J. Rippard.

Severe November Weather.

A cold wave, coming from nobody knows where, dropped down upon the Atlantic States on Monday night and brought to this locality a minimum temperature, it is said, of 17°, on Tuesday morning. During the whole of Tuesday the mercury remained below the freezing point in the shade and by Wednesday morning ice an inch thick, or more, had been formed.

This was the coldest weather for several years recorded here up to the 14th of November. In 1903 the record on the 14th of the month was 36° and the lowest previous to that date, on the 6th to the 9th, inclusive, 24°. On the 20th, that year, the mercury recorded a minimum of 17° and on the 21st 16°. From the 26th to the 30th the minimum ranged from 14° to 16°.

Last year the minimum on the 14th of the month was 31°. The mercury was down to 25° on the 12th, the lowest previous to the 14th. The lowest temperature during the month was on the 20th, when the minimum record was 21°.

The sudden drop in temperature on Monday night caught numbers of people unprepared for it and frozen water pipes resulted as a consequence, something which had rarely if ever before occurred here so early in the season.

Taneytown Lodge K. of P.

The activity manifested in Knights of Pythias circles here for the past two months reached the climax on Tuesday evening when forty-five new members were initiated in Taneytown Lodge No. 36. The initiation was conducted by the degree team from Calanthe Lodge No. 133 of Union Bridge, who did the work in an excellent manner, in both the first and third degrees, which were given.

Grand Chancellor Reno S. Harp was present and congratulated the Lodge on its success in getting so large a class of candidates.

There were a number of visitors present from Pleasant Valley Lodge No. 132, Charity Lodge No. 58, of Westminster, Calanthe No. 133, and from Mountain City No. 29, of Frederick.

After the close of the lodge the Knights, with their ladies, repaired to the Opera House where a banquet was served. Over two hundred persons were present. During the banquet music was furnished by the Orchestra of Calanthe Lodge, with Miss Bessie Reindollar at the piano. Miss Josephine Reindollar sang a solo.

Grand Chancellor Harp made an address in which he referred to the growth of the order and invited all to attend the Pythian Jubilee to be held in Baltimore, December 7th. In the wee small hours the assembly dispersed, all feeling that Taneytown Lodge is booming.

We are watching with deep interest the change which is soon to take place in our imperfect R. F. D. system. If it will deprive us of our 9 A. M. mail, as we learn it will do, it will take from us what the old star route system always gave us. We always have had an early outgoing mail, and a return mail at noon, and if R. F. D. cannot give that much to us let it be superseded by the old system.

Shipley Items.

[illegible] tion of Washington Camp No. 15, P. O. S. of A., of Winfield, and a small delegation of Camp No. 20 of the same order, of Gist, together with a large number of patrons and children of Morgan Run School met at the school house for the purpose of presenting said school with a flag.

The house was handsomely decorated with wall pictures and various specimens of fall flowers. The black boards bore greetings of welcome and some fine specimens of the higher school grades' drawing. The teacher, Mr. Grove J. Shipley, his pupils and the entire audience looked their best for the occasion. It was an ideal afternoon and all who were present seemed highly elated with the program, the speakers and their speeches.

At half after 2 P. M., the exercises were begun, by singing "America," after which Bro. Jarboe, of West Falls circuit, lead in prayer. Then the school sang "Maryland, My Maryland," to the pleasure of all present. At this point of the exercises, Prof. S. Simpson, superintendent of public schools of Carroll county, arrived, and was heartily welcomed by all. The Professor made a very elegant and forcible talk upon public schools, their government and management, their discipline, how obtained, and urged upon the patrons the necessity of their hearty co-operation. He spoke of school room and school ground decoration and gently reminded us that it would be expected in order to fulfill the demands of the new school law. Then came the presentation speech of the flag by the Rev. Jarboe, who in behalf of Camp No. 15, as aforesaid, made a very elegant and up-to-date speech, eulogizing the order, the flag and what it represents to our grand country. His closing remarks were very pathetic, as he stretched forth his right hand to Dr. Simpson, and handed him the flag, saying, I present this flag to you in honor of our Camp No. 15, P. O. S. of A. whose motto is, Our God, Our Country and Our Order. Here perfect silence reigned for a few moments, then Prof. Simpson proceeded to make his highly honored and much esteemed speech of acceptance, in behalf of the teacher, the trustees and the scholars. Both speeches were quite lengthy and full of the finest specimens of oratorical ability and well put illustrations.

After the close of the exercises on the inside of the school house, the flag was adjusted and unfurled to the breezes by Bro. President Clifton Waltz, of Camp No. 15, aided by Mr. John Schneider, Jr., of Baltimore, and raised to position by Miss Estella Wagner, youngest pupil of the school and daughter of Mr. Elias J. Wagner. Fully 30 minutes were spent in social discourse and pleasant greetings in the school yard while our beautiful flag floated for the first time over our brick school house to the joy of all present.

We are having our protracted meeting at Zion this week.

[illegible] day of the gunning season was well improved in this section is putting it mildly, for there was a regular fusillade in all directions from early dawn till dark, when the different groups began to arrive reporting the number of rabbits killed at from 1 to 21 making the sum total add into hundreds. It seems that rabbits were never more plentiful in this section, but birds are very scarce. There was considerable murmuring about different parties of non-residents from Baltimore and the county who were here and made large bags. It is said some of them shot game right up to the homes of farmers. In the absence of a game warden the law was disregarded. A Baltimore county party of nine persons took 62 rabbits home with them.

The trenches along main street for the grs mains are pretty well under way and plumbers are now fitting the pipes to be laid. They have commenced fitting up the home of Dr. J. H. Sherman. Workmen are busy upon the foundation for the gas house. Thus far 44 houses are ready to be fitted; also the Lutheran church and parsonage and the I. O. O. F. Hall, which is quite encouraging for the company.

A trio of young gentlemen gave a social and dance in the I. O. O. F. Hall on Saturday night that was well attended, nicely conducted and a good time enjoyed by all present.

A Surprise Party.

At the home of Mrs. Emma Haines on Thursday evening, November 9, a surprise party was given in honor of her son Frank. At 7.45 the guests arrived and found Mr. Frank in bed, hence the surprise was a complete one. After being disturbed in his "sweet dreams," and attiring himself, he then made his appearance in his usual cheerful and pleasant manner. The well lighted house was an ideal one for the occassion. The evening was pleasantly spent in various amusements. As the midnight hour approached, refreshments consisting of luxuries were served, and ample justice being done to same, the time for departure had come. Hence the goodbyes were given and all expressing themselves as having had a general good time, and wishing Frank part of a peaceful night's rest, left for their homes. Those present were: Mrs. Emma Haines, Mr. and Mrs. Keener Bankard, Mr. Harry Bankard, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Formwalt, Misses Annie Roop, Mattie Beard, Nettie Myers, Nellie Weaver, Edith Roop, Margie Formwalt, Mary Young, Romaine Hollenberry, Anna Beard, Florence Young, Florence Formwalt, Rhoda Flagle, Florence Ogg, Hilda Haines, Lillian Formwalt, Elsie Ecker, Clara Dotterer, Mamie Ecker, Cora Beard, Nettie Arnold, Edna Stoner, Lillian Haines, Bertha Rowe, Minnie Dickensheets, Hattie Young, Bessie Wolf, Fannie Young, Edith Beard, Carrie Dickensheets, Irene Bare, Ethel Bankard, Messrs.
