Miss Sallie Longwell's Will.

The will of Miss Sallie Longwell, of this city, who died several weeks ago, was filed in the Orphans' Court of this county, for probate, on Monday. It is an interesting document. The disposition made by Miss Longwell of her large estate was, as the will relates, as nearly as possible according to the wishes and instructions of her father, the late Col. John K. Longwell, who died about eight years ago. The estate devised is valued at from $75,000 to $90,000, the personality being fully $50,000, besides the large and valuable real property, in and adjacent to this city, owned by the deceased. The will was something of a surprise, there being no private bequests whatever, the entire estate going to churches, church boards and other institutions. It was written by the late Joseph M. Parke and was executed January 18, 1897. It constitutes Dr. Joshua W. Hering sole executor, and was witnessed by Messrs. Hugo E. Fiddis, now deceased, and Charles E. Hering. The bequests are as follows:

The trustees of Piney Creek Presbyterian Church, in Taneytown district, $2,000.

The trustees of Taneytown Presbyterian Church, $2,000.

Western Maryland College, Westminster, $5,000.

Vestry of Ascension Protestant Episcopal Church, Westminster, $2,000, to be applied under control and direction of the rector.

Maryland Bible Society, Baltimore, $5,000 for general purposes.

The Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, $5,000.

The Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, $5,000.

The Maryland Tract Society, of Baltimore city, Md., $5,000.

These bequests are all unconditional. The remainder of the estate is then disposed of as follows:

To the Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Maryland and his successors, the mansion house and improvements of the testatrix in Westminster, with 15 acres of land surrounding the same, and a legacy of $10,000, upon the proviso that said diocese or church will within a year from date of probate of the bequest by the executor of the will accept said devise and bequest, take possession of said property and proceed to establish thereon and permanently maintain an institution designed for benevolent, charitable or educational purposes only, to be effectively conducted under the auspices of said diocese. If this devise be accepted upon the conditions stated, then all the rest and residue of the testatrix's estate other than that otherwise devised by the will shall also go to the Bishop of the Diocese of Maryland, to be used in the most effective manner for the benefit and support of said institution.

But if the devise be not accepted by the Protestant Episcopal Church, then the said mansion house, land, money and the rest and residue of the estate remaining after the payment of the other legacies is to go to the Presbytery of Baltimore, Md., a body corporate, for the same purposes and upon the same conditions set forth in the aforegoing paragraph.

If neither of the devisees accepts this bequest, it is to become void, and the executor is to sell said mansion house and other improvements and land and out of the proceeds (and of the rest and residue of the estate if necessary) a legacy of $5,000 is to be paid to the Church Home and Infirmary of the City of Baltimore, "to endow a bed according to the custom of that institution." Then the residue of the estate is bequeathed to the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America in equal shares.

Should either of the devisees of the mansion house, etc., accept that bequest and thereafter fail to maintain effectively a benevolent, charitable or educational institution thereon, convert the property to other uses or abandon it, then it (with the legacy of $10,000 and the residue of the estate) are to go to the bodies named in the preceding paragraph.

Mr. H. Pritchard, of Washington, D. C., who had been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, near the Union Bethel, Church of God, took his departure for his home on Monday last. Mr Pritchard said when leaving for his home that this was the best place he had ever visited. The good country dinners and the sparkling glass of cool milk from the spring house did him more good than the celebrated doctors of Washington could have done.

Mrs. J. Sweetman and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lambert, of Washington, D. C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Arthur Smith, near Church of God.

Mr. T. Arthur Smith and wife, in company with Mr. Philip Arth, of Washington, D. C., went to Pen-Mar last Wednesday to enjoy an outing at the Pen-Mar Hotel.
