SIDE ONE

Dear Nancy

It is with pleasure I inclose you Mr Christmas Lett that will inform you of his safe arrival in England,

I received yours this day without date, am very glad to find your Sister is better and all your family well,

On Wednesday last Col Sam Clem's house was burnt he was carryd out with the gout on him, this accident happened several days before it reached me nor do I yet know the particulars, the best information I have is that the fire took the roofe by the Chimneys burning and that almost every thing in the house was saved. I have no reason to think what you conjecture of Nancy is so She has had better health lately than usual tho she had a feavour Sindays ago

I rait with a Ship here going to Nanes and have wrote by her to Mr Christon if she arrives safe I think he will get the Letter

I am sorry to hear of the ill health of [illegible] Tighman but hope Wm Tighman may [illegible] there is but little difference in Mr Will Rozzy [illegible] and mine I hope his Children will not be m[illegible] happy by his Marriage, and that he w[illegible] his happyness in it. I think I wrote to you or your Broth to know whether Pollys horses was well enough to go to Kennet Square with me if I came over but you say nothing about it I would bring my own

Mrs Christon
