Dear Sir

London 26 March 1787.

I send the former of yours of the 6 Janry inclosing an Invoice of Sundry, & a Bill of £25. — Mr Chalmers has accepted the Bill, & the Articles you desire will be sent by the Hanbury Captn Dennes, which sails in a few days. — The Book call'd the Publican's Guide, I have sent to several Booksellers for but cant get it. — However if any one in London is in possession of it, you will find it packt up with the other things. — We did intend sending them by Captn Dobyns who sails first, but Captn Dennes waited on us, & from his acquaintance with you & promising so much care of the Package we preferr'd his offer. — The best News I can send you from this country relates to our individual selves, & that is in two words that we are both well & happy. — Much in the same quiet easy way you left us; for the course of our lives admits of very little variety. — Whilst it continues no worse than it is, I thank God we have
