n.d. James Chesson

SIDE ONE

Dear Brother

Bucey having come too at the Point gives me an Opportunity of writing to You ~~again~~ by him which I did not expect when he gave me a Receipt for the things — Yours of the Yesterday I receive d, As Also One for Mr. Ja.s Brooks which I have put on board the Liverpoolman —

I have Sold 1000 Buckels more of the Salt @ 2/ & shall discharge it on Monday, No Offer for the Rum — I have bought a Spy Glass for Doc.r Murray, but some busey Man in Other broke one of the Glasses the Man is now rectifying it & will Send it by the Next Opportunity — The Contents of the Small Box directed for Mrs. Chesson, is for the Girls, tell Jenny he is not forgot — I shall intend ed answering Mrs. Chessons Letter, but I know she will excuse me When I inform You that I have not been in Bed this Two Nights, Poor Mr. Shubey having been taken dangerously Ill the Evening of the day You left us — last night I expected would be his last — I am now

James Chesson
Tobyhanna