Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1906.

It is said that Mr. John D. Rockefeller, who is now in Europe, smiled when told that proceedings had been taken against him in an Ohio court for conspiracy in restraint of trade and that the penalty, if he be found guilty, will be imprisonment in the workhouse, for a year, at brickmaking. Possibly Mr. Rockefeller may live to realize that the prosecution is no laughing matter for him. The fate of the Toledo icemen, who were sentenced to imprisonment for an offence of an insignificant character in comparison with the evil course of the Standard Oil magnate, should warn him that the people are in the saddle and that not even his hundreds of millions may be able to save him from the penalty which he so richly deserves. There will be hope for the future of this country if such men as John D. Rockefeller shall be made to pay the penalty of their wrongs upon the public, by serving long terms in prison.

Monday's Baltimore Evening News tells a story of astonishing disrespect for the Sunday laws in Baltimore county. At most of the resorts in the county gambling was in full blast on Sunday last and liquor was sold without an effort at concealment, the county policemen either turning their backs or looking on with stolid indifference at the open violation of the laws of the State. All this occurred within what the News denominates "the gates of the Talbott regime," that is, the Talbott system or style of government that obtains in Baltimore county. Mr. Talbott is the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Second district of Maryland and was lauded to the skies by the convention held in this city recently, which placed him in nomination. If Mr. Talbott be really, in any measure, through his candidacy, responsible for the state of things described by the News, it is difficult to understand how any self-respecting Democrat can vote tô send him back to Congress.

Lyman J. Gage, of Chicago, who was Secretary of the Treasury in President McKinley's Cabinet, has, it is said, become a theosophist, has given up financial life, and has attached himself to the colony of Mrs. Katharine B. Tingley, a high priestess of that cult, at Point Loma, Cal. Theosophy as defined by the Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia is a "Knowledge of things divine, wisdom concerning God, wise in things concerning God: a philosophy based upon a claim of special insight into the divine nature, or a special divine revelation." It is not stated that Mr. Gage has this knowledge or wisdom, but that he believes in its possession by Mrs. Tingley. He has a son who is a member of a Thoposophist Society at Los Angeles, Cal. It is remarkable that as skillful a financier as Mr. Gage should pin his faith to pretensions of that character in any individual, much less in a woman who teaches, as Mrs. Tingley does, that a dog owned by her has a human soul, and declares that she and Madame Blavatsky, the great theosophical leader, were bosom friends in Egypt 1200 years before Christ. Perhaps the fact that Mr. Gage was well nigh broken down physically, and perhaps mentally, by overwork as a cabinet officer may account for his acceptance of such teaching.

STATE ROAD WORK.

The Highway Division of the Maryland Geological Survey has been actively engaged in making surveys and preparing plans and estimates for contemplated road improvements all over the State, and is supervising a large amount of road improvement now under way. The following stretches of road are now under construction and in some instances nearing completion:

Allegany County—Three miles.
Baltimore County—Seven miles.
Carroll County—One and one-half miles.
Frederick County—Three miles.
Harford County Six miles.
Howard County—One mile.
Montgomery County—Five and one-half miles.
Washington County—Two miles.
Worcester County—One mile.
Total 30 miles.

Perhaps it is well not to "despise the day of small beginnings," even in a matter of such importance as public road improvement, but it is very evident that the people, of this county at least, are not very favorable to the plans of the Geological Survey for road making. The expense of constructing and maintaining such highways as it projects, all over the county, would be far beyond the approval of the taxpayers. Good roads, generally, can be maintained at much less expense, under the supervision of a competent road engineer. The employment of such an officer would be a measure of economy, as it would insure the best results and save waste of expenditures.

There are, doubtless, some roads in the county on which it could be well to follow the Survey's plans, and by which, in the end, money would be saved. There are points on the New Windsor road, for instance, which probably cannot be made durable in any other way, but it may be taken for granted that centuries will pass before the highways of the county will, as a whole, conform to the system proposed by the Road Division of the Geological Survey.

Great improvement will result, however, in the roads of the county through the execution of the law passed last winter, if it shall be carried into effect according to its manifest intent.

After a voyage of 12,000 miles the great drydock Dewey, built at Sparrows Point, reached her destination in the Philippine Islands on Tuesday. The time consumed in making that distance was 193 days, but the actual time she was in motion was considerably less, so that the daily average of her progress was about 100 miles. The Dewey is an immense mass of steel weighing 11,000 tons, and she cost about $1,250,000. Her construction and safe transference to the Philippines was a great triumph for the Maryland Steel Company.

A gasoline stove in the home of Thomas Lipps, Frederick, exploded some days ago and Mrs. Lipps and her three-year-old daughter were so badly burned that they had to be taken to the hospital. The child died Tuesday afternoon and the mother died Wednesday morning.

Joseph Bradley, colored, was hanged at Ellicott City on Friday last, for the murder of John Redwine, colored, at Dorsey's Station in February, 1906.

THE BRYAN BOOM.

The boom for Bryan goes on apace and if this were a Presidential year he would probably be nominated a third time for the high office of Chief Executive, and that by acclamation. There is abundance of time, however, for the "sober second thought," and level-headed Democrats will probably see cause to revise their present views on the subject before 1908.

Mr. Bryan is, in some respects, a great man. He is certainly a great orator and has a personal magnetism well calculated to lead even level-headed men away from safe political standards while they are under its influence. For that reason he is a dangerous as well as a great man. He has been the sponsor or advocate of theories in the past of a character seriously detrimental to the welfare of the country, theories utterly undemocratic yet which, under his leadership, were adopted by a large portion of the Democratic party.

Of these theories the heresy of free silver, at 16 to 1, was of course the most prominent, though possibly not the most dangerous. True, he is now silent on that subject and the danger of the adoption of his opinion seems past, thanks to the sound financial doctrines of the Republican party which have triumphed over that, greenbackism and other political heresies heretofore promulgated and advocated by the Democratic party. But Mr. Bryan has not, we believe, repudiated the doctrine of free silver, though constrained to submit to its repudiation by the American people. He is very tenacious of his opinions and holds fast to them with great pertinacity.

To judge, therefore, by his past history, he is not a safe man to entrust with the executive authority of the country and there are, without doubt, many Democrats who hold that opinion of him. Doubtless, when the present craze in his interest shall have become exhausted, they will be heard from in a manner that may place an insurmountable obstacle in the way of his third nomination. If otherwise, however, and he shall again become the Democratic standard-bearer, the people may be depended upon to make it a case of "three times and out."

Strange to say, after the above was written, Mr. Bryan, who is in London, Eng., said yesterday that he still believes in bimetallism and that the restoration of silver—of course at 16 to 1—would bring still further prosperity. And this is the man the Democrats are hot to make their candidate for President in 1908.

THE NEW ARRANGEMENT, R. F. D.

It will probably be impossible to avoid confusion by the new arrangement of the R. F. D. in this county, but the SENTINEL desires to do its part toward reducing such confusion to a minimum and therefore devotes considerable space this week to a description of what will be known as the Westminster routes, numbered from 1 to 17.
