ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOV. 3RD, 1903.

Elsewhere in the SENTINEL will be found a communication from Mr. C. Edgar Nusbaum, announcing that he has, on account of business interests, found it necessary to decline the nomination for the House of Delegates tendered him by the Republican convention of this county. Mr. Nusbaum is a gentleman of fine character and a sturdy young Republican, and his decision to withdraw from the ticket will cause general regret. The vacancy caused by his declination will be filled in due course of time.

A FALSE RUMOR.

A rumor was current for several days during the past week that Mr. Webster W. Sweigart, the Republican nominee for Clerk of the Circuit Court, intended to withdraw from the ticket, his business as agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Bruceville Station making it impossible for him to give as much attention to the canvass as he considered desirable. In a letter to the manager of the SENTINEL, however, he has put a quietus upon the rumor by stating that he means to stay on the ticket.

Mr. Sweigart has unusual elements of strength as a candidate. He has had 25 years' experience in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and has been at Bruceville Station for 17 years, preferring to remain there and make it his home, although several times offered promotion by the company. He is actively identified with several of the leading fraternal orders of the country, being a member of the Masonic Fraternity, an Elk and a Knight of Pythias. There can be no doubt about his qualifications for the important office for which he has been nominated.

THE POT AND THE KETTLE.

The Frederick Citizen and other Democratic journals in this State freely charge the corrupt use of money in the recent Republican primaries where the colored vote was in evidence. But these journals are compelled to admit that just as bad a state of affairs existed among the Democrats where the Crawford county system has been adopted. In Harford county, for instance, 1500 more votes were polled at the recent primaries than were cast for Mr. Talbott for Congress last year, and in Cecil county a similar condition of affairs occurred in some of the districts. In Anne Arundel county ballot-box stuffing was almost openly resorted to and from cheating the Republicans at regular elections the Democrats fell to cheating each other in the primaries. The whole business, in the counties named, was a revival of the methods of the old Democratic Gorman-Rasin Ring in the days antedating the Republican victory in 1895.

But Democratic methods were not confined to repeating, ballot-box stuffing, voting tramps without a local habitation, and so on. Fraud and trickery, it is true, had full swing, but bribery was a potent factor, as well, in determining the result in some localities. This was the method most in evidence at the Democratic primary in Westminster district, where many white Democrats sold their votes as freely as did colored Republicans at the primary of that party. It is said, too, that the vote selling element did not consist wholly of the impecunious class of voters, but that some well-to-do Democrats demanded and received a price for their ballots. The Citizen, therefore, has its colored Republican vote-seller fully matched by a white Democratic vote-seller. It is a case of the pot calling the kettle black, over again, only a little more so. The colored man, as a rule, is of humble station and possibly a more easy prey of corrupt politicians; but numerous white Democrats can be found who seem to be just as willing to sell their franchises in the primaries of their party.

The party which shall control in law-making in the next Legislature will owe a solemn obligation to the cause of political honesty, which can only be fulfilled by the passage of such a primary election law as will make it not only possible but probable that bribe-givers in future, and bribe-solicitors also, shall suffer the penalty of disfranchisement and the dishonor that should attach to about as rascally a piece of business as an American citizen can be guilty of. The man who commits a petty larceny should be made respectable in contrast with a citizen who attempts to corrupt a voter.

It is announced from Washington by the Secret Service that there has been discovered a new counterfeit $10 silver certificate. The general appearance of the note is said to be excellent and likely to deceive even careful handlers of money.

The atrocities of the Turks in Macedonia may lead to the creation of a Balkan Empire. Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, has suggested that course as furnishing a solution of the Turkish question in Europe.

The Man For Governor.

Stevenson A. Williams, of Harford county, is the man whom the Republicans should make their candidate for the Governorship of Maryland. His fitness for the important station is fully recognized by all who have been brought into intercourse with him politically and otherwise. The language of panegyric might be exhausted in describing his qualifications, without over estimating them. He is, as the SENTINEL has heretofore remarked, the best man yet suggested for the place by either party. To those Republicans who are actuated by principle and capable of rising above factional prejudices, his candidacy appeals with peculiar force, because he refuses to acknowledge the control of any faction. If nominated and elected he will be the Governor of the people in fact as well as in theory. His own utterances on that subject should commend him as a candidate to every Republican in the State. Recently, in an interview with a reporter of the Baltimore Sun, who sought to ascertain his views in this respect, he made his position so clear that it cannot be misunderstood. The Sun man asked:

"Did you see Mr. Mudd's interview in the press August 19, in which he declared that you could not control the State Convention if you acquiesced in Mr. McComas' claim to represent you, and what have you to say in reference to it?"

To this Mr. Williams replied: "I saw it, and would say that both before and after I said in June that I would accept the Republican nomination, if tendered me, I told all those who asked me that I was entirely free from all party factions and intended to remain so. I have pursued this course and shall continue it. I do not mean by this that I do not want the support of the different factions of the party, for I do; but simply that the members of any one faction will only count with me as Republicans—their factional alliances will not count. Among others to whom I gave this assurance was Mr. Mudd by letter, in reply to one from him."

"In view of the recent primaries in the counties, asked the reporter, how do you regard your chances for the Republican nomination?"

"I have not given this very close attention, he said and have not undertaken to familiarize myself with the local situation in each of the counties in order to know what the preferences of their delegates to the State Convention will be. I am perfectly willing to leave this matter with the delegates to the convention, and do not intend to make an active effort to canvass the delegates. If I am to be the nominee, I consider it essential to party success that I should be so under circumstances which will give me the united support of all elements of the party. Unless I can have the nomination in this way I am not anxious for it. I feel more concerned about the campaign after the nomination than I do about the nomination. It will be very necessary for us to present a united front and to stand, not merely in the State, but also in the counties, for the best measures and men we are able to put forward. The Democrats can win in Maryland on Republican demerits, but we cannot win on Democratic demerits alone; combined with them, our own merits must be conspicuous.

"The Governorship has no attractions for me merely for the sake of holding the office. I do not mean by this that I do not consider the Republican nomination for the office and an election a very high honor, for I do; I simply mean that its attractions to me are almost wholly in view of the opportunity it offers for the discharge of a public duty. I have always taken an interest in politics and always expect to, but not in the sense of desiring to hold office. I do not care for office unless in holding it I feel that I am discharging a public duty.

"Within the limits of honesty and competency I am not concerned as to what individuals control the Republican organization. The party is large enough for all, and in my experience almost every element has its opportunity in the course of time. It is very important that every Republican shall become thoroughly imbued with the principles for which the party stands and its duty to stand for good government, and that these should be made paramount to mere office seeking. The distribution of all party rewards should be made solely with a view, first, to the public good, and, second, to keeping the party in such shape that it may be an efficient instrument for that purpose."

The America's Cup.

The effort being made by Sir Thos. Lipton to take back to England the Queen's cup, won by the yacht America fifty-two years ago, is likely to end in failure. Sir Thomas' yacht, Shamrock III, has thus far shown inferiority to the Reliance, the American yacht built to defend the cup. Four races, over a thirty-mile course, have been sailed, two of which have been won by the Reliance, and two have been without result, as there was not sufficient wind to take either of the vessels across the finish line within the time limit. The Reliance, however, led in every race and was only in danger of losing once. This was on Tuesday, when the wind failed where she was sailing while the Shamrock was booming along with a good breeze. The race sailed yesterday, while not counted because not within the time limit, exhibited the superiority of the Reliance very clearly, as she crossed the home line at least two miles ahead of the Shamrock. Evidently, in construction and in the manner in which she is being handled by her captain and crew, the American yacht has the better of her challenger. Five races are to be sailed, unless the Reliance sooner wins another victory. Having two now to her credit another will settle the contest.

More Trolley Talk.

From the Gettysburg Star and Sentinel.

Speaking of the Chambersburg-Gettysburg trolley road Stephen S. Emory the projector of the road made the following statement to a Zephyr reporter recently:

The Company has in no matter abandoned the project. The Baltimore, Westminster & Gettysburg Co., known here as the Long Distance Co., holds the charter, rights of way, etc., from Gettysburg to Greenwood and has entered into an agreement either to build the line from Gettysburg to connect with the C. & G., or failing to do so within a stipulated time, expiring next year, to sell its rights, at a price agreed upon to the C. & G. and the latter company will build it.

The Republicans of Frederick county have nominated the following ticket: For clerk of the circuit court, Dr. Samuel T. Haffner; for state's attorney, Arthur E. Willard; for state senator, Dr. D. M. Devilbiss, of Woodville; for register of wills, W. B. Cutshall, of Woosboro; for House of Delegates, E. L. Harrison, Wm. H. Harry, P. L. Hiteshew, L. D. Crawford, Jas. W. Smith; for sheriff, Charles T. K. Young; for judges of the orphans' court, Jacob M. Birely, W. B. Krantz, Wm. H. Pearre; for county commissioners, David G. Zentz, Wm. H. Hogarth; for county Treasurer, Chas. C. Biser; for surveyor, R. A. Rager.

President Theodore Roosevelt will visit Antietam battlefield and deliver an address on the occasion of the unveiling of the New Jersey State Monument on Thursday, September 17.

A lad named Wm. Harner, son of Mr. George Harner, of Littlestown, Pa., accidentally shot himself through the right foot, with a target rifle, last week.

The annual Teachers' Institute for Frederick county will be held in the Masonic Temple, Frederick, September 1, 2, 3 and 4.

At last a two minute trotting record has been made, the animal accomplishing it being Lou Dillon, a five-year old mare bred by the Pierces, in California, and sold at Cleveland, Ohio, to C. K. G. Billings, for $12,000. The feat was performed at Readville, Mass., on Monday last and the last quarter of a mile was made in 29 seconds. The mare, it is said, was not at all distressed at the close of the heat by the tremendous pace at which she had been driven. She is now the queen of the turf, but it is said that Cresceus, with the previous lowest record—2.01¼—will be driven in an effort to beat her time. She seems equal to lowering it herself, and probably has taken the place of Cresceus "for good and all."

Mr. Nusbaum Declines.

WESTMINSTER, MD., AUGUST 27TH, 1903.

Editor of American Sentinel:

I wish to notify my friends in this county, that I have filed with the chairman of the County Central Committee notice of my withdrawal as nominee for House of Delegates on the Republican Ticket. Much as I appreciate the honor conferred upon me by my friends at the recent county convention, and deeply as I regret to decline the same, I am impelled by my business interests to take this action.

In these the opening days of a most interesting campaign, allow me to assure you of my hearty co-operation and may it result in a signal victory for the principles of the great Republican party in which we steadfastly believe.

The startling announcement that a preventive of suicide had been discovered will interest many. N. I. GORSUCH SON Co.

INCORPORATED.

Please bear in mind that we are doing business at the same place, where for 20 years it has been our effort to please our patrons. Many of the older men, with whom we did business have been succeeded on the farm by their sons and tenants. It is to them we appeal. If you don't know us come and get acquainted with us. We propose to do the same reliable business that was conducted by our predecessor. We handle the same well known that they handled, made better than ever and especially adapted to our land. Give us a trial this fall. Exchange some Rye Straw for Fertilizer.

Brands of Fertilizer

You Will Find None Better as to Quality or Condition and Lowest Prices.

WHEAT! WHEAT!!

Don't forget us when you sell your Wheat. We can use 500 bushels a day. It takes quantities of wheat in our mill and we must have it; prices guaranteed. We also have our own make. Why buy Western Feed when you can get home-made feed, which all admit is much better, and you can get for the same price as the Western feed.

We want all the
that is grown within a radius of 12 miles from Westminster. Give us a call whenever you have any produce to sell.

Yours Respectfully,

N. I. GORSUCH SON Co.,
