AFTER ALL.

Grief is strong, but joy is stronger;
Night is long, but day is longer;
When life's riddle solves and clears,
And the angels in our ears
Whisper the sweet answer low—
Answer full of love and blessing—
How the wonderment will grow
At the blindness of our guessing.
All the hard things we recall
Made so easy—after all!

Earth is sweet, but heaven is sweeter;
Love complete, but faith completer;
Close beside our wandering ways,
Through dark nights and weary ways,
Stand the angels with bright eyes;
And the shadow of the cross
Falls upon and sanctifies
All our pain and all our loss;
Though we stumble, though we fall,
God is helping—after all.

Sigh then, soul, but sing in sighing,
To the happier things replying;
Dry the tears that dim thy seeing,
Give glad thoughts for life and being;
Time is but the little entry
To eternity's large dwelling,
And the heavenly guards keep sentry,
Urging, guiding, half-compelling,
Till the puzzling way quite past,
Thou shall enter in at last.

—Susan Coolidge.

WANTED—BOYS.

Boys wanted at once of any age or breed, to fill important positions. They must have clean hearts, clean habits and a clean face. They need not know how to roll cigaretts, and if not up to date on the smutty jokes of the pool room their ignorance will be overlooked. They must be boys who get up cheerfully in the morning and build the fires, and can lay down a book occasionally to do an errand; who treat mother and sister with respect, and who do not refer to father as the "old man."

"It is not absolutely essential that they be brilliant at school, but they must be studious and ever preserving, never cheating. Their employer's interests must be made their interest. They must never be afraid of earning more that the wages they receive.

Merchants want them to sweep out the store for a few years and ultimately to take charge of it; newspapers want them to commence with the crowd at the bottom and work to the roomy places at the top. In fact they are wanted everywhere—in the law room, in the counting room to run great public works. The public wants them for judges in the courts, for senators and presidents, and the nicest girls in all the world want them for their husbands.

The Presidential Election.

On Monday, January 9th, the election of President and Vice-President of the United States took place. The people spoke at the polls in November, but they elected only the members of the Electoral College in the various States. These now have come together, and effected the legal election. A word about the origin and early history of the Electoral College is here in place. The framers of the Constitution in 1787 debated long as to how to elect a President. Some preferred that he be chosen by Congress, others by the State Legislature, but there was serious objection to either plan, in the fear that the President would become only a creature of the bodies that elected him rather than the Chief Magistrate of the whole people. An election by a general vote of the people was not discussed in the convention because it was not believed that the people were sufficiently intelligent to choose wisely. At length they decided on the Electoral College. This feature was borrowed from the Constitution of Maryland. It was first intended that the members of the college use their discretion in electing a President and Vice-President. But as the people grew more intelligent and divided into political parties, the electors came to be representatives of a party rather than free agents. They still have a legal, but not a moral, right to vote for any man in the United States who is eligible to the Presidency, even though his name had never been mentioned in the campaign.

Prophetic Signs on Winter.

It is an interesting and curious fact, when you come to gather and systematize all the evidences of natural object on the hardness and mildness of the coming winter, that after the whole testimony is weighed you know less than you did before. Perhaps this may be a sign that we are not intended to know in advance how any given winter is to turn out. That is a matter of opinion; but the fact is indisputable. Here are the weather-wise down in the Cape May country who have obtained from muskrats' and squirrels' nests, from ells, from white gulls, crabs, ducks and fish the evidence that this is to be an unusually mild and open winter. But, on the other hand, the goosebone prophet of Connecticut has been studying muskrats, hickory shells and a whole lot of other things, and found that the winter is going to be a stinger. So far the majority is in favor of the mild winter, which may lead the obstinate weather to give us a choice assortment of blizzards.—"Pittsburg Dispatch."

Dangers From Diptheria.

It is always a safe rule to have a child medically examined when the throat shows any white spots, and when diptheria is known to be prevalent every child who is not feeling well should be seen to at once. If this rule were acted on much remorse would be avoided, and fewer deaths from diphtheria would have to be recorded.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of [signature] The Kind You Have Always Bought

There is a difference between a forehanded man and a four handed one. The latter is a monkey.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision for over 30 years. Allow no one to deceive you in this. Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments, and endanger the health of Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

Ventilation.

Housekeepers are, as a rule, much more sensible in regard to fresh night air than they used to be. Especially is it necessary in winter to air out the house as often as possible. There is always more or less gas in the air of furnace-heated rooms, as well as in those heated by stoves. People who live in overheated houses in winter are much more liable to pneumonia and severe colds than those who endure rather chilly rooms where the air is pure. Every room in the house should be thoroughly aired at least once every day and then heated up again and protected from draughts. So many people shiver and shake when the living-room windows are thrown wide open for a few moments. They seem to dread pure, cold air. A robust person ought not to feel in this way, and he who has this innate dread cannot be in the best of health.

The Kitchen Sink.

Whether a kitchen sink be iron, enamel or stone, it should stand on four legs with all its drainpipes exposed to full view. A very clever physician once said: "If I am called in to a case of diphtheria the first thing I look at is the kitchen sink." The danger arising from a badly kept sink cannot be exaggerated, nor can any decree of care in avoiding them be considered extreme. The waste pipe from a kitchen sink should have boiling water and amonia or washing soda poured down it each day. At least once a week it should be treated to a dose of some good disinfectant, such as chloride of lime. This old standby is very inexpensive and quite as good as many of the modern high-priced articles. Put a large teacupful of chloride of lime into two quarts of hot water.

Novel Matchmaking.

In some parts of Siam a girl who reaches a certain age without marrying is labeled and placed in a privileged class under the special care of the King, who binds himself to find a husband for them all. His method is delightfully simple. A prisoner in any one of the Siamese jails may gain his pardon and release by marrying one of the ineligible class. Whether he is already married or not is of no great consequence, for in Siam a man is not retricted to one wife.

Living Pensioners.

Five pensioners are on the roll on account of the Revolution, 1,116 on account of the War of 1812, 4,734 on account of the Indian wars and 13,874 on account of the Mexican War. The great bulk of the roll is as follows: Civil War, invalids, 703,456; widows, 248,390; Spanish War, invalids, 9,200; widows, 3,662; regular establishment, invalids, 9,170; widows, 2,938.

The First Hard Coal Deal.

When the first two tons of coal were taken into Philadelphia, in 1803, the good people of that city, so the records state tried to burn the stuff, but at length, disgusted, they broke it up and made a walk of it. Fourteen years later Col. George Shoemaker sold eight or ten wagon loads of it in the same city, but warrants were soon issued for his arrest for taking money under false pretenses.

National Airs.

The national airs of great countries are short, while those of little countries are long. "God Save the King" is 14 bars, the Russian hymn is 16 bars and "Hail, Columbia!" has 28 bars. Siam's national hymn has 76 bars, and that of Uruguay 70. Chili has 46, and so on. San Marino has the longest national hymn, except that of China.

"What do you think, Mr. Dinsmore?" said Miss Frocks. "I lost my fine new umbrella today, and it had my name on it, too."

"Then you'll have to get another, of course," replied Mr. Dinsmore.

"Another umbrella?"

"No; another name."

"Oh, Mr. Dinsmore, this is so sudden! Still, you may ask papa."

Eucaine, the new local anesthetic, is adapted for many operations where chloroform cannot be used on account of heart weakness. It is injected under the skin at the point of incision. Cutting may begin in a few moments without pain, and more of the drug is dropped in at intervals of a few minutes as new portions of tissue are exposed. A recent successful operation in London was continued an hour and a half.

What is said to be one of the largest clocks in the world has been placed in a new tower at Elizabeth, N. J. It is 38 feet in diameter, with 18-foot hands. The tower, which is 300 feet high, was built expressly for the clock, which will be illuminated at night, and will be visible for many miles around.

Mr. Spoonamore—Does your papa object to my coming to see you, Castella?

Miss De Train—Oh! no; but he was so dreadeadfully careless as to tell mamma he approved of your coming, and now, of course, she thinks it's a conspiracy.

Aunt Hannah—"Have you told any one of your engagement to Mr. Sweetser?"

Edith—"No I haven't told a soul, except Bessie Miller, who thought he was going to ask her."

Mike—"Are you much hurted? Do ye want a doctor?"

Pat—"A doctor! After bein' run over by a trolley car? What I want is a lawyer."

A modest man may run away when some one starts to praise his work, but he doesn't break any world's records in doing so.
