SIDE TWO

have been, as it will afford the means of pay-ing my Debts laying in some Necessaries that I want for the Yard & have something before hand for the Carpenters — I am thus particular, as I know My Dear Wife will most cordially rejoice at any thing that gives Me Ease & Comfort, and I should be the Most ungrateful Being in the world, were I not likwise to feel in the most Sensible ~~that~~ Manner that, ~~that~~ it is Not in the least her fault that I do Not invariably enjoy them — —

Miss Delany was Married privately last Wed nesday to the Frenchman — It was kept from her Father until Saturday morning, when She her self told it to him — I have Not Seen the Old Gentleman yet, but I am told Dejection is painted on his Countenance — I shall wait on Them in the Morning — I pity him from my Soul — What She has Done, is with her Eyes open & then -fore if he Suffers, the Matter is Not so much — Every One is Open mouthed at it — I think I never Knew an Instance where So many Seemd to be so interested in a Matter, which did Not concern them in the least. It shews pretty strongly the esteem & respect In which Mr Delany is held —

Tomorrow afternoon or Next morning at farthest, I Expect to leave this — And if nothing extraordinary happens I shall certainly be over at Chester at the time we agreed upon before I left you — I was in hopes to have met with a letter from You here — I am anxious to hear at Little Tan. A Boat is expected Over, by which If She answers before I leave, I shall send the Oxen tho they are Not quite so plenty as they were — If no Opportunity I shall leave directions with my Brother at Them — Your Father I expect will leave home to day for Chester in the Schooner — All well at Tulip Hill Mrs John Thomas Better — God bless you my Dear Girl, My best Love to the Children & Affect. Compts to Polly & Mr Brother And For Yr Brothers Believe me to be Yr Ever Affect.
