Election TUESDAY, November 7th.

Give Gorman the window and he will do the rest.

The adoption of the Poe amendment would debase the elective franchise. Don't vote for it.

Was the kind of a government we had in Maryland prior to 1895 a kind to be longed for?

Nothing debauches the manhood of a commonwealth so thoroughly as a crooked election law.

The greatest criminal of the age is the man who robs his fellow man of self government.

Mr. Gorman asks you to vote for the Poe amendment thereby giving him your proxy. Will you do it!

Self government is a blessing not to be carelessly dispensed with. Why hand it over to the Gorman voting trust?

Why did the Gorman ring refuse to adopt the educational test proposed by Governor Warfield and Attorney General Bryan?

Do you think you will be satisfied to let your vote be cast by a voting trust composed of Gorman, Vandiver, Baughman et al.?

The defeat of the Poe amendment will not be a Republican victory—it will be the triumph of Democracy and Republicanism over Autocracy.

What would Jefferson have said of the Poe plan of government of the few, by the few, for the few? Do you consider its provisions Democratic doctrine?

Mr. Edgar H. Gans, the distinguished Democratic lawyer, says that 64,000 white men will be affected by the examination in Constitutional law provided for by the Poe amendment.

Do you realize that partizan election officials can allow a man to vote because he is able to answer such questions as "How many governors can we have at one time," while you can be disfranchised because you may not be able to properly explain what an "ex post facto law" is?

The campaign committee of the Democratic Anti-Poe Amendment Association of Baltimore has published a list of 161 names of well known and prominent Democratic lawyers who are opposed to the amendment. The committee says a thorough canvass has not been made and that there are many other Democratic lawyers who will not support it.

Hardly anybody of Standing outside of the Gorman ring and those who depend upon it for subsistence has the face to defend the Poe amendment. For a time the ring managers paid the daily papers to publish anonymous letters written by some one who signed himself "Tocsin." Now, however, even "Tocsin" has been laughed out of camp.

Year by year the Gorman ring becomes more and more a close corporation. Death, desertion and the sort of fratricide that ended the political life of Spencer Jones have thinned the ranks of the "Old Guard." To turn the proxies of the voters of Maryland over to the holding company proposed by the Poe amendment would be more dangerous now than it would have been ten years ago, because all of the powers of the Oligarchy would be vested in three or four instead of fifteen or twenty corrupt men.

The Democratic State convention met yesterday in Baltimore and renominated Dr. Gordon T. Atkinson for Comptroller of the Treasury. The convention was controlled entirely by the managers. Mr. Gorman was personally in evidence and did not leave the delegates in ignorance of his wishes. As a matter of course the Poe amendment was unanimously endorsed. Hon. Joshua W. Miles was temporary and Dr. J. W. Hering permanent chairman, and both made speeches in favor of the amendment.

The Prohibitionists of Frederick county nominated a full ticket for county officers and the House of Delegates on Saturday last. The Republicans, fearing that the nomination of this ticket would afford an opportunity for trick ballots, requested the Prohibitionists to refrain from making nominations, but the request was ignored. It is feared that the supervisors of election for the county will head the ballot with the Democratic nominations and follow them with the names of the Republicans and Prohibitionists in alphabetical order. A trick so palpably unfair and designed to promote fraudulent practices should arouse the open, active and effective opposition of every decent Democrat in Frederick county.

They Didn't Win.

From the Advocate.

The Democratic Campaign Committee appointed by Chairman Vandiver numbers nineteen. There was once a "Glorious Nineteen" in Maryland. Let us hope that we have another.

The "Glorious Nineteen" alluded to did not win by their obstructive tactics. In that case one of the body was found sufficiently partriotic to break the deadlock and permit the wheels of government to revolve. The new "Glorious Nineteen" will probably find their tactics nullified by an overwhelming avalanche of anti-amendment ballots.

Registration Tuesday, Oct. 3rd, from 8 A. M., to 7 P. M.

Don't Fail to Register.

The officers of registration will sit on Tuesday next, and on Tuesday, October 10th, in all the voting precincts of this county for the purpose of registering persons entitled to vote at the election in November. They will also give transfers to voters who have removed from one voting precinct to another or who may have gone to another county six months before the day of election. Voters should understand that the dates named are the only ones upon which they can register or obtain transfers. For safety's sake they should attend to this matter at the first sitting of the registrars, Tuesday next. Delay may deprive them of the privilege of voting.

Republicans are especially urged to give the matter their prompt attention. An important crisis is upon the people of the State. The Democratic managers are fighting desperately to procure the adoption of the Poe disfranchising amendment for the purpose of intrenching themselves in power indefinitely.

But thousands of Independent Democrats are coming to the aid of the Republicans in their efforts to defeat this iniquitous measure. No Republican should fail to respond to this offer of assistance by neglecting to have his name upon the list of registered voters. We earnestly urge every member of the party to prepare to cast his ballot against the amendment and for the nominees of the party in the county at the election. To do that, get registered, if not already on the lists. Don't forget the dates—October 3 and 10, from 8 A. M. till 7 P. M.

A BASELESS ASSUMPTION.

Democratic advocates of the Poe amendment appear to take pleasure in asserting, without reservation, that persons who oppose that measure are in favor of negro suffrage—meaning the universal enfranchisement of the negro race. This is purely a gratuitous assumption. It is probable that ninety per cent. of the thousands of Democrats who oppose the amendment favor such a change in the organic law as would really eliminate the ignorant and unworthy of the colored race from participation in the elective franchise. It is doubtful whether in the extreme South there is anybody opposed to the exercise of this franchise by the reputable, intelligent and well to do colored people of that section. Their opposition is against ignorant negro political domination in the South, of which there is not the least possible danger in Maryland. But even in the South they haven't resorted to a measure so utterly objectionable as the Poe amendment to obtain that result. They are satisfied with the grandfather clause and a clearcut educational qualification, without setting up an ignorant registrars' court to pass upon the constitutional knowledge of applicants for registration. And this is the attitude, generally, of the Democrats who oppose the Poe amendment in this State. There are, no doubt, Democrats who regard this whole effort to restrict the suffrage as undemocratic and utterly at variance with the principles laid down by Jefferson, and the conclusion at which these Democrats have arrived is logical and reasonable; but it is a misrepresentation to class many other anti-Poe amendment Democrats as universal negro suffragists because they cannot give their consent to the outrageous provisions of the measure which the ring is endeavoring to fasten upon the necks of the people of Maryland.

Such taunts as are being flung at Democrats who oppose the amendment are, doubtless, annoying, but as their purpose is purely to drive the thin-skinned to espouse a vicious cause, they should be treated with the contempt, by Democrats and Republicans alike, which they so richly merit. Appeals to passion and race prejudice constitute the stock in trade of most of the pro-amendment newspapers and they cannot be cajoled or driven into a discussion of the real merits of the question. No matter how often their sophistries and fallacies are exposed they are repeated again and again, without real answer to the indictments which expose them. The reason of this is plain. If they were to undertake to argue, or discuss the question upon its real merits, the intelligent among their readers would be apt to discover the weak spots in their arguments and to realize the atrocious character of the measure they are being cajoled to support. Assumptions, and baseless and unfounded assumptions at that, best suit the purposes of these advocates of the monstrous proposition embodied in the Poe amendment. Let nobody be deceived by them.

Can These Be Reconciled?

From the Advocate, August 12.

The proposed amendment, adding requirements to qualifications of voters, is the important question of the campaign. The additions will not affect the voting privilege of white men, but adds an educational qualification for negroes.

From the Advocate, September 23.

The news does not believe in an educational qualification, or professes not to. It says if the purpose is to get rid of the negro vote, go at it straight. Well that is the purpose. And now let it tell its readers how it can be done. Let it frame and publish an amendment that would accomplish that purpose and not conflict with the Federal Constitution and not disfranchise white men.

The Advocate seems to be floundering in a quagmire. It has more than once assured its readers that the pending amendment would not disfranchise white men. Now it wants to know how an amendment can disfranchise the negro and not white men without conflicting with the Constitution of the United States. How can it reconcile these opposing views of the situation? It admits that the purpose is to get rid of the negro, assures its readers that the additions to the qualifications of voters will not effect the voting privilege of white men, yet questions how that can be done without causing a conflict between the state and national constitutions.

Conventions for the nomination of legislative candidates were held by the Republicans of Baltimore in all four of the districts on Wednesday night. Harmony prevailed and there were no contests except in the nomination of a candidate for the House of Delegates from the Twenty-first ward, Fourth district.

Registration Tuesday, Oct. 3rd, from 8 A. M., to 7 P. M.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

The Republican State Convention will reassemble next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Germania Maennerchor Hall, Lombard street, between Eutaw and Paca streets, Baltimore. This was decided upon yesterday at a meeting held at state headquarters by the Republican advisory committee. There was a large attendance of the committee, and Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte was present to confer with the members. The Secretary talked over plans for the campaign and then issued a formal call for the convention, which will be in the nature of a mass and ratification meeting.

The convention, in addition to other work, will take up the nomination for state comptroller. Several names have been mentioned, but those most discussed for the nomination are Mr. Calton L. Britz, of Cumberland, and former State Senator Henry M. McCullough, of Cecil county.

AGAINST THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION.

It seems to be dawning upon the comprehension of the Democratic managers in this State that there is such a thing as a constitution of the United States, and that one of its provisions is that "the right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude." Thus far they have pushed the Poe amendment upon the theory that its effect would be to eliminate the colored voter as a factor in elections and deprive him of the right of suffrage without disfranchising white voters. Just how that was to be accomplished has not been explained, as the amendment does not specifically designate the negro as its objective. In the absence of such an explanation it is generally understood that the registrars of voters, if the amendment shall be adopted, are expected to discriminate against the negro and in favor of the white man.

The purpose of the sponsors of the amendment, however, whatever may be the method adopted to carry that purpose into effect, is to make it applicable to the black man alone. That is obvious and has been so from the inception of the movement to disfranchise the negro up to the present time. That being the case it is apparent that the measure, if adopted, will be totally at variance with the Federal Constitution. Strange to say, however, the amendment's backers have treated this featue of the situation with indifference, if not contempt, having apparently been satisfied that federal interference with their schemes was not to be apprehended. It cannot be said that they have thus far openly acknowledged any fear upon that score, but the assurance which marked their declarations that white men would not be affected by the amendment seems lacking in their later utterances. Doubtless the purpose remains to make the negro the only victim of the measure, but there is danger that the whole scheme will be wrecked on the rock of the Federal Constitution if that view of it be too strongly urged.

That danger will exist, however, no matter what the supporters of the amendment may now say of it. Such measures must be interpreted according to the meaning given them by their framers and supporters. Courts seek to ascertain the meaning of laws by the circumstances surrounding their enactment. Why may not the Congress of the United States interpret the Poe amendment as it was understood by its framers and as its purpose has been openly declared by its supporters. In the light of that understanding and of all the circumstances surrounding its inception, enactment by the legislature and its support by the Democratic managers as a measure designed to disfranchise negroes only, it is, undoubtedly, in flagrant opposition to the Federal Constitution. If adopted Congress will, as the SENTINEL has heretofore remarked, be fully justified in taking a hand in the business.
