My dear Madam Monday Morning

I have just returned from Doctor Scott's where I heard with great pleasure my dear friend is recovering even beyond your expectations. You say nothing of Fanny's coming indeed I hope she would as change of air I think and a sight of her old acquaintances would be of service to her, tell her if you please Anne Stamey is expected at Belvoir this Evening I know she is a great favorite of hers and our society will be enlivened by her do my dear Madam persuade Fanny to come up if it is only for a week I think she will feel benefitted by it There being some variety in the ginghams I send some patterns for Nancy to choose a gown the price of some is 1/4 & others 2/9 there is one which I will pin to the paper
