In the Circuit Court for this county, on Monday last, Judge Revell, after argument of counsel, sustained demurrers to the several counts of the declaration in a suit against the Western Maryland Railroad for $10,000 damages. The plaintiff is the State of Maryland, use of Mrs. Mary E. Mummaugh and her children, and the suit was brought to recover for the death of Mr. George W. Mummaugh, Mrs. Mummaugh's husband. The declaration sets forth, in substance, that, by negligence of defendant's officers and agents, Mr. Mummaugh, in attempting to leave a car at Carrollton Station, June 28, 1901, was injured in such manner that he died two days afterward. He had taken a calf to the station for shipment and, as the plaintiffs allege. was customary, had gotton into the car for the purpose of delivering the animal to the custody of the company's employees. The car was started before he could leave it and he fell to the ground, receiving the injuries which caused his death. An order was filed by plaintiffs appealing to the Court of Appeals from the order of Judge Revell sustaining the dumurrers. Messrs. Bond & Parke and J. M. Reifsnider appeared for the plaintiff and Messrs. Roberts & Crouse for the defendant.

Mr. Burns was formerly a harness maker and afterwards engaged in farming but retired from business 15 or 20 years ago. He was very active and vigorous, for a man of his age, until his last illness. He was from early manhood a member of the Lutheran Church, and was highly esteemed for his upright and honorable life. Politically he was a strong and decided Republican. His wife died several years ago. Three sons, Messrs. Fred. D. Burns, of Iowa; Luther Burns, of St. Louis, Mo., and David W. Burns, near this city, survive him. He also leaves 25 grandchildren and 9 great-grandchildren. Among his grandchildren is Mr. Horace G. Reese, of this city, who was acting postmaster for the bondsmen of the late Postmaster Schaeffer after the latter's death until the end of his term. Mr. Burns was an uncle of Lieut. William H. Burns, who was killed in the Battle of Winchester, Va., September 19, 1864, and after whom Burns Post No. 13, G. A. R., of this city, is named. Funeral services were held at St. Benjamin's Lutheran Church, near this city, at 10 o'clock, Thursday morning. The pastor, Rev. R. W. Doty, officiated, and the pallbearers were Messrs. Wm. H. Wantz, Uriah J. Babylon, Calvin Starner, Jehu Royer, Jno. S. Schweigart and Noah Stonesifer.

The Athletic Meet at Western Maryland College.

The first annual meet and field sports on the athletic field of Western Maryland College, on Saturday last, was an event of great interest to the participants and to the residents of this city and the surrounding country, who, to the number of 300 or 400, occupied the stand overlooking the field, or stood on the surrounding grounds for several hours, watching the contests between the various organizations represented on the occasion. The races were full of excitement and the runners bent every energy in the effort to win the prizes offered to the successful contestants. These prizes consisted, first, of a beautiful silken banner of green and gold—the colors of Western Maryland College—appropriately inscribed, to each of the organizations which won in the relay races; secondly, a gold medal to each of the four contestants who represented said organizations; and, thirdly, a gold medal to the first, a silver medal to the second and a bronze medal to third in each individual event of the meet.

Probably the most interesting event of the meet, to a large majority of the spectators, was the relay race between Western Maryland and St. John's Colleges. St. John's College obtained a good lead on the first lap and maintained it to the end, though sometimes closely pressed. So hotly contested were some of the races that a number of the runners fell exhausted and fainting as they crossed the line on the last lap. Among the most successful of the contestants were W. A. The Carroll County Christian Endeavor Convention.

The twelfth annual convention of the Carroll County Christian Endeavor Union was held at Lineboro, Thursday and Friday, May 21 and 22. It was in every way our "best yet" and a splendid success. The people were hospitable and kind and a delightful spirit of fellowship and enthusiasm pervaded all the meetings. There was no standing back, everybody was up and doing. The church was beautifully decorated by the flower committee, the music was splendid and the lunches, so bounteously served to all, much enjoyed. In fact everything possible was done for the entertainment and comfort of the visitors and delegates. The chairmen of the convention committees were as follows: Entertainment, Miss Maggie M. Wentz; reception, William Rupp; music, William Wertz; decoration, Miss Maggie A. Kopp; ushers, Joseph Dandy and Luther Wentz. The committees had left nothing undone and, though all were new in the work, their arrangements and the execution of their plans would have done credit to the oldest and most experienced convention workers. The attendance was excellent and there were few disappointments among those who had promised to take part in the program.

On Thursday there were addresses by Rev. Dr. Mead, of New York; W. A. Schumacher, vice president of the State Union; Geo. P. B. Englar, of New Windsor; Rev. S. F. Tholan, of Hampstead; Rev. C. E. McCullough, of Uniontown, and Prof. H. K. Barbe, of Taneytown, and Bible readings, on both mornings, by J. T. Grubb, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Hagerstown. Reports of county officers showed the work to be in good condition.

A paper on Temperance, by Miss Hollace Williams, of Westminster, was one of the best read at the convention.

The secretary reported 32 societies, seniors and juniors, with a membership of 1194. The Missionary banner was awarded to the Mt. Union Lutheran Society, whose members had given an average of 90 7-11 cents for missions during the year. The Junior attendance banner was won by the Westminster M. P. Juniors, their average attendance for the year having been 78½ per cent.

Dr. Mead addressed the convention again at night.

On Friday addresses were made by Rev. S. M. Roeder, Rev. C. E. McCullough, J. A. Zepp, W. J. Crabs and Rev. E. T. Read, and papers were read by Mrs. James Fraser, Miss Clara Coppersmith, A. D. Frankforter and Miss Lizzie Trump. State President George Mather made a few remarks and brought greetings from the Frederick County Union.

The junior hour was much enjoyed and emphasized the need of junior work. It was presided over by Jr. Supt., Mrs. S. H. Little. Those taking part were Mrs. James Fraser, Miss Marion Hess, Miss Blanche Williamson, Miss Lucille Gernand and Rev. E. T. Read.

Rev. Dr. Henry Branch, of Ellicott City, addressed the convention at night. The addresses and papers showed much thought and were practical and helpful.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, S. H. Little; vice-president, Rev. C. E. McCullough; secretary—treasurer, Miss Alice Crapster; junior superintendent, Mrs. George Mather; missionary superintendent, Miss Elizabeth Crawford; temperance superintendent, Miss Beulah Benson; press correspondent, Miss Lizzie Birely.

The convention next year will meet in the Presbyterian Church, New Windsor.

A County Farmers' Grange.

A county farmers' grange has been organized in this county with the following officers: Master, Harry L. Rinehart, of Frizellburg; overseer, William K. Eckert, of Copperville; lecturer, Rev. J. Stewart Hartman, of Silver Run; steward, Henry R. Fuss, of Union Bridge; assistant steward, J. Rinehart Zile, of Frizellburg; lady assistant steward, Mrs. William K. Eckert; chaplain, Rev. Edgar T. Read, of Union Bridge; treasurer, A. Kurtz Myers, of Frizellburg; secretary, John E. Davidson, of Taneytown; gatekeeper, Luther M. Bushey, of Porters; Pomona, Mrs. Reuben Sayler, of Union Bridge; Flora, Mrs. Harvey S. Morelock, of Silver Run; Ceres, Mrs. Harry L. Rinehart.

At the meeting for organization, which was held at Frizellburg, on Saturday last, the granges of Silver Run, Eldersburg, Union Bridge, Taneytown, Pleasant Valley and Frizellburg were represented, and over 100 persons were present, all of whom were entertained at dinner and supper in the Public Hall by the Frizellburg Grange. Addresses were delivered by Capt. R. W. Silvester and Prof. H. J. Patterson, of Maryland Agricultural College. The officers elected were installed by J. B. Ager, state organizer, who conferred the fifth degree of the order on all the grangers present.

Much interest is felt in the movement and the county organization begins its career with excellent prospects of success. It is expected that its establishment will excite renewed activity in the order and promote the institution of additional subordinate granges. Its effect will also be to bring farmers from various localities together at stated periods for consultation and the exchange of views and experiences in the cultivation of the crops suited to the soil and climate of the county. The first meeting will be held at Taneytown, on the third Saturday in June, and at different points, quarterly, thereafter.

We are having rain at this writing, after a period of three weeks dry weather.

Sunday last Mr. Elmer Hood and family were among the guests assembled at the home of Mr. Luther Pickett. While being entertained by vocal and instrumental music Mr. Hood's horse in some way become loosened, and was seen slowly approaching the house. Mr. Hood ran to the door but was unable to reach it until their fine new dayton had struck a corner in the fence which frightened the horse and he loosed himself from the dayton, completely demolishing it. Fortunately no one was in the vehicle at the time. The shock, however, was a great strain on Mrs. Hood and daughters, who became very nervous. Mrs. Hood suffered a severe nervous chill but after stimulants were kindly administered by the Misses Pickett she recovered sufficiently to return home.

Master James Miller is confined to his home with whooping cough.
