W. L. W. Seabrook, - Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1904.

Inaccuracies and deficiencies in this issue of the SENTINEL are accounted for by the illness of the editor who is suffering with grip and was ordered by his physician, yesterday afternoon, to desist from work.

MACHEN, LORENZ AND THE GROFFS GUILTY.

The trial of the cases of A. W. Machen, Dr. George E. Lorenz, Diller B. Groff and Samuel A. Groff, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with supplying the Postoffice Department with the Groff fastener for mail boxes, came to an end in the Criminal Court of the District of Columbia last Friday night, with a verdict of guilty against all the accused. The wife of Dr. Lorenz, who was also indicted as one of the conspirators, had been previously released by Judge Pritchard, who sat in the cases, upon the ground that there was not sufficient evidence against her to justify her conviction.

In the case of Samuel A. Groff, Holmes Conrad, one of the counsel for the prosecution, stated in his argument before the jury that there was not sufficient evidence to convict, but the jurors thought otherwise and included him in their verdict of guilty. There were twelve counts in the indictment against the accused and counsel for the Government contended that the sentence to be passed upon them might be made cumulative—that is, that the maximum penalty of two years imprisonment and $10,000 fine might be imposed in each count, making 24 years imprisonment and $120,000 fine upon each of the defendants. Judge Pritchard, however, decided that the several counts in the indictment constituted a single offense, and, though he held that the penalty was not sufficiently severe, he could not increase it. The accused were, therefore, sentenced on Saturday to two years imprisonment in the Penitentiary at Moundsville, West Va., and each to pay a fine of $10,000, except Samuel A. Groff, in whose case a motion in arrest of judgment and for a new trial was pending. Mr. Machen trembled and was moved to tears when the sentence was pronounced. He and his associates gave notice of an appeal to the Court of Appeals and were released upon filing bonds in the sum of $20,000 each.

There are, approximately, 14 other indictments against Mr. Machen, and, it is said, most of them will be pressed by the government.

WHERE SHOULD OUR SYMPATHY BE.

The views of Mr. A. H. Huber expressed in his interesting communication to the SENTINEL last week, in relation to the duty of Americans to sympathize with Russia in her war with Japan, do not meet with universal approval, as the following letter from Prof. Fayette R. Buell, of Philadelphia, indicates.

To the Editor—American Sentinel, Westminster, Md.

DEAR SIR.—Your issue of Feb. 27th, brings to us quite an interesting article from the pen of our old and esteemed acquaintance, Mr. A. H. Huber, on "Mistaken Sympathy for Japan." Russian kindness to the United States during our national peril should always be highly appreciated, but that act does not obligate us to defend her in every act of injustice she may render to another nation * * * *

Very Respectfully,
F. R. BUELL.

With his letter Prof. Buell enclosed a clipping from the Philadelphia Public Ledger, of the 2nd inst., covering a statement given out by the Japanese minister at Washington, in which the causes which impelled Japan to take up arms against Russia, are fully set forth. The statement is to long for our colums, and then, too, it is only one side of the case, however fair it may be, and it would scarcely be just to both sides in the controversy to give place to the claims of one and not of the other.

Briefly stated, the situation between Japan and Russia may be said to have arisen in consequence of the occupation by the latter of Manchuria, a province of the Chinese Empire and the apprehension of the former that the occupation is likely to become permanent and eventually extend to Korea and perhaps further. The efforts of Japan to obtain from Russia definite assurances of the purposes of the latter, after long drawn out negotiations, failed, diplomatic intercourse between the two countries were suspended by the action of Japan, which then resorted to force to compel Russia's retirement from the disputed territory.

It seems to be the general impression that Russia intended to make her occupation of Manchuria permanent and to annex the province to her own territory. Her policy for years has been to extend her territorial possessions and as in the present instance, this policy is detrimental to the interests of Japan, that country was compelled either to abandon her own rights and interests, or resort to war to maintain them.

WM. M. MARINE.

Hon. Wm. M. Marine, Ex-Collector of Customs, of Baltimore, died at his home on Madison avenue, that city on Wednesday morning, in his 61st year. Mr. Marine was a native of Dorchester county. He was partly educated at Irving College, Manchester, this county, studied law with T. Yates Walsh, of Baltimore, and was admitted to the bar of that city in 1864. From his early manhood he was identified with the Republican party and was several times a candidate for Congress in the Second District of this State. He was a Grant elector in 1872 and was also a candidate for States Attorney of Harford county at one time. He was a delegate from the Second District of Maryland to the National convention which nominated Harrison for President in 1888, and took an active part in the subsequent campaign, making many speeches throughout the State of Indiana. He often attended meetings and made speeches in this county, where he became well known as an earnest and impassioned orator. He was appointed Collector of Customs in Baltimore in 1889 and served four years. For many years he was the orator at the reunions of the Society of Old Defenders of Baltimore, until the society was broken up by the death of all its members. His last speech in Carroll county, we believe, was made on Memorial Day, 1902, at Winfield. Mr. Marine leaves a widow and five children—Mr. Madison Marine, of the Baltimore bar; Richard Elliott Marine, Misses Harriet P., Amelia Eleanor and Frances Elizabeth Marine. His funeral will take place from his late residence tomorrow morning, and his remains will be interred in Loudoun Park Cemetery.

For the Sentinel.

IS NOT MISTAKEN SYMPATHY FOR JAPAN.

Reply to Mr. A. H. Huber's Article in Last Issue of Sentinel.

In our war of the rebellion the sentiment of Europeans and the part that European countries might take in our misfortune were matters of great concern to both sections of our country. All the European countries of any note were clear of slavery and the masses of their people were in sympathy with the North, while in many of those countries the rulers, from feelings of envy and hate of republican government, were in sympathy with the South, for the sole purpose of breaking up our republic and establishing the oft repeated doctrine that such form of government lacked power for its own preservation, and therefore could have no continued endurance; the failure of republican government in France and in South American countries seeming to give strength to such belief. The masses, without any power to lead and direct, could do the North but little good, while those in authority seemed anxious to aid the side that was most certain to accomplish our national ruin. Russia and Prussia were the only two countries where both the rulers and the masses were in earnest sympathy with the North. The attitude of those two great countries neutralized the intentions of the rulers in the other countries and did us an untold amount of good; and in addition thereto, Archbishop Hughes, of N. Y., crossed the Atlantic at the request of President Lincoln, and laid before all the Catholic Sovereigns in Europe the true nature of the struggle. This country owes to Russia and Prussia a debt of gratitude that may never be fully paid, and to the memory of Archbishop Hughes a monument that may never be built.

We are not delinquents in the payment of our debts of gratitude to other countries, but cannot consistently pay until they have causes that merit our favorable consideration. Their causes must, in our opinion be good enough to be worthy of our sympathies, so that our showing in that line will not be hypocritical. No man or country has any moral right to encourage a friend, when the friend is doing wrong. Russia never fails to get our sympathies when her cause is good. Russia had our unbounded sympathy in her last war with Turkey, but in these times of fair play we cannot sustain her in her bad treatment of the Jews, nor in her schemes of the last several years by which the people to be most affected by the accomplishment of her aims would be sufferers.

Japan's friendliness and fairness in all international affairs commends her to the favor of the world. That quality as a characteristic of the Japanese has been well established by its many showings; notably in the late war with China. Japan united with the Powers when the principal cause and factor in that war was the christian religion. Although it was not the religion of Japan, yet Japan was willing to use her power for fairness and freedom in matters of conscience.

England's failure to evacuate the Island of Malta is the best argument that Mr. Huber has ever made in his partiality for the First Napoleon. It is a good argument and cannot be successfully refuted. The same argument applies to Russia's similar failure to evacuate Manchuria.

EDWIN FRANKLIN ABELL.

Mr. Edwin Franklin Abell, president of the A. S. Abell Company and principal proprietor of the Baltimore Sun, died at his home in Baltimore on Sunday morning last, after an illness of three weeks, at the age of about 64 years. Mr. Abell's father was the founder of the Sun and after his death the task of keeping up the paper to the high standard to which it had attained fell upon the son, who soon demonstrated that he was fully equal to the task.

Mr. Abell was a man of fine personal presence and genial and kindly disposition, and was held in loving esteem by the many persons with whom he was brought in close contact in the publication of a great daily newspaper. His death is a signal loss, not only to the Sun, but to the city of Baltimore. He leaves a widow, two sons and one daughter.

More Disastrous Fires.

A fire which started in the business portion of Rochester, N. Y., shortly before 5 o'clock last Friday morning, raged until it had destroyed property valued at about five millions of dollars. About 2,500 people were thrown out of employment by the disaster.

The State Capitol Building of Wisconsin, at Madison in that State, was destroyed by fire on Saturday last, causing a loss of $800,000, upon which there was only a small amount of insurance.

The congregations of the methodist Protestant churches throughout the Maryland Annual Conference District, which embraces Maryland, District of Columbia, parts of Delaware, Pennsylvania and Virginia, have already begun to elect delegates to the next annual session of the Conference, which convenes on April 5 in Allnutt Memorial Methodist Protestant Church, corner of Lombard and Chester streets Baltimore. These delegates have the same voice in the sessions of the conference as that of the ministers. They are allowed to vote upon all important questions, and at least 10 of their number, with equally as many ministers, will be sent as delegates to the General Conference, which meets in Washington in May. The selection of the delegates to the General Conference will be one of the most interesting features of the session. The voting will be by ballot. Many of the delegates favor the consolidations of the Methodist Protestant, United Brethren and Congregational denominations, a question which will be decided at the General Conference. It is likely that a lively contest will develop at the sessions in Washington.

The large bank barn and other farm buildings on the farm of Mr. Edward C. Gill, near Boring, Fourth district of Baltimore county, were destroyed by fire Saturday night. Four horses perished in the flames. Mr. Gill is an extensive dairy farmer and nearly 60 cows and small stock were in danger, but with the assistance of neighbors all were gotten out. Large quantities of hay and other feed, as well as numerous farming implements, were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $4,000, which is partially covered by insurance.

Manager H. C. Clark of the West Virginia Central and Pittsburg and the Western Md. Railroad companies, has announced that the office of superintendent of transportation has been abolished and the post of superintendent of car service created to take its place. Mr. J. A. Shepard has resigned from the former post and Mr. J. W. Smith will be superintendent of car service, with headquarters at Hillen Station. The changes were made operative on Monday.

Two "Jim Crow" laws, one applicable to the railroads of this State, and the other to steamboat lines, have passed the House of Delegates. The only exception to the effect of the railroad law is that it will not apply to through express trains. The Senate has a bill of its own which limits the operation of the law to Southern Maryland and the Eastern Shore counties, except Cecil.

While at work razing the seven-story wall of the factory of Straus, Eiseman & Co., on Lombard street, near Sharp, Baltimore, late Saturday afternoon a section of brick wall caved in and two men were caught in the crash. Of these, one, William Fairfax, was killed outright, and another was painfully injured.

Judge Dobler, in Circuit Court No. 2, Baltimore, has decided the suit of the Western Maryland Railroad Company against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, for breach of contract in withdrawing traffic from the plaintiff's road at Cherry Run, in favor of the defendant.

Mr. A. C. McCardell has been elected president of the Frederick County National Bank, to succeed the late Z. James Gittinger. Mr. McCardell is a prominent wholesale and retail dealer in fruits and confectionery, and is president of the Frederick Business Men's Association. For a number of years he has been vice president of the bank.

Mr. Henry Seymour, of Delight, Baltimore county, died on Saturday last. Several weeks ago an artery in his right leg became clogged and necessitated amputation near the thigh. Mr. Seymour, who was 60 years old, did not survive the shock. Deceased was a farmer in the Fourth district.

Mrs. Ann Pitts, near Mount Carmel, Fifth district of Baltimore county, died Tuesday last of grip. She was the widow of Joshua B. Pitts, was born in the Fifth district and was the daughter of Joshua and Mary Hale. She was 87 years old and is survived by two sons and six daughters.

The jury in Hagerstown in the case of Levi Montgomery, who was tried for the murder of Francis P. Hull, in Williamsport, Md., returned a verdict, Sunday, of guilty in the second degree, stating that Montgomery was sane when he shot Hull and is sane now.

The House Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads has agreed that the maximum pay of free rural delivery mail carriers shall be placed at $720 per annum instead of $600 as heretofore, but also recommends that all privileges of express or news agencies shall be denied them.

Mrs. Baldwin, wife of the late Joseph Baldwin, died Tuesday at her home near Oakland Mills, Baltimore county, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis received some time ago. She was about 75 years of age and was formerly a resident of Baltimore.

The officials of Baltimore are wisely giving full consideration to the proposed changes and improvements in the rebuilding of the burned district. The result will be a much better city than could possibly follow undue haste.

Samuel R. Hoffman, keeper of the tollgate on the Frederick and Woodsboro turnpike, near Walkersville, dropped dead Wednesday of heart disease. He was 65 years of age, and leaves a widow, two daughters and one son.

Mrs. Julia P. Ramsburg, wife of Mr. Lewis P. Ramsburg, died Tuesday morning at 1 o'clock at her late residence, in Walkersville, of general debility, aged 72 years. She is survived by her husband, and three sons.

The Panama canal treaty has been ratified by the Senate by a large majority. Now that the United States has decided that the canal is to be constructed on that route, let no time be lost in getting the project under way.

The first thunderstorm of the season prevailed at Frostburg and vicinity shortly after 6 o'clock Sunday morning. There was a vivid electrical display.

It is estimated that the guard duty performed by the Maryland Militia at Baltimore cost the State $40,000, of which $30,000 was for the pay of the men.

The Howard county colored schools have been closed for the year, there not being sufficient funds to justify their continuance.

James E. Vansant, as agent, has sold the Tyson farm at Pine Orchard, Howard county, containing 140 acres to Henry T. Grimes for $3,220.
