1773-1774 Potomac Chesapeake

SIDE TWO

of Sick Servants — —

Mr Lynch objects to the whole Bill and to £12. 6 ag.t the Brig Friends Ship Capt. Jones — We think Mr Caud ought to be paid it — because (altho' the Property was lost) Mr Caud has no Right to any disbursements made by him after, yet as he carried the Bill to Mr Hall ~~properly~~ signed by the Capt. and Mr. Hall ~~desired to~~ ~~tell him~~ that he might as well settle that with his other Matters, with Mr. Lynch himself — ~~it~~ appears to us ~~he~~ ~~that~~ entitled to it, as if Mr. Hall had objected to it ~~he~~ totally for the above Reason, before the Sailing of the Vessel Mr. Caud might have made the Captain have paid it — —

Mr. Lynch objects to the commission on the sale of the Brig Prince of Wales — we think Mr. Caud entitled to it a Commission of 2½ ℘C. —

Mr Lynch objects to the Charge to Christopher Lines £25. 3. 11 because he Assumed to pay it only when ~~a~~ house he bought of Lines was finished

Mr Lynch objects to the charge of Spences to Patowmack ~~to~~ because he conceives Mr Caud sent down to secure his own Money — We are of opinion Mr Caud is Entitled to it, because it appears to us, Mr Lynch considered the ~~Money~~ Money due on the Holden Notes which he indorsed to Mr Caud as ~~a~~ ~~order~~ under his instruction direction because he desires Mr. Caud not to call on him before Tobacco arrives by going down to Patowmack ~~to~~ to receive and tho' Mr Caud did not comply with that desire, owing as he says to his having heard that his first desire Holden Did not intend sending any Fish to Baltimore & therefore was afraid nothing towards payment of the Notes would be got — Yet Mr. Lynch in his Letter of June 26.t 1774 seems to approve of Mr. Cauds Conduct in that particular & thanks him for endeavouring to extricate him from his engagements with Holden

Mr Lynch objects — The List of outstanding Debts for Servants by the Prince of Wales is not satisfactory because not accompanied with the Bonds & Notes — We think ~~if~~ Mr Caud delivers them when Mr. Lynch ~~settles~~ pays Mr Caud the ballance that may appear due on their private Accts and makes good what he does not produce securities for — it ~~will~~ ought to be satisfactory — —

Mr Lynch objects to the charge £2.1.10 being for Sundries taken up by Capt. Jones of the Brig Friendship & Capt. Fossey of the Betsey — We think Mr Caud ought not to be allowed as the Accts are not signed by the Captains
