The many friends of Rev. J. A. Weigand, in this city and county, will be glad to hear that he and his family are comfortably domiciled in Newark, N. J., and are getting along very nicely. They are only about four minutes' walk from the Methodist Protestant Church, of which Rev. Fred. C. Klein is pastor, and find the church connection very pleasant. There are, however, some drawbacks, such as the absence of that free and friendly intercourse among neighbors which marked their residence in this city, and the enhanced cost of living, but Mr. Weigand, in a letter to the manager of the SENTINEL, says he is able to save about 25 per cent. by doing his own marketing. Facetiously alluding to his experiences here he writes to the manager that he must not forget the responsibilities on him to "Keep all the bad boys like Cris. Stoner, John Elgen and Dr. Foutz in a straight line."

His wife was arrested with him in Baltimore, but was discharged, nothing appearing against her. A Former Carroll Countian Kills His Wife and Himself.

From the Gettysburg, Pa., Star and Sentinel.

The sad intelligence was received in Littlestown last week by friends that Charles Fraver, formerly of near Silver Run, and who married Henrietta Gerrich, of Germany Township, about 35 years ago, shot the latter and then turned the deadly weapon upon himself, both dying instantly, on December 3rd, at their home in Dayton Ohio.

In a letter to Mrs. Edward Auman, Littlestown, from Mrs. J. Einglefinger, a daughter of the deceased, the following is given as the cause of the tragedy:

"The cause, so far as we can learn, was because mother and Bertha decided to go off on a visit for two weeks among relatives. They had expected to go the following morning. Father seemed to have opposed the visit though he did not forbid it. We were desirous that father during the absence of mother and sister, should pass the time between us children, but he declined the invitation stating that he had his place picked out."

Mr. and Mrs. Fraver moved West about 32 years ago. Mr. Fraver has two brothers living—Henry, in Franklin county, and Frank, in Ohio. Mrs. Fraver is survived by three sons and three daughters, and the following brothers and sisters: Andrew Gerrich, of Littlestown; John Gerrich of Kingsdale, and Wm. Gerrich, of Newton county, Ind. The sisters are Mrs. John Riffle, of near Littlestown; Mrs. Geo. Shanberger and Mrs. Jas. Unger, of Newton county, Ind.

Mr. Francis L. Crisswell died on Saturday afternoon, December 10th, after a short illness, of pneumonia. The community was startled to hear the sad news. While it was known he was ill it was not thought its termination would be fatal. It had been more than forty years since he had a previous illness and he would have been sixty-six years old had he lived until Tuesday, December 13, the day on which he was buried. He was a good neighbor, was of a jovial disposition and had a heart that never grew old. By his manifold acts of kindness and his honest principles he had endeared himself to his neighbors and friends everywhere. He was a faithful member of St. Stephen's Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Pickett Post G. A. R., by whose rites he was buried. The services were in charge of Rev. W. Jarboe and were largely attended. Mr. Criswell leaves a widow and four children.

Revival services are in progress at Ebenezer M. E. Church and also Bethel Church of God. Both meetings are well attended and several conversions reported from both.

By Uniting We Are Strengthened.

During the latter part of this year the Christian Endeavor work has been given great encouragement in part of the county. Some of the societies have joined together and held union prayer-meetings, going to different churches alternately. As many as four societies, representing as many denominations, have met together at one meeting. Thanksgiving Day was celebrated by a union service in more than one church in this county. These union meetings have proven to be an encouragement to Christian Endeavor workers, for while it kindles a flame of enthusiasm, it also aids in strengthening the weak societies.

It appears that the time is coming when there will not be so much stress put upon the denominational name, but christians will realize that there is but one God, one Heaven; that we are co-workers together, and that His kingdon wil[illegible] on earth as it is in heaven. We must walk in meekness and humility, temperately showing to the world that we know something about the life of Christ by living an example of purity, love and charity, even as Christ did. Each society generally has a special feature, such as good attendance, good singing, fervent prayer, good speaking or a good system of order in its services. These features represent the streng[illegible] the society, and if they are combined they will surely form a good order of service, and in this way one society is helping to strengthen a neighbor society by its special feature, and also derives a benefit in return.

Christian Endeavor is a training school for young people, not only in church work and spirituality, but it raises the social standard, and union meetings tend to widen the acquaintance of Church, Sunday School and Christian Endeavor workers.

May the unity of Christian Endeavor work continue in our county, and throughout the length and breadth of the world. We have done a good work this year, but let us pray for a greater working capacity for next year, also for the 1905 convention to be held in Baltimore, July 5-10.

May God bless His workers with love and wisdom, that their service may be acceptable in his sight.

Mrs. Christianna S. Marquart died at her residence, at Tyrone, last Friday, aged 75 years, 5 months and 26 days. Her remains were taken to Baust Church, last Tuesday morning, and after a funeral discourse delivered by her pastor, Rev. G. W. Baughman, were buried in the family lot in the cemetery adjoining the church. Mrs. Marquart leaves the following children: John and Chas., at Tyrone; Jacob, at Double Pipe Creek; Mrs. Chas. Whitmore, near Taneytown; Mrs. Nelson Bankert, at Pleasant Valley; Mrs. Sherman Gilds, at Taneytown, and Mrs. W. U. Marker at Tyrone. Mrs. Marquart was born in Germany, and emigrated to this country more than 50 years ago. For about 40 years she lived in the village of Tyrone. She will live in the memory of many who learned to respect her for her many kind acts as a neighbor and friend. Upon her husband, who is an octogenarian, she always bestowed the kind affection and loving care prompted by her kind disposition for which she was noted in her long life. We extend to him our profound sympathy in this his sad bereavment, and may he be cheered in his few remaining years by the reflection that they will meet again never to be parted.

On Tuesday night, 6th inst., a surprise party was tendered Mr. Wm. H. Flickinger and his estimable wife, at their home near Pipe Creek. From what your correspondent can gather, the surprise was a complete success, neither of them having had any previous intimation of the event until a 200 lb. lady friend seized them by the ears and congratulated them on the advent of their 50th birthday. Music, games and social conversation helped to while away the time until about 11 o'clock when the 56 persons who constituted the surprisers were given a surprise in the dining room by being served with all the delicacies of the season, until the inner man cried enough. At a very late hour all repaired to their homes, wishing the host and hostess many more such happy events. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Flickinger, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Flickinger, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Koons, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shriner, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Althoff, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Fleagle, Mrs. David Nusbaum, Mrs. Chas. Mrs. Dr. J. H. Preston came to the front on Thursday evening last and entertained the lady friends of the 1904 Sewing Society, in a manner that could not help but be appreciated by all. All were received with a welcome that was the most inviting and ushered to the large parlor which was in readiness for the pleasure and fun that held high carnival during the evening. When the refreshment hour was announced the ladies were invited to the dining room which was neatly decorated for the occasion. Over the table was a canopy of green all lighted with candelabrae. Pyramids of fruit had their places among the fine appointments. Oysters in three courses with fine trimmings were served and enjoyed. Mrs. Preston was assisted by Mrs. C. Miller, Mrs. Chas. J. Everhart, Miss Sadie Masenhimer and Mrs. Chas. W. Motter. From behind a screen fine music was furnished all during the refreshment period. It proved so fascinating at times that the feet of some of the guests marked time as in dancing.

On Monday evening the members of Carroll Encampment, No. 17, registered a red letter period in their history. After the business of the evening all present marched to the Lower Hall, where a committee had a three course oyster supper in readiness for them, which was highly enjoyed. Toasts followed and were drank with a good will.

We were on the outside on Monday, when the explosion of the mixing room at the dynamite factory at Hoffman's Mill took place. Our attention was attracted and we felt a slight trembling and heard the after report. The first thought was that the works had exploded. That was confirmed several hours afterward when Mr. Geo. Hoover, a rural carrier, brought the news. He passed them an hour afterward. Many of our citizens thought that something heavy had fallen in their homes.

The snowfall on Saturday was from 10 to 12 inches deep in this section and has given us the best of sleighing. Everything is on runners. The stock of sleighs in the hands of our dealers only lasted one day.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Burgoon entertained Rev. C. M. Eyster, of Baltimore, on Monday night. He was looking the picture of health.

Mrs. Cornelius Miller, Mrs. H. T. J. Lamotte, and Mrs. C. M. Masenhimer enjoyed several days among friends in Baltimore last week.

Mrs. Minch and children, of Shiloh, N. J., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Prof. Davis, on South Main street.

Mr. Bert Eubb, of Glen Rock, was in town last week with a bunch of fine mules that were being trained to skating over the slippery roads.

A Sleighing Party.

Wednesday evening a company of young people left Westminster for a sleigh ride to Hampstead, where they received a welcome at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Ridgely, and spent a pleasant time. Games and music were indulged in. Refreshments, in the form of cakes, candies, fruits, lemonade and hot cocoa were served in abundance. Just before midnight the happy party bade their host and hostess good night and expressed their thanks for the kindness bestowed upon them. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Witte, Mrs. Chas. Reddinger, Misses Maria Ridgely, May Stoner, Grace Stonesifer, Ida and Gertrude Schaffer, Emma and Netta Hunter and Ada Leister, of Westminster and vicinity; Gertrude and Bessie Ridgely, Lola Leister, of Hampstead; Messrs. Jos. E. Hunter, Fred. Wm. Witte, James and Harry Stoner, H. Frank Witte, Louis E. Hull Charles Sies, Maurice Martin, of the vicinity of Westminster; Chas. Armacost and William A. Leister, near Hampstead.

Haines-Hollenbaugh.

One of the most beautiful and pleasing nuptial events of the season took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hollenbaugh, near Jordan's Retreat, Wednesday, December 14th, at 6.30 P. M., when their second daughter, Miss Lucinda V. Hollenbaugh, was married to Mr. Samuel D. Haines, Jr., of Westminster. Elder Wm. E. Roop, of Meadow Branch, performed the ceremony in a very impressive manner. The bride was very becomingly attired in white silk trimmed in silk mull and carried a white Bible which belonged to her great-grandmother. Her going away gown was of brown mohair. After the ceremony and congratulations a reception was held and a wedding luncheon served, consisting of all the delicacies of the season. The bride was the recipient of many useful and valuable presents. Only relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties were present as follows: Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hollenbaugh, Mrs. Margaret A. Reaver, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Haines, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. N. O. We wish Clayton J. Sauble and bride, nee Miss Houck, who were recently married, much happiness and prosperity.

John Geiman, Sr., slaughtered four porkers recently that weighed 260, 275, 292, 300 pounds, respectively, and a beef weighing 475 pounds.

Harry Leese, two hogs, weighing 300, 282 pounds respectively.

We are enjoying real winter weather with nearly a foot of snow on the level. The weather prophets who predicted a mild winter are all at present hiding themselves.

Recently a man representing the C. & P. Telephone Co. was in our town trying to place four telephones here. He came in to see your correspondent. We told him our business was mainly away from home, but if the telephone could carry packages, we could use it to advantage. He replied that the time would come when packages will be carried by phone, and, verily, we believe it, as nothing seems impossible in these days of wonders, such as mail shot from one city to another by means of pneumatic tubes and telegraphing without wires. So don't be surprised to see packages flying along the telephone wires.

[There seems to be no end to human credulity.—Ed.]

Mary Sellers of our town has a Christmas cactus that has 102 flowers on it.

Mr. Jeremiah Yingling slaughtered 3 porkers weighing 300, 289 and 270 pounds, respectively.

A Pleasant Event.

A delightful surprise party was given at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Mumford, in honor of their daughter, Miss Bertha, Tuesday evening of last week. The guests began to arrive about 7 o'clock, and in a short time the parlor was filled to overflowing with about 40 friends from Frizellburg, Westminster, Brummel and vicinity. The guests were cordially welcomed by the family and agreeably entertained. The evening was pleasantly spent in games and music and passed so rapidly the time for saying goodnight in reality came too soon. About 10 o'clock the guests were invited to the dining room where they found the table loaded with an abundance of all the delicacies of the season served in a most tempting manner. When the hour of departure arrived all expressed themselves as having spent a most pleasant evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Mumford, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H.
