Seventeen cages were knocked off before the train could be stopped. In some of these cages were lions and tigers, but the latter did not escape. Employees of the circus spent Wednesday scouring the mountains in the vicinity of Pen-Mar, but up to Wednesday evening had not been able to find any trace of the deer or kangaroo.

The Manchester Gas Project.

The Baltimore American has the following account of the project, several times referred to in our Manchester correspondence, designed to provide gas lighting and heating in that place:

"Mr. G. Howard Stirling of Baltimore has organized a company to furnish the village of Manchester, in Carroll county, with gas. The new corporation is known as the Manchester Lighting and Heating Company, and the incorporators are chiefly Carroll county people, including Drs. J. H. Sherman, J. H. Preston, J. F. B. Weaver and L. Trump, and Messrs. A. H. Geiselman, Arch Buchman, C. J. H. Ganter, George A. Crouse and J. H. Cunningham. The new Company will have a capital stock of $25,000, and will install an acetylene plant.

"Speaking of the plans of the Company, Mr. Stirling said: 'Under our system it will be possible to give a village of 700 people like Manchester the same illumination from gas, and at no greater cost, than what the city of Baltimore, with 600,000 people, receives. In this feature of acetylene lighting that is causing its rapid extension to small communities, and I look for a number of other places to follow the enterprising example of Manchester.'"

John Knox vs. Mary Stewart.

Large and interested audiences attended the entertainment given by Mrs. H. E. Monroe, under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E., of the M. P. Church, assisted by many of the representative young people of this city, at Odd Fellows' Hall, on Monday and Tuesday evenings. It was largely spectacular and the several characters of the story were ably personated by the performers. The central figures were, of course, John Knox and Mary, Queen of Scotts, as the story enacted was intended to represent the Scottish Reformation which occurred under the stern Presbyterian leader and divine. Knox was personated by Mr. John Edwards and the queen by Miss LaRue Herr, and the characters were well and forcibly enacted by this gentleman and lady. Mrs. Della Mayers told the story of the queen's life in part first of the entertainment, illustrating it with sixteen stereopticon pictures. Part second and third gave the story of John Knox and the queen, illustrated with twenty-eight pictures. The court of the queen was represented by part three and the queen on her way to execution by part four. Part three was illustrated by twenty-one pictures and part four by nine pictures.

The spectacular features of the entertainment were remarkably well rendered. The allegorical processions with which it opened and closed were complex and difficult but were marked by precision and accuracy of movement on the part of the performers.

The vocal solos by Mr. Walter M. Graham, Mrs. B. F. Crouse and Miss Ada Schaeffer were sung beautifully, and it is not too much to say, that the entire performance was highly creditable to all concerned.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Funeral at 11 o'clock, Tuesday, conducted at Ladiesburg chapel by Rev. R. S. Poffenberger, of Woodsboro. Interment in Haugh's Lutheran cemetery. Miss Viola O. Whitmore.

Miss Viola O. Whitmore, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel D. Whitmore, of this city, died at the home of her parents, on Pennsylvania avenue, on Monday night, after a brief illness of blood-poisoning, which developed from an ordinary fever blister on her lip. The disease was maligant and made rapid progress, despite the earnest efforts of her physicians to arrest it. Miss Whitmore was a prominent and efficient teacher and had been engaged in that profession in the public schools of this county for five or six years. She attended the recent sessions of the Teachers' Institute in this city and on Monday of last week took charge of the Mt. Union school in Middleburg district, but was only able to continue in charge for a day or two. She was a graduate of the State Normal School, was well trained and equipped for the arduous and responsible duties of a teacher, and enjoyed the confidence and respect of the school authorities of the county as well as of the patrons and pupils of her school. She was about twenty-six years old. Much sympathy is felt for the family so sadly bereaved by her death.

The funeral took place from the residence of the deceased's parents at 10 o'clock, yesterday morning, and was largely attended by sympathizing friends. Rev. C. S. Slagle, of St. Paul's Reformed Church, of which Miss Whitmore was a member, conducted the service. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The remains were interred in Westminster cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Ralph J. Royer, John D. Bowers, J. Walter Grumbine, George Fisher, Denton Gehr and J. Thomas Anders.

Eastview Items.

The new school house at Eastview, School District No. 15, E. Dist. No. 4, is completed and was opened to receive pupils on Tuesday morning. There are about 20 pupils in attendance, and the school is being taught by Mr. J. Wm. Sellers, one of Carroll county's most efficient teachers. The school bids fair to be a very promising one before mid-winter. The ground for the school buildings, containing about one-half acre, was donated by Mr. Nelson Yingling, and not by Mr. Winfield Caple, as was stated on a former occasion, as Mr. Caple withdrew his proposition. The building of the school house was placed under the supervision of Messrs. Emory C. Zepp and Nelson Yingling as a committee to contract for and have the same erected as early as possible. The work progressed very rapidly, and much credit is due Messrs. Zepp and Yingling for their careful management in building same, securing material and for the time of work given by themselves and patrons of the school. The committee is trying to secure a nice bell for the house, without any extra charge to the county, if possible, and would appreciate any contributions from the patrons and friends towards purchasing and erecting the bell at once.

The people of Eastview and vicinity wish to extend their sincere thanks to the members of the Board of School Commissioners for Carroll county, for their kindness in granting the building of the school house this year, as it has been needed very badly for several years, and the patrons were put to a great deal of inconvenience in former years to keep their children in school regularly in bad weather, on account of the distance to other schools. Now this difficulty has been remedied by patience and as the old adage goes, all good things come to those who wait."

By the terms of a fund to be administered in connection with the Philadelphia School for Nurses, Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia, a number of young women from every county will receive free training in Nursing. It is planned to ultimately reach and help in this way every village and township.

The young women will be provided with room, board, nurse uniforms and all the refinements of a well-appointed Christian home. At graduation the diploma of the School and the Order of the Red Cross will be conferred, qualifying for practice in any State or country; the railroad fare will then be paid back home.

Those applying and chosen to receive the benefits of this fund will be given two years' training, with a rich experience in nursing the sick poor of the city under skilled leaders. The term may be shortened to eighteen months by taking a preliminary course of six months' reading and study at home. A special short course enables young women to quickly qualify themselves for self support and a substantial income.

In addition to regular nursing, the young women are taught how to preserve their own health; how to recognize, avoid and destroy the contagion; how to establish and maintain perfect sanitary conditions about the home; they are prepared for positions as office nurse and physician's assistant; they get a practical knowledge of City Mission movements, Deaconess training, College settlement work, and are trained for special positions of trust in institutions.

There are two sorts of paint; all paint, true paint, strong paint, full-measure; and part paint, false paint, weak paint, short-measure.

The paint-manufacturers are two sorts: Devoe and the rest.

Yours truly,

Governor Pennypacker reviewed the procession from a stand erected in front of the Elks' Home, on Baltimore street. The exercises at the unveiling began at 2 P. M., with an invocation by Rev. Dr. Charles M. Stock, of St. Mark's Lutheran Church. A trained choir of 200 voices, under the leadership of Prof. W. H. Newborough, of York, assisted by a band, sang "The Star Spangled Banner." Then the statue was unveiled by Miss Edna Florence Bittinger, daughter of ex-Assemblyman John R. Bittinger, who introduced the bill which secured the appropriation for the monument. As the veiling flags fell and disclosed the bronze figure of the alert cavalryman the thousands of persons burst into wild cheers. A salute of 21 guns was then fired. The presentation of the statue was made by Governor Pennypacker, chairman of the State Monument Commission.

Mr. Diffenbach Resigns.

From the Baltimore American, 23rd inst.

Mr. Ferd A. Diffenbach, who was for more than 19 years a deputy and assistant warden of the Maryland Penitentiary, is not associated with the institution any more. He was requested to hand in his resignation, according to Warden Weyler, who said he did not care to discuss the case.

When seen at his home, 318 East Lafayette avenue, last night, Mr. Diffenbach said:

"I had been connected with the Penitentiary for 19 years and always tried to do my duty. Last May I was appointed assistant warden. On August 1 Warden Weyler reduced me to the rank of deputy warden again.

"Ten days ago my mother, who is 83 years of age, was very ill and not expected to live. While in the Penitentiary I received word that my niece wanted to speak to me at the telephone.

"Thinking that mother was dying, I left the room, telling the foreman I was going, and went down a flight of steps to answer the telephone. I violated the rules, but did it inadvertently, being naturally much concerned about my mother. The Warden requested me to resign, and there was nothing to do but for me to comply with his request. I was under the impression of course that the Warden's action is subject to review by the Board of Directors of the Penitentiary, but as yet I have had no opportunity to appear before them."

Manila Storm Swept.

Manila, P. I., September 27.—The most destructive typhoon that has visited this city since 1882 burst upon it today. Hundreds of stone and wooden buildings, including two churches and a hotel, were unroofed.

The native districts were half swept away. Trees were uprooted everywhere and dozens of vehicles were upset.

Thousands of electric wires were blown down, filling the streets with flames until the current was shut off.

Traffic and business have been suspended and the streets are deserted. The trolley lines suffered much damage and the town is in darkness tonight.

The police stations are feeding and sheltering 5,000 homeless persons, and the churches 3,000 more.

It is believed that the shipping in the bay had warning of the appearance of the storm, though they have been invisible on account of the rain and have not communicated with the shore.

The police are doing noble work. Live wires killed five Filipinos, including two policemen. Two hundred Filipinos were injured. Tonight the typhoon came to an end. Gangs of men are engaged in clearing the streets.

Albert M. Mercer is on trial for perjury in the Circuit Court for Frederick county. He and his brothers, Wm. C. and Grayson H. Mercer, were indicted for swearing falsely that they had found no will of their father, who died January 10, leaving an estate valued at $40,000. The oath was administered by a deputy register of wills in the presence of the register. The brothers subsequently admitted that they had found and burned a will made by their father in 1895. The Circuit Court subsequently decided that the oath was not legally administered, but the Court of Appeals has reversed the decision.

Miss Mamie Bassler, aged 16 years, was accidentally shot and killed, at her home near Cockeysville, Baltimore county, on Wednesday, by Mrs. Howard Baublitz, of Baltimore. Mrs. Baublitz was handling a shotgun which it was supposed was not loaded. The supposition, however, was erroneous and the gun was discharged, the entire load of shot penetrating the side of the unfortunate girl and causing her death in a short time.

C. H. Wade, brakeman on the Western Maryland Railroad, was struck on the head by a switch bar, at Edgemont, Sunday night, and seriously injured. He was taken to a hospital in Baltimore for treatment.

Snow to the depth of six inches covered the summit of Mount Washington, N. H., on Monday, and lay on the ground to a lesser depth as far down as the Half-Way House. The thermometer registered 26 degrees.

"THE TRUTH TELLERS."

"The Truth Tellers," a new comedy by Martha Morton, will be the attraction at the Academy of Music, Baltimore, all of next week, under the management of Fred. G. Berger. This new comedy offers exceptional merit, because of the fact that it depends almost entirely upon five children to sustain the interest. It is well described as a play for children and grown up children, for while the five youngsters are very amusing, there is also a strong dramatic play which will appeal to older heads. The play has been given an elaborate mounting, and Mr Berger has engaged a strong company of 34 people.

We ought not to weep for mother dear,
You know how she did suffer here.
You know that she endured much pain,
And that our loss is her great gain.

Tis true she left us here to mourn,
And never shall to us return,
But if we are faithfull to the end,
The God of love will be our friend.
