A Simple Science Lesson.

Many boys and girls have wondered, no doubt, why a lightning rod is always pointed, instead of having a blunt end, and also why the point is made of metal that does not easily corrode.

The object of a lightning rod is to empty a cloud of its electricity noislessly and harmlessly, and it must be pointed because a point offers no resistance to the discharge. The degree of resistance is in proportion of the surface of the object, and a point has the least possible surface.

If the rod had a ball or a knob on the top, the discharge would be violent. The difference is shown in discharging a battery, says the New York Mail. You will be surprised to hear, perhaps, that the full charge from a large battery may be passed through your body if it be received through the point of a needle. The same charge, received through a ball-tipped discharger, would kill you instantly.

Besides a point attracts the lightning, and thus keeps it from striking other parts of the building. The point is made of metal that does not easily corrode because corrosion, or rust, increases the resistance, and a rusty point, therefore, might cause a violent and destructive discharge.

If you have a lightning rod on your house no doubt it has emptied many a cloud of its electricity without anybody's knowing anything about it.

Liquor License for Fake Medicines.

The commissioner of internal revenue has decided that the munufacturers of patent medicines composed largely of distilled liquors must, after December 1, 1905, take out license as rectifiers and liquor dealers, and that druggists and others handling the goods in question, must pay the license required by law of a retail liquor dealer.

In a letter of instruction just sent to internal revenue collectors, Commissioner Yerkes directs their attention to the existence of a large number of compounds on the market that sell as medicines, but are chiefly composed of distilled spirits, without the addition of drugs or medicines in sufficient quantities to materially change their character.

The question in each case, it is announced, will be determined by examination of the formula submitted by the manufacturers and of samples obtained in the open market.

The collectors have been directed to notify all druggists and merchants handling proprietary medicines in their districts of the new ruling.

Be proud of your Work.

The editor of the Earth wants farmers to hold up their heads in pride of their calling. He says:

Don't regret that you are a farmer and be proud of the land you own, no matter what size it may be. Make up your mind to raise that mortgage from the farm, to pay all the debts, and if you don't own a farm make up your mind to go to some region where you can have a piece of ground. There is nothing like farming, with the chance of your living like a gentleman and your wife like a lady. You do not know the hardships and suffering of people that live in the city. Clerks are losing their health poring over books, and are not getting anywhere near as much salary as you can make on the farm, even if you do sometimes want to go out and work by the day for the want of ready money. Do not be too much wedded to old ideas and localities, nor value against your own interests the ties of kindred and what you have always thought of generally as "home." A farmer's real home is never a rented one.

The Silo Is a Money Maker.

From the Agriculturist.

Silage is a success. I have kept it well even when the corn was badly frosted. It enables me to cut down my grain allowance and yet get more milk and keep up a more regular flow than on the old ration of hay, oats, wheat, bran and oil meal. I feed two candy pailfuls morning and evening with half a pound oil meal and two pounds bran. This latter, however, is varied to suit the cow.—J. G. Latimer, Westmoreland county, Pa.

Tight silos and good packing have always kept silage with me. I feed after milking about 15 pounds each time, with some grain upon the silage. Alfalfa is the dry feed. This method enables me to keep double the number of cows.—F. E. Dawley, Onondaga county, N. Y.

There are many recipes for protection against Ants that can scarcely be tried for this purpose, as many of those already in use are failures. It has been affirmed that recently hosts of these pests have been put to flight by placing in their haunts strips of paper dipped in peppermint oil.

Church Worker—"Would you assist us, good sir, to send a missionary to the cannibals?"

Mr. Gotrox—"Not much—I'm a vegetarian—but I'll assist you to send them some easily digested cereal!"—Exchange.

Husband.—"Do you really need a new hat?"

Wife—"I always need a new hat."

Husband—"Then what's the use of getting this one."

Patient—What do you think about my eye, doctor?

Doctor—Replacing the bandage—Oh, your eye will come out allright in a week or two.

"I once made $10 in Wall Street."

"You astonish me. How did it happen?"

"I found a job in an office down there, and it was several months before they discharged me."

My husband is very determined," said Mrs. Noowedd, proudly. He never gives up."

"Neither does mine," sighed Mrs. Klosefist, with a sad glance at her last year's gown.

Friend—I don't see how you can afford to sell automobi'es like that for $500.

Dealer—Oh, I make my profit on the repairs. That's the answer.

Bank cashier.—"You have overdrawn your account, Madam."

Lovely Lady.—"That is just like me! My husband says I am always exaggerating everything."

Never take a man seriously when he talks of the virtues of his three months old boy, or a woman when she describes the wedding.

"Well, my friends, I never pay my old debts. I forget them." "And your new ones?" "Oh, I let them get old."

A father in reproving his son, said sternly to him: "Did you ever see me doing such a thing as this when I was a boy?"

If there is some man you hate, begin to pray for him, and you will get ashamed of yourself, and try to help him.

Happy is the man who is admired and praised by his fellows, for he is dead.

"There goes a total failure." "How do yon know he is?" "He's always sneering at other men's success."

If you can't be rich, you can become better off by being contented.

Why Not Cure Your Cough or Cold?

WESTMINSTER, April 10th, 1890.
MR. JOS. B. BOYLE:
Dear Sir:—For many years I have suffered intensely, on taking cold, from a very troublesome cough, for which I have used a number of various remedies, and obtained but TEMPORARY RELIEF. During the past Spring I was again troubled with the same cough, and through a friend was induced to try YOUR Pectoral Syrup, which not only gave almost INSTANT RELIEF, but a PERMANENT CURE. It gives me great pleasure to say that I believe it to be the best remedy I ever used for the purpose for which it is recommended. Hoping that any person afflicted as I was may be fortunate enough to give it a trial, I am, Truly yours,
EDWARD LYNCH.

Every such male citizen of the United States having the above-prescribed qualifications of age and residence shall be entitled to be registered so as to become a qualified voter if he be—

First—A person able to read any section of the Constitution of this State submitted to him by the officers of registration and to give a reasonable explanation of the same; or if unable to read such section is able to understand and give a reasonable explanation thereof when read to him by the registration officers; or
