DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mrs. Charity Stone.

Mrs. Charity Stone, widow of the late George R. Stone, died at the home of her granddaughter, Miss Blanche Stocksdale, at No. 2429 St. Paul street, Baltimore, on Sunday, in her 92nd year, and funeral services were held in the M. E. Church, Reisterstown, on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Abigail B. Cassell.

Mrs. Abigail B. Cassell, widow of the late Henry P. Cassell, died on Saturday last, at the home of her son, Mr. Elmer E. Cassell, North Carrollton avenue, Baltimore, at the age of 78 years. Mrs. Cassell was well known in this county, where she frequently visit relatives, some of whom attended her funeral in Baltimore on Tuesday. Her remains were interred in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Baltimore. She leaves a number of adult sons and daughters.

Mrs. Margaret A. Fowler.

Mrs. Margaret A. Fowler, widow of the late Dominick Fowler, of this city, died at an early hour this morning at the residence of her son, Mr. C. Herbert Fowler, on Liberty street, from general debility, in her 83rd year. Mrs. Fowler came to this country in her early girlhood and has ever since resided in this locality. She leaves two sons, Mr. C. Herbert Fowler, of this city, and Mr. Thomas H. Fowler, of Toledo, Ohio; also one sister, Mrs. John McDonald, of this city. Funeral services will be held at St. John's Catholic Church, of which she was a member, on Monday morning.

Jeremiah Yingling.

Mr. Jeremiah Yingling, one of the oldest and best known residents of this city, died at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Jesse F. Shreeve, West Main street, about one o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, in his eighty-sixth year. Mr. Yingling was the last survivor of his father's family. He was a carpenter and builder, but had retired from active business for a number of years. He was a gentleman of quiet and anassuming demeanor, kindly and pleasant in manner and upright in his dealings—a good and worthy citizen. He was for many years a member of St. John's Catholic Church. His wife, who died some years ago, was a daughter of the late William Crouse. Two children survive him—Mrs. Jesse F. Shreeve, of this city, and Mr. Thomas Yingling, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Funeral services will be held at St. John's Catholic Church at 9 o'clock, tomorrow morning, leaving the house at 8.30.

Mr. Silas Stocksdale.

Mr. Silas Stocksdale, of Woodberry, died early Sunday morning while on a visit to his son, Mr. Theodore B. Stocksdale, of Reisterstown. Mr. Stocksdale was 75 years old and a native of Baltimore county. He was engaged in the real estate business. A widow, Mrs. Sarah J. Stocksdale, survives, with the following children: Messrs. Theodore, Jesse, Silas and Tilden Stocksdale, Mrs. Louise France, Mrs. W. Boring, Mrs. Georgia Boring and Miss Laura Stocksdale. The remains of the deceased were interred at Reisterstown on Tuesday.

Emanuel Stoner.

Mr. Emanuel Stoner, an aged and well known resident of this city, committed suicide on Wednesday morning, by hanging himself with a rope from a beam in the carriage shed of the barn at his home on West Main street. Three years ago Mr. Stoner had a severe illness which left him with a slight mental alienation. Lately his mental trouble increased and he became greatly depressed. He and his aged wife were the only occupants of their home until a short time ago, when it was deemed prudent for one of his sons and family to take up their domicil with them.

It was a habit of Mr. Stoner to go to his barn occasionally each day and busy himself with little odd jobs about the premises, and when he went there alone on Wednesday morning no fear was entertained that he contemplated self-destruction. He had not been long out of the house when something prompted Mrs. Stoner to follow him and she was the first to learn of the sad tragedy, which had occurred between 8 and 9 o'clock. The body was still warm, but life was extinct.

Mr. Stoner was one of a large family of children, of whom two brothers and one sister only survive him. The family has been among the most prominent of the German Baptist Brethren in this county. Mrs. Stoner, his aged wife, is also a member of a very prominent family of that denomination, and both have been long members of the church.

Mr. Stoner was an enterprising and worthy man. Thirty-eight or forty years ago he was engaged in farming and owned a fine farm near Frizellburg. This he disposed of and engaged in other business for a time and then went with his family to Iowa and later to Kansas. For a long time he conducted an extensive nursery at Sedgwick, in the latter State, but about fifteen years ago returned to this city and established the Westminster nursery, which he carried on until his health failed. He was in his 74th year, having been born January 15th, 1833. He leaves four daughters and seven sons, two of whom reside in Iowa, three in Missouri, one in Colorado, one in Gettysburg, Pa., three in this city and one in Frederick county.

Mr. Stoner was a genial, kindly and pleasant gentleman and had many friends. Sympathy for his afflicted family is universal. His funeral took place from Meadow Branch Church, this morning, Elder Uriah Bixler, assisted by Elders Ezra C. Brown and Wm. E. Roop, officiating, after which the remains were interred in Meadow Branch Cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Wm. Geiman, Joseph Price, A. J. Reese, Emanuel Whitmore, Uriah Babylon and A. M. Warner.

Memorial Day Exercises.

The program of Memorial Day exercises in this city, outlined in the SENTINEL last week, was carried out in full. At Odd Fellows' Hall, the exercises began with singing "America," by a select choir and the audience; prayer by Rev. Dr. H. C. Cushing; memorial service, by Burns Post, conducted by Post Commander Baer; reading of records of deceased comrades, by Adjutant Joel Ebaugh, and crowning of their vacant chairs with flowers, by the following school children: Misses Margaret Hering, Margaret Mackley, Gladys Stem, Ruth Bohn, Mildred Warner, Helen Townsend, Eloise Miller, Henrietta Roop, concluding with song, "Rest and Sleep;" quartet, "Veteran's Farewell Song, "Misses Anna Manahan and Jessie Starr, Messrs. F. Brown and H. C. Apsley; "Lincoln's Address at Gettysburg," Mr. William N. Sellman, W. Md. College; anthem, Hail to our Star-gemmed Flag," by the choir, with obligato solo by Mrs. B. F. Corouse; address, Rev. H. M. Rider, pastor Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church; anthem, "Memories on Memorial Day," by the chor; benediction, Rev. Reuben Kolb. The members of the choir were: Mrs. B. F. Crouse, Mrs. Laura Williamson, Misses Anna Manahan, Ollie Yingling, Mary B. Shellman, Jessie Starr, Bessie Armacost, Messrs. B. F. Crouse, Harry Kimmey, Frank Brown and H. C. Apsley. "Columbia," was very effectively represented during the singing of the anthem, by Miss Blanche Williamson, of Westminster, in appropriate costume and holding a large flag. The music was in charge of Miss M. Test Buckingham, organist of Centenary M. E. Church. One hundred and fifty school children, led by "Columbia," who was escorted by Masters Billy Worthington in "Rough Rider" uniform and carrying a Maryland flag, and Master Robert Dinst in uniform, carrying the American flag, representing the two branches of the service, the army and the navy. At the cemetery they were joined by a number of little tots, aged from three to five years, who joined in the procession and marched proudly carrying their flowers and flags through the opened ranks of the G. A. R. It was a beautiful sight—the old veterans, whose thinning ranks show marked decreases every year, and the fresh, young enthusiastic faces of the little children, who so proudly assemble every year to do them honor—and many eyes were filled with tears, as the immense crowd stood silently looking on. The large urn in the center of the cemetery was decorated with flags and flowers and a tablet at the base, with the sentiment in black letters on a white background, "With Love the Sleeping Heroes Crown." This was surmounted by a shield wreathed in ivy, across which a white Satin Ribbon bore the words "Lest we Forget," and underneath two crossed muskets. Here the concluding services were held which included the G. A. R. ritual by the post; recitation, "Silent Heroes," Miss Mildred Buckingham, of the Westminster High School; singing, "Nearer my God to Thee," by the choir and audience, and sounding of "Taps" by bugler, Joseph Demmitt Brooks, Jr. The children were in charge of Miss Mary Bostwick Shellman; drummer U. G. Brown; fifers, Wesley Mathias, Carroll Hymiller. Numbers of prominent citizens were in the audience. The address of Rev. Mr. Rider was regarded by all who heard it as one of the ablest ever delivered on such an occasion in this city.

AT WINFIELD.

As usual Winfield was the center of attraction and an immense throng of people, to be numbered by thousands, attended the exercises at that place. The soldiers' graves in Ebenezer Cemetery were decorated with flowers and flags by the members of Pickett Post, G. A. R., and Washington Camp No. 15, P. O. S. of A., and the other exercises were held at Round Top, east of the village. Addresses were delivered by Ex-Mayor F. C. Latrobe, Prof. Wm. J. Heaps, Rev. Charles E. Fultz, of Baltimore, and Rev. Wilson T. Jarboe, of Harford county. A select choir sang patriotic selections in an admirable manner and the First Regiment Band, of this city, furnished instrumental music of a high order.

AT SMALLWOOD.

A memorial service was held at Deer Park Chapel, M. P. Church, on Sunday afternoon, under the auspices of Burns Post, G. A. R., of this city. The pastor, Rev. J. A. Kittell, delivered an address, and Mrs. Ivan H. Sayers sang the Star Spangler Banner, with fine effect. Miss Clara Coppersmith was accompanist. After the indoor services the graves of deceased soldiers in the cemetery adjoining the church were decorated with flowers and flags, including the grave of Sergeant Smith, the first American soldier who fell in Cuba in the war with Spain in 1898. The grave of Dr. Henry C. Nelson, assistant surgeon general, U. S. Navy, was also decorated by the veterans of the Civil War.

Commencement of Maryland Collegiate Institute.

Yesterday was commencement day of the Literary Department of Maryland Collegiate Institute, at Union Bridge. The exercises incident to the commencement began on Sunday evening, with the baccalaureate service, in the institute chapel. The baccalaureate sermon was delivered by the president, Rev. Wm. M. Wine, and was an able and impressive, as well as a very instructive and practical discourse, based upon a portion of the eighth verse of the thirteenth chapter of the First Epistle to the Corinthians, "Whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away." The theme was, "Knowledge, contrasted with Divine Wisdom," and, in itself, suggests something of the paramount thought of the sermon. There was, of course, no design on the part of the preacher to belittle or decry the importance of knowledge of earthly things. The impartation of such knowledge is one of the purposes, if not the leading purpose of the institute, but the speaker made it plain that this, in itself, is not the highest or best knowledge. That, to be effective, in the best sense, it must be combined with a knowledge of spiritual things that belong to eternity, not time alone. Everything, said the preacher, should be placed or rated according to its permanent and abiding worth or value. Spiritual knowledge is eternal, earthly knowledge ceases, it vanishes away. This consideration should make us very humble. We do not know much.

The closing remarks of the discourse were addressed especially to the members of the graduating class, who are about to go out into the world to engage in its activities and bear its responsibilities. "The knowledge you have acquired in the institute has come to you," he said, "under conditions favorable to your moral and spiritual interests. You have been surrounded by influences designed and calculated to beget in you a desire to make a success of life in the highest sense, to attain not only the goal of your own personal ambition, but to be a helpful inspiration to others in the life struggle. The possession of the earthly knowledge gained within the walls of this institute will not determine whether you will be good citizens or not. However valuable this knowledge is, and it is of great value and may be employed to your own great benefit and to the good of your fellows, there is something above it. Jesus is the sum and center of all abiding knowledge. Learn of Him and when that which you have here acquired, or which you may hereafter acquire of purely earthly knowledge shall have vanished away you will have still the Divine wisdom that shall endure eternally."

On Monday evening the literary contest for the Stoner prizes was held. These are two prizes founded by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stoner, of Union Bridge. The Hiawatha and Emersonian Literary Societies alternate yearly in orations and essays, the Hiawathas furnishing the contestants in oratory on the odd years. This gave the Emersonians the orations this year and the Hiawathas the essays. The societies in the contest on Monday night were represented as follows:

Hiawatha.—Miss Katie Miller, Milnor, Pa.; Miss May Diehl, Upton, Pa.; Edgar Long, Boonsboro.

Emersonian.—John Dotterer, Johnsville; Ira Anthony, Shady Grove, Pa.; J. W. Williamson, Hedgesville, W. Va.

The first prize was won by Mr. Ira Anthony, of the Emersonian Society and the second by Miss Katie E. Miller, of the Hiawatha Society.

The exercises of the Bible class were held at 10.30 Tuesday morning and were of special interest to the many auditors present. The program was as follows: Music, by the audience; invocation; oration, "Christian Heroism," J. Walter Thomas; solo, "The Homeland," Prof. S. P. Early; oration, "The Regions Beyond," Lizzie W. Hoover; oration, "The Glorious Gospel," Henry M. Harvey; music, "Sowing and Reaping," College Quartette; oration, Providential Leadings," Lula Emma Sanger; Class Quartette, "Jesus the Light of the World."

On Tuesday evening the Choral Society of the institute rendered the dramatic cantata, "Saul, King of Israel," depicting the history of King Saul, from the time he was rebuked by the Prophet Samuel, till his death on the field of battle and the enthronement of David. The characters were represented as follows: Saul, E. D. Naff; Jonathan, S. P. Early; Michal, Kathryn Miller; Abigail, Leila Boerner; Samuel, Earle King; David, Charles Rowland; Witch of Endor, Ruth Myers; Comforting Messenger, Bessie Wine; Herald, Ira Anthony; chorus of damsels, chorus of witches, ladies' chorus, male chorus, general chorus.

This cantata was the leading musical event of the series connected with the commencement and was remarkably well rendered, giving evidence of the superior musical training imparted at the institute.

On Wednesday class day exercises were held at 10 A. M., the Alumni meeting at 2 P. M., and the commercial commencement at 8 P. M. Elder J. J. Ellis of Baltimore, delivered an address at the commercial commencement.

Much interest was manifested in the commencement yesterday morning. The exercises began with an invocation by Elder Uriah Bixler, which was followed by a chorus, "Evening." Then the themes of members of the graduating class, interspersed with music, were given, as follows: Only a Little Corner, E. P. King; The Purpose of Education, G. E. Roop; soprano solo, Voices of the Woods, Miss Katie Emmert Miller; Beware the Ides of March, Raymond K. Angel; Nature's Relation to Art, Harry B. Fogle; piano solo, Polka de la Reine, Miss Myers; A Glimpse of the Future, Miss Edith L. Potts; Time to Move, Charles L. Rowland; baritone song, "Anchored," Prof. E. D. Naff; Branded, Earl D. Long; Wanted, a Man, Albert C. Wine; chorus, "Into the Silent Land;" address to graduates, State Superintendent M. Bates Stephens, Ph. D.; presentation of diplomas; class ode.

Following are the names of the students graduated:

Berrett Items.

The members of the M. P. Church at this place will hold their children's day service on Sunday next, June 3rd, commencing at 10.30 a. m. They have been practicing a nice program and a pleasant service will be held.

Mr. Basil Dorsey, who was thrown out of his runabout while driving from Mt. Airy on the night of the 21st inst., and badly bruised and cut about the head and face, is much improved at this writing.

We had a fine rain here on Sunday night and Monday, which was much appreciated, as it was the first rain of any amount since the 15th of April, just six weeks.

Mr. Theo. Streaker, of Baltimore, spent Sunday and Monday with his mother, Mrs. Anna Streaker, at Berrett.

Master Vernon W. Conaway, of Baltimore, son of Mr. W. Conaway, who spent two weeks with his grandparents in Berrett, returned home on the 24th inst., accompanied by his grandfather.

Commencement of Westminster High School.

The commencement exercises of Westminster High School, Prof. Geo. F. Morelock, principal, were held in the Hall of the High School Building, on Monday evening, and were of a peculiarly interesting character in consequence of the marked ability displayed by the members of the class graduated on the occasion. The exercises began with prayer, by Rev. C. S. Slagle, of St. Paul's Reformed Church, and were interspersed with excellent music by members of the First Regiment Band.

Six students—four young ladies and two young gentlemen—were graduated, the young ladies reading original essays and the poung gentlemen declaiming standard orations, in the following order: Miss Fannie E. Jones, essay, Advantage of a Liberal Education; Noah Luther Schaeffer, Patrick Henry on British Aggression; Miss Pansy V. Routzahn, essay, Merits and Defects of the Daily Newspaper; Miss Maud E. Manahan, essay, Death of Slavery; Joseph D. Brooks, Jr., Sparticus to the Gladiators; Miss Mabel B. Hunter, essay, Dignity of Labor.

Prizes were awarded as follows: Boy's prize for composition, seventh grade, Francis Reese; girl's prize for composition, seventh grade, Elsie Coppersmith; prizes for composition, eighth grade, Agnes Reese, Lida Arnold.

Dr. J. W. Hering delivered an address in which he highly complimented the graduating class and the school generally on the evidence of thorough instruction manifested by the participants in the program. He said he was familiar with college commencements and that the commencement exercises of this school would be creditable to any college in this State.

Brief remarks were also made by Dr. Simpson, the county superintendent, and upon the conclusion of the program the members of the graduating class were heartily congratulated by many of those present on the occasion.

Uniontown Items.

Miss Anna O'Meara, of Glyndon, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Herman Hahn.

On Monday Misses Ida Hesson and Flora Fowble returned from Creagerstown where they attended the Sunday School convention of the Church of God.

Mr. Joseph Slonaker and daughter, of Baltimore, visited Mr. Slonaker's mother, during the past week. Mrs. Slonaker is suffering with pneumonia with a slight change for the better.

Mrs. Joseph Byron and daughter, of Williamsport, Md., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Routzahn's family several days during the week.

Miss Romaine Hollenberry spent from Saturday until Monday the guest of Miss Ada Messler, near Linwood.

Mr. William Hiteshew, of Baltimore, spent several days in town, visiting friends.

Mrs. George Selby was in Baltimore from Thursday until Sunday, visiting her daughter Florence.

Mr. Harve Hiteshew, of Pittsburg, Pa., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hiteshew.

On Tuesday evening the festival held by the choir of the M. P. Church was well patronized. The Union Bridge Band was present and rendered some selections of choice music, which were highly complimented by those present. We extend our congratulations to the members of the Band. The vocal parts given were an attractive feature. Come again.

Mrs. Joseph Hampson and children, Wilson and Frances, and Mrs. Hamilton, who were at Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Routson's, left on Friday, enroute for their home in the city of Mexico, Mexico.

Memorial Day was observed as usual in the village by a quiet march of the children to the cemeteries, chaperoned by two or three adults, and the strewing of flowers on the graves of deceased soldiers.

Miss Rhoda Slonaker, of Baltimore, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Minnie M. Mathias, for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers, of Baltimore, visited Mrs. Powers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse F. Billmyer during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eckard, Mrs. George Bean, Mrs. Blizzard, of Frizellburg, and Mrs. John Hamburg were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haines on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Rodkey and family visited friends in Taneytown on Tuesday, guests of Mrs. Rodkey's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Decatur Reid.

Eight of our public school pupils were perfect in attendance during the school year just closed. Their names are as follows: Nellie E. Bailey, Helen P. Price, Hilda Eckard, Nellie Haines, Ruby Rodkey, Hayden Michael, Benjamin Dingle, and John Beard. Last year there were but six.

Bankert's Mill Items.

The much needed and long looked for rain came as a welcome visitor last Sunday evening, accompanied by vivid flashes of lightning and loud peals of thunder with considerable wind. During its progress, a chestnut tree near Mr. Arthur Master's barn was struck by a bolt. The bark of the tree was scattered and some was carried a hundred feet from the tree.

Mr. D. H. Hahn is painting his farm buildings, and whitewashing the roofs of his sheds.

Mrs. A. Benedict and Mrs. Lemmon were visiting friends and relatives in Baltimore the last of last week.

Mr. Geo. C. Harman is still a sufferer from his wound. An independent abcess at the knee joint is supurating and a spicula of bone, ¼ of an inch long by ½ inch, worked out on the 22nd ult. and on the 24th another smaller one was removed, which has caused the limb to become very weak.

An announced meeting was held at Baust Church on last Thursday, Ascension day, by the two congregations. Dr. Kemp, chairman of the vestry, called the meeting to order and stated the purpose of the meeting, which was to ascertain the views of the members as to whether the present structure should be remodeled or repaired. A committee, composed of two members from each congregation, was appointed and instructed to visit each member, and ascertain the amount each will contribute. On that will depend whether we will remodel or repair. The present structure was built on the old plan, with a gallery, and many of the older members are loth to part with it. This church was erected nearly one hundred years ago. The wall is brick and very substantially built and bids fair to last for another century, but the roof, windows, doors and floor are very much in need of repair. Many pleasant associations cluster around this ancient building and it is hoped the members will respond freely and not allow this old land mark to pass away through neglect or because of diverse opinions.

Baseball at Cranberry.

On ascension day, May 24th, the Snydersburg baseball team defeated the Cranberry Valley Giants, at Cranberry, by the score of 17 to 12. Albaugh started to pitch for the Burg's boys, but he was found for eight hits in the first inning and 4 runs resulted for the Giants. After that Zepp, the well known left handed pitcher, pitched for the Burg boys. He held them safe until the ninth inning, when five of the Giants crossed the rubber. Zentz pitched for the Giants and he was hit hard at times. In the third inning, with three men on bases and two men down, Hul', the popular third baseman, at the bat tore off a great two bagger and three more of the Burg's boys crossed the plate. After that Leppo pitched for the Giants, and they played real baseball. Leppo made seven of the Burg's boys fan. The features of the game were the batting of Zepp and playing of First Baseman Babylon, of the Giants. H. Yingling, of the Giants, made the booby record by striking out four times in succession. The lineup:

Snydersburg		Cranberry
Zepp	p.	Zentz
Stoffle	c.	H. Leppo
Albaugh	1 b.	Babylon
Hosfelt	2 b.	Bachman
Hull	3 b.	H. Yingling
Martin	s. s.	Shaffer
Reed	r. f.	Sullivan
Yingling	c. f.	Leister
Webster	l. f.	Leppo

Score by innings:

Snydersburg	3 2 4 2 3 0 0 3 0—17
Cranberry	4 0 1 1 1 0 0 0 5—12

For the Sentinel.

Co. H at Glenburnie.

We arrived here at about 2 p. m. Monday and found everything in readiness for us. It was very disagreeable Monday afternoon and night and very cold. Tuesday the sun was shining brightly and it grew warmer as the day advanced and now the weather is warm and pleasant and all are enjoying themselves. We have plenty to eat and good quarters and all the boys are satisfied. Our camp is situated on high sloping ground, immediately in front of the range, and sanitation is first class. We have 23 men here, and all are doing fairly well at the different ranges. We have 8 marksman so far, with good prospects of a couple more, and perhaps a few sharpshooters. Private Bitzel leads the battalion at 200 yds. with a score of 46 out of a possible 50. He also has best average for 200 and 300 yards with a score of 88 out of 100. Sergeant Weigle shot very well, and he and Bitzel will likely make sharpshooters. Those who have so far qualified as marksmen and are entitled to shoot for sharpshooters are: Sergeants Weigle, Frizzell, Engleman, Simonson and Starner, and Privates Bitzel, Bentz and Vanfossen. The other men will all be marked as first-class. There is no reason why a man should not learn to shoot well here, especially when he is here for four or five days. The instructors are very willing to assist in every way possible, and are all sociable agreeable men. The range is under the direct supervision of Colonel Gaither. The Colonel is very much pleased with the showing this battalion is making. Company "H" is in command of Sergeant John N. Weigle. Captain Jos. T. Hering is looking after the health of the men.

New Windsor Items.

Mr. Arthur Englar and family, of Baltimore, visited Mrs. Elizabeth Englar this week.

Mrs. Dr. Winterson is visiting her family in Baltimore.

An Interesting Family Reunion.

The home of Mr. Jesse Sullivan, who resides with his son-in-law, Mr. Lewis Berman, in Westminster district, was the scene of a very interesting and enjoyable reunion on Sunday last. The event was a one-day anticipation of the seventy-ninth anniversary of Mr. Sullivan's birthday, which occurred on Monday. An elaborate and elegant dinner was served at noon and about 3 o'clock light refreshments of ice cream, cake &c. Miss Winnie Reese, of Cranberry, entertained the company with many choice selections on her graphophone, which were greatly enjoyed. The occasion was especially enjoyable to Mr. Sullivan, many of whose descendants were present under the old roof-tree, and participated in the happy occasion, which marked the period of his entrance upon his eightieth year. Mr. Sullivan resides on the old home place with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Berman. He is a brother of the late George W. Sullivan, of this city, who was one of the most highly esteemed and successful teachers of the public schools of the county. Those present at the reunion were: Mr. Jesse Sullivan; Mrs. T. W. Parker, of Kensico, N. Y.; Mr. John H. Sullivan, of Westminster; Miss Mary Sullivan, Mr. Denton Sullivan, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cole and children, Howard, Denton and Thomas Parke Cole, of Hanover, Pa.; Mrs. Abbie Shaffer, Miss Winnie Reese, of Cranberry; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Berman and son, Jesse L. Berman, Miss Miranda Brown, at home; Mr. Raymond Wolford, Mr. Edward Hoff, of Westminster.

New Windsor Items.

[The following New Windsor items, designed for publication last week, came to this office in an envelope postmarked "New Windsor, May 25, 10 A. M.," and stamped at the Westminster office, Received May 25, 5.30 P. M., after the entire edition of the paper was printed and posted.—Editor SENTINEL.]

Mrs. Mattie Crawford and daughter, Myrle, of Baltimore, spent Saturday and Sunday last with friends in town.

Mr. William Lantz and family, of Baltimore, spent the first of the week with Mr. L's. mother and brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith entertained a number of their friends from Silver Run on Sunday last.

Charley Geiger, a farmer near this place, whilst running a roller on last Friday, was hurt by his horses running off and dragging him some distance. He received a number of cuts and bruises, and was probably saved greater injury by his clothes tearing off and letting him free.

Mr. Herbert Roop, who has been sick for some time, continues about the same.

The Gilbert House is being improved by a concrete pavement.

Mr. U. G. Heltibridle, the tonsorial artist, put in two new hydraulic chairs on Monday, in his shaving parlor, to replace the ones he had been using for some time previous.

Miller's Items.

The Misses Purdy, of Baltimore, are visiting their cousin, Miss Laura Miller, and other relatives here.

Miss Addie Lawson, of Baltimore, visited friends here Thursday last.

Mr. Geo. W. Hoffacker spent a week recently among relatives in Baltimore.

The festival held here on Thursday of last week and on Saturday evening for the benefit of the Alesia Band, was well attended each evening.

The Sunday School scholars here are rehearsing for their children's day service to be held June 17th, at 10 A. M.

Mrs. Oliver Bollinger, of York, Pa., visited her son, Mr. Emory Bollinger, last week.

Manchester Items.

Mrs. Mary B. LaMotte, widow of the late John H. LaMotte, died at her home in this place on Friday night, at the age of 69 years, 1 month, 3 days. She had been very ill, but reports of her condition during the day had been favorable, and when the news of her death became known on Saturday morning it was a great shock to our citizens generally, as she had many friends to whom she was endeared by her great kindness of heart, amiable and loving disposition, unfailing charity and sympathy for all in distress. She was from early womanhood a devoted member of the Lutheran Church and ever faithful in the discharge of christian duty. Her husband died in 1893. She is survived by three daughters and four sons—Mrs. Breckinridge Shaw, of Frederick; Misses Carrie and Edna LaMotte, at home; Messrs. John B. and H. T. J. LaMotte, of this place; Monroe LaMotte, of Baltimore, and Robert LaMotte, of Stockton, Cal. Her funeral took place from her late home on Tuesday, her pastor, Rev. H. H. Flick, conducting the services. The pall bearers were Messrs. George A. Shower, A. C. Myers, J. W. Snyder, Oliver Lippy, A. E. B. Myers, J. E. Masenhimer. Bergman & Keller were funeral directors. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

Following quickly upon the death of Mrs. LaMotte came that of her brother, Mr. Henry Strevig, which occurred on Sunday night, at his home two miles north of town. Mr. Strevig had been an invalid and great sufferer for more than five years, caused by a gangrenous affection of one of his feet, which made amputation necessary at the upper part of the instep. The operation prolonged his life but his remaining days were spent in suffering and pain. His age was 80 years, 7 months. His funeral took place on Wednesday, from Lineboro Church, Rev. H. H. Flick officiating. Mr. Jacob Wink was funeral director. Four sons survive him—Messrs. John R., Theodore R. and Henry Strevig, of the vicinity in which he lived, and James Strevig, of Cranberry Valley. He also leaves an only brother, Mr. Ephraim Strevig, of Baltimore county, the only living members of his father's family.

The dwelling house of Mr. Edward Berwager, two miles east of town, was destroyed by fire on Friday last about noon, with all its contents, excepting a few pieces of furniture saved from the lower story. It caught near the chimney, whether from a spark from the chimney or from some brush Mr. B. was burning some distance from the house is not known. It was insured for $500 in the agency of Mr. Chas. E. Goodwin, Westminster.

One of the finest socials of the season was given by Miss Fannie G. Ross, on Saturday evening last, at her home on South Main street, in honor of her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Klinefelter, of Chestertown. Miss Ross had the members of the Sewing Circle with a number of friends at the home to greet her friends and enjoy the pleasures of the evening with them. The dining room was handsomely decorated and had five tables, each bearing a different color—pink, white, red, blue and violet—each lighted with candelabra with shades to harmonize, and bearing cream mints of same color. All the appointments were A1. The refreshments were served in three courses. Miss Ross did full honor to the occasion and had all her friends to feel at home. On Tuesday she and friends visited Gettysburg and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Weaver.

The committee of arrangements with the members of the auxillary of the firemen are busy to be in readiness for their festivity on Whit Monday, as the finger boards indicate that all roads will lead to Manchester on that day.

Mr. W. D. Hanson and son Guy are spending the week in Cumberland, where Mr. H. has business interests conducted by Mr. George S. Motter. Master Guy expects to work in the business with Mr. Motter.

Workmen are putting up the telephone poles from here to Melrose and down the Strevig Valley. Service is being installed in the homes of Messrs Grove Bros. and J. B. Lynerd, of Germantown.

Mrs. H. R. Rohrbaugh and sister, Mrs. H. T. Wentz, spent several days with friends in Baltimore last week.

Mrs. H. S. Musselman enterteined the members of the Sewing Circle on Thursday evening, when fine refreshments were served.

Mr. Charles Hively has had a frame wood house and pig pen built upon the rear of his lot on North Main street.

Workmen are still busy fitting up homes of our citizens who will light them and cook with gas.

Porter's Items.

For a change we have had considerable rain, which has settled the dust and will freshen all vegetation.

Surveyors are actively at work surveying through our vicinity for the new electric railroad which, it has been said, is coming our way.

Miss Bessie Hewitt, of Oella, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. R. C. Hewitt, and family.

The strawberry festival of Messiah Lutheran Church, which was to have been held on Saturday evening, June 2nd, has been postponed until Saturday evening, June 9th.

Children's day services have also been postponed until Sunday morning, June 24th, at 10.30 o'clock.
