Spraying Mixtures.

The mixture known as Paris green is the standard remedy for all biting and chewing insects. It is made by using a pound of it to two hundred or three hundred gallons of water. Apple, pear, plum and like trees will take the denser strength; but for preach trees the weaker strength is advised. A pound of quicklime added is good, causing the material to adhere well to the leaves and wood, and preventing harm to the foliage, which sometimes is apt to occur when the mixture is too strong. Bordeaux mixture is to destroy fungi. It is made by using five pounds of blue stone (copper sulphate) in forty gallons of water adding four pounds quicklime, slaked in four gallons of water and added to the other, when strained through coarse cloth or a fine sieve, so that what passes through can easily be sprayed through a nozzle. Paris green and Bordeaux mixture can be mixed together and applied to trees, one not interfering with the other. Four ounces of Paris green put with the Bordeaux fixes it.

For scale insects, whale oil soap and kerosene emulsion are still found to be efficacious. For winter use, for San Jose scale, two pounds to the gallon may be used, but in summer, for use on trees and plants, one pound to five gallons makes a good mixture.

Kerosene emulsion is made by using hard soap, one-half pound; boiling water, one gallon; kerosene, two gallons; dissolving the soap in the water, add the kerosene and churn or stir thoroughly for five to ten minutes. Dilute four to twenty-five times before using. Use it strong for San Jose scale and all scale insects, and weaker for other insects, thrip, bugs, lice, etc. The San Jose scale should be attacked in the winter as well as in the summer. One or two doses in winter will destroymany of the scales. There is no doubt that this pest can be controlled if taken in hand and followed up persistently.

Novelties for Easter.

With Lent more than half over, time and thoughts are already flying Easterwards and a number of appropriate knick-knacks for Easter gifts have made their appearance in the shop windows. Of course, there is nothing new in the simple form of eggs for children, but many and various are the ways devised for their presentation this season. For instance, there is an "Easter egg Christmas tree" and other gift trees, umbrella shaped, from which hang fancy eggs of divers colors, each containing a little present of some kind. These will prove very attractive for the juvenile parties to be given during the Easter holidays, as will also the large automobiles of wickerwork, each having for passenger a beautiful dolly, arrayed in dainty spring costume and a pretty warm-weather hat, covered with a long, sure-enough automobile veil. In the automobile are concealed a variety ef eggs. Then there are many other styles of vehicles, drawn by rabbits, ducks, geese or chickens. One of these is a covered wicker plains wagon, with stockinette dolls for passengers.

More enticing still for small boys and girls are the wooden eggs which open and reveal as their contents sets of dishes, complete work sets, thimbles, bodkins and even implements for writing. A very small egg contains a tiny set of dominoes, while among these very newest ideas are the large one, with a small opening at one end, showing electric panoramas. All of these articles, with slight modification, can be used as presents for older folks, as well either as receptacles for more valuable gifts or as bonbonnieres.

* * *

Tear out old and good-for-nothing trees; plant good ones of the sorts which suit your local conditions.

Thrifty young trees are more apt to live than the larger ones. Their roots are smaller and are more apt to be taken up in transplanting.

Many an unoccupied fence corner might be growing a fruit free if set there. In a few years it would be a source of beauty and comfort.

A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and a loving favor rather than silver or gold.

Why He Was Not Promoted.

He watched the clock.
He was always grumbling.
He was always behindhand.
He had no iron in his blood.
He was willing, but unfitted.
He didn't believe in himself.
He asked too many questions.
He was stung by a bad book.
His stock excuse was "I forgot."
He wasn't ready for the next step.
He did not put his heart in his work.
He learned nothing from his blunders.
He felt that he was above his position.
He chose his friends among his inferiors.
He was content to be a second-rate man.
He ruined his ability by half-doing things.
He never dared to act on his own judgment.
He did not think it worth while to learn how.
He tried to make "bluff" take the place of ability.
He thought he must take amusement every evening.
Familiarity with shipshod methods paralyzed his ideal.
He thought it was clever to use coarse and profane language.
He was ashamed of his parents because they were old-fashioned.
He imitated the habits of men who could stand more than he could.
He did not learn that the best part of his salary was not in his pay envelope.—Orison Swett Marden, in Success.

Simple Cure for Gapes.

I have such a simple and sure cure for gapes in chickens that I hasten to send it.

My cure is for twenty-five chickens. Take flower of sulphur, one teaspoonful; mix in wet cornmeal; feed once a day for three days; omit three days, then feed in this rotation until well, and gapes will disappear in seven or eight days, and I assure you none will die after three feeds. When I commenced this treatment I had a flock of thirty-five chicks; had been losing three or four a day. I was so sure it was no good I gave a teaspoonful every day for a week, and never lost another chicken.

The chickens soon put on a healthy look, their feathers grew so fast and glossy, the improvement was a surprise to me. My neighbors asked me what new feed I had put my poultry on.

I have so much faith in the sulphur remedy I feed it whenever I have a sick chicken. I never lose my chickens by an epidemic of roup or chicken cholera.—A farmer's Wife in Farm, Field and Fireside.

"There's one thing that I can say about my daughter, "said Mr. Cumrox. "She has a fine disposition."

"Have you known her to meet any severe tests?"

"Yes. The way she can sit and listen to herself playing the piano shows that she must have extraordinary patience."

Letter to John L. Reifsnider

WESTMINSTER

Dear Sir: There are these five ways of badness in paint;

(1) stuffed-out with chalk, or something like that;

(2) barytes, better than chalk, but no covering to it; nobody know it's there;

(3) benzine in the oil, or water, or other such stuffing;

(4) too thin—to much liquid, whatever it is, for the solid;

(5) short measure;

Now will you buy by the price per "gallon"?

We furnish our agents with a state chemist's certificate of analysis that tells what's in Devoe.

Yours truly

Why Not Cure Your Cough or Cold?

WESTMINSTER, April 10th, 1890.

MR. JOS. B. BOYLE:

Dear Sir:—For many years I have suffered intensely, on taking cold, from a very troublesome cough, for which I have used a number of various remedies, and obtained but TEMPORARY RELIEF. During the past Spring I was again troubled with the same cough, and through a friend was induced to try YOUR Pectoral Syrup, which not only gave almost INSTANT RELIEF, but a PERMANENT CURE. It gives me great pleasure to say that I believe it to be the best remedy I ever used for the purpose for which it is recommended. Hoping that any person afflicted as I was may be fortunate enough to give it a trial, I am, Truly yours,

EDWARD LYNCH.
