1784 March 1 Robert Bentley to James Clinton

SIDE ONE

Dear Sir

North End, Fulham
1 March 1784.

I hope the articles we sent out to you in the fall by the Carolina, Capt. Rogers, arrived safe. — I need yours inclosing Notes for £16.16. & £13.9.0, wt. a list of things to be purchased. — I wish this letter may come safe to hand, as it is to prepare you for the disappointment you might otherwise have, in not receiving the things so early as I could wish for. — Poor Mrs Bentley is but just recovered from a very violent & alarming fever, which has confined her there two Months. — My whole care & attention, you may be sure, has been solely engaged upon her. — I thank God she is now recovering very fast, & a little spring weather, I have no doubt, will shortly restore her perhaps to better health & strength than she has been used to.
