The season denominated the "dog days" is here, but about the only reason for supposing that the period thus called has a peculiarly malignant influence upon the health of human beings is that it occurs at a time of the year when the heat is often debilitating and the power of the sun's beams seems to be intensified. Sometimes these conditions are modified and the atmosphere is comparatively dry, pure, and healthful, and disease germs are not more rapidly propogated than at any other season. "Dog Days" are mythical and by cleanliness and attention to the laws of health, generally, are no more perilous to human life than any other period of the year.

Severe Thunder Storms.

Severe storms, with much vivid lightning, heavy thunder and drenching rain passed over this county on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. During the storm of Wednesday lightning struck the barn on the old Gist homestead, about two miles from this city, and shattered some of the timbers but, fortunately, did not set it on fire. The residence of Prof. A. Bailey Morelock, of this city, was also struck and a chimney split from the top halfway down.

A succession of storms occurred on Thursday afternoon, during which the electric discharges were frequent and severe. The lightning struck in many places, but did not do any serious damage. A locust tree was struck on the road leading to the pool of the Westminster Water Company, and, it is said, the electric wires in the vicinity of Main and Court streets were affected by three distinct discharges. A stroke near the home of Mr. Harry Ditman, of Mountain View, a short distance from the city limits, stunned Mrs. Ditman, who was in the house, and nearly killed a dog, which was lying on the porch. The cupola of the Western Maryland Railroad Station at New Windsor was struck and somewhat shattered. The heavy rainfall caused a rise in the waters of Little Pipe creek nearly as great as that which occasioned the washout of the railroad tracks several weeks ago.

Mrs. Smith Gets a Divorce.

The Circuit Court for Frederick county passed a decree on Monday, granting Mrs. Nellie L. Smith a divorce a vinculo matrimonii from her husband, George Baxter Smith, of that county, awarding her $1,000 alimony and giving her the custody of her children, Wm. Cover Smith and Kenneth Earl Smith. Mrs. Smith is a daughter of Mr. Wm. F. Cover, of York Road, this county, who was a Republican member of the House of Delegates of Maryland in 1896-97. Her marriage to Mr. Smith was not favored by her parents. It took place at Camden, N. J., August 23rd, 1899, and the ceremony was performed by a New Jersey Justice of the Peace, Philip Schmitz.

Miss Mae Creager, of Walkersville, who was co-respondent in the divorce proceedings, was engaged to marry Dr. Gustavus A. Thiede, of Baltimore, on the 15th of April last, but in consequence of admissions made by her to Dr. Thiede, through the medium of her father, and by her own volition the engagement was temporarily broken; but the marriage took place about two weeks later at Rockville.

The decree was passed upon the testimony in the case, witnesses stating that the defendant and the co-respondent had registered and roomed together at the Colonial House, York, Pa., and at other hotels, as man and wife.

State's Attorney Edward O. Weant, of this city, was Mrs. Smith's counsel in the divorce proceedings.

DEATH'S DOINGS

Mrs. Catharine Struth.

Mrs. Catharine Struth, widow of George Struth, died suddenly on Sunday last, of apoplexy, at the home of Mr. Frederick Brehm, near Brummel, at the age of 81 years, 9 months, 6 days. Mrs. Struth was a native of Hesse Darmstadt, Germany, as was her husband also. They came to this country upwards of fifty years ago and were married soon after their arrival, having been engaged lovers before they left the Fatherland. Mrs. Struth was the last surviving member of her family. Her funeral took place on Tuesday, and her remains were interred in the burial ground of the German Lutheran Church, on the Gorsuch Road, Rev. R. W. Doty, of this city, officiating.

Henry Richter.

Mr. Henry Richter, a well known citizen and farmer of Woolery's district, died at his home near Smallwood on Friday last, at the age of 82 years, 9 months. The immediate cause of his death was pleurisy. Mr. Richter was a native of Germany, but came to this country in the 40s. He was a member of the Lutheran Church, a staunch Republican and a good citizen. His wife died some years ago. The following children survive him. Messrs. Henry Richter, of Green county, Mo.; John Richter, of Medford; Frederick, Michael, William and George Richter, of this district; Mrs. Catharine Evans, of this city, and Mrs. Lydia Harris, near Smallwood. His funeral took place on Sunday morning and was largely attended. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. B. Tyler. Interment was in the burial ground of the Lutheran Church at Smallwood.

Farmers' Club Picnic.

The annual picnic of the Copperville Farmers' Club was held in the grove of Hon. J. A. Goulden, near that place, on Saturday last and was attended by a large number of people, a correspondent of the Baltimore Sun placing it at 3,500 to 4,000.

Mr. Solomon Myers, of Trevanion, one of the most intelligent and popular farmers in this county, was master of ceremonies. Rev. J. B. Lennon, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Taneytown, delivered an address of welcome, in which he spoke in terms of high praise of farmers generally and their noble calling.

A letter from Hon. J. A. Goulden, of New York, a former Taneytown boy, was read. Mr. Goulden has been in the habit of attending the picnics of the Copperville Club, and wrote to express his great regret at his inability to be present on the occasion. He said, in the concluding paragraphs of his letter:

"Let the agricultutal interests, more than one-half of this great nation's population, stand together loyally and intelligently and the complaints of discrimination and unjust laws will no longer be heard in the land. In that case the farmers and allied industries will receive their full share of the nation's wealth, and not, as now, have it going into the hands of the manufacturer, the mineowner and others more favored. Wishing all assembled God's choicest blessings, health, prosperity, contentment and the esteem of their neighbors, I am, sincerely yours."

Captain R. W. Silvester of the Maryland Agricultural College, said he always felt at home in addressing a Carroll county audience. He sketched what the college had accomplished and very gracefully acknowledged what a power and help the farmers of Maryland, and of Carroll in particular, had been in their support and encouragement. He told how to keep the boy on the farm, advocated making him a partner and giving him a share, with no general fund business about it. He should have something particularly his own. Farmers' daughters should have education equal to that in any life—she is to become the homemaker. In Canada they are educating farmers' daughters to become homemakers, teaching them how to make a well-balanced ration for husbands that will send them out to the fields refreshed, etc. He advocated a girl's department for the Maryland College.

Mr. W. T. Hill, master of the Pennsylvania State Farmers' Grange, said, among other things, that the farm was the place to develop the best men and women.

Professor Symons, State Entomologist, spoke on the ravages of destructive insects, giving remedies for the same.

The Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station had on exhibition a very educational object lesson in the relative value of rations for cattle. The contrasts were marked and showed that with 16 pounds of alfalfa hay and 4 pounds of cornmeal the same carbohydrate value was secured as with 10 pounds of bran, 2 pounds of cornmeal and 8 pounds of cut corn fodder. Professor Taliaferro was on hand and explained the value of the ration and showed the same results of the ration were secured when it was not necessary to buy bran, etc.

Professor Austin had a collection of cions and branches of fruit trees, grafting wax, etc., and practically illustrated the methods of grafting and budding, explaining when the proper season occurs for performing the operations. The interest seemed to center around the exhibit and the professors were kept busy answering questions. Twigs affected with diseases and insects were displayed and several varieties of apples recommended.

Mr. Luther M. Bushey, of Porter's, exhibited some apple and pear blossoms and ripe fruit picked from the same trees. Hailstorms thinned the fruit and nature is making a second effort at cropping.

As usual, on such occasions, many visitors and others were handsomely entertained at tables spread with an elaborate luncheon provided by the families of farmers in the vicinity.

Manchester Items.

The baseball enthusiasts were early on the diamond on Saturday afternoon, to witness the practice of the Keystone Cheroot Factory nine, of Hanover, Pa., who crossed bats with our senior nine. When Umpire John LaMotte called the game there was a large crowd in attendance. The visitors went to the bat and showed a good beginning, through the wild throwing of the home boys, which errors, however, they soon redeemed and held the visitors well in hand until the 8th and 9th innings, when the Keystones changed pitchers and run their score to a safe showing. The winners were a good jovial nine and played ball like clock work. The line up was:

Loats and Clark each had 11 strikeouts to their credit.

On Saturday evening last the house and lawn at the home of Dr. J. H. Sherman were nicely illuminated for the festival occasion, while the many voices of the little Misses echoed through the gentle breezes as they busied themselves in supplying the wants of their friends and patrons. Everything was first-class and inviting, but in the early hours they realized that their supply of cakes, caramels and ice cream would not suffice for the patronage and consequently the affair was short lived. Yet they were jubilant that they had made $11.50 for church purposes.

Some 11 or 12 of our fishermen took an outing to Lucabaugh's dam on Friday, seining and enjoying a fish dinner. On their return trip they took in the dam of Mr. John H. Leister, where the catch was light; but they had the fun and day off to offset the limited luck.

The bricklayers finished their work at the Frederick building on Saturday, and Mr. Tine Menchey is busy with a corps of hands at the cornice and roof. The architecture of this part of the building has been changed and it will be ornamented with a mansard roof.

The town authorities are having the crossing on South Main street relaid with Gettysburg granite, which makes a good serviceable footway.

While workmen were handling the horses in the exchange stables of Frederick & Buchman, on Foundry avenue, on Thursday, a vicious animal kicked at a moving horse and broke his leg. The break was such as to compel the killing of the animal.

Mr. Curvin Ament took full possession of the Betts cigar factory on South Main street, on Monday, and commenced manufacturing cigars with the corps of old hands.

The tomato failure mentioned in these columns from other sections is one of much discussion in our section. The growth of the vines is extravagant and the bloom plentiful, but the fruitage extremely scarce, in some gardens almost a rarity. Apparently the blossom is perfect, but without fecundity.

The main building is of brick, L shaped, with a large frame addition, which will be taken down and the timbers used in building a stable, &c. This institution was incorporated by the legislature in 1858 for Dr. Ferdinand Diffenbach, under the title of Irving College, and soon sprang into a prosperous institution. After the death of the doctor its prosperity gradually diminished and after several spasmodic struggles closed. In 1880 it was opened by Prof. Denlinger as Irving Institute. After his death, several years ago, it became a tenement accommodating five families at one time.

All Greenmount and its suburbs were out on Tuesday evening to witness a game of baseball on a diamond near the school house, between a make up nine from here and a nine from Greenmount. The game was called late and darkness overtook them in the fourth inning when the score stood 15 to 15.

Mr. Leonard Smith has improved his front yard by placing a neat wire fence along the pavement.

Carrollton Items.

The Sunday School of the Church of God, of which Rev. Mr. Tyler is the pastor, held its annual picnic in Oursler's grove on last Saturday. There was a good crowd present from various parts of Woolery's district. The Sunday Schools of the following other charges were represented: Sandyville, Wesley, Patapsco and others. Mr. Randolph Taylor, the superintendent, had charge of the musical arrangements. Mrs. Vernon Reese and Miss Ward were the organists. There were good singing and excellent addresses by Rev. Mr. Nicholson, of the M. P. Church, and Rev. Mr. Tyler and several teachers. The People's Band, of Mayberry, was present and made the grove echo with choice music. The proceeds from the picnic were for the benefit of the Sunday School and the picnic was a success in every particular. The Sunday School of the Church of God is in a flourishing condition, having 120 members, not including the officers and teachers.

A number of persons went from Carrollton and vicinity on Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral of Mrs. Struth, widow of George Struth, which took place at the German Lutheran Church.

The two heavy showers of rain and wind, which came upon this locality on Wednesday afternoon, were pretty severe, with vivid flashes of lightning. No material damage was done to the growing crops of corn and potatoes, to both of which the rain was of great benefit.

Owing to the blessed sunshine for about ten days farmers of this neighborhood were kept pretty busy, from sunup till sundown making hay and filling their barns with it. The crop is generally very good and heavy in and around Carrollton.

He was followed with exercises by the Juvenile Temple, and so much time was devoted to them that the address of Rev. Frank Killman, of Unionville, was omitted or postponed until some future date. A very large crowd was present at night and listened to G. C. T. Hess and Rev. F. Watson. Music was furnished by the Elite Orchestra and Taylorsville Quartet.

Gist Items.

Mr. Geo. A. Blizzard, living two miles southeast of Gist, hitched two horses to his stick wagon about one o'clock Monday afternoon, and left them standing without tying them, when they took fright and ran away. They dashed up the Bartholow road to Gist, then out the Klee mill road as far as the ford at the mill, a distance of about four miles, where they went down over the abutment of the old bridge that was washed away a short time ago. They plunged into the stream, where the Klee brothers caught them. One of them became entangled in some way and was cut by falling on the stones, causing the blood to flow for awhile quite freely. Except in this respect but little damage was done, as the horses kept in the road nearly all the distance. One front wheel was dished and the large umbrella in the wagon was demolished.

Why Not Cure Your Cough or Cold?

WESTMINSTER, April 10th, 1890.

MR. JOS. B. BOYLE:

Dear Sir:—For many years I have suffered intensely, on taking cold, from a very troublesome cough, for which I have used a number of various remedies, and obtained but TEMPORARY RELIEF. During the past Spring I was again troubled with the same cough, and through a friend was induced to try YOUR Pectoral Syrup, which not only gave almost INSTANT RELIEF, but a PERMANENT CURE. It gives me great pleasure to say that I believe it to be the best remedy I ever used for the purpose for which it is recommended. Hoping that any person afflicted as I was may be fortunate enough to give it a trial, I am, Truly yours,

EDWARD LYNCH.
