1785 April 1 Ann Chester to [illegible]

SIDE TWO

will permit us to spend our days together our dear little Children are all well, I inclose you a letter from Fan, Nancy began one but could not please her self she burnt it and came to me with tears in her Eyes, and said that Fanny had a great deal better head piece then she had, it was at least half an hour before she got reconciled to her self, Fan tells you she has giving you an account of a fine Chase the Gentlemen had yesterday Morning they tried the Fox my Uncle has him & will not let him be hunted till you return, if you come through Annapolis you had better bring Cherry, your pack will be improved by that the Weather has been so bad that I have rid out but once since you left us, *Mrs P Thomas drank tea with me this Evening, I am pleased to find she has a desire of being a good Neighbour, remember me Affly to your Bro, give my Comps to Dr Stenhouse, and believe me to be Your over Aff.te
