The weather continued cool for a day or two, with frost in the mornings and then moderated, but became cool again, following the all-day rain of Wednesday.

All present were delighted with the performance.

Mr. Harry T. Petry, whose sad case has been frequently alluded to in the SENTINEL and other newspapers, has sent us a copy of his photograph recently taken by Mr. James D. Mitchell The picture shows him in a sitting posture in a large arm chair, with the stumps of his amputated legs visible. Mr. George N. Hunter, green grocer and provision dealer of this city, shipped two carloads of apples yesterday—one to Wheeling, W. Va., and the other to Nashville, Tenn. The quantity shipped was 1365 bushels.

Rev. J. U. Asper, a former pastor of Salem charge, Lutheran Church, and a resident of this city, but for the last fifteen years pastor of the Creagerstown charge, Frederick county, has resigned and accepted a call to a charge in Pennsylvania, to which he will remove November 1st.

Former City Councilman and Mrs. Wm. Bester, of Hagerstown, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Daisy Sophia Bester, to Dr. Herbert Lee Kneisley, of this city, which will take place at St. John's Lutheran Church, Hagerstown, on Wednesday evening, November 8, at 6.30 o'clock. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the bride's home.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather the Republican meeting on Wednesday night, at Odd Fellows' Hall, this city, was well attended. The editor of the SENTINEL presided and briefly stated his objections to the Poe amendment. Hon. Charles R. Schirm was the only other speaker. He spoke for more than an hour and held the attention of the audience by his forcible and logical arguments against the amendment.

The attempt to set aside the second will of Mrs. Mary Polk, in Part 2 of the Superior Court of Baltimore, resulted in a verdict for the defendants, thus sustaining the validity of the will. By this will, as heretofore stated in the SENTINEL, a large portion of Mrs. Polk's estate was bequeathed to her relatives in this county and it is estimated that in the aggregate they will receive $30,000 to $40,000. The Carroll county attorneys engaged in the case were named in the last edition of the SENTINEL.

While passing along South Center street, this city, towards his home, about ten o'clock, Wednesday night, Reed Walker, a young colored man, discovered a large bird entangled in the wire netting around the High School Building. He captured it and carried it to the home of his father, Mr. Reuben Walker, where it has been seen by a large number of persons. It is of a species unknown in this locality. Its size is between that of the Muscovy duck and the goose; its feet are webbed but its bill is crane-like in shape and size. Its breast is white and its back and wings mottled, white and black. It is evidently an aquatic fowl.

We are informed that the small bridges on the road between this city and New Windsor, with few, if any, exceptions, are in a dangerous condition; that the one at Wakefield is sunk down and broken through and those at the old Lowery place, the Fenby farm and near Stone's are about in the same state; in fact that all of them are badly in need of renewal or repairs. These small bridges are under the supervision of the road commissioners of Westminster and New Windsor districts, respectively, and any damage resulting from their condition will have to be paid for by the district in which it may occur. In as prosperous and wealthy a section as that through which the road on which these bridges are located it is surprising that they should be left to fall into this state. They should be promptly placed in proper condition before the winter sets in.

The Dog Show at Frederick.

The recent Frederick Dog Show was very successful in the way of the number of dogs shown and their quality. Dogs from the largest kennels in the East were shown and handled by professionals, making it a difficult proposition for the amateur to go against them and win. In English setters Nellie Tony won first, in novice bitch class; Westover Dick won second, in novice dog class, and Westover Buck won 2nd in novice pointer dog class and 3rd in open class. These dogs are owned and were handled by Mr. John L. Reifsnider, Jr., of this city, who also handled the pointer bitch John's Kate, owned by Mr. E. S. Fishback, Greenfield, Ohio, which in novice class was placed 2nd and in open class 3rd. The English Setter dog Coin Silver, owned by C. E. Hering, took 3rd in limit class, for dogs, winning over all dogs from this state shown in this class.

A Big Enterprise.

The October number of Fire Brick says: "The Savage Mountain Fire Brick Co., of Frostburg, Md., recently opened a new mine at the expense of about $10,000. The yard capacity of the plant has also been increased by one-third. This was rendered necessary by the quantity of orders received and the plant has been taxed to its utmost capacity for some time past. The company's brick for rolling mills have stood the best tests in the last forty-one years and have acquired a wide reputation throughout the country. The plant was established in 1864. Mr. Charles C. Gorsuch is the president of the company." Mr. Gorsuch as is well known is the head of the N. I. Gorsuch Son Company, of this city, and Mr. George W. Albaugh, also of this city, is a director in the Fire Brick Company.

CARROLL MILLS DESTROYED.

A Destructive Sunday Morning Fire.

Heroic Work of the Firemen.

The most destructive fire in the history of Westminster, except that of April, 1883, visited this city last Sunday morning and completely wrecked the large steam roller flouring mill of Roberts, Roop & Co., near the railroad station. The fire was discovered a few minutes before six and an alarm was sounded about two minures after that hour. By 7 o'clock nearly every particle of the valuable machinery in the mill was destroyed, while only the energetic efforts of the Westminster fire department saved a large amount of other property.

Adjoining the mill on one side is a large elevator, in which were about 12,000 bushels of wheat, and on another side a warehouse, in which were stored 1,500 barrels of flour, while nearby are the extensive cooper shops of the firm. All these were saved, though the heat from the burning mill was almost scorching at a distance of a hundred yards. The mill was a substantial brick structure, with a capacity of 250 barrels of flour per day.

The walls are still standing, but it is feared in such a damaged condition that it may be necessary to take them down and rebuild. In that case the loss is not less than $50,000, as the loss on machinery is fully $40,000.

The insurance on building and machinery is only $13,000—$5,000 in the Millers' Mutual Company, of Harrisburg, Pa.; $5,000 in the Ohio Millers' Mutual, of Canton, O., and $3,000 in the Mutual of Carroll County. Twenty men were thrown out of employment at the beginning of winter by the disaster, some of whom wept as they saw the mill going up in flame and smoke. It is estimated that if the walls have to be demolished it will be impossible to restore the mill and machinery before July, 1906.

In addition to the warehouses endangered by the fire, the large store and warehouse of the Merchants' Grocery Company, J. W. Lockard & Son's furniture house, the rectory of St. John's Catholic Church and several large stables were in peril. A brand from the mill fell on the rectory and started a blaze, but it was extinguished by some young men before much damage was done. Mayor O. D. Gilbert's stable was also on fire, but was only slightly damaged. Large flakes of fire were carried over the town to a distance of a quarter to a third of a mile. The firemen were highly complimented by Cardinal Gibbons, who spoke at the 10 o'clock service at St. John's Church, for their earnest and successful efforts in saving the property surrounding the mill.

It is believed that the fire was of incendiary origin, as work was suspended at 6 o'clock Saturday evening and the doors were securely locked before the men retired. Those who were first on the scene discovered the double door fronting the railroad wide open. Deputy State Fire Marshal McGill, who has visited the scene of the fire expresses the opinion that he is satisfied the fire was not of incendiary origin, and that it started in the engine or boiler room. The point at which it started, however, does not necessarily negative the presumption that it was caused by an incendiary.

Handsome Gift to St. John's Catholic Church of this City.

St. John's Catholic Church, of this city, has been made the recipient of a beautiful and interesting gift from members of a family closely connected with that church, but whose names have not been announced, even to members of the congregation, the donors being averse to publicity. The gift consists of fourteen groups of figures, representing fourteen stations on the journey of Jesus from Pilate's judgment hall to the cross and the sepulchre. Each of the groups is held in a large oaken frame of gothic design and beautifully carved. Jesus is, of course, the leading figure in each group. All the figures, which range from about one-eighth to one-sixth life size, are moulded into perfect representations of the human form and their meaning can be read by the most illiterate observer. The first group represents Christ in the presence of Pilate, who is washing his hands in a basin of water, as a token that he refuses to be held guilty of the death of the innocent victim of Jewish hate. Among the other groups Jesus appears bearing his cross and fainting under the burden, its transfer to the muscular shoulders of Simon the Cyrenian, the arrival on Calvary, Christ comforting his mother, nailing the Saviour of mankind to the cross, the cross lifted up and bearing the body of the Man of Sorrows, His dead body clasped in the arms of His mother after its removal from the cross, the act of His entombment in the sepulchre of Joseph of Arimathea, &c. The cost of the gift is not positively known, in a general sense, but it is rumored that it was not much less than $2,000. It adds greatly to the beauty of the church and it is of exceeding great interest to worshippers, the frames bearing the several groups being placed between the windows on each side of the auditorium and acros the wall at the church entrance. The Stations were blessed by Cardinal Gibbons on Sunday.

New Church to be Dedicated at Linwood.

The new Brethren Church at Linwood will be dedicated with appropriate services on Sunday, November 5th. An interesting program has been arranged for the whole day including meetings at 10.30 A. M., 2.30 P. M., and 7.30 P. M. Rev. J. N. Kneppley, of Myersdale, Pa., a very pleasing and attractive speaker, will preach the morning sermon following which the prayer of dedication will be offered by Rev. J. M. Tombaugh, of Hagerstown. A number of speakers are expected to take part in the afternoon service. Rev. W. D. Furry, of Johns Hopkins University of Baltimore; Dr. James Fraser, president of New Windsor College; Jesse P. Garner, of Linwood, and others will make short addresses. Rev. Furry, the new pastor of the congregation, will preach at the evening service at 7.30 o'clock. A choir under the direction of Mr. John A. Englar, with Mrs. Englar as organist, will sing at each service and solos and duets will also be rendered by various members of the choir. The Church building, which is of brick with brown stone trimmings and slate roof has been erected under the supervision of Messrs. Joseph Englar, Nathan Englar, and John C. Buckey, as a building committee. The mason work was done by Mr. John Stone, of Uniontown. About 100,000 Frederick brick and about 250 perches of stone were used in the construction of the building walls. Mr. J. B. Rakestraw, of Union Bridge, drew the plan for the building and has superintended every detail of its erection. The completion of the whole work is due to him and the good taste and judgment of the building committee. The entire cost of the furnished building, not including labor and material, which was donated, is a little more than $6,500. The church is built in the form of a cross and its extreme dimensions are 64 feet in length by 54 in width. It has an unusually beautiful and symmetrical square tower 65 feet high and built wholly outside the church to which it furnishes a commodious vestibule at the entrance. The building has a finished basement which is high and well lighted and is entered by a door on the east side of the church, as well as by a stairway from the main audience room above. The ceiling is of metal of an attractive pattern, finished in cream and blue and the side walls are painted to correspond. Mr. E. S. Bankard, of New Windsor, has lighted the building by acetyline gas and heated it by steam. The windows are imported burnt glass leaded together in beautiful patterns and add very much to the general attractiveness of the church. A baptistry is located directly under the pulpit and is so arranged that it can be entered by a short flight of steps leading from an ante-room at the side. The water used in the baptistry is warmed by passing through a heater located in the basement. Dressing rooms are fitted up in the basement also, where candidates for baptism robe themselves for the ceremony. The main audience room is tastefully furnished with circular pews in natural oak, with carved and pannel ends while the class rooms are seated with chairs. The pulpit furniture and communion table are in keeping with the furnishing of the room and the rest of the furniture. The church is supplied with a fine organ which occupies a recess at the west side of the pulpit, where a choir platform has been provided, seating 12 or 14 persons, and a fine bell weighing, with its fixtures, about 1700 pounds has been placed in the tower. The entrance at the door will be built with a concrete platform and steps in the spring, when the surroundings are thoroughly settled. The site of the church is an ideal one. It stands on the summit of a hill overlooking the village of Linwood and commands a view of the country for miles up and down the valley. Revival services will begin on Monday night, November 6th, immediately after the dedication and will continue each evening for two or three weeks. During these meetings Rev. Furry will be assisted by Rev. J. M. Tombaugh, of Hagerstown.

Convention of the Carroll County Epworth League Union.

This is the season in which the maple puts on her crimson cloak and the trees of the forest clothe themselves in green and gold, and the crisp autumnal air causes our blood to tingle; when all nature is praising God with myriad voices of sea and earth and sky, and such was the condition of things that helped the annual convention of the Carroll Co. Epworth League Union, which convened at Mt. Pleasant Church, Gamber, to be the grand success that it was.

The convention opened Saturday afternoon, 21st inst., at 3 o'clock, with a song service led by County President J. Belt Townshend, of Westminster, and was followed with prayer, after which the delegates present were assigned to homes prepared for them. At 7.30 Rev. G. C. Harris, of West Falls circuit, gave an interesting and helpful talk, after which the following business was transacted: Hearing reports from the different chapters represented, nomination and election of officers for the ensuing year, which resulted as follows: President, J. Belt Townshend, of Westminster; V. P., Robert E. Barnes, of Gamber; secretary, Harry Kimmey, of Westminster; treasurer, Mrs. Laura S. Sellman, of Westminster; Ex.-Com., Rev. M. Thomas, of Hampstead; Rev. G. C. Harris, of West Falls; B. F. Gorsuch, of Gamber.

Sunday, 9 A. M., Lovefeast, conducted by that grand old servant of God, Rev. G. W. Cecil, of Taylorsville. 10.30, preaching by Rev. Thomas. At 2 P. M. Mrs. S. K. Herr, of Westminster, talked to the children in her usual earnest, prayerful manner, which held them in rapt attention, their little faces aglow with earnestness, and admiration for that lady, who spoke to them on the subject of the "Five Little Foxes." Then followed a platform service on Christian influence which was ably and admirably discussed by Wilbur Buckingham, of Baltimore; Rev. Gill, of Carrollton, and Jesse P. Garner of Linwood. This ended the afternoon service. At 7.30 song service was led by Samuel Monroe, followed with preaching by Rev. G. W. Cecil. Especial mention is made of the sweet songs sung by Rev. Thomas, wife and son, which were edifying in the extreme; also many thanks are returned to the good choir and orchestra of Westminster, who at intervals during the day rendered some of their most excellent music. As all good things of this earth must have an end, so ended the convention, which, taken as a whole, was one "grand sweet song" and will linger in the memory of those whose good fortune it was to be present, for years to come.

CARD OF THANKS.

The undersigned, proprietors of The Carroll Flouring Mills, take pleasure in expressing their thanks to the citizens generally, and to the Westminster Fire Department particularly, for their efforts in endeavoring to lessen the loss recently sustained by this company in the loss of its Mill by fire. These efforts contributed in no immaterial degree to the lessening of the loss sustained, for without their assistance there is no question but that the Elevator and its contents, the Warehouse and contents equally valnable, as well as much other property would have been destroyed.

To the ladies, whose generous thoughtfulness contributed to the comfort of our firemen and others engaged in saving our property, our special thanks are also due.

With thanks again to each and all, we remain,
Very respectfully,
