Port Arthur Has Fallen.

THE VICTORIOUS JAPS IN POSSESSION.

General Stoessel at last Surrenders.

His Ammunition Was Exhausted, His Army Practically Destroyed and Further Resistance Futile.

The Capture of the Stronghold of Incalculable Advantage to the Japanese.

Gen. Nogi Had 100,000 Men, Who Are Now Released for Operations Against Kuropatkin.

The Japanese entered Port Arthur as victors on Tuesday. Negotiations for the surrender of the stronghold had been in progress for a couple of days and were finally concluded on that day. Gen. Stoessel, with his ammunition exhausted, the strongest of his defences taken and his brave soldiers utterly worn out by disease, hunger and almost unintermitting conflict, was finally driven to request terms of capitulation. To his request Gen. Nogi offered the following, which were accepted:

"Article 1. All Russian soldiers, marines, volunteers, also Government officials at the garrison and harbor of Port Arthur are taken prisoners.

"Article 2. All forts, batteries, warships, other ships and boats, arms, ammunition, horses, all materials for hostile use, Government buildings and all objects belonging to the Russian Government shall be transferred to the Japanese army in their existing condition.

"Article 3. On the preceding two conditions being assented to, as a guarantee for the fulfillment thereof, the men garrisoning the forts and the batteries on Este Mountain, Sungshu Mountain, Antse Mountain and the line of eminences southeast therefrom shall be removed by noon of January 4 and the same shall be transferred to the Japanese army.

"Article 4. Should Russian military or naval men be deemed to have destroyed objects named in Article 2 or to have caused alteration in any way in their condition at the existing time the signing of this compact and the negotiations shall be annulled and the Japanese shall take free action.

"Article 5. The Russian military and naval authorities shall prepare and transfer to the Japanese army a table showing the fortifications of Port Arthur and their respective positions and maps showing the location of mines, underground and submarine, and all other dangerous objects; also a table showing the composition and system of the army and navy services at Port Arthur; a list of army and navy officers, with names, rank and duties of said officers; a list of army steamers, warships and other ships, with the numbers of their respective countries; a list of civilians, showing the number of men and women, their race and occupations.

"Article 6. Arms, including those carried on the person; ammunition, war materials, Government buildings, objects owned by the Government, horses, warships and other ships, including their contents, except private property, shall be left in their present positions, and the commissioners of the Russian and Japanese armies shall decide upon the method of their transference.

"Article 7. The Japanese army, considering the gallant resistance offered by the Russian army, as being honorable, will permit the officers of the Russian army and navy, as well as civil officials belonging thereto, to carry swords and take with them private property directly necessary for the maintenance of life. The previous mentioned officers, officials and volunteers who will sign a written parole, pledging that they will not take up arms and in no wise take action contrary to the interests of the Japanese army until the close of the war, will receive the consent of the Japanese army to return to their country. Each army and navy officer will be allowed one servant, and such servant will be specially released on signing the parole.

"Article 8. Non-commissioned officers and privates of both army and navy and volunteers shall wear their uniform and, taking portable tents and necessary private property and commanded by their respective officers, shall assemble at such places as may be indicated by the Japanese army. The Japanese commissioners will indicate the necessary details therefor.

"Article 9. The sanitary corps and the accountants belonging to the Russian army and navy shall be retained by the Japanese while their services are deemed necessary for caring for sick and wounded prisoners. During such time such corps shall be required to render service under the direction of the sanitary corps and accountants of the Japanese army.

"Article 10. The treatment to be accorded to the residents, the transfer of books and documents relating to municipal administration and finance, and also details necessary for the enforcement of this compact shall be embodied in a supplementary compact. The supplementary compact shall have the same force as this compact.

"Article 11. One copy each of this compact shall be prepared for the Japanese and Russian armies, and it shall have immediate effect upon signature thereof."

These terms indicate that while the Russian officers may be released on parole the rank and file will be taken to Japan as prisoners of war. They number about 20,000, but nearly all are on the sick list. When the siege began Gen. Stoessel had 35,000 men. Of these 15,000 have been killed or died of disease and few of the remainder have escaped wounds. Many of them have been wounded repeatedly and after a season in hospital have returned to duty. It is estimated that, in this way, the casualties have been 265 per cent. of the whole force, or about 92,750 during the siege.

On both sides the courage, endurance and grim determination have never been excelled in the annals of war. The Japanese losses have been enormous and probably greater in proportion than those suffered by the Russians. Human language can only faintly depict the carnage, horror and suffering which has attended the siege on both sides.

The fall of Port Arthur immensely strengthens the hand of Japan. In the actual conduct of the war Port Arthur has been a stumbling block to that country, which for six months has had engaged there more than 100,000 troops and practically the entire navy. This fact compelled Field Marshal Oyama to fight the battle of Lioyang short-handed. Now the entire navy is free to prepare to meet the Russian second Pacific squadron and to attend to the Vladivostok squadron. A heavy force of troops will be immediately available for service in Manchuria, and this possibly will allow the undertaking of other independent enterprises.

A dog that belonged to Christian Gephart, of Bonneauville, Pa., went mad last Friday and ran a muck from that place to Gettysburg and thence to Bendersville and Paradise Schoolhouse, near Arendtsville, biting many dogs on the way. At Gettysburg L. B. Lau was badly bitten in the hand and went at once to the Pasteur Institute in Baltimore for treatment. George A. Taylor, at Gettysburg, was also attacked and his hand seized by the rabid animal, but he fortunately had on a thick glove and the skin was not broken. The dangerous brute was killed at Paradise Schoolhouse.

LAST WEEK OF "THE SHEPHERD KING."

The return engagement of Wright Lorimer's big Biblical spectacle drama, "The Shepherd King," to the Academy of Music, Baltimore, has been somewhat like the homecoming of the Prodigal Son, so hearty has been its welcome.

The theatre parties that come from various points in the State of Maryland and from the southern part of Pennsylvania have apparently been very well pleased and have gone home feeling that the pleasure given them by the play was entirely commensurate with their expended money and energy.

LECTURE.—Miss Tingling, of England, will lecture at Finksburg M. P. Church next Sunday, Jan. 8th, at 7.30 p. m., under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. Miss Tingling is an excellent speaker. All are cordially invited to hear her.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

NO. 4193 EQUITY.

In the Circuit Court for Carroll County, in Equity.

Jacob D. Starner, Plaintiff, vs. Amelia Starner, Defendant.

The object of this suit is to procure a divorce a Vinculo Matrimonii, by the plaintiff from the defendant.

The Bill states that the plaintiff now resides in Carroll county, Maryland, and that he and defendant were married on the 21st day of January, 1894, in Carroll county, Maryland; that though the conduct of the plaintiff to the defendant has always been kind, faithful and above reproach, the said defendant has without just cause or reason abandoned him, and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than 3 years and is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that said parties have no children; that the defendant is a resident of the State of Pennsylvania.

It is thereupon, this 30th day of December, 1904, ordered by the Circuit Court for Carroll County, in Equity, that the plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Carroll county, once in each of four successive weeks before the 30th day of January, 19 5, giving notice to the said defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, warning her to appear in this court in person or by solicitor on or before the 30th day of February next, to show cause if any she has why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.
