With this week's issue the SENTINEL begins its seventy-fifth volume, having been established by the late Col. John K. Longwell, nearly 75 years ago. During all that time it has been an unfailing and welcome visitor to the homes of its patrons, giving them the news of the county, to their general satisfaction and maintaining a subscription list which includes many of the best citizens of the county, and among them a number who have taken it for long past half a century. Very often, in renewing subscriptions, patrons assure us that they cannot do without the paper. To one and all we tender heartfelt thanks for their friendship and kindly feeling for the SENTINEL and its publishers.

The Board of State Aid and Charities has prepared a schedule of appropriations to charitable, educational and other institutions for 1907 and 1908, for submission and recommendation to the Legislature at its present session. The aggregate sums exceed upwards of three-quarters of a million of dollars for each of these years. Among the educational institutions favored are New Windsor and Western Maryland Colleges, the former being down for $1000 each year and the latter $1800. The Board opposed appropriations to medical colleges. It also objects to the creation of free scholarships at colleges and says that "if the state really desires to aid a private institution of learning, it is the opinion of the board that it would be better to make a direct appropriation thereto, which would thus inure to the benefit of all the scholars of said institution, than to create a few special scholarships therein."

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Samuel Smith.

Mr. Samuel Smith, of Glyndon, died at the Maryland General Hospital, Baltimore, on Tuesday, 2nd inst., aged 85 years, and his funeral took place from his late residence yesterday afternoon.

Miss Henrietta A. Krouse.

Miss Henrietta A. Krouse, a venerable resident of this city, died at her home on East Main street, at 5.30 o'clock, yesterday evening, at the age of 82 years, 3 months, 6 days. She was a sister of the late John A. and George A. Krouse and daughter of the late John Krouse, and was the last survivor of her father's children She was a member of the Reformed Church and an estimable lady. Her funeral will take place from her late home at 2 o'clock, Sunday afternoon.

Eugene Pickett.

Mr. Eugene Pickett, a well known Franklin district farmer, died with startling suddenness, at his home, about half a mile from Winfield, last Friday evening He probably felt the fatal attack approaching, as he rose from his chair and went to a table on which a vessel of water was setting to get a drink of the fluid, then turned about and sank to the floor a corpse. The cause of his death was probably disease of the heart. He was about thirty-four years old and leaves a widow and six children. While not taking an active part in politics Mr. Pickett was an earnest Republican. He was a worthy and highly esteemed citizen. His remains were interred in the burial ground of Taylorsville M. E. Church, after funeral services, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Driscoll.

Mrs. Mary Driscoll, widow of the late John Driscoll, of this city, was found dead in her home on John street, about noon on Friday last. She had been dead several hours. It is supposed she had been at the early morning service at St. John's Catholic Church of which she was a devout member, and that she died soon after returning home. She and her daughter, Miss Cassie, lived together, but the latter was not at home when the sad event occurred. Mrs. Driscoll was an estimable lady and enjoyed the respect and good will of her neighbors. She leaves one daughter, Miss Cassie, and two sons, John, a passenger brakeman on the Western Maryland Railroad, and Michael, who is a boiler maker and resides in Knoxville, Tenn. Her funeral took place at St. John's Church on Monday morning and was attended by many of her neighbors and friends. Her children were all present. After the service her remains were interred in the church cemetery. Mrs. Driscoll was in her 75th year.

Horace Caple.

Mr. Horace C. Caple, aged twenty-two years, son of Mr. William Caple, of Winfield, was found dead in the garden at his parents' home in that place, on Sunday afternoon. The actual cause of death is not stated, but is supposed to have been epilepsy or some kindred disease with which the young man was afflicted. He had not been long dead when his body was found. He was unmarried and resided with his parents. He was a grandson of the late Col. Wm. Caple, at one time an extensive landowner and widely known citizen of the southern section of this county. His remains were interred in the burial ground of Ebenezer M. E. Church, near Winfield, after funeral services, on Wednesday morning. A correspondent writes us that Mr. Caple had gone out to do his evening's work and his death was discovered in ten minutes afterwards. He was a very worthy and highly respected young man.

Thomas Y. England.

Mr. Thomas Y. England, of Philadelphia, president of the firm of England, Walton & Co., leather manufacturers, died on Tuesday night, of asthma, at the home of his son, Mr. J. Wm. England, a fruit grower, in Redlands, Cal. Mr. England was widely known in the leather business, having started in it in Philadelphia, with his father, under the firm name of James England & Son, soon after the close of the Civil War. This firm was succeeded early in the seventies by that of England & Bryan, of which the subject of this sketch was the senion member. The name of the firm was well known here, for many years, as the proprietors of the tannery at Tannery on the Western Maryland Railroad. Mr. Bryan died recently also, and the business has been carried on for some time by the Schlosser Tanning Co., of which Mr. England was the head. Mr. England was 68 years old. He was a generous, kindly and unassuming gentleman, an influential business man and a faithful member of the Baptist Church. He leaves a widow and three children—Mrs. Charles S. Walton, Mrs. E. D. Landell, Jr., and Mr. J. William England.

Gamber Items.

The annual Christmas entertainment at Mt. Pleasant, on Thursday night, 28th ult., was a success, notwithstanding the lack of practice, and the very inclement weather. The church was crowded with an attentive and appreciative audience. The large Christmas tree, that stood in one corner, was a thing of beauty, if not a joy forever. "Frank" tells us that on the night of the Christmas entertainment he, having worn a pair of patent leather slippers and not wishing to soil them by the mud and rain, took them off and walked home a la Trilby, and actually was compelled to wash his feet before he retired for the night.

Talk about the sport of fox chasing, we were treated to a chase on Thursday evening that laid Reynard in the shade. Our newly appointed deputy sheriff, having a writ for a young man of our neighborhood, started out to perform the duty of his office. The young man became alarmed and started off with the deputy in hot pursuit, over hill and dale, across meadow and forest, dodging hither and thither for some miles, when the deputy was thrown off the scent of his quarry and was obliged to return without the brush.

Mr. B. F. Pool has had a 'phone of the C. & P. Company put in his residence.

Rev. Harry Spencer filled the pulpit at Mt. Pleasant, Sunday last, for Rev. J. T. Marsh.

Shipley Items.

Many were the pleasures and enjoyments of the holiday season here and we are happy to say that nothing happened to mar our social pleasure.

Our gun club was out on both Christmas and New Year's day. Some of the members are becoming very proficient. The captain of the club still claims the championship, but some of his men did such fine shooting on New Year's day that it gave him the headache.

Zion Sunday School held its Christmas anniversary on New Year's eve. The church was filled. The following program was well rendered:

Singing, by school and audience; prayer, Rev. G. J. Shipley; Christ and his Mother, Miss Myrle Zepp; singing by the school; a question for us all! by Glen Troyer; a little speech, by Miss Mary Zahn; singing by the school; dialogue by six scholars; speech, Little Jim, by Elsie Easton; singing, by the school; speech, by Holia Glover; dialogue, by seven scholars; singing, speech, The Parson's Sheep, by Miss Minnie Sayers; Home is no place for boys, by Master Walter Sayers; singing, by Miss Clara Coppersmith and Mr. Geo. Coppersmith; singing, solo, by Mrs. Maggie Sayers, of Smallwood; address, by Rev. Grove J. Shipley.

The Sunday School scholars and patrons then surprised their superintendent, Mr. Elias G. Shipley, by making him a very handsome present of a large wall mirror in a gilt frame. Rev. G. J. Shipley made the presentation speech, to which the superintendent responded with many thanks.

A speech, Santa Claus on the Train, by Miss Gladys Hook, closed the program. At its close a real Santa Claus appeared and made the whole school happy by giving each a little package of good things.

The superintendent gave a short history of Zion church, the audience sang "God be with you till we meet again," and was dismissed with the benediction by Rev. G. J. Shipley.

Our public school reopened on the 2nd inst., with 39 pupils. The scholars presented their teacher, Mr. G. J. Shipley, a large parlor lamp as a New Year's gift, besides several Christmas gifts given him on the 22nd ult. Mr. Shipley gave his pupils a nice treat, the last day of the school before the holidays.
