Fatal Accident to a Former Resident of this City.

Mr. George F. Warner, a native of this county and a former resident of this city, was accidentally killed at Sparrows' Point, near Baltimore, on Friday last, by having been caught and crushed between two railroad cars. Mr. Warner was a son of the late George Warner, of this county, and was in his fifty-seventh year. He leaves a widow, who is a sister of Capt. O. H. P. Mathias, of Baltimore. Funeral services were held at his late residence, 212 East E street, Sparrows Point, on Monday morning, after which his remains were interred in Mt. Carmel Cemetery.

Md. Collegiate Institute Notes.

This year promises to be the most successful one that Maryland Collegiate Institute has ever had. The enrollment, the first week, exceeds that of any previous year. A number of states are represented by the students and a number of new students are expected.

Each department is now well under way and the students interested in their work.

There is quite a large class beginning commercial work under Prof. Metzger, and many of the old students are back taking advanced commercial work. The short-hand and typewriting class is the largest one in that branch of study ever organized at M. C. I.

The instrumental music department, in charge of Miss Marie Myers, and the vocal department, in charge of Prof. Naff, are both well patronized. A choral society has been organized for the enjoyment of the boarding students, the object of this society being to interpret some of the good choruses and works of the old masters of music. A class for town students has also been organized.

The zoology class is progressing finely and often a race between the zoologists and the grasshoppers may be seen on the campus.

The Emersonian and Hiawathian Liter ary Societies have both rendered creditable programs since the opening of school. The Emersonians invite you to come and hear their program this (Friday) evening, at 7.30.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

The eleventh annual convention of the Carroll County Women's Christian Temperance Union was held in the Methodist Protestant Church, this city, on Tuesday and was attended by many delegates from the subordinate unions in the county. Sessions were held morning, afternoon and evening. Miss Sarah C. Trump, of Manchester, presided, and encouraging reports of the work of the organization in the county were received. At the afternoon session an address was made by County School Superintendent Simpson on the scientific properties and effect of alcohol, as taught in the public schools of the county. Mrs. Mary Haslup, of Baltimore, also delivered an address, and short speeches were made by Rev. Dr. H. C. Cushing and Rev. Dr. Claude C. Douglas, of Westminster Theological Seminary; Messrs. Webster, Key, Brown, Clouse and others. At the evening session Mrs. Lambert, of New York, a national temperance speaker, delivered an address explaining the work of the different departments of the union, which, she declared, was the best organized association in the world. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Miss Sarah C. Trump, of Manchester; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles Billingslea, of Westminster; corresponding secretary, Miss Addie L. Trump, of Manchester; treasurer, Mrs. T. W. Mather, of Westminster; press superintendent, Mrs. S. K. Herr, of Westminster.

Methodist Protestant Sunday School Rally.

The Methodist Protestant Church of this city was crowded at both services last Sunday. It was the occasion of the fall Sunday School rally. In the morning the pastor, Rev. L. F. Warner, preached a special sermon on The Religious Training of Children. His text was, Prov. 22, 6: "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." In the evening the following program was rendered: Song service by the Sunday School; prayer, by Dr. Chas. Billingslea; recitation, Cora Little, May Miller, Maud Eckenrode; vocal solo, Miss Bessie Herr, with violin accompaniment by J. T. Anders, Jr.; address, Is the Sunday-School for youth only? Mr. Daniel Baker, of Baltimore; solo and chorus, Henrietta Roop, Eloise Miller, Mildred Warner; address, The Spiritual Work of the Sunday School, Dr. J. W. Hering; anthem, by the choir; closing hymn, "God be with you." Prof. Howard Benson presided at the organ. At the evening service a birthday offering was made. Little sacks had previously been distributed among the members and friends of the school and when these sacks were opened the offering was found to be more than $60. This money will be used in Sunday School work. New books will be put into the library, maps of Bible lands and charts, containing the creed, the commandments, the Lord's Prayer, the beatitudes &c., will hang from the walls. The Church is determined to have an up-to-date Sunday School and with its splendid corps of teachers, good results must be accomplished. Rally Day was an occasion of much interest and enthusiasm and no doubt a new impetus will be given to the work. Dr. J. W. Hering is the faithful and efficient superintendent.

Patapsco Items.

Farmers have been busy cutting off corn and doing their fall seeding. A large acreage has been sown and some of the farmers have not finished the work yet.

Manchester Items.

Considerable interest was centered in a game of baseball at Hampstead on Saturday last and drew quite a number of our enthusiasts to witness the same. The L. S. A. of Hampstead crossed bats with the regular team there. Mr. David Myers, of our team, pitched for the L. S. A's. and H. Loats for the regulars, the latter of whom were the winners with a score of 16 to 5. There was a great deal of dissatisfaction in the crowd on account of the way things were done. The last game of the season is to be played here on Saturday, when the New Windsor team, assisted by players from Sandyville, will cross bats with the home team. It promises to be a hotly contested affair.

Melrose Items.

The "Shut In-Mission Worker" building is now nearing completion. It will be equipped with a small newspaper press and a small motor to furnish the motive power. The building was erected for the purpose of helping suffering humanity, and is an enterprise which was never before attempted. The "Shut-In-Mission Worker" now goes regularly into more than 3,000 homes, and after the publisher gets settled in his new workshop it will circulate yet more widely.

Berrett Items.

The remains of Mrs. Charles Shipley, of Meadow Branch, who died there last week, were brought to Berrett on Wednesday and interred in the M. P. Church burial ground. Rev. P. J. Shriver conducted the funeral services. Messrs. Henry Streaker, Geo. W. Cook, Chas. Barnes, Bayard Dorsey, Mr. Keifer and Henry Cook, Jr., were the pallbearers. Mrs. Shipley, is survived by her husband and six children. Her husband is a son of Mr. John W. Shipley, of Berrett.

Miss Mamie Farver spent a week in Baltimore, visiting her aunt, Mrs. F. M. Smith, and other relatives there, and returned home on Sunday last.

Mrs. Anna Dorsey and her mother, Mrs. Alice Fleming, were guests at Mrs. Maud Shipley's on Thursday and Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Pickett paid a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Silas A. Farver on Sunday last.

Miss Effie E. Conaway visited Miss Mabel Dorsey last Sunday afternoon.

Our public school started last Monday, September 26th, with Mr. W. W. Jenkins teacher having been delayed one week on account of repairs being made to the schoolhouse and desks.

Two batteries of U. S. Artillery passed through our place on Tuesday with 12 guns.

Pennsylvania College Notes.

Through the diligent efforts of President Hefelbower, professors and students, a new monument has been unveiled in Gettysburg, although not erected to commemorate the valor of the dead. It is rather a living monument to attest the perseverance and energy of very active men.

The Freshman class has eighty-two students, and still more are expected. This is the largest class in the history of the institution. College enthusiasm also exceeds that of previous years. With such spirit, Pennsylvania College is bound to ascend the "Acropolis" of intelligence.

THE SUN BRIGHT CLIME.

Have you heard, have you heard, of that sun-bright clime,
Undimmed by sorrow, unhurt by time,
Where age hata no power o'er the fadeless frame,
Where the eye is fire, and the heart is flame—
Have you heard of that sun-bright clime?

A river of water gushes there,
'Mid flowers of beauty strangely fair,
And a thousand wings are hovering o'er
The dazzling wave and the golden shore,
That are seen in that sun-bright clime.

Millions of forms, all clothed in bright,
In garments of beauty, clear and white—
They dwell in their own immortal bowers,
'Mid fadeless hues of countless flowers,
That bloom in that sun-bright clime.

Ear hath not heard, and eye hath not seen,
Their swelling songs, and their changeless sheen,
Their ensigns are waving and banners unfurl
O'er jasper walls and gates of pearl,
That are fixed in that sun-bright clime.

But far, far away is that sinless clime,
Undimmed by sorrow, unhurt by time;
Where amid all things that's fair is given,
The home of the just, and its name is heaven,
The name of that sun-bright clime.
