A Hero of the Army of the Potomac.

Our distinguished fellow-townsman, Col. S. K. Herr, recently entertained at his home an equally distinguished old military comrade, Gen. Jas. Farnham, at present Adjutant Gen. of the State of Maine. The general and Col. Herr first met during their military experience with the Army of the Potomac. Their acquaintance has continued ever since, each having visited the home of the other. During the Wilderness campaign they were both on the staff of Gen. Crawford, who commanded the 3rd division of the 5th, or Warren's, Corps. At Five Forks Gen. Farnham was dangerously wounded, receiving a musket ball in his lung where he still carries it. During his brief visit to Col. Herr quite a number of our citizens paid their respects to the distinguished stranger.

To Amend Charter of Westminster.

A bill has been introduced in the legislature at Annapolis to reenact and amend the charter of this city city in some important particulars. It is a somewhat voluminous bill and hence we have not space to particularize its provisions in detail.

No change is made by the bill in the date of the annual election for mayor and councilmen, whom, it is provided, shall be elected by inhabitants qualified to vote for delegates to the general assembly and taxpayers.

The power commonly conferred on municipalities for the preservation of the public peace, health and morals, abatement of nuisances &c., is preserved in the law, and the "power and authority to provide for the entry into and examination of all dwellings, lots, yards, enclosures and buildings of every description to ascertain their condition for health, cleanliness and safety; for the taking down and removal of buildings, walls, structures and super-structures that are or may become dangerous, or to require owners to remove them or put them in a safe and sound condition, at their own expense," with other authority along the same line, is given to the mayor and council.

One of the most important provisions of the bill is that the municipal authorities shall have power to "provide for and regulate the safe construction, inspection, alterations and repairs of all private and public buildings within the city of Westminster," and "to require the roofs of all buildings hereafter to be erected in said city and the roofs of all buildings now erected in said city hereafter replaced to be made or constructed of tin, metal, slate, tile or some other fireproof material." Authority is given to appoint a building inspector to enforce these and other provisions of the law along the same lines.

Special provision is made to guard against loss of human life by fires in public halls, schools, churches, and manufacturing establishments employing 25 or more persons. The practice of placing benches or chairs in the aisles of such halls, churches, schools &c., is forbidden, and all doors giving means of ingress or egress at such places, unless said doors open outward, must be kept open during the hours such places may be occupied by the public. Penalties are provided for violation of any provision of the charter.

The usual authority to open streets and alleys and condemn ground for such purposes is conferred by the bill on the municipal authorities.

She was a devoted member of the Lutheran Church and an earnest and enthusiastic Church and Sunday School worker. She was a most loving wife and mother and her loss to her husband and children is irreparable. In all the relations of life she was faithful in the discharge of every duty and language cannot too highly picture her pure and exalted character. Too much cannot be said in her praise. Two or three of the farmers on the Washington road then armed themselves with shot guns and went in pursuit but never got close enough to kill the rabid animal until it returned to its home where it went to its bed in a box near the house and laid down and where it was killed. We learn that a large shepherd dog belonging to Mr. Geo. A. Shipley, which stays on the farm near Gist, was one of the several dogs bitten.

Ave., this city, by Captain-elect Claude Tilden Smith, First Lieutenant-elect C. A. Holton and Second Lieut.-elect Lawyer. Mrs. C. A. Holton, wife of the First Lieut.-elect, was hostess of the occasion and was assisted by her sister, Mrs. J. Edgar Ferguson, of Baltimore, and Miss Schule, of Western Md. College.

The band and company assembled at the armory of the band in fatigue uniform and, after company orders were read, marched to the residence of Lieut. Lawyer, where they were received by the hostess and her assistants. Among those also to greet the men upon their arrival was Capt. Jos. E. Hering, Asst. Surgeon 1st Reg., I. M. N. G.

The hospitable home of Lieut. Lawyer was ablaze with lights and its cheerful aspect made the men feel at home at once. The entire house was thrown open to them.

The band was at its best and its music was a source of pleasure to all. Everybody vied with everybody else in having a good time. Groups around the piano in the parlor enjoyed themselves singing; groups in the library enjoyed the selections on the phonograph, while others gathered here and there to enjoy the fragrant cigar and perhaps a story about something which happened in Baltimore during the recent service. The ladies were everywhere and assisted largely in making the evening the social success which it was.

Refreshments were served about 11.30, after which the men were assembled and marched to the armory and dismissed. After the men were assembled, preparatory to marching to the armory, some one proposed three cheers for the officers and three for the ladies, which were given with a will.

This is but a beginning of the social features which will in a short while mark Company H, an organization in which membership will be at a premium.

Among the company orders read at the armory was one appointing Edw. S. Shriver a sergeant in Company H. Another told the men that the long looked for pay for service in Baltimore, during the resent fire, would be forthcoming within a week.

New M. E Order of Worship.

One of the most interesting features of the coming session of the Baltimore Annual Conference, M. E. Church, which will begin on Tuesday evening next at the Fayette Street Church, Baltimore, will be the consideration of a new order of worship, for the use of both the Northern and Southern Methodist Churches. It is said that no doubt exists about the approval of the order, the ratification of which will be recommended to the General Conference, which will meet in Los Angeles, Cal., in May. The order is as follows:

Let all our services begin exactly at the time appointed, and let our people kneel in silent prayer on entering the sanctuary.

I. Voluntary, instrumental or vocal.
II. Singing from the common hymnal, the people standing.
III. The Apostles Creed, recited by all, still standing.
IV. Prayer, concluding with the Lord's Prayer, repeated audibly by all, both minister and people, kneeling.
V. Anthem or Voluntary.
VI. Lesson from the Old Testament, which, if from the Psalms, may be read responsively.
VII. The "Gloria Patri."
VIII. Lessons from the New Testament.
IX. Notices, followed by collection, during or after which an offertory may be rendered.
X. Singing from the common hymnal, the people standing.
XI. The sermon.
XII. Prayer, the people kneeling.
XIII. Singing from the common hymnal, the people standing.
XIV. Doxology and the apostolic benediction. (2 Cor., xiii, 14.)

Their Fiftieth or Golden Wedding Anniversary.

From the Hampstead Enterprise.

Wednesday, March 16th, was the fiftieth or golden anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Abbott, south of Hampstead. It was at first intended by their children and grandchildren to surprise the old folks by all assembling at their home to offer their congratulations, but later it was ascertained that it would not be convenient for all to be present. However, those of their children who could, called on them to offer congratulations and spend the day with them. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, fruits, etc., were served, and while the good things were being eaten and enjoyed one of the company presented each of the old folks with a present of gold which was a great surprise as well as a pleasure to them. The presents were given by their children and grandchildren, and were highly appreciated by the old couple. Mr. Abbott is 75 years of age, while Mrs. Abbott is 3 years younger, both enjoying good health and have their faculties well preserved for people of their age. They have had ten children, two being dead; an infant daughter died during their early marriage, and the eldest son, Franklin I. Abbott, who died nine years ago, at his home in Woodberry, Baltimore. The living children are Jos. A. Abbott, Mrs. A. F. Snyder, Mrs. J. W. Brown, Mrs. W. S. Leister, all of Baltimore; Mrs. Dr. J. E. Bolte, of Harrisonville; Mrs. Noah A. Houck and Mr. Edgar T.
