you leave behind your quick foot fallings a trail of red that stains the stones over which you travel. The flesh is torn and bleeds even as did your mother's after her hurt. Onward, you brute beast! Three legs will do for such as you. 'Tis well the streets are emptied, else you would be felled for a mad dog. Foam flecks fly from your quivering jaws, your tongue, long and pointed, lolls from your mouth and that "white eye," starts gleaming from its redened socket until the werwolf itself could not be more fearful of aspect. Nine more feet to cover, barely a square yard lies between you and the little shop of Emanuel Antolotti. Another shriek, shrill and ear splitting, calls to you. Ah your very heart strings strain to bursting! It is only the cough screaming madly in its cage above the shell holding the little basins for holy water and the Bibles. You will find, there, there, beyond the swaying curtains, what you seek.

For an instant the sight of his master quelled the Whelp, his tense muscles relaxed, he shrank backward, crawling sidewise, with head hanging, then the sound of a half smothered voice reached him.

A shudder ran all along his spine, the rough fur rose, bristling fiercely at the back of his head. With a snarl that was half a whine and a spring as soft as that of a puma's, he was at the throat of Kadish Anakim, fanging the flesh. Closer, tighter clinched the jaws, vise-like they fastened in the bull neck, while the weight of the Whelp brought the man to his knee with protruding eyeballs. His hands loosed their hold upon Gulielma's dress and caught at the Whelp's throat. Deep into the matted fur and scraggy muscles the fingers sank; deeper sank the teeth of the Whelp, to Kadish Anakim the Whelp no longer, but the baba herself, avenging, terrible. The cloven foot, bleeding as from the clever, rested on his chest and seemed grindingly digging its way through to his heart. It pinned him down, he was powerless to move and the 'white eye" had become but a filmy mist veiling an emptly socket.

"Thunder witch!" * he muttered, stiflingly, as the blood surged thickly in his head and trickled in a thin thread of scarlet from his lips.

But after all was sail and done Gulielma married the baker, Samsonn Guibeck, and to this day when danger threatens her she has a vision of a gaunt gray form that steals like a shadow through the twilight and rests its head upon her knee, or else she hears borne on the rising wind a long drawn woful bay. Then does she hasten to Father Pietro and beg him to ward off the impending ill by having a special mass said for the repose of Kadish Anakim's soul lest in the nether regions it still be struggling in the clutches of the baba's Whelp.

You Will Never be Sorry—

For telling the truth.
For living a pure life.
For your faith in Christ.
For doing your very best.
For confessing your sins.
For thinking before acting.
For being kind to the poor.
For hearing before judging.
For forgiving your enemies.
For helping a fallen brother.
For being candid and frank.
For thinking before speaking.
For being honest in business.
For being loyal to your church.
For standing by your princeples.
For stopping your ears to gossip.
For harboring only pure thoughts.
For bridling a slanderous tongue.
For being courteous and kind to all.
For sympathizing with the afflicted.
For money given to the Lord's canse.
For faithfulness in keeping your promises.
For asking pardon when you have done wrong.—Rev. J. W. Neyman.

Things Not to Do.

To contradict your friends when they are speaking.

To say smart thinggs which may hurt one's feelings.

It is bad to make remarks abotit the food at dinner.

To talk about things which only interest yourself.

To grumble about your home and relatives to outsiders.

To speak disrespectfully to any-one older than yourself.

To be rude to those who serve you either in shop or at home.

To dress shabbily in the morning because no one will see you.

To think first of your own pleasure when you are giving a party.

To refuse ungraciously when somebody wishes to do you a favor.

The Training of Children.

The fact is brought out by the educational Review that over 13,000,000 persons are enrolled in the Sunday schools of this country. In the public schools the enrollment is of nearly 16,000,000, or only 3,000,000 more. The accusation that the religious education of children is neglected in America, with the consequence of inevitable moral degeneration in our society, as alleged by the Rev. Mr. Geer, is not sustained by these statistics. More attention seems to be given to the religious training of children in this country by churches and in schools and by home instruction than any other of Christendom.

HICKS FORECASTS FOR MARCH.

The Moon on or near the equator in March means that it is at or near its new or full. And when this occurs with the Moon in perigee, or nearest the Earth, the chances of violent storms and tidal waves are greatly multiplied. During the present month we have two full Moons, each of them near perigee and the equator, and one new moon on the celestial equator. The storm diagram accompanying these forecasts indicates the dates when these pheonomena will occur.

The first storm period for March will be central on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd. If the Moon were on the celestial equator forty-eight hours earlier, we would put the first day of the month down as a danger day. As it is, violent seismic and equinoctial perturbations need not surprise any reader of these forecasts any where from the 1st to the 4th. These storms will be of tropical character in all southern directions, with probable danger on south coasts, while rains will turn to snow and blizzards over most parts of the country northward. A sharp cold wave for the season, with high barometer, will follow the storms at this time. We admonish our readers against possible danger to life and livestock during this and other March periods.

The next storm period is central on the 6th, extending from the 5th to the 8th. The barometer will begin falling and the temperature rising in western parts by the 5th, and during the 6th to 8th inclusive, more active disturbances, with rain, wind and snow will take up their march eastward across the country. Do not be unprepared for severe dashes of late winter out of the northwest along with the rising barometer and westerly tangents behind the first stages of these storms.

A perceptible softening of the elements will return on and touching the 11th, 12th and 13th, and marked storm conditions, followed by more rain, turning to snow northward, will be most natural on and about these days. The Mercury period which is central on the 20th may precipitate sleet storms at that period, and threatening, cloudy weather will most likely be prolonged into the storm period next following. For more than twenty-five years we have annually called attention to the fact that our globe passes a crisis of magnetic, electric, seismic and equinoctial perturbations, within forty-eight hours of March the 11th. The new and full Moons being removed from this period this year, this annual period may be modified this month and its disturbances largely deflected into the periods next before and after it.

We will name the 16th to the 21st as one of the most genaral, active and danngerous periods of disturbance in March. Mercury, Vulcan and Earth will all centralize their perturbing influences into this period, while the Moon will be new, or in conjunction with Earth and Sun on the 16th, and on the celestial equator on the 17th. Thunder storms, equinoctial gales and tidal waves, seismic phenomena, all followed by March blizzards northward and a sweeping high barometer and cold wave, are the things to be looked for at this time. General and destructive sleet will be most natural northward during this Mercury period.

The 23rd and 24th are central days of a reactionary storm period. On and touching these dates look for return of marked storm conditions attended by heavy rain southward, turning to sleet, snow and very disagreeable, stormy weather in central and north sections. The Vulcan storm period covering the last five days of March and reaching into April, will culminate on the 29th, 30th and 31st in violent storms and dangerous tidal waves. Moon on equator, in perigee and full, as at the first of the month, will intensify seismic shakes, tropical storms and blizzards. Let our readers be on the watch.—Irl R. Hicks. St. Louis, Feb. 13th.

Soap should not be used on oilcloth or linoleum, as it would cause the paint to crack and scale off. A soft cloth and warm, soft water will usually be found sufficiently cleansing, although a mixture of equal parts of soft water and skimmed milk is to be preferred to water alone. Having washed the oilcloth thoroughly, wipe it dry with clean flannel. The appearance of new oilcloth may be improved and its wearing quality greatly increased by applying one or two coats of raw linseed oil and when this has entirely dried, a coat or two of varnish. This treatment renders the cloth more pliable and gives it a surface that resists both water and wear; and a coat of varnish added once or twice a year will double its durability.

Ma—"Jane, you musn't have the gas turned so low in the parlor. A slight puff of wind might blow it out."

Pa—"Don't fret, mother. That young man of Jane's never'll be able to raise the wind."

"Is her husband such an awful liar?" "Absolutely. She says she cannot even believe what he says in his sleep."

We are having springlike weather at this time, which is quite a change from the cold weather experienced for several months past.

While John Keefer was on his way home from Winfield Academy on Tuesday evening his horse caught its foot in some way and fell, breaking one of its front legs. The animal, which was a valuable one, had to be killed.

Mr. David B. Reifsnider and bride nee Miss Null, have been visiting friends in this neighborhood.

Miss Jennie Naille, of Bridgeport, Frederick county, is the guest of the family of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bushey, her uncle and aunt.

Miss Bertha Witherow recently visited friends in this neighborhood.

A Pleasant Party.

The hospitable home of Mr. Joseph H. Shipley, near Morgan's Run, was the scene of a very pleasant party, on Thursday night, 18th inst. The guests began to arrive early and were cordially received by Misses Gertrude and Pleasant Shipley. Party plays were indulged in until about 11.30 o'clock, when refreshments were served in abundance, after which all the guests returned homeward after bidding adieu to their host and hostess, much pleased with the evening's enjoyment. Among those present were: Mr. Joseph H. Shipley, Mr. and Mrs. Columbus A. Shipley, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shipley, Misses Gertrude G. Shipley, Pleasant Shipley, Melvie Shipley, Icydine Easton, Maude Easton, Pearl G. Shipley, Ella M. Winfield Items.

The academy and public school of our town were both closed on Monday, the 22nd.

Rev. Andrew B. Wood preached to Washing Camp, P. O. S. of A., of Windfield, at Ebenezer M. E. Church on Sunday morning last. There was a large congregation present and the sermon was much enjoyed.

The Winfield Academy Board gives a box social and party in the hall on Saturday evening, the 27th, and a very pleasant time is anticipated. The girls and women bring boxes containing supper for two persons, which are sold at auction. The boys and men buy the boxes and eat with their lady friends or wives. A special program of music, recitation and fun is arranged, and the evening will surely be a treat. The committee on program was Rev. A. B. Wood, Messrs. A. M. Zile and Vernon S. Bradley.

Owing to the unfavorable weather the meeting of the Winfield Literary Society Friday evening, the 19th, was not so largely attended as is customary. The program rendered, a very excellent one, was as follows: Music by orchestra; recitation, Miss Ella Bowers; recitation, Miss Grace Zile; piano duet, Miss Addie Barnes and Mr. Wm. Hughes; recitation, Miss Laura Buckingham; recitation, Miss Mabel Dorsey; address, by Rev. A. B. Wood; orchestra; debate—Resolved, That education increases happiness—affirmative J. W. Fleming, negative, A. M. Zile. The judges, Messrs. Elmer Bennett, Zopha Skidmore and F. A. Baile, rendered a decision for the negative. The address of Rev. A. B. Wood was worthy of especial mention. The other parts were creditable and good. The next meeting of the society will be held March 4th.

Letter to Chas E. Bowers

WESTMINSTER

Dear Sir: Let's talk it right out before folks; there's nothing to hide in your business or ours; if there is, we'd better hide ourselves.

We are in trade to make money; so are you. We make it by saving our customer's money; so do you. Our object, in trade, is to save your customers' wood from rotting and iron and steel and tin from rusting; yours the same.

We work for thousands of property owners; you for a few. We can do some things that you can't do; we have the facilities. You can do some things that we can't; you are there. Let us work together; be faithful to one-another. We can serve our customers better by working together and being faithful to one-another.

Your dollar, put into our paint, will paint more feet than in any other way; and the paint will last longer. This saves you money, and saves your customer's money. That's all there is in our whole business.

Yours truly
F W DEVOE & Co

A FACT
ABOUT THE "BLUES"
What is known as the "Blues" is seldom occasioned by actual existing external conditions, but in the great majority of cases by a disordered LIVER.
THIS IS A FACT which may be demonstrated by trying a course of

They control and regulate the LIVER. They bring hope and bouyancy to the mind. They bring health and elasticity to the body.

Why Not Cure Your Cough or Cold?

WESTMINSTER, April 10th, 1890.

MR. JOS. B. BOYLE:

Dear Sir:—For many years I have suffered intensely, on taking cold, from a very troublesome cough, for which I have used a number of various remedies, and obtained but TEMPORARY RELIEF. During the past Spring I was again troubled with the same cough, and through a friend was induced to try YOUR Pectoral Syrup, which not only gave almost INSTANT RELIEF, but a PERMANENT CURE. It gives me great pleasure to say that I believe it to be the best remedy I ever used for the purpose for which it is recommended. Hoping that any person afflicted as I was may be fortunate enough to give it a trial, I am, Truly yours,

EDWARD LYNCH.
