WESTMINSTER, - MARYLAND.

W. L. W. Seabrook, - Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1904.

Some persons may attribute the large vote of Mr. Bonaparte and Ex-Governor Brown, at the recent election, to the personal popularity of those gentlemen, but without doubt such an opinion is erroneous. Each of tohse gentlemen headed the electoral ticket of his party, and many persons voted for each of them only, upon the supposition that they were voting the entire ticket represented by him. As the Democratic candidates had the advantage of position on the official ballot it does not require a stretch of imagination to understand that the Republicans were simply tricked out of a plurality for their whole electoral ticket, and that Maryland really belongs in the Republican column in 1904. It is a matter of small moment, however, as the general result will not be affected by the vote of the State in the summing up of the electoral colleges. If the election of a President depended upon the electoral college of Maryland it would raise a serious question and some remedy should be found to prevent a recurrence of these unfair methods.

SOUTHERN REPRESENTATION.

Those who favor abridgment of the representation of the States which have suppressed the suffrage of the colored people, in the Lower House of Congress, are again showing signs of activity and, it is said, the question will be agitated at the approaching session of the National Legislature.

This is a subject upon which perpetual agitation should cease. Either the constitution does or does not require such abridgment. If it does, the time to put the requirement in operation was when the apportionment under the census of 1900 was made. In fact it was obligatory upon Congress to make that apportionment precisely as the constitution directs, and the presumption is that it was so made. There is no probability that any change will be made in the apportionment. It is based upon the population of the several States and if the basis had been affected by the Fourteenth Amendment to the constitution that fact would hardly have been overlooked by the members of two such bodies as the Senate and House of Representatives.

There is no doubt that the intention of the framers of the Second Section of the Fourteenth Amendment was that, "when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a State or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime," the basis of representation therein should be reduced in the proportion which the number of male citizens, so denied the right to vote, should bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State. But, unfortunately for that intention, it is not thus expressed, the language of the amendment being that "the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citivens twenty-one years of age in such State."

It does not require a legal education to understand that the phraseology italicized, which is the language of the amendment, is meaningless and destroys the purpose designed by those who framed it. The question should have been regarded as set at rest when Congress ignored the Fourteenth Amendment in making the apportionment of Representatives under the last census. If the amendment, as it relates to suffrage, had clearly required the abridgment of the representation of States which have denied the right of suffrage to male citizens over 21 years of age, for various causes other than participation in crime, there would have been no option on the part of Congress as to whether such abridgment should or should not have been made. The representation of States having taken such action would, in that case, have been curtailed. As it was not, the contention over the matter should be regarded as closed and its agitation should cease, as the only purpose it serves is to keep up sectional irritation.

As corollary to this side of the question there is another view which cannot be given here, but may be considered at a future period.

MARYLAND OFFICIAL RETURNS.

The full official returns of the recent election in this State have been finally compiled and made public, and show some changes from the previously estimated returns. Mr. Charles J. Bonaparte received the highest vote of any candidate on either electoral ticket, leading Ex-Gov. Brown by 51. The combined vote of the Republican candidates for Congress exceeds the combined vote of the Democratic candidates by 4,748. The estimated returns made Hon. T. Herbert Shriver, of this county, the lowest candidate on the Democratic ticket and indicated his defeat by Mr. Bonaparte, but the official count puts him in the lead of two other candidates on that side, and makes Charles H. Knapp the defeated candidate. The official returns are as follows:

ELECTORAL VOTE.

Republican—Charles J. Bonaparte, 109,497; Carlton L. Bretz, 106,993; R. Rastall Walker, 106,876; Edward M. Allen, Jr., 106,721; George A. Hartman, 106,994; Robert Ogle, 106,787; J. Webb Thomas, 106,709; Alfred G. Sturgis, 106,896.

Democrats—Frank Brown, 109,446; Elihu E. Jackson, 107,477; John E. George, 107,343; T. Herbert Shriver, 107,285; Jas. King, 107,333; Charles H. Knapp, 107,276; Samuel A. Mudd, 107,278; Ferdinand Williams, 107,460.

FOR CONGRESS.

First District—William H. Jackson, Republican, 17,072; Thomas A. Smith, Democrat, 17,582.

Second District—Robert Garrett, Republican, 16,784; J. F. C. Talbott, Democrat, 15,922.

Third District—Frank C. Wachter, Republican, 17,405; Lee S. Meyer, Democrat, 15,373.

Fourth District—William C. Smith, Republican, 16,754; John Gill, Jr., Democrat, 18,464.

Fifth District—Sydney E. Mudd, Republican, 16,896; Richard S. Hill, Democrat, 13,762.

Sixth District—George A. Pearre, Republican, 19,131; Walter A. Johnson, Democrat, 15,077.

Mrs. Joseph L. Albaugh, of Liberty town, died of consumption, on Sunday morning, aged 24 years. A husband and one daughter survive her.

AGAINST A SNAG.

The machine Democrats, who are bent on depriving the colored people of Maryland of the right of suffrage, have run against a snag, in the effort to carry out their project, in the position assumed by Governor Warfield. It will be remembered that the Governor was opposed to the constitutional amendment passed by the Legislature last winter, to impose additional qualifications upon voters, and let it be understood that he would veto the bill embodying it. He favored and strongly urged a property qualification, but it did not meet the views of the Democratic legislators and was not adopted. They cast about for some method of evading the Governor's purpose to veto the measure and came to the conclusion that the law embodying the disfranchising amendment was of a character which did not require his signature and it was transmitted to the custody of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals without submitting it to him for approval.

Now, the Governor has let it be understood that he will not advertise this and the good roads amendment, as it is necessary to do, under the constitution, before submitting them to the voters for their adoption or rejection. He holds that the bills embodying them have not become laws in the manner required by the constitution and cannot be treated as valid and binding upon him. That in fact he is without executive authority to recognize them as in force at all.

The Governor's determination makes it necessary for the employment of legal proceedings to ascertain which side of the contention will be sanctioned by the courts, and such proceedings, it is said, will be inaugurated by Mr. Murray Vandiver, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, upon the Governor's declaration that he will not advertise the amendments. Probably application will be made for a writ of mandamus to compel the Executive to comply with the mandate of the Legislature in the matter. Yet such a proceeding will be anomalous, at least in point of time. What right will the courts have to assume that the Governor will ignore the bills entirely, upon his mere declaration that he will do so, until the time shall arrive for his action. It will be strange action on the part of any court to issue its writ of mandamus to compel action by the Governor before his actual failure to obey the laws, if they be laws.

Probably before the SENTINEL is issued this week Mr. Vandiver will have inquired of the Governor, by letter, whether he intends to advertise the disfranchisement and good roads amendments. To this inquiry Gov. Warfield may or may not respond. Probably he will do so and announce his determination not to recognize the validity of these alleged laws. But what ground will that give for the writ of mandamus to compel action in the matter before the arrival of the time for such action? The Governor is probably right in assuming that the bills embodying the amendments did not become laws without having been submitted for his approval, but, whether right or wrong, no court should entertain an application for its writ of mandamus, in advance of a failure to act officially. Nobody is entitled to receive from Gov. Warfield any such official declaration, and it will be a monstrous perversion of the duty of the courts to take cognizance of it, if he shall make it to Mr. Vandiver.

Since the above was written and put in type the anticipated correspondence between Mr. Vandiver and Gov. Warfield has taken place and the Governor states that, acting upon the advice of Attorney General Bryan, he will not cause the amendments to be advertised.

The War in Manchuria.

The Japs are still pounding away at Port Arthur and have succeeded in capturing or destroying several important defences of the stronghold. Their shells now fall in the town and have caused serious fires, one of which, it is said, destroyed the supply of coal in the place. Three Russian torpedo boats, in an attempt to escape from the Port, were caught by the Japanese fleet and destroyed. From a Russian source it is stated that the Japs were repulsed in an attempt to capture another fort. There is no news of importance from the armies confronting each other in the vicinity of Mukden, although rumors of an impending battle have been persistently circulated.

Letter to Geo. L. Stocksdale.

WESTMINSTER, MD

Dear Sir: What's the penalty for making or selling short-measure paint in your state?

And does it make any difference, if three-fourths of the paints are short-measure?

Is seven pints a full-gallon or a fool-gallon?

What's the penalty for making or selling whitewash for paint?

Is whitewash paint, if mixed with a little paint and labeled "Pure mixed paint", or something like that?

But we don't intend to go into the business. We make Devoe lead-and-zinc full-measure and true.

Yours truly

RUMMAGE SALE

of all Odds and Ends in all Departments.

A SALE different to any we have had or has been held by any other store in the town. We propose to make this a money saving event to every customer that enters our store. We have been planning this sale for weeks, and have gone through each and every department carefully and taken out all broken lots for this sale. In the offerings which accompany this announcement we think we have given ample proof of just how earnest are our attempts to continue in your favor and good opinion. Because of the smallness of the lots in most instances, no detailed mention is made, but we would say this: WESTMINSTER'S BEST STORE offers bigger buying advantages for this week than any store in town.
