Mr. Paul Case has broken ground for the erection of two new dwellings on Green street, near the railroad, this city.

The Republican County Central Committee will meet at the headquarters of the party, in the Wantz Building, this city, at 10.30 next Friday morning.

Mr. Frank T. Shaeffer and Ex-Mayor Nelson Gilbert, of this city, made an election bet this week, Mr. Shaeffer wagering 2000 bushels of apples to 1000 bushels, that Roosevelt will be elected President.

The County Commissioners, at their meeting on Monday, granted a special pension of $5 to Rachael Richards, of district No. 4. Other business transacted was of routine character—examining and passing bills, &c.

Mr. A. Reese Bixler and family, formerly of this city, but for a number of years residents of Baltimore, have returned here and Mr. Bixler has taken a position in the store of Mr. George R. Grumbine, West Main street and Pennsylvania avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Hering and Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Billingslea are at Annapolis, where Drs. Hering and Billingslea are representing the Union National Bank of Westminster at the annual meeting of the Maryland Bankers' Association.

Mr. Albert S. Lindsay, tenant on the farm of Mr. W. B. Thomas, of this city, near Haight, exhibited a couple of ears of corn in this office, this week, grown on the place the past season, one of which measured 17 inches in length. The other contained 1100 grains.

Mr. A. W. Buckingham picked half a bushel of quinces from a young tree in his grounds on East Green street, this city, this week, which averaged one pound apiece in weight. The tree was planted four years ago and came into bearing the first time last year. The fruit was the finest of that kind we have ever seen.

Republican meetings have been held this week at Gamber, New Windsor and Eldersburg. The speakers were Hon. Melvin G. Winstock, of Oregon; Robert Garrett, Esq., the Republican candidate for Congress and others. Mr. Winstock, at New Windsor and Eldersburg, criticised Senator Gorman very sharply.

The dwelling house on Pennsylvania avenue, this city, occupied by Mr. George Manger and owned by Mrs. John Doyle, was slightly damaged by fire on Sunday afternoon. The prompt response of the fire department prevented a much greater loss and probably a serious conflagration, as most of the dwellings in the vicinity are frame buildings. There is no insurance on the damaged property.

Mr. Henry Fowler narrowly escaped a fatal accident at Frizellburg a few days ago. He was 20 feet from the ground on an old telephone pole, when it broke off at the ground and fell, carrying him with it. He was considerably bruised and rendered unconscious, but was not seriously hurt. He was taken to the office of Dr. J. Rinehart, who gave him the necessary medical attention, and he was subsequently brought to his home near this city.

Master George Bell, the ten-year-old son of Mr. George Bell, of West Main street, this city, while playing football on the ground of the West End schoolhouse, on Wednesday, had the large bone of his left leg broken, about three inches above the ankle. Dr. Charles R. Foutz adjusted the fracture, an operation which the lad bore without wincing. He will be temporarily disabled by the accident but permanent ill effects are not likely to result from it.

We have seen some specimens of illustrations for the Washington Post designed by Mr. Wm. W. Weeks, son of Mr. Thomas Weeks, of this city, which show decided artistic conception and skill in execution. Mr. Weeks is a designer and illustrator for Munsey's N. Y. Weekly as well as for the Post, and evidently possesses fine talent in that particular department of art. He is a graduate of Western Maryland College and a very intelligent young man, and with such ability as he displays in the particular line referred to can hardly fail to make his life a successful one.

Miss Blanche Pitman, of Woodstock, Va., a trained nurse, was taken ill with typhoid fever while recently attending Mrs. U. L. Reaver, of this city, and died at the Maryland University Hospital, in Baltimore, on Saturday last. Miss Pitman was known to a number of persons in this city, having been engaged as a trained nurse in several families here, and was regarded as very skillful in that profession. She was a worthy and refined lady and her death is very much regretted by numbers of friends in this locality. The fever with which she suffered was complicated with other diseases.

The jury in the contested will case of Mrs. Mary Polk, in the Superior Court of Baltimore, after a trial extending over two weeks, rendered a verdict on Friday of last week in favor of the caveators and declaring the will invalid. The estate involved had been appraised at $43,000. If no appeal shall be taken in the case, it is said a previous will will be offered for probate in the Orphans' Court of Baltimore. Mr. Frederick L. H. Glendmeyer and his sister were the principal beneficiaries under the will set aside by the verdict in the case. Several relatives of Mrs. Polk, in this county, were interested in the case. One of them was represented by Jos. D. Brooks, Esq., as counsel. Chas. E. Fink, Esq., was also counsel in the trial.

The Republican meeting at Odd Fellows' Hall, this city, tonight, should be largely attended. Senator McComas, Charles J. Bonaparte and Hon. Wm. B. Baker are to be the speakers.

At the last report she was in a critical condition.

W. M. C. 5; M. A. C. 0.

This was the result of a closely contested football game between the Western Maryland and Maryland Agricultural Colleges, played on the ground of the former in this city on Saturday last. The game was played in two 20 minute halves, and so evenly matched were the teams that, for the most part, the pigskin was kept in the middle of the gridiron and neither team scored in the first half.

Nine minutes after the beginning of the second half Roberts, for Western Maryland, by a magnificent play, made a touchdown, but failed to kick goal Roberts' playing was the leading feature of the game. Lineup:

The Official List of Nominations.

On the fourth page of the SENTINEL this week will be found the list of nominations made by the several parties, as they will appear on the official ballot to be voted on the 8th of November. The names are not arranged alphabetically, as has been customary heretofore. The law does not, it is said, require this, and if custom had been followed in this case the name of Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist candidate, would head the ballot. As arranged, however, the names of Parker and Davis, followed by the names of the Democratic candidates for the electors, are at the head of the first column. Then follow the names of Roosevelt and Fairbanks and the names of the Republican candidates for electors, the column ending with the names of the congressional candidates in alphabetical order, the name of Robert Garrett, the Republican candidate, being the first. In the second column the names of the Prohibition and Socialist candidates appear in the order named.

Only one mark will be required to vote for President and Vice-President, and that must be made in the square to the right of the name of the candidates for those offices. For instance, to vote for Roosevelt and Fairbanks it will only be necessary to make a X in the square to the right of their names, next to which is the word Republican. Another mark must be made to vote for Congressman, and that must be in the square to the right of the candidate's name and the party designation. To vote for Robert Garrett place the X to the right of the word Republican as it follows in the line with his name. Voters should be very careful not to let the lines of the X touch any part of the lines of the square in which it is to be placed.

A Pleasant Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Mobley were given a very pleasant surprise party on Friday evening last, at their residence on West Main street, this city, on the eve of their departure for their new home in Frederick. The function was designed to manifest the kindly regard in which Mr. and Mrs. Mobley are held by their neighbors and friends in this city, and this was amply shown by the many expressions of regret for their removal from the place. The evening was pleasantly spent and was marred only by the reflection of the impending separation. Mr. and Mrs. Mobley were presented with a splendid Japanese vase as a mark of the esteem in which they are held in this city. Refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Mobley, Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Weigand, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Elgen, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wantz, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Grumbine, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Thomas Chapel Sunday School.

Thomas Chapel Sunday School held its annual rally on Sunday, 23rd inst. The church was beautifully decorated with potted plants, autumn leaves and chrysanthemums. "S. S. Rally" was made of red leaves on a white background and added greatly to the appearance of the church.

Miss Blanche Bowman, a member of the school, delivered the opening address; the school sang some beautiful hymns; an orchestra, composed of young men of Westminster, furnished beautiful music; Rev. L. F. Warner delivered an address on "Children's Religion;" Mrs. S. K. Herr talked to to the children on "The House that God Built;" Mr. J. B. Townshend made an address on "Duty," and Dr. D. F. Shipley gave a talk on "How we will be remembered by what we have done." A duet, entitled "Come Holy Spirit," was sung by Miss Bessie and Mr. George Armacost, and Mrs. Williamson sang, as a solo, "Only Remembered." The pastor of the Chapel, Rev. W. C. Harden, made a few remarks on the good condition of the school.

Those who so kindly assisted in this rally, which was such a success, will please accept the sincere thanks of the people of Thomas Chapel.

Patapsco Items.

Mr. Peter Miller has sold a tract of 10 acres of land, with improvements, fronting on the turnpike near Reese, to Mrs. Elizabeth Mummaugh for $1500.

Mr. John Kelbaugh has made some improvements to his dwelling house.

Messrs. Jesse M. Arbaugh, A. F. Oursler and Jacob F. Caples have built new corn houses on their farms.

Mr. Wm. L. Richards is making a number of improvements on his farm in Green Valley, by ditching and building. Mr. John H. Taylor, who resided on the farm and sold it to Mr. Richards, is now domiciled with his son-in-law, Mr. Edward Sprenkel, near Carrollton. We very much regret his departure from our town.

Some of our neighbors are complaining that thieves have stolen some of their chickens.

Your correspondent has a very fine lot of pumpkins and a neighbor having asked for some of the seed, was informed that he could have a gift of some of the pumpkins and save the seed himself. By understanding the pumpkins were left by the side of the neighbor's back field, but when his son went for them with a wagon they had disappeared and, it is alleged, had been loaded on another wagon and taken in an opposite direction. Some of our wise men suggest that a Democrat got them and as they were of the Roosevelt, Fairbanks and Garrett variety, they may influence him to vote for those candidates on election day. If so, your correspondent invites him to come back and get a few more. He will be welcome to them.

Union Mills Items.

Mr. John F. Maus, of Silver Run, met with a horrible accident on the afternoon of the 26th inst., which resulted in the loss of his left arm. His arm was accidentally caught by and drawn into a corn husking machine that he was feeding. The machine was stopped as promptly as it could be, but not before Mr. Maus' arm, fearfully crushed and mangled, was drawn in to a point beyond the elbow where it was held as if in the grip of a vise. Mr. Maus, in his agony, begged those present to release him from the machine by cutting off his arm, and when they refused to do so he performed the amputation himself, bravely severing the lacerated flesh and broken bone with a knife. Drs. Stewart, of Union Mills, and Foreman, of Littlestown, were promptly summoned and dressed the wound. At last reports, Mr. Maus, who is a man of robust health, was getting along as well as could be expected. It is said that he bore up most courageously under the terrible experience.

Morelock, died on Saturday morning, 23rd inst., of diphtheria, and was buried at Silver Run cemetery on the afternoon of the same day, Rev. J. Stewart Hartman officiating. Mr. Morelock is one of the most highly esteemed residents of our district, and himself and family, in their time of trial, have the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

Mr. Nelson Koontz, of Silver Run, with his daughter, Miss Dellie Koontz, last week started on an extended trip to visit relatives in the West and to see the World's Fair, at St. Louis.

A Privilege for Christian Endeavorers.

The Maryland C. E. State Convention to be held at Westminster, November 2nd and 3rd, offers an opportunity to the Endeavorers of Carroll county of enjoying all the exercises of the convention with very little or no expense.

Not since the organization of C. E. work in the State have we had such a great opportunity. It is surely a privilege to meet so many fellow Endeavorers from all parts of the State, our brethren who are working for the furtherance of Christ's Kingdom even as we are working.

Carroll County Endeavorers be present and bid all delegates from other counties a cordial welcome; extend to them the right hand of christian fellowship, that we will feel the love of Christ working in our hearts toward and with them.

Dr. Clark, president of the World's C. E. Union, and Mr. Wm. Shaw, its treasurer, are expected to be present. Dr. Clark, having recently returned from a trip around the world, will be full of strange and interesting things to tell us of the C. E. work in other lands. Mr. Shaw, being a charming speaker on C. E. work, will not fail to kindle new enthusiasm in the hearts of all who hear him.

Dr. Allison, Dr. Clever, Dr. Atchison, Dr. Colt, Revs. Walker, Holmes, Abbott, Rupp and others will entertain us, and teach us things we may wish to know.

The C. E. Institute will be held Thursday afternoon, November 3rd, a new feature of the work. It will be conducted by Dr. Clark and Mr. Ward.

A special choir of 50 trained voices will be an inspiring feature, also a treat which all should strive to enjoy. As there are six sessions you can surely be present at a part of them at least. O come! and learn something more about the blessed work of winning souls for the Master; how men should live pure, undefiled, holy lives in the sight of God, that we may escape the pains and suffering which sin brings to every life; that we may be able to say "O death! where is thy sting: O grave! where is thy victory?"

Let us prayerfully ask God's blessing upon the committees and others who shall take part in the exercises of the convention, that they may be able to perform their duties well pleasing to God and for the edification of souls. Come! with the sole purpose of deriving a benefit, and with an intense desire of making your presence an encouragement.

Come! enjoy this privilege.

The Linwood Camp Meeting.

An article appeared in the Baltimore Sun of 21st inst., touching Linwood camp-meeting, and also a similar article in the county papers, stating things which were absolutely false, thereby reflecting on the campmeeting and the supporters of the same.

First, no action was taken by the Md. and Va. Eldership, nor is there an article on their journal prohibiting their ministers from attending or participating in services at Linwood camp. The present standing committee are not in opposition to the camp-meeting. The relation of Uniontown church to Linwood camp is the same that it always was, the body of the church not having assumed any control of the camp-meeting as the camp is a personal matter, owned and controlled by a ruling elder and trustee of the Church of God at Uniontown, who is wholly responsible for Linwood camp-meeting. The members have the privilege of attending or not as circumstances permit. The present pastor of Uniontown Church is not personally opposed to Linwood camp, neither are the ministers of the East Va. Eldership, who have been attending it for the last thirty years.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mrs. Fannie Eldridge.

Mrs. Fannie Eldridge, widow of A. C. Eldridge, was burned to death at the home of her stepson, Mr. John Eldridge, three miles from Hagerstown, Tuesday afternoon, and it is supposed had set fire to her clothing for the purpose of ending her life. This is only a presumption, however, based upon the fact that Mrs. Eldridge was in bad health, having sustained a stroke of paralysis two months ago; that she was apprehensive that she might become a helpless invalid, and had threatened self-destruction. It seems more reasonable to attribute the occurrence to accident. Mrs. Eldridge was alone in the house and when discovered her body was burned almost to a crisp. She was 67 years old. She was a native and for many years a resident of Manchester, and was a sister of Mr. E. J. Crumrine, of that place, and of Mrs. James Clemson, of Union Bridge, and Mrs. Dr. W. B. Wheeler, of Boonsboro.

Manchester Items.

The members of Carroll Encampment No. 17, I. O. O. F., enjoyed a red letter period on Monday evening, the occasion having been a visit from the grand officers of the Grand Encampment of Maryland, upon the invitation of Past Grand Patriarch Geo S. Motter. The attendance of the membership was large and a general good time enjoyed. Grand Patriarch Jos. E. Cook delivered an address along the lines of encampment work and was followed by Past Grand Patriarch Adrian Hughes, who was grand representative of the patriarchal branch of Odd Fellowship at the meeting of the sovereign grand Lodge in San Francisco, Cal., last month and who, in a pleasant and interesting manner, took the membership a trip across the Continent that was highly appreciated by all. Grand senior Warden Fred. Groom spoke encouraging words to all and was followed by Grand Marshal Chas. Banthem, who beautified the work in the several degrees with much interest. After the routine of business and the speech making the meeting closed and all fell into line and marched to the home of Patriarch Motter, where a banquet was enjoyed. After refreshments cigars were passed and speech making followed till a late hour. Mrs. J. M. Motter was assisted in serving by her daughters, Miss Fannie G. Ross and Mrs. Wm. H. Shower, and by Lotta Shower, Mrs. H. T. J. LaMotte, Mrs. Chas. J. Everhart, Mrs. Chas. M. Masenhimer, Mrs. Cornelius Miller, Prof. and Mrs. Davis. Patriarch Hughes presented the encampment with a portrait of Grand Patriarch Motter in a neat frame.

On Monday evening Kunkle gave them an old time serenade.
