L. Leister, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon A. Leister, formerly of this city, was elected mayor of Tiffin, Ohio, on the 6th inst., by a majority of 473, which, it is said, was unprecedented. Mr. Leister's mother is a daughter of the late Jacob Beaver, of this city. Commenting on his election the Tiffin Daily Tribune of the 7th inst. says:

"The result of the municipal election in this city yesterday, gives great and general satisfaction, as to the head of the ticket. Mr. Leister's phenomenal run is a source of congratulation to the law and order people in Tiffin, who rallied to the support of the head of the Republican ticket. Mr. Leister was recognized as an honest and capable young man, thoroughly fitted, intellectually and morally, for the office and his legal qualifications added made him the strongest possible candidate. He made one promise and but one: 'I will do my duty to the best of my ability.' This was deemed sufficient by the people, especially as they knew Mr. Leister to be a man of his word. Tiffin's next mayor is the youngest chief executive in the state of Ohio and he no doubt will prove one of the most able and popular."

Thomas Roop, auctioneer, sold at public sale, at the banking room of the Westminster Deposit and Trust Company, Tuesday last, several lots of bank and other stocks, at prices which indicate the solidity and prosperity of the institutions represented in the sale. The Lutheran Church at Smallwood.

A report that the doors of the German Lutheran Church at Smallwood were closed on Sunday, 5th inst., against Rev. Mr. Schiller, of New York, who had been invited by several of the members to fill its pulpit on that date, has been widely circulated. The report, as we are informed, is misleading, the real facts in the case being of a somewhat different character. It is probably generally known that a controversy has arisen in the congregation that may be carried into the courts for settlement.

Until recently the church in question was connected with the Missouri Synod. A month or more ago the congregation by a large majority voted to change its synodical relations and unite with the Maryland Synod of the Lutheran Church. An arrangement was made with Rev. S. J. Derr, of Hampstead, to act as supply pastor, and as far as the congregation could make the transfer to the Maryland Synod it was completed.

A few of the members, however, were opposed to the change, and without consultation with the Maryland Synod adherents invited Rev. Mr. Schiller, of New, York, to preach in the church on Sunday, 5th inst., morning and afternoon. It happened that the hour for the afternoon service was the same as that for an appointment which had been previously made for Rev. Mr. Derr. No objection was made to the morning service, and Mr. Schiller occupied the pulpit and preached a sermon in the German language.

As the keys of the church are in possession of the Maryland Synod members and officers of the congregation they declined to permit Mr. Derr to be supplanted at the afternoon service, and, therefore, refused to accede to a demand that Mr. Schiller be allowed to preach at that time.

The congregation is a chartered organization, but the charter does not specify its synodical relations, hence it is held by the majority that they cannot be legally restrained from uniting with the Maryland Synod. The charter, however, does provide that any single member may insist upon a certain form of worship, and this might prove embarrassing to the majority if, as they anticipate, the legality of the transfer shall be sustained by the courts. The Missouri Synod interprets the Book of Concord in a strict sense, and one of its points of variance with the General Synod, of which the Maryland Synod forms a part, is in relation to secret societies. Missouri Synod churches refuse to fellowship with other Lutheran churches which recognize secret societies and permit their members to enter and belong to them.

The last Missouri Synod pastor of the Smallwood church was Rev. Theodore Henkle, of New York, who resigned in January. A communion service was held in the church last Sunday afternoon by Rev. Dr. P. H. Miller, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, this city.

An effort is being made to build a church in our town. Every one in the town and surrounding community should uphold it, and not be satisfied until our fondest wishes are realized. A printed form for subscriptions to the enterprise will soon be circulated.

Your correspondent has had a chat with quite a number of of people lately in regard to fruit crops. People claim that buds are at least three weeks earlier than usual, and many of the peach and cherry, as well as some of the apple blossoms were nipped by the April freeze.

The spirit of improvement continues even though lumber has advanced one-third per cent. Our carpenters are all busy and some people must patiently wait. Mr. Nathaniel Shaffer is having logs sawed preparatory to building a large frame barn.

Our little Magazine, "Shut-in Mission Worker," beside going into more than 200 Maryland homes, now goes regularly into 48 states and territories, and into four foreign countries. The circulation of the April number was 1600 and the publisher expects to increase it to 2000 until May 1st. He was recently in Baltimore and purchased new type.

The first wedding ceremony performed in the new Lutheran Church at Silver Run took place last Sunday afternoon, at half past two o'clock, just preceding the Easter services of the Sunday School, for which occasion the church was handsomely decorated with flowers. Stewart Hartman were the officiating clergymen. Misses Cora Mathias and Ida Hull were the bridesmaids, and Messrs. Roger Anders and John K. Hull the groomsmen.
