It was expected that the Democratic State convention of Pennsylvania would instruct the delegation from that State to vote for Judge Parker, of New York, but its action leaves the delegates free to vote as they may see proper.

From the standpoint of a layman it seems reasonable to question the constitutionality of a provision of the election law, passed at the late session of the General Assembly of Maryland, by which the party designation is to be omitted after the names of the candidates in certain counties and inserted in other counties. As a general principle it cannot be doubted that the legislature has no authority to discriminate, in a general law, in the matter of the rights of citizens in different counties of the State, and the courts should hold, on the ground of public policy, if such legislation is not directly prohibited by constitutional provision, that it is null and void.

The New York Democratic State convention, held on Monday, was completely under the domination of Ex-Senator David B. Hill, and utterly refused to grant any concessions to the Tammany wing of the party. The convention instructed the delegates elected to the National convention to vote for Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, for the Presidential nomination. Tammany is desperately opposed to Judge Parker, who, it is said, was not true to the regular Democratic nominee in 1896 and 1900. Judge Parker is being highly eulogised as an upright and incorruptible citizen, but his intimacy with David B. Hill is not to his credit. It is said, too, that he was in some way associated with Hill in the notorious effort made about ten years ago to steal the Senate of New York, in which Maynard, who was afterwards overwhelmingly defeated for Judge of the Court of Appeals of New York, was implicated.

PARTISAN LEGISLATION.

The session of the General Assembly of Maryland for 1904, which came to an end by constitutional limitation at midnight on the 4th inst., will go down in history as perhaps the most extremely partisan of all sessions of that body up to the present time. The larger part of the winter was given up to concocting and enacting into law schemes by which the Democrats hope to make the State of Maryland solidly Democratic for an indefinite period. Among the bills of this character passed was, first, that to submit a constitutional amendment to a vote of the people, by which it is hoped a large number of the colored people will be disfranchised. This proposed amendment is of such a drastic character and contains provisions so absurd that Governor Warfield intimated his intention to veto it, but was prevented from doing so by its transmission to the clerk of the Court of Appeals without having been submitted for his approval or rejection. In a special message to the Senate he claims that this was a clear violation of his prerogative as Governor, and pointed out very forcibly the objectionable features of the amendment; but his message was treated with scant courtesy, if not with contempt.

Another outrageously partisan measure is a bill abolishing party designations after the names of candidates on official ballots, chiefly in counties having numerous colored voters. This law applies only to Anne Arundel, Calvert, Charles, Frederick, Garrett, Kent, Prince George's, St. Mary's, Somerset, Talbot and Worcester counties.

Still another partisan measure is a bill substituting minority for bipartison representation on boards of registration for municipal elections in Frederick.

The Senate passed a bill to substitute minority for equal representation on boards of registration and judges of election throughout the State, but it was quietly hinted that the measure would meet with a gubernatorial veto, and it was suffered to die without action by the House of Delegates.

Destructive Fires.

Fire destroyed thirteen dwellings, four stables and two carriage-houses at Annapolis, on Sunday last. The prompt assistance of the fire department of the Naval Academy, and the energetic efforts of the Annapolis companies prevented a much more disastrous conflagration. The loss was $30,000 to $40,000.

On Tuesday night fire swept through the wholesale business district of Toronto, Canada, and destroyed property valued at twelve millions of dollars. The fire burned over an area of fourteen acres and only stopped at the water front. 5,000 to 7,000 people are thrown out of employment.

Four dwelling houses were destroyed by fire at Waynesboro, Pa., on Tuesday, causing a loss of $12,000. A new church edifice in course of erection by the German Baptist Brethren and a public school building were on fire, but their destruction was prevented by the efforts of the firemen.

Mrs. McComas, wife of United States Senator Louis E. McComas, died in Washington Thursday morning week, after a long illness, in her 54th year. One daughter, Mrs. C. Goodloe Edgar, of Detroit, Mich., survives her. She was a daughter of the late Charles W. Humrichouse, of Williamsport, Md.

St. Louis World on Senator Burton.

From St. Louis World, April 7th.

The World is in receipt of the following:—

Washington, Mo., April 5.—To the Editor of the World: "Why do you not roast the Republicans over the conviction of Senator Burton. It seems to me that the Burton case furnishes an excellent campaign argument.

Respectfully, F. L. S."

The World has not roasted the Republican party over the conviction of Senator Burton because the World is not a Pharisee.

The World detests nearly all things Republican, but it fails to see wherein, even if Joseph Ralph Burton is guilty of all that has been charged, the Republican party can be held responsible.

If one black sheep damns the whole flock, then the Saviour and the Apostles must be held to blame for the sins of Judas Iscariot.

The World has paid close attention to the Burton case and after fully reviewing the evidence is disposed to believe that the Kansas Senator is guilty of a mistake of judgment rather than of a serious crime.

That he acted as attorney for the Rialto Company was made very plain, but that, in this capacity, he unduly influenced the United States Postal Department is certainly not in evidence.

It is a bad thing for United States Senators and Representatives to be connected with any corporation, but it is a notorious fact that the great majority of senators at least have connections with railroads and other interests.

This being so it is somewhat unjust that Burton should be singled out for condemnation.

Judge Elmer B. Adams roundly scored Senator Burton when passing sentence Wednesday.

Adams for that matter scores every one who comes before him.

His remarks from the bench are a standing joke in this community.

He is the Judge that delivered the most inhuman sentence ever given from a bench, imprisonment for life and twenty years thereafter.

Yet the personal character of Adams—like that of most cheap tyrants—is not free from flaws.

The Federal Statutes forbid a United States Judge holding a position with a bank or other financial institutions.

Yet Adams was for years, and until The World called general attention to the fact, both a federal judge and a director in one of the largest financial institutions in the city.

As a result of the World's criticism he hastily resigned this directorate.

It is not clear to the World that there is much difference between the two cases.

Judge Adams has apparently never read that passage about the mote in one's own eye.

Be this as it may, the World will not condemn Senator Burton merely because popular clamor demands it.

Whatever may have been his crime he has certainly paid for it a hundred fold.

The General Education Bill.

The general education bill passed by the last legislature is one of the most important measures enacted by the General Assembly in many years. The legislation under which the schools have been operating was enacted at different times; was fragmentary, and somewhat inconsistent.

The school men of the state have for several years been thinking of making an effort to revise the whole school law, but they wished to reach a general agreement as to what was necessary, and thus have as much unanimity as possible. Public school systems of other states were carefully examined, and the general school bill was prepared after the utmost care and consideration. The bill will give Maryland one of the best educational systems in the United States.

Under the new law the public schools in every county in the State for at least nine months in the year will be kept open for instruction. This will add one and a half months to the school year in Carroll County. When the present board came in and took charge of the schools of the county, the school year was only seven and a half months. By most economical administration they managed during the first two years to save money enough to add two weeks; but with the funds at command the board could not continue to add the two weeks, and also build, repair, and furnish the schools in the county as they should be furnished.

But in spite of all legislation, school boards and school equipment, the efficiency of public school work depends on the teacher. It matters not how excellent the system, how faithful the school board, how abundant the facilities, if we have poor teachers to that extent we will have unsatisfactory work in the school room wherever these teachers may be employed. To transform all the machinery into good results depends on the teacher. Under the operation of this bill we expect to have better teachers in the school room, because it provides that we must pay every white teacher of a school of 15 pupils or more, $300 per year of nine months. This will enable the school boards to get better teachers, and better teachers are an indispensable basis for better results in the school room.

Formerly many good teachers left Carroll and went to counties paying better salaries and giving a longer school year. This bill will enable us to retain our good teachers. It will call to the profession of teaching a better class of applicants, and thus the children will receive better instruction for a longer period of time. Young men and women can afford to put more money in preparing for the work when they know they will receive better compensation.

As it is impossible to get something for nothing the legislature placed an additional school tax of four and a half cents on the $100. But since this money goes back equally all over the state in the way of better education for the children of the tax payer, the people demanded the passage of the bill, they supported it, well nigh unanimously, and it went through with but little difficulty.

Carroll county, which has always been among the foremost in other respects, under the operation of this law will go to the front in educational efficiency.

The office of "Examiner" is changed to "County Superintendent of Education," and assistant examiner is changed to clerk. There are many other changes that go to make the school law harmonious and effective.

S. Simpson,
Secretary of the School Board.

New Superintendent, W. Md. Railroad.

The Baltimore Sun of Saturday last says: "Mr. Stanton Ennes, the new superintendent of the Western Maryland Railroad, assumed charge of the duties of his position at Hillen Station yesterday. He reported to Mr. H. G. Clark, the manager, and spent most of the day in meeting the other officials and employes of the road.

"Mr. Ennes has a hearty and direct manner that wins friends. That he is a capable railroad man is proved by his record. Born in St. Louis, Mo., in 1863, he started in railroad service as a night telegraph operator on Gould's Missouri Pacific Railway in 1884. He served as train dispatcher, chief dispatcher and was appointed division superintendent of the Lexington and Southern division, extending from Kansas City to Joplin. The latter position he resigned to come here as superintendent of the Western Maryland. Mr. Ennes said that on the Lexington and Southern there is a very heavy traffic from the coal, lead, zinc, gas and oil districts.

"This section of the country is entirely new to Mr. Ennes, as he said this is the first time he has ever been east of Cincinnati. He is impressed with Baltimore's greatness. His family consists of himself, his wife and mother."

The 39th annual meeting of the Union Veteran Association of Maryland was held at the rooms of the Grand Army Club, Baltimore, Saturday night week, when the following officers were re-elected for the current year: President, Gen. R. N. Bowerman; vice presidents, Capt. Lewis M. Zimmerman, representing the Army, and Capt. Henry F. Dorton, representing the Navy; secretary, Capt. George W. Johnson; treasurer, Charles L. Marburg. A general resolution in memory of members whose deaths occurred during the past year was adopted, except in the case of Col. Wm. A. McKellip, in whose honor a special resolution, offered by Capt. John R. King, was passed.

The famous South Penn Railroad, which as planned cuts through the richest soft coal territory in Pennsylvania and which was to have given Pittsburg a new outlet to Baltimore by meeting the Western Maryland Railroad at Hagerstown, is to be sold at public auction at Somerset, Pa., on May 14. The sale is to be made under foreclosure proceedings instituted by the Union Trust Company of New York under a mortgage dated January 1, 1895.

The constitutionality of the act of the Maryland General Assembly of 1902, requiring persons removing from other States into this, to file a declaration of intention to acquire a residence here, within a certain period before an election, as a prerequisite to registration as a voter, has been sustained by a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The officials of the Western Maryland Railroad are very proud over the fact that the first train of the Wabash system entered Pittsburg on Wednesday, 10th inst. Although it was a construction train, it meant much, as it marked the end of a bitter war that has been waged for years in the Pittsburg city councils by all the railroads that entered the Smoky City. It is expected that the line will be ready to cross the river and enter the city by tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Luther A. Kohler, of Littlestown, Pa., an Ex-Commissioner of Adams county, had his right leg amputated a few inches below the knee, on Friday last, at Dr. Bernard's private sanitarium in Baltimore. The Gettysburg Star and Sentinel says: "Mr. Kohler's trouble began a number of years ago with a corn under his foot. Through trimming and tramping upon it it became very sore culminating finally in deadening the bones of the foot, and dry gangrene set in which necessitated the amputation of his leg." Mr. Kohler is rapidly improving.

The program of last Friday evening, given by the Emersonian Literary, was a perfect success. The rostrum, which represented the home of Emerson, was beautifully and tastefully decorated. Mr. Fielder Gilbert, as Emerson, received his guests in his usual pleasing manner, after which the program, which deserves great praise, was rendered. A large and attentive audience was present.

Professors W. M. Wine, J. J. John and D. O. Cottrell attended the district meeting, held at the German Baptist Church, Locust Grove, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Eli Yourtee, of Brownsville, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. H. D. Fahrenev, of Frederick, spent a few days with her daughter, Miss Kathryn.

Miss Margaret Roop spent Saturday and Sunday with her uncle, Mr. James Roop, near here.

Mrs. Yourtee and daughters spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Hanover, Pa.

Miss Marie Shriver visited her college friends last week and also took part in the program Friday evening, representing Margaret Toelse.

The boarding students were highly entertained for an hour last Thursday evening, by Dr. H. L. Fair, with his phonograph. They greatly appreciated it, and would be glad to have him call again.

Dr. B. F. Clarkson conducted chapel exercises on Wednesday morning. His talk was interesting and elevating.

Melrose Items.

There is an interest taken in the organization of a Sunday School here, especially among the ladies. Two of them told your correspondent they felt like leaving the neighborhood if we couldn't have a Sunday School this summer. It could be accomplished if only about a dozen or more of our young men and older ones too would say the same.

After finishing sawing a large lot of lumber for Mr. J. Royer, the Nath. Shorb sawing outfit, consisting of a traction engine, a load of trucks and a large traveling car, passed through our town. The car excited some curiosity as we are not used to seeing cars on the public roads.

"Elick" S. Zepp got a consignment of writing paper and envelopes last week by freight but it will not last long. He sold over 200 of the book, History of 25 Years an Invalid. The largest number he sold in one day was 24 at Bandanna. He reports to your correspondent that he is treated nicely everywhere, and meets with some exceptionally kind sympathetic people in some localities.

There is considerable talk of the B. V. R. R. being built on to Westminster since the charter expired. We are pleased to hear of contemplated improvements for our little town, but so many promised enterprises do not come.

Last week Mr. Geo. Zepp accidentally lost his pocketbook containing about $8 in money somewhere in Manchester. He offers a liberal reward for its return.

Recently our town was interested for awhile with two performing bears. They played tricks and even climbed trees. It is needless to say they were muzzled or very few ladies would have watched the performances.

ROBBED THE GRAVE.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at all drug stores.
