Republican Ticket.

For President,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
of New York.

For Vice-President,
CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS, of Indiana.

For Congress,
ROBERT GARRETT,
OF BALTIMORE COUNTY.

Judge Parker's speech is an excellent catalogue of the things he does not know about the Philippines.

The biggest complaint the Democrats have against Roosevelt is that he is beating them all along the line.

Parker is rapidly becoming ridiculous to the voters, and when that happens to a candidate he needs to hunt a hole.

Mr. Roosevelt has not yet found it necessary to put in his Sundays consulting with party bosses about campaign politics.

There has been so much mud slinging in the Democratic ranks that their campaign arguments are as speckled as a coach dog.

Republican zeal has not been slackened by the efforts of the Democrats to make a "Roosevelt issue." Their faith is supported by his works.

President Eliot, of Harvard is out for Roosevelt; and the Democrats are looking at each other and wondering where the lightning will strike next.

There are judges and judges, and when it comes to detailed, accurate and well expressed information on the Philippines, we prefer ex-Judge Taft to ex-Judge Parker.

The registration officer himself did not know Judge Parker and had to ask him his name. It is wonderful to have a candidate as well known as that.

Misrepresentation and personal abuse has never formed a ladder strong enough to support a national party in its ambitious effort to climb to power.

The difference between the Republican and Democratic tactics seems to be thus far that the Republicans make charges that they can prove, and the Democrats make charges that they can't.

Perhaps when Judge Parker has the time he will explain how he, who has never been in the Phillippines, knows so much more about them than Secretary Taft, who has spent several years grappling with their problems on the spot.

Mr. Parker and his party are constantly inveighing against trusts, but some of the worst trusts in the country are supporting him. John C. Havemeyer, a leading member of the Sugar Trust, is now out in a pamphlet, urging Parker's election. It is well known that Trust money is relied upon for Parker campaign expenses.

Mr. Parker bewails the cost of living for the workingmen of the country at the present time. The workingmen of today, who were such in 1892, should not fail to detect in this talk of Mr. Parker's, a close similarity to the arguments of the Democrats during that campaign. The election of Mr. Cleveland was to make things cheaper—and it did. The trouble was that labor, when it found employment at all, was also cheap and workingmen have rarely passed through a time of such distress and want as they experienced from 1892 to 1896. All industries, with very few exceptions at least, were then in the same category. Agricultural products scarcely sold for the cost of their production and farmers shared with the workingmen the financial distress which blanketed every occupation. If they want a repetition of that experience the way to get it is to vote for Parker and Davis and the Democratic candidates for Congress in their respective districts.

MENDACIOUS OR IGNORANT; WHICH?

The Democratic candidate for President has been making some statements in his speeches that indicate stupendous mendacity or surprising ignorance. Not in one instance alone has it been proven that he has misrepresented the affairs of his country and quoted figures not only false, but so immensely out of the way as to make the statements] absurd and ridiculous. Judge Parker knows, as does the humblest citizen of the country, that the Philippines have cost the United States altogether less than $200,000,000, and yet he continues to make the statement that they have cost us some $650,000,000. Judge Parker knows, as well as does the humblest citizen of the land, that there have been less than 4,500 American and native soldiers in the American army lost in the Philippines, both privates and officers, including deaths from wounds, sickness, drowning and other accidents and all contagious diseases, and yet he continues to reiterate the statement that we have lost 200,000 lives because of that insurrection, and this, too, in the face of the fact that only 126,000 men all told have been sent to the Philippines. It is to be supposed that Judge Parker is ignorant of the facts rather than mendacious in stating them. It is hard to believe that the candidate of a great party for the Presidency would be guilty of wilfully misrepresenting facts to the detriment of his country. But whichever horn of the dilemma his friends may assign him in the matter, it is pretty clear that he is very poorly equipped for the duties of the Presidential office.

Olney talks of our "needless scrimmage with Spain." How about the liberation of Cuba?

If the Democrats keep on abusing Roosevelt his plurality will blanket the whole country.

Constructive administration by Mr. Roosevelt is away ahead of destructive administration by Mr. Parker.

Every time a Democrat is asked to define his party's issues he is forced to offer a plea in political bankruptcy.

Mr. Edgar H. Gans, a prominent Baltimore Independent Democrat, who last year supported the regular Democratic ticket and also favored the late Mayor McLane's election, announces his intention to vote for Roosevelt and the Republican candidate for Congress. Mr. Gans is a prominent member of the Baltimore bar. He is only one of many of the Independent Democrats of Baltimore who intend to vote for the Republican candidates, realizing that Mr. Parker, whatever may be his personal worth, is associated with men who cannot be trusted upon the most vital and important questions involved in the election.

It is a long and tedious process to build up prosperity in a nation through wise legislation. It is very easy to demolish the work of years in a short time by unwise legislation. The Democratic tariff act of the last Cleveland Administration paralyzed business even upon the prospect of its enactment. The Republican tariff act, passed after Cleveland's Congress went out, relieved the depression and started industries going,

Don't let the Democrats have the House of Representatives this fall. It is true they could not enact anything but they would scare the country and frighten employers of labor.

Congressman J. T. Heflin, of the Fifth District of Alabama, recently said that a bomb under the table at which President Roosevelt and Booker T. Washington sat together would have done no harm, meaning, of course, that it would have been no harm to have assassinated the President. Some of the Southern Democratic newspapers took Mr. Heflin pretty sharply to task for that sort of anarchistic utterance, and he explained that it was only spoken in fun. The Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser says that that was probably an afterthought, but that if Heflin "has that sort of conception of fun he is not a man of wisdom, of prudence, of self-control enough to be set up as a leader of men." The Advertiser is unquestionably correct in this view of the matter. In this age of cranks it might not be difficult to fire some one with such a suggestion of assassination and there was no fun in making it. Mr. Heflin is a candidate for re-election and will, of course, go back to the next Congress, but he is not the sort of man to properly represent a Southern constituency, and we are glad to see Southern newspapers scoring him for his lack of sense or worse characteristics.

THE DON'T POLICY.

Thus far the Democratic party seems to consist entirely of statements in the negative. We have been told what Judge Parker will not do if he is President, and what the party will not do if it gets into power, and at the same time we have been given to understand that Judge Parker is a good, strong man, who will do something, but not the things which Roosevelt has done. But inasmuch as the things which Roosevelt and the Republican party have done and propose to do in the future cover a surprisingly large ground, it would be interesting to know what the evolutions of Parker would be outside this forbidden territory.

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS.

It is probable that the real Sound Money Democrats will play no inconsiderable part in the result of the approaching election and may be influential in the success of Roosevelt and Fairbanks. There is in existence an organization known as "The Democratic Honest Money League of America," of which John Byrne, with headquarters in New York, is president. Mr. Byrne is sending out, over his own signature, officially, an appeal to his associates to vote for Roosevelt. He points out the consistent support of the gold standard by Mr. Roosevelt, and referring to the fact that Parker twice voted for free silver, says that if the latter shall be elected he "may in perfect good faith say that he has discovered that the gold standard has not been irrevocably established and therefore a change to what he deems the more desirable policy—the silver standard—should be made." "It is," he says, "an unquestionable fact that there is a large element in this country which believes in the silver standard, and that between the accomplishment of their designs and the welfare and credit of the American people stands only Theodore Roosevelt." Then he adds: "With the old spirit of 1896 let us again rally to the flag of honest money, as represented in this campaign by Theodore Roosevelt—not as a Republican, but as a man of convictions and of the courage to maintain them."

There is no doubt that the real honest money men of the country have reason to distrust Mr. Parker's soundness on that question. No policy in this country can be so firmly established that the people cannot revoke it, and Mr. Parker's adherence to sound money seems to rest only upon the fact that it has been twice sanctioned by the votes of the people, he voting on both these occasions with its opponents. If a majority should at any time be found in favor of the contrary doctrine he would—judging his future by his past course—conform to their wishes and again become an adherent of free silver. It is therefore true that Mr. Roosevelt offers the only fixed and certain bulwark against the designs of the free silverites in this campaign, and should be supported by sound money voters of all parties.

The latest acquisition by the Wabash Railroad in Baltimore is the Brown's wharf property fronting on the harbor a considerable distance westward from Broadway and bounded on the north by Thames street. The Sun says "it is presumed the Wabash intends to use the place as a station to receive and deliver freight from car floats to or from Fort Covington, the tide water line" running from Wallbrook to the Spring Gardens. This, with the other acquisitions of property and the large outlay of money in Baltimore, indicates that Baltimore is to be the tidewater terminus of the Wabash system.

Ex-Mayor J. Samuel McCue, of Charlottesville, Va., is on trial at that place for the murder of his wife. The State has adduced some very damaging testimony against him.

Russian naval commanders appear to have no regard for the rights of neutrals on the high seas. The Baltic fleet, now on the way to the far East, is more than imitating the reckless conduct of the Smolensk and other auxiliary cruisers on the Red sea, and will involve the government of the Czar in no end of trouble by firing upon, hailing and searching peaceable merchantmen of other nations, as it has been doing even in neutral waters. Russian naval officers, as a rule, seem to be a very incompetent set and their ships a menace to the ships of every nation except the Japanese. The firing upon the fleet of Hull fishermen, last Saturday morning, is without a parallel in the history of the seas.

GET READY FOR ELECTION DAY.

The main thing, now, is to make sure to get to the polls on election day. We don't need much more discussion or campaigning. The people have their minds pretty well made up on what they intend to do on election day.

Be sure that you do it, that's all. Don't imagine that your vote is not needed.

The issues of the campaign have been thoroughly gone over. As far as Republicans, Independents and Gold Democrats are concerned, they did not need much discussion, for the issues as they see them are the same presented to the voters in 1898, 1900, and 1902. The only interest aroused among these voters was whether the Democratic party had any new issue to present. It did not have and was not even united in its opposition to the issues presented by the Republican party.

So the question comes back to this: Shall we vote as we have voted in the recent past and keep the party in power which has a definite plan of government and legislation, that has been tried and received the approval of the people, or shall we seek a change, split up Congress and install in power an unknown quantity?

There is little doubt as to how that question will be answered, if the voters go to the polls. The only fear is that through over confidence the men who have sustained the hands of McKinley and Roosevelt may not turn out on election day and the opposition thereby be permitted to take the prize by default.

Turn out and vote for your Republican candidate for Congress and for Republican electors on the Presidential ticket. More than that, not only take yourself to the polls but get your neighbor to go with you. The result means undisturbed business conditions and continued peace and prosperity as well as safe, stable and wise government.

THE JAPANESE-RUSSIAN WAR.

One of the most remarkable events incident to the war between Japan and Russia occurred between midnight and daybreak last Saturday morning. The Russian Baltic fleet of warships, passing down the North sea about 200 miles east of the Coast of England, sighted a fleet of steam fishing vessels, from Hull, in the latter country, and deliberately fired upon the unarmed and helpless fishermen. One steam trawler, the Crane, was sunk, the captain and one of the mates had their heads shot off, and several seamen were wounded. Other trawlers were riddled with shot and fifteen or twenty of their crews wounded. The Russian vessels did not stop to offer assistance to the disabled craft. The explanation of this high handed outrage is that the Russian vice-admiral, Rojestvensky, who was in command of the Russian vessels, had been warned to be on the lookout for Japanese torpedo boats and mistook the innocent fishermen for deadly enemies. He alleges that he was actually fired upon by Japanese vessels. The outrage caused great excitement and a decidedly war-like sentiment among the English people and a prompt demand was made upon the government of the Czar for an explanation and reparation. Thus far the two governments have not arrived at a satisfactory adjustment of the matter. The Russian government apparently considers the explanation made by the commander of the fleet as largely mitigating responsibility in the case, a view which is not shared by the English and war between these two countries is imminent. It is said the English Navy has orders to intercept the Russian Baltic fleet and prevent its further progress until reparation shall be made. This would, without doubt, be construed by Russia as an act of war and the beginning of hostilities. The situation is an extremely grave one.

In comparing the present Electoral College with that of four years ago the fact should not be overlooked that under the reapportionment of 1900 the aggregate vote was increased 29, making the total 476, against 447 four years ago, says the Washington correspondent of the Public Ledger, of Philadelphia. In 1900 17 states, with an aggregate of 155 votes, declared for William Jennings Bryan, and 28 states, with an aggregate of 292 votes, declared for William McKinley. These same states now have 165 and 311 votes, respectively, the Bryan states having gained 10 and the Mckinley states 19 votes under the reapportionment of 1900.

The Baltimore American says that "both the Republicans and Democrats express satisfaction over the result of the registration in Baltimore county. Of the newly registered 2,962 are white and 2,588 are colored. There were erased from the registration books 2,185 white and 529 colored. There is an increase of 777 in the white vote and a decrease of 120 in the colored. The total vote of the county now is 23,133. The decrease in the colored vote is attributed to the removal of a number of colored men to other places to work. The Republicans state that a large percentage of the new vote is identified with their party.

VIOLA ALLEN IN "THE WINTER'S TALE."

It has long been acknowledged that for a finished and artistic production of one of Shakespeare's plays, actors with special training in classic roles, were absolutely required When Miss Allen made her production of "Twelfth Night" last season she kept this idea steadily in view and with resultant success. With her revival of "The Winter's Tale," to be seen at the Academy of Music, Baltimore, next week, a like scheme in the selection of last season's performers has been carried out.

The committee on arrangements for the C. E. Convention, which meets in our town next Wednesday and Thursday, thought it best to insert this little item in the paper as a reminder to those who have promised contributions to the lunches. Everything will be called for sometime on Tuesday. We would like to have the bread, butter and ham on Tuesday morning. Those contributors who will purchase their bread and cakes from the bakers had better notify them on Saturday so they will be able to meet the demand, as the extra quantity wanted will be large.

SPECIAL CHEAP EXCURSION TO BALTIMORE, SATURDAY, NOV. 5TH.

The Order of Railway Conductors will run a Special Excursion to Baltimore on Saturday, November 5th. The express train will leave Cherry Run about 7.00 A. M., making all stops to and including Thurmont, and also at Brunsville and Westminster; and returning, will leave Baltimore at 7.00 P. M. This excursion is under the personal auspices of the popular Order of Railway Conductors, thus insuring the best order on train, and a pleasant trip going and returning. It is hoped that everyone who possibly can will turn out on the occasion of this excursion, so that the Order of Railway Conductors may have the largest and most successful excursion in its history.
