THE OLD TIMES.

The old times were the best times; they say
the new are bright,
But the old have more of loveliness—the old
have more of light.
The hills of God seemed closer, and the sun
there, in the skies,
Seemed to shed a greater glory on the old-time,
dreaming eyes!
Do you think that we are truer than our fathers were of old?
That the rainbows in the tempest have more of grace and gold?
Oh, the old friends—they were wiser, though the new friends would condemn,
For angels, on the heights of God—they lit the way for them!
The old times were the best times; the old songs are the best—
The dear—the tender melodies that rocked the world to rest!
Let the critics, cold and cruel, strike the stars
from heaven again—
To the sweet voice of old mothers all the world will say "Amen."

Newspapers Versus Handbills.

Some business men have an idea that handbills and dodgers are superior to newspapers as advertising mediums. Handbills are good in their way as auxiliaries, but they are no more to be compared to the advertising columns of a newspaper, says the Dansville Advertiser, than a pushcart peddler on Broadway is to be compard with John Wanamaker's great emporium. The peddler attracts attention for a moment if he be an expert, but the great store rivets the eye and loosens the purse strings of those whose trade is worth having. The handbill is crumpled in the hand and soon thrown aside. The newspaper is carried home, read and reread and filed away. There is something besides the advertisement there—entertainment, information—which adds value to the advertising beside which it is placed. Advertisements are read now more than ever before, sometimes before what is commonly known as news, for advertisements are sometimes the latest and most vital news, vital to everyday life. The headlines of an ad. can be made as attractive as the headlines of a wedding and the bargains offered as alluring as the wedding feast. The business man who talks to the readers of a newspaper as he talks to the customer in his store is the one who wins. Use handbills and posters if you wish, but place your great hope for returns in the columns of the favorite newspaper.

Harvest Months of the World.

Excepting the months of November and December, harvest is always going on in some part of the globe. In January the reapers are busy in most of Chile, Argentina, Australia and New Zealand. Harvest is in full swing throughout the East Indies in February and March. April sees the fields of Mexico, Egypt, Persia and Syria being cut. The merry month of May is thus used in Morocco and Texas. California, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Sicily, Greece and part of Southern France reap in June. The greater part of the United States and France Australia and Southern Russia are stripped in July. August is the harvest month in England, Germany, Holland, Belgium, Denmark, the northeastern States of America and a part of Russia and Canada. Scotland, Sweden, Norway, the northern midlands of Russia and the greater portion of Canada are glad to shear in September. And October beholds the reapers in the most northerly districts of Russia, Norway and Sweeden gathering with endless trouble their scanty crops.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

Either people are thinking about getting married or wondering why they did.

Anyway, a farmer doesn't have to subscribe to leagues to reform something.

A bachelor may not save any money, but he has a thundering lot more to spend.

A man can write more letters to a girl he is engaged to than he can after he has married her.

Every woman would like to be rich so her friends would would peep from behind the curtains at her in her carriage to see if she was coming to call when she wasn't.

An awful good sermon to preach is generally a very poor one to listen to.

When a woman has a good figure it is a sign she knows people talk about it.

Either a girl is always thinking of some matinee she is going to or some man she would like to flirt with.

A man has an awful lot of money when his relatives are afraid to to borrow of him for fear he will cut them off in his will.

Conundrums.

If a colored waiter carrying a platter with a turkey on it should fall, what would be the effect on the world? The downfall of Turkey, the overthrow of Greece, the destruction of China and the consternation of Africa.

How far is it from February to April? A March of thirty-one days.

You can hang me on the wall, but if you take me down you can't hang me up again. Wall paper.

Why is a lamp like a house? Because it has a chimney.

Name me and you break me. Silence.

Willie—"Pa, what do those ladies mean when they talk about 'woman's sphere'?"

Pa—"Their idea of woman's sphere, my son, is the earth. They think it belongs to them."

Improvident people are often up in the clouds looking for some of those silver linings.

The Kind You Have Always Bought has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision for over 30 years. Allow no one to deceive you in this. Beef Tea.

This story was told by an old physician who had practiced for nearly fifty years in a small country town. One day he was summoned to a farmhouse where he found a woman in a high fever and evidently exceedingly ill. He said to her husband who was the only other person in the house:

"Your wife is very sick and must have nothing to eat except milk and beef tea, but I want you to give her a cup of one or the other every two hours." When he came next morning and asked about his patient her husband said:

"That beef tea don't agree with her, doctor; it certainly don't. She began to feel bad as soon as she took it."

"That's odd," said the doctor. "You didn't give her any little bits of the meat in it, did you?"

"No, sir; I strained it first on account of the grounds."

"Grounds!" roared the doctor. "What did you make that beef tea out of?"

"Corn beef and the best green tea. I boiled 'em together all yesterday afternoon to get the strength out. But it don't agree with her, doctor; it certainly don't."

Unfailing Weather Signs.

When you see a man going home at two o'clock in the morning and knows his wife is waiting for him, it is likely to be stormy.

When a man receives a bill for goods his wife bought unknown to him, look out for "thunder and lightning."

When a man goes home and finds no supper ready, the fire gone out, and his wife visiting, it is likely to be "cloudy."

When a man promises to take his wife to a party and changes his mind after she has dressed, you may expect a "shower."

When a man saves his cigar money to purchase his wife a new hat and the children new shoes, it indicates a period of "sunshine."

When a man dies and leaves a nice young widow with plenty of money, and you see her walking out with one of the executors on Sunday, a "change" is imminent.

Your Watch Is a Compass.

"Most men who own a good watch," said a jeweler, think they know all about it. They have the number fixed in their memory in case it is stolen. They could probably pick it out from fifty other watches with their eyes shut. But how many men know that their watch is a compass and will tell north from south as accurately as it will tell the time of day? Stanley the explorer, did not know it until he had groped his way through the dark continent and met a Belgian sailor on the coast. Every watch is a compass. If you point the hour hand to the sun, the south is exactly half way between the hour and the figure XII on the dial. Suppose, for instance, it is 4 o'clock. Point the hand indicating 4 to the sun and II on the watch is exactly south. If it is 8 o'clock, point the hand indicating 8 to the sun and the figure X on the dial is due south. No man need get lost if he carries a watch."

A new butter is now being made from the milk of the cocoanut. This milk when subjected to a temperature of over 28 C. runs into a yellow oil, which is imported in great quantities from India and Africa. The better qualities of it are obtained from Ceylon, Cochin China and Australia. The nut produces 60 per cent of oil, and one acre of land planted with cocoanut trees would produce over 400 pounds of oil. This has hitherto been used for fats for soap or for machinery oil and the better qualities employed in the manufacture of textile goods. In France this oil is now subjected to a special treatment and converted into butter.

Irving Grinnell, treasurer of the Church Temperance Society of New York, was talking about the difference between High and Low church among Episcopalians.

"I heard two boys talking on the street the other day," he said. "The first said in a boasting way:

"'Our church is awful high. We have matins.'

"'That's nothin,' said the other boy. 'We have carpets.'"

"Pa, what is a hero?" "A man who is going to be subjected to a lot of shabby treatment as soon as he gets through being heroic."

Miss Snowflake—"What did Jim Jackson get married for?" Miss Washtub—"Goodness only knows; he keeps right on workin'!"

The man who does the little things well is always ready to do the big things better.

"Keeping at it" is a mighty good substitution for real genius.

Why Not Cure Your Cough or Cold?

WESTMINSTER, April 10th, 1890.

MR. JOS. B. BOYLE:

Dear Sir:—For many years I have suffered intensely, on taking cold, from a very trouble some cough, for which I have used a number of various remedies, and obtained but TEMPORARY RELIEF. During the past Spring I was again troubled with the same cough, and through a friend was induced to try YOUR Pectoral Syrup, which not only gave almost INSTANT RELIEF, but a PERMANENT CURE. It gives me great pleasure to say that I believe it to be the best remedy I ever used for the purpose for which it is recommended. Hoping that any person afflicted as I was may be fortunate enough to give it a trial, I am, Truly yours,
