ANNOUNCEMENT.

Mrs. Emily J. Rippard, whose name appears at the head of this column as the Proprietress of the AMERICAN SENTINEL, died at her late residence in this city, this morning, at 4.25 o'clock.

Realizing that the best tribute we can pay to her memory is our devotion to the paper in which she has been interested for so many years, it is our duty to announce to the readers and patrons of the SENTINEL that there will be no break in its publication or in the other work of the office. Mr. John H. Mitten, who has for many years been the Manager of the office, is also half owner of the newspaper and plant, and the business of the office will be continued without interruption.

CHRISTIAN SYMPATHY FOR JAPAN---WHY?

It seems anomalous that the sympathy of two great Christian nations—the United States and England—is so generally accorded to the heathen power engaged in a life and death struggle with a nominally Christian people, as is the case in the existing war between Russia and Japan, and it is natural to seek the cause of this condition. To the superficial observer its seems enough to attribute it to the fact that the prevalent war has the appearance of a struggle between a pigmy and a giant and the disposition of mankind to favor the numerically weaker of the combatants. Their admiration for the unsurpassed courage and the marvellous fighting qualities displayed by the Japs has intensified the sympathy at first excited by the apparent inequality of the combatants.

Another factor in provoking a sentiment favorable to Japan has been the opinion that with her the war was begun as the only means of maintaining her national existence. Russia's seizure of Manchuria would, it was not doubted, have been followed by the occupation of Corea and finally by the attempted subjugation of Japan, which would naturally have followed the other achievements referred to. Whether that was really Russia's purpose cannot now be absolutely averred, but the Japanese had just reason, considering the previous encroachments of the great power, to apprehend such a result. Japan, under that apprehension at least, instead of waiting until bound hand and foot and unable to repel such an attempt, consecrated all her resources to the supreme effort of driving her wily enemy from the vantage ground possessed by her seizure of Manchuria and occupation of the well nigh impregnable seaport of Port Arthur.

These considerations are, in themselves sufficient to justify Christian sympathy for the heathen people engaged in this mighty struggle, because according to human judgment, justice is on their side. But there are other elements which far outweigh all these, in the minds of many christian people, in determining the direction in which judgment and sympathy are in full accord in this case. The Russian government, the head of the Greek Church and nominally christian, has not exemplified, to any considerable extent, the principles of true christian religion in dealing with its own people. Absolute in form and autocratic in fact, the government has steadily repressed the aspirations of its subjects for a reasonable measure of personal liberty. Oppressive and tyrannical, it has punished, with more than heathen savagery, such of its subjects as have sought relief, by any means, from the intolerable tyranny under which they have labored. The command of the Divine Master, "As ye would that men should do to you, do you even so to them," has been utterly ignored by the governing power of Russia and the Russian masses have had no rights which the government has respected. They have been kept in dense ignorance because in that condition only could the vast population of the country be held in subjection to the will of one man and suffer, without rebelling, the deprivation of all the natural rights of man. Such punishments as have been meted out to liberty-loving Russians who, without trial, have been condemned and sent to the mines of Siberia to languish and die, are abhorrent to every sentiment of the christian religion. The stories of suffering, by these banished ones, as told by George Kenan, could not fail to arouse the righteous indignation of every christian, nor to beget a desire that the authors of so much misery might themselves be made to suffer bitterly for their barbarity.

Japan's success, in the present struggle, holds out the prospect of punishment for the tyrants who have deprived the Russian people of their natural rights and have visited so much suffering and sorrow upon those who have sought relief from the tyranny. It seems right from this standpoint, therefore, that the sympathies of the christian world should be with the heathen in the conflict.

It may be that the Ruler of nations, who, before the Christian Era, subjected His own people to necessary discipline at the hands of the heathen nations round about them, may be using Japan to bring Russia into submission to His will and to enforce the rights and liberties of the Russian people. There is, at least, a prospect that such a result may follow the war and, if it shall be so, sympathy for Japan will be more than justified for that reason alone.

TWENTY-FIVE COWS BURNED TO DEATH.

The barn of Henry Brown, on the Reisterstown road, near the Old Liberty road, was destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock Monday night, together with 25 cows, two tons of hay and one ton of millfeed. The barn was a wooden structure, located on the Rogers estate and was owned by Frederick W. Feldner, of Baltimore. Mr. Brown is in the dairy business, and he and his family were asleep when the fire broke out. The firemen prevented the flames from spreading to the house, which is about 150 yards away from where the barn stood. The cows were valued at $1.500, and were insured for $800. The barn was valued at about $400. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin, as a number of tramps had been seen in the neighborhood recently.

SMALLPOX SCARE IN GETTYSBURG.

There is smallpox in Gettysburg, Pa. The first case reported was that of Miss Frances McClean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arch. McClean, who is suffering with a light attack of varioloid. Mr. McClean's residence adjoins the "Compiler" office, and Judge McClean's law offices are in the same building. Judge McClean, the residence and "The Compiler" have been quarantined. The paper will be printed during the six weeks of quarantine at the "Star and Sentinel" office, whose force will make up the paper, no one from the "Compiler" helping with the work, except the editor, who will communicate his editorials by telephone.

On Monday two cases were reported from Gettysburg College. As soon as it became known and before the grounds could be quarantined, many of the students fled from the building. Some hired conveyances and drove away, others walked the streets all night. Some secured lodgings in the town, hoping to get away on the early train next morning. A number of them took the train for Harrisburg, but at that city were not permitted to leave the cars, and being sent back to Gettysburg, were fumigated and returned to the College. A cordon of policemen surrounds the grounds, and a rigid quarantine is being enforced.

All the citizens of the community are advised that there is no cause for great alarm, but all are urged to be vaccinated at once.

[Since the above was put in type, it has been reported that the State Health Inspector has visited Gettysburg and pronounced the cases diagnosed as cases of small pox, merely chicken pox.]

MACHEN OFF TO PRISON.

Washington, Feb. 7.—August W. Machen, the former head of the free-delivery system of the Postoffice Department and the foremost figure among the officials, politicians and contractors indicted as a result of the postal investigation, and Diller B. Groff and Samuel A. Groff, both of this city, convicted in connection with the promotion of a letter-box fastener scheme, left Washington with a party of 11 other convicts for the Moundsville (W. Va.) Penitentiary shortly after 6 o'clock tonight, to serve a sentence of two years' imprisonment.

The three prisoners who had been surrendered to the United States Marshall early in the day, spent part of the afternoon in the jail here, and were taken from there to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad Depot in a carriage, accompanied by a guard. The men were placed in a special car, which was attached to the regular night train for the West. All three were handcuffed. Machen occupied a seat in the car alone, while the Groff brothers were linked together by their handcuffs. There were four guards, one remaining all the time at each end of the car. The three postal prisoners had a corner of the car to themselves. None of Machen's relatives were at the depot to see him off, but a large number of friends greeted him, shook his hands and in several cases pledged their readiness to supply him money if he needed it.

A STATEMENT BY MACHEN.

Machen in an interview just before he left said:

"I have made a good fight and was courageous to the last. I am now facing the inevitable and will take the consequences with bravery, fortitude and philosophy. I expect to be in Moundsville for 20 months, reducing the two years' sentence to this time by good behavior. I have no intention at this time of asking for a pardon. I wish to thank all my friends who have stood by me and believe in me in this trouble. I am innocent; my friends know that I am innocent, and time will show that the man who put me here will have to answer for what he has done. I wish to add that there is not a word of truth in the statement that I made an effort to get a Pullman car to go in or to take my relatives with me on this trip. If there was anything done it was only to obtain for me and for the Groffs the same privileges as were accorded J. M. A. Watson, and evidently these similar privileges were refused."

Watson, who is now serving a term at the Moundsville Penitentiary for embezzlement, having been taken there last Saturday, went there in a Pullman car, having paid his own expenses and those of his guard.

SAYS HE HAS LITTLE LEFT.

Machen said that he had spent practically all of his money in his defense; that he never had owned any real estate in his own name, and therefore had none to transfer. He said that to liquidate the fine of $10,000, which he also was sentenced to pay, he would take the oath of insolvency and spend one more month in the penitentiary. He said that his money was so much exhausted that his brothers and brothers-in-law would have to take care of his family, and that the latter would go to Westminster, Md., next summer. Machen added he expected he would be assigned to clerical work in the penitentiary.

KILLED IN POLAND.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, Feb. 7.—According to a report from Radom 20 workmen were killed or wounded in strike disorders there today, while at Skarzysko 24 men were killed and 40 wounded.

Grave trouble is also reported at Kutno today. Troops have been sent to Kutno from here.

Several men were killed here today by strikers in bakeries and elsewhere where attempts were made to resume work. Many arrests have been made.

The prices of provisions have gone up. The peasants are afraid to bring in their produce.

There was another terrific explosion Wednesday morning at the Rockdale Powder Mills, in the Sixth district of Baltimore county, near Hoffmanville, and the following workmen were injured: Moses Wineholt, aged 50 years and married; hair and face burned. Allan Krebs, aged 24 years, frightfully burned, clothing was consumed; is in a dying condition. Lloyd Kidd, aged 25 years, face and body horribly burned. His injuries are considered to be serious.

The murder of Mr. Albert Constable, the Cecil county lawyer who was shot and fatally wounded by a highwayman on Gray's Hill, near his home, in Elkton, Md., on August 18 last, has finally been solved. John M. Simpers, the convict in the Maryland Penitentiary, made a complete confession to Warden John F. Weyler, at the Penitentiary on Monday night.

Letter to Westminster Gas Co.

WESTMINSTER, MD.

Dear Sirs: We manage to get some fun out of paint. J. H. Kohlmeyer, Grove City, Pa. put-in Devoe. Along came a salesman of somebody else's paint before ours had got there. Salesman said ours was short-measure. Kohlmeyer weakened hung fire and flopped; stopped ours and took his.

It was our turn now. We emptied our can into his and his into ours. The short-measure was his, not our; and we kept our man.

And ever since then, that paint manufacturer gives full-measure; his paint is not pure, but his gallon contains four quarts.

Go by the name; and the name to go by is Devoe lead-and-zinc.

Yours truly

Manchester Items.

With mercury hugging zero and now and then stealing 4° and 6° below, and a snow fall every few days, sleighing is at a premium, and all travel and hauling is on runners, while the heaviest wraps are necessary. Coal bins and wood piles are depleted to the dissatisfaction of consumers. Yet amid it all Young America is having a harvest of sledding.

Rev. C. M. Eyster, of Baltimore, assisted at the funeral of Mrs. Jacob Blocher, last Thursday.

There was another explosion in the Gunpowder powder Mills at Hoffmansville, on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Moses Winehold had one of his arms badly hurt, and another fellow workman was badly bruised and shaken up. This is the fourth explosion in the powder and dynamite mills at this place, owned by the York improvement company.

Mrs. Davis H. Hoffacker had an attack of blood rushing to the head, and was quite indisposed for some days but at this writing is convalesing, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. D. Hanson.

Miss Lizzie Gettier is ill at her home on North Main street from vertigo.

Mr. Luther H. Hoffacker of Hanover, spent Wednesday of last week with friends here.

We are still sleighing.

Mrs. Johnzie Easton has been very poorly the past week with bronchial pneumonia.

Mr. Edward Stem took a sled load of young folks, from the town, last Wednesday morning, to the home of Mr. George DeVries, near Eldersburg, where they met another sled load from New Windsor and Dennings. Quite a pleasant evening was spent.

The lecture given at the hall last Friday evening, by Mr. Arthur Zile, proved to be quite a success, and in spite of the extreme cold weather, a large audience was present. Mr. Zile advertised a lecture at New Windsor Hall for last Wednesday evening, but the weather was so disagreeable he was compelled to postpone it until Saturday evening Feb. 18th.

We wish to rectify a little mistake made by the printer in our last weeks items, in regard to the meeting of the literary society. As stated in the paper there was but one side to the question debated. The question as debated was: Resolved, that Electricity is more useful than Steam. Affirmative speakers, Prof. Flack, of the Academy and Mr. Ermand Shoemaker. Negative speakers Rev. Mr. Jarboe and Mr. Arthur M. Zile. The decision was given 3 to 0 in favor of the negative:—(steam.)

The house of Mr. Ernest Clarey, the miller near our town, came very near being burned to the ground Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Clarey was in Frederick and there was no one about the house except Mrs. Clary and her three little children, when the fire broke out. It caught between the walls at the chimney, and had evidently been burning for some time when discovered. One of the children discovered it and ran across the field to the house of a neighbor, Mr. Oliver T. Buckman, to get some help to extinguish the flames. When Mr. Buckman arrived at the scene, the blaze was spreading very rapidly but, by prompt use of axe and water it was soon under control. Very little damage is reported to have been done.

Bachman's Valley Items.

One of the most enjoyable birthday surprise parties was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Denton S. Warehime, on Friday evening last, in honor of Miss Emma Ebaugh. The evening was spent in vocal and instrumental music and games of various kinds. At about 1 o'clock, all were invited to the dining room, where they found a table loaded with a fine collection of cake, candies, nuts, lemonade, etc., to which all did ample justice. After the refreshments were served, the guests again resumed playing games until a late hour, when they bade all good night and wishing Miss Ebaugh many more such enjoyable events. A large number of guests were present.
