LOCAL ITEMS.

Numbers of changes of residences will take place in this city and county this spring.

Mr. Vernon W. Smith, of this city, has moved with his family to Pleasant Valley and will engage in farming.

It is reported that several boys, who are known, have been stealing chickens from residents of Pennsylvania avenue, this city.

Miss Clara V. Bankert, of Baltimore, has been seriously ill with throat trouble, but her friends in this city and vicinity will be pleased to learn that she is recovering.

In a letter in another column Mr. George K. Mather, who, with his wife, is taking a trip to Jamaica, Cuba, and elsewhere, gives a graphic description of a storm at sea.

Mr. Carroll Lockard, who purchased the residence belonging to the estate of the late Rev. Wm. A. Crouse, East Main street, this city, is making some changes and desirable improvements to the property.

A box of excellent clothing for the destitute family of this city referred to in a communication to the SENTINEL two weeks ago, has been sent to this office by Mr. David C. Nusbaum, of Taneytown.

Mr. Edgar G. Hull's sale of personal property, near this city, took place on Monday and, notwithstanding the exceedingly inclement and disagreeable character of the weather, was largely attended and good prices were realized. The sale was advertised in the SENTINEL.

The Baltimore American of Monday last contained a picture of Mr. Jacob A. Frederick, a member of the House of Delegates from this county, and his family. It forms a very interesting family group, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick and their fourteen children, seven girls and seven boys.

The many relatives and friends of Mrs. Emma R. Rhodes, nee Miss Stoner, of Kansas City, Mo., who has been extremely ill during the past nine weeks, will be rejoiced to hear that she is improving and on the road to recovery. Mrs. Rhodes is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Stoner, of this city.

Mr. Robert Ridinger has moved on the farm of Dr. L. C. Stitely, at Dennings and has most of his plowing done and the farm in good shape for the early spring work. Dr. Stitely is having a lot of fencing done and has just completed a handsome new board fence around his yard and the lanes, adding much to the appearance of the place.

While several persons were playfully wrestling on the occasion of the sale of Dr. J. Rinehart's personal property, near Frizellburg, on Tuesday, Mr. Luther Eckard, aged 26 years, fell with several others upon him, and in the struggle the bones of his right leg were fractured an inch and a half above the ankle. Dr. M. L. Bott, of this city, adjusted the fracture.

The numerous sales of personal property in this county the present season will be well over by the last of this month. They have generally been well attended and fair prices have been realized. This has been noticeably so of sales which were liberally advertised in the county papers. Several advertisements of good personal and real property may still be found in the columns of the SENTINEL.

The Board of Trustees of the Maryland Classis, Reformed Church, met in this city on Monday for the purpose of reorganization and the transaction of other business. Officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: President, Rev. A. S. Weber, D. D., of Baltimore; vice-president, Rev. L. E. Coblentz, of Baltimore; secretary, Rev. Isaac N. Motter, of Frederick; treasurer, Rev. C. S. Slagle, of this city.

Trains on the Western Maryland Railroad were delayed more or less, on three occasions this week, a freight engine off the track, in each case, having been the cause. The derailment of the engines occurred at the following places and on the dates named: At Avondale on Monday, this city on Tuesday and Glen Falls on Wednesday. The delay by the accident in this city was trifling. No damage of consequence occurred in either case.

Thus far March has been an unusually cold and inclement month. Snow fell four days in succession last week and on Monday five or six inches were added to that then already on the ground. The Sun's rays have been slowly melting it since then, but enough yet remains to make fairly good sleighing in the country. In the northwest the mercury has been down to about and below zero for a week or more, and a freezing temperature at night still continues in this locality. In fact winter still prevails here and "lingers in the lap of spring."

The municipal authorities of this city appear to be having considerable difficulty in their efforts to enforce the ordinance requiring the removal of snow from the sidewalks within a given time after the snowfall ceases, and for several days after Monday's snow numerous pavements, upon which it had been left untouched by householders, were in anything but a creditable condition. Those who profess to be law-abiding citizens and to respect the rights of their neighbors, should have the sidewalks speedily cleaned after every snowfall. In some cases this week it was done at their expense by order of the street commissioner, but for some reason the work was discontinued after Tuesday. It is possible that a more effective way of enforcing the law in the premises would be to inflict the penalties provided in such cases.

A valuable mare owned by Mr. Benjamin Dorsey, of this city, died from disease at his livery stable on Wednesday.

Mr. Harry D. Fisher, brother of the late Judge William A. Fisher, of Baltimore, died at Atlantic City, on Thursday, where he had gone for his health.

The Baltimore Sun, yesterday, published the views of Dr. J. W. Hering strongly favoring the passage of the corrupt practices measure now before the legislature.

Mr. Harry J. Turfle, of Baltimore, formerly of this city, will remove to Winchester, Va., on the 1st proximo, and take charge of the gas-works at that place.

The union evangelistic services in this city, on Sunday last, were well attended and interesting. Rev. P. A. Heilman, of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Baltimore, preached at both union services and also at the morning service in Grace Lutheran Church. Rev. C. J. Musser, D. D., a clergyman of the Reformed Church, of Philadelphia, will be the speaker at the closing services of the series on Sunday next. The evening service will be held in Grace Lutheran Church, at 7.30 o'clock.

As stated by County Superintendent Simpson, in his communication published in the SENTINEL last week, today is Maryland Day in the public schools of the State, and the schools will study in concert a lesson on "Maryland's Influence in Founding a National Commonwealth." It is also the last day of the spring term of the schools in this county. The summer term will begin on Monday next, 26th inst., and the County Teachers' Association will meet in this city on Friday, April 6th, when the teachers will be paid their salaries for the spring term.

The steam roller mill of Messrs. Roberts, Roop & Co., of this city, resumed work on Monday and is running on full time. As the SENTINEL has heretofore stated the new machinery installed is of the up-to-date type. The industry is an important one and the town, no less than the proprietors, is to be congratulated on the celerity with which it has been restored after its destruction by fire a few months ago. The rapidity with which the firm has recovered from the effect of the fire is due to its untiring energy and courageous enterprise. May the proprietors be rewarded by ample success.

Notwithstanding the urgent protests of the school authorities of this State the Finance Committees of the Senate and House of Delegates, in joint meeting, have voted to cut off the free textbook appropriation. In this emergency Dr. S. Simpson, superintendent of the schools of this county, has written to each Carroll county member of the legislature, urging him to resist this action and vote for the restoration of the appropriation. Dr. Simpson gives cogent and convincing reasons for his request and we hope they will be effective. He has also written to every county superintendent in the State, asking his co-operation in the matter.

The Baltimore American says "a hold up in bold Western style took place last Saturday night in the grocery store of Mr. Philip C. Fresh, 1306 West Franklin street. Mr. Fresh was held up at the points of pistols held in the hands of two men, and then, while one of the men kept him and his 13-year-old son covered, the other man ordered the proprietor to hand over more than $45 which was in the cash drawer. The men then left, after which Mr. Fresh and his son gave the alarm, and, assisted by neighbors and later by the police, made a thorough search for the two men, who, however, had made good their escape." Mr. Fresh is a native of this city and a son of Mr. John Fresh.

For the Sentinel.

A Pertinent Query.

By the way, are we getting the finish of groundhog weather? I rather think it has extended beyond the original limit. I saw in week-before last's Advocate that somebody had killed a groundhog. It was an impudent thing to do before the time was out. Suppose he has killed the groundhog that rules the weather. What then?

Instruction in Dairying.

The SENTINEL failed to receive the itinerary of the milk instruction train, referred to in last week's issue, in time for its publication in that edition. In fact, for some reason, it did not reach this office until Monday. Its purpose was set forth last week and need not be repeated here, but the time of arrival at and departure from each stopping place in this county is appended, as follows:

Monday, March 26.

	Arrive	Leave
Finksburg	10.40 A. M.	11.20 A. M.
Carrollton	11.30 A. M.	12.10 P. M.
Westminster	12.25 P. M.	1.30 P. M.
Medford	1.40 P. M.	2.20 P. M.
New Windsor	2.30 P. M.	3.10 P. M.
Union Bridge	3.20 P. M.	4.00 P. M.
Bruceville	4.10 P. M.	4.50 P. M.
Tuesday, March 27.
Alesia	1.45 P. M.	2.25 P. M.
Maple Grove	2.35 P. M.	3.15 P. M.
Hampstead	3.25 P. M.	4.05 P. M.

As will be seen this allows a stop of forty minutes at each of the places named except Westminster, where the train will stop an hour and five minutes.

A Birthday Surprise Party.

Mrs. S. C. Stoner, of this city, was given a most enjoyable surprise party, at her home on West Main street, on Monday evening, 19th inst., as a celebration of the 37th anniversary of her birthday. When the self invited guests arrived Mrs. Stoner was enjoying a game of dominoes in a rear room, and was unaware of their advent until the folding doors were thrown open between the room and parlor, revealing their presence. She also received numerous other tokens of the kindly regard of her friends. A unique feature of the function was a handsome cake, upon which were 37 miniature candles and bearing the dates 1869-1906, with Mrs. S's. initials inlaid with confectionery. This was made by the genial wife of Mr. E. W. Shriver. He was polite and respectful in his demeanor and was highly esteemed by his associates and older persons who knew him. He was a member of the Boys' Temperance Band of this city. His death is a sad blow to his parents who have the heartfelt sympathy of their friends. His funeral will take place tomorrow, Saturday, afternoon from the M. E. Church. Mr. F. C. Daniel W. Hunter.

Mr. Daniel W. Hunter, a well known retired farmer and dairyman, died at his home on East Green street, this city, at half after 10 o'clock on Monday last, of diabetes, in his 60th year. Mr. Hunter was a native of this county and spent his entire life in this city and vicinity where he enjoyed the unqualified respect of the entire community. He was a gentleman of pure and upright character, devoted to his family, and faithful in the discharge of his duties as a husband and father and as a citizen. He was a faithful member and vestryman of Ascension Episcopal Church, from which his funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon. He leaves a widow, two sons and four daughters—Mr. George N. Levi Black.

Mr. Levi Black, of this city, died very suddenly at his home on Pennsylvania avenue, about 12.30 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Black was in his 63rd year, having been born August 28th, 1843. He was formerly and for many years a trusted and efficient locomotive engineer on the Western Maryland Railroad, when the road was in a dilapidated and dangerous condition. He finally retired, on account of the dangerous character of the employment under those circumstances, and purchased a farm near this city, engaging thereafter in farming and dairying. He had two milk routes in this city and served his customers on one of them himself. He was taken ill while going over his route Tuesday morning and spoke to several persons about feeling very badly. He finally reached his home, stabled his horse and started to his house, but fell just outside of it. He was at once assisted to enter and was able to move about for a short time, but fell again and died before his dangerous condition was fully realized. His death, it is supposed, was caused by disease of the heart.

Mr. Black leaves a widow and four sons—Messrs. Charles Black, of Trenton, N. J.; Oscar Black, of Baltimore, a locomotive engineer on the Western Maryland Railroad; Harry T. Black, of Baltimore, a fireman on the same road, and William Black, at home. He was a member of Grace Lutheran Church, this city, from which his funeral took place this morning, the pastor, Rev. Dr. P. H. Miller, conducting the services, after which his remains were interred in Westminster Cemetery.

John Beaver.

Mr. John Beaver, proprietor of the only marble works in this city, died at his home on East Main street, on Saturday evening last, of Bright's disease complicated with other maladies, in his fifty-sixth year. Mr. Beaver was a son of the late Andrew J. Beaver, and was born in July, 1850. He was a singularly quiet and unobtrusive gentleman and had many friends. As a marble-worker he possessed more than ordinary skill and his place in that business in this city cannot be easily supplied. He was, in fact, an artist by nature, and it is said that the late Wm. H. Rinehart, the distinguished sculptor, himself a Carroll county man, recognizing in him this quality had urged him to devote his life to an artistic career. But, whether better satisfied with the quiet life of an ordinary worker in stone, or from a sense of obligation to care for his aged mother and his young sister and brother, who were deprived by death of the husband and father when the deceased was little more than a youth, we do not know, he decided to follow his father's occupation and continued to carry on the works of which his father had been the proprietor. He did so successfully and many fine tombstones and monuments upon which his skill was expended, were turned out from his shops. He is survived by a widow, and also leaves his aged mother and four sisters—Mrs. Mary Kase, Mrs. Sarah V. Doyle, Mrs. George B. Shriner and Miss Annie Beaver, all of this city. Mr. Beaver died in the faith of the Catholic Church and his funeral took place from St. John's Church, this city, on Tuesday morning, the rector, Rev. Jos. H. Cassidy, officiating. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Michael E. Walsh, Jno. E. Eckenrode, Martin Leahy, Michael F. Hann, J. Edwin Weaver, George E. Matthews. Mr. F. C. Sharrer was funeral director.

Since our last letter we have experienced quite a change in the weather.

The weather man seems to be having everything his own way, but we are very glad it is no worse.

The weather has put an impediment in the way of out-door labors and distant journeys and even the school children prefer to stay at home where it is comfortable, rather than face the snowstorms and cold of this week.

We have just finished a very prosperous and progressive year of church work on Deer Park circuit. The circuit closed its financial and business work on the 17th at Harmony Grove Chapel. The 4th quarterly conference was well attended, a good feeling of brotherly love prevailed and the conference has unanimously voted for Rev. J. A. Kittell's return for another year and so instructed its delegate to the Maryland Annual Conference. The circuit this year will pay its full assessment of $400, for the year, and over $158 in donations, besides many other necessary assessments. Our circuit has made a long step forward this year, and if we can judge the future by the present, brighter hopes await us. All the auxiliary societies of our several churches on the circuit are doing good and useful work and they are great helps to the pastor in his work. Mr. E. G. Shipley, of Zion, was elected as delegate and Mr. Lewis Ditman, of Deer Park, as alternate to the Maryland Annual Conference in Baltimore in April. On the 18th inst., Zion church completed its organizations for the year 1906-7, by electing Grove J. Shipley, class leader; Mr. John B. Wagner, Mr. E. G. Shipley, and Mrs. Aletha Polster, board of stewards, and Messrs. Grove J. Shipley, John T. Wagner, John M. Hook, E. G. Shipley and John A. Polster, the board of trustees.

Here, of late, it seems that Cupid would bring some of his romances to a close, so, (if we are right) before this letter gets in print our anticipations may prove true, and others may follow ere long.

The moving season has not commenced yet, but some changes will take place of which we may speak later. Today sleighs and sleds are skipping along rapidly over a good bed of snow and ice well frozen.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Strevig, on March 10th, the occasion having been a pound party given to their young friends.

At 8 o'clock the invited guests began to arrive and soon the parlor was crowded. Melrose Items.

There are now two gasoline engines in our town doing good work and giving perfect satisfaction.

Your correspondent has written for the local papers for the past 18 years. At first we wrote all about the visiting we heard of, just to fill up space. We have given up writing socials, unless they are sent or handed to us, so if you want any visiting in the papers, give it to us or it will not appear.

Mr. Adam Fridinger's sale was well attended and things brought good prices.

Quite a number of our citizens intend to improve their properties the coming spring and summer.

If we cannot have a large church here in Melrose, why can't we have a little building where Sunday School could be held for at least 9 months in the year, and where, occasionally, we could have the services of a minister? The cost would not be so great for a plain building to accomodate 150 persons.

Pleasant Valley Items.

Consulting the almanac we are now upon the threshold of spring, but with the merry jingle of the sleigh bells and the travel on runners, and with the country covered with 6 or 8 inches of snow we have a beautiful midwinter picture. The heavy snow fall of Monday added to the remnant of that of last week, with mercury down to 12° and 14°, we have the finest kind of sleighing and our people are making good use of it.

The members of Manchester Rebekah Lodge No. 18, I. O. O. F., celebrated the first anniversary of their institution on Thursday evening, 15th inst., in their hall. The many friends and patrons of Dr. J. H. Preston will be sorry to hear of his mishap on Monday evening which put him to bed with a badly sprained right ankle and with both bones of the left leg broken near the ankle. Dr. P. returned home from a professional visit between 9 and 10 o'clock Monday night and put his horse in the stable, and then met with an accidental fall which caused the injuries named. After a time he managed to get to the stable door and after calling for some 20 minutes arrested the attention of Messrs. H. Menchey and W. C. Brilhart, who went to his rescue and took him to his house. Dr. J. F. B. Weaver was hurriedly called and adjusted the fracture. Dr. P. has a large number of patients who will miss his visits for some time. No less than 40 of his friends visited him on Tuesday to express their sympathy for him and his family.

The Reformed parsonage was the scene of a quiet wedding on Tuesday when Rev. S. M. Roeder met Mr. Horatio Bortner and Miss Annie C. Warner, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Warner, in the parlor and united them in the holy bonds of wedlock, after which they returned to the bride's home on N. Main street where a reception was held by the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The bride was robed in blue silk and the groom wore the conventional black. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Bortner will live in Hanover, Pa., where Mr. B. has employment as a carpenter.

Notices have been placed for the Mayor and Council Election of this corporation on Saturday, April 7, 1906, which promises to be one of more than usual interest.
