REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,
ROBERT GARRETT,
OF BALTIMORE COUNTY.

ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6TH.

MR. BRYAN'S ILLINOIS DILEMMA.

The Democratic State convention of Illinois, held on Tuesday at Peoria, adopted a motion to lay Mr. Bryan's request for the resignation of Roger Sullivan, from the Democratic National Committee, on the table, by a vote of 1,038 to 570. The friends of Mr. Sullivan were in full control of the convention and a redhot factional fight occurred. The people through whose influence Mr. Bryan has been led to attack Sullivan and to declare a fight under his leadership in Illinois hopeless, were in a woeful minority. If Mr. Bryan is to be believed Mr. Sullivan is a bad man and a corrupt politician, who attained his place on the National Committee by defrauding his fellow Democrats in the State. His retention in that position, Mr. Bryan says, will be sufficient proof that the professions of the Democratic party in favor of reform are not trustworthy and that the party does not merit the confidence and support of the people. He might have truthfully added that that will be the case whether Mr. Sullivan or an anti-Sullivan factionist be named for the committee. But Sullivan has been overwhelmingly endorsed by the Illinois Democrats, and Mr. Bryan must eat humble pie or sadly discourage the Democrats of the State, who have lined up in his favor.

Singularly enough the convention which utterly and overwhelmingly repudiated Bryan's charges against Sullivan, endorsed him, Bryan, for the Presidential nomination in 1908, against his protest that he did not desire the endorsement unless Sullivan were repudiated. The action of the convention therefore places him in a dilemma from which there is no escape except a sheer back down or a refusal to accept the endorsement. In either case, he may count upon an ample majority against him in Illinois, if he shall be the candidate of the Democratic party for President in 1908.

TIME TO CALL A HALT.

Scarcely a day passes without one or more automobile accidents of a fatal nature, due, in most instances, to reckless driving at a high rate of speed. Generally the occupants of the machines are the victims, but occasionally some entirely innocent person is hurled into eternity or maimed by being run over or coming in collision with one of these motors. Ordinarily this is due to a violation of law on the part of the owner or driver of the car. Most States have laws regulating the speed at which automobiles may be run within their limits and also containing restrictions prohibiting a forward movement when meeting or passing a horse which exhibits alarm at the machine. The Maryland law has such a provision and it limits the rate of speed at which an auto may be run at 6 miles per hour in incorporated towns and 10 miles on roads in the country. The law, however, is not enforced, penalties against its violation being rarely, if ever, imposed. Doubtless it is on this account that machines may be frequently seen whirling through the streets of Westminster at the rate of 12 to 20 miles an hour and at much greater speed over country roads.

The numerous fatal casualties being reported give warning that it is time to adopt some measure to curb this contempt for law. It is probable that the existing statutes in this and some other States are too drastic and thus create an obstacle in the way of their enforcement. But officers of the law are not authorized to wink at and permit their violation. As long as they are on the statute books they should be rigidly enforced. If then found unreasonable and unfair there would be no difficulty in procuring their modification, but they should never be so changed as to permit the automobile to become a constant menace to human life. In this respect it is time to call a halt.

A Political Reformation.

From the Towson News.

Over in Harford county some years ago a man who was notoriously lax in meeting his obligations professed religion and joined church. One of his creditors, thinking the time propitious for a settlement, presented his bill.

"Oh, no!" said the new convert, "I have reformed, and intend to lead a new life. I can't recognize any of those old matters now."

The repetitions of history are illustrated by the remarks of the Democratic candidate for Congress when formally notified last Thursday of his nomination. The allegations of political corruption, trickery and what not which have been piled up at his door are not disproved, not contradicted, not denied. They are simply swept aside by the broad assertion: "I am on a high and lofty plane now and I don't propose to discuss these things with those who are so inconsiderate as to remind me of them."

What a convenient thing it would be for erring mankind if we were really permitted to wipe out the record of our transgressions or obligations in that way—like Pontius Pilate, to take a basin of water and wash our hands of the whole disagreeable business! The natural inclination of the human race to endeavor to escape the consequences of wrong doing by a profession of sanctity is so well recognized that proverbs bearing on it might be quoted by the column. But, the inconvenient part of it is that the accounting power does not forget and will not always take our assertions of self-reformation at their face value. And this reminds us of the following alleged witticism which has recently appeared in print:

Jackson—Is dat mule afraid of automobiles?

Johnson—He shore is.

Jackson—But I thought you done tole me he was deef and bline."

Johnson—He am, but he kin smell.

Thus, even if the people of Baltimore county and the Second Congressional district were deaf and blind, the odor from the political corruption fostered under the domination of the Baltimore county boss is so far reaching and objectionable that they can never forget it; neither can they be misled by a sudden assumption of dignity and virtue.

The Hagerstown reel team failed to win any prizes at the New York firemen's meeting at Jamestown, N. Y.

Mrs. Minnie Kline, of Sandy Hook, was electrocuted while trying to use a telephone in her home.

CHILE SHAKEN BY EARTHQUAKES.

Great Destruction of Property.

Many Towns Destroyed.

Great Loss of Life.

Valparaiso Center of Destruction.

Santiago, Capital of the Country, Also Suffers Considerably.

Railroad Tunnels Wrecked.

A series of terrible earthquake shocks began in Chile, South America, on Thursday night of last week and wrought havoc in many of the cities and towns in that country. Valparaiso, the chief seaport of the country, appears to have been about the center of the disturbance and suffered immense destruction of property, while many persons were killed by the falling walls of the dwellings. One of the severest shocks was timed and lasted 4¼ minutes. Fires broke out in many localities but apparently were not very destructive, having been suppressed completely in a day or two.

Reports state that the greatest destruction of life and property was in the residence portion of the city, and that the damage was less, though great, in the business section. Estimates of the extent of losses are probably exaggerated, being placed as high as $300,000,000, and exceeding those caused by the earthquake and fires at San Francisco, Cal., several months ago. Valparaiso is a city of about 150,000 inhabitants. Some estimates place the loss of life in the city as high as 7,000. Fully 2000 are known to have been killed.

But even this, if reliable, is small compared with the destruction of life in some of the smaller towns of the country. It is reported that Quillota, a town of 10,000 inhabitants, about 30 miles from Valparaiso, has sunk entirely from sight and that less than 100 of its citizens escaped.

Other towns which have been either wholly or in part destroyed are: Virlage, Casablanca, San Felipe, Rancagna, Melipila, Llai Llai, Vina del Mar, Quirihue, Salto Si and Limache. A large section of Vina del Mar was totally destroyed. Many small villages were damaged and some destroyed.

Santiago, the capital, a city of about 300,000 inhabitants, was badly shaken up and many buildings damaged to such an extent as to be unsafe and dangerous, portions of the walls frequently falling to the sidewalks and compelling the people in passing to and fro to take to the middle of the streets. About 100 people were killed in the city. Reports estimate the property loss in Santiago and other places outside of Valparaiso at $10,000,000 to $25,000,000, but if the stories of destruction are accurately reported the maximum of these sums is probably below the actual value of the property destroyed. It is reported that expensive railroad tunnels were completely destroyed and must, practically, be rebuilt.

The entire Andes region appears to have been affected by the shocks, which were felt at Mendoza, Argentina, at the eastern foot of the mountains.

Later reports from Valparaiso are to the effect that the fires in that city are still burning, that occasional shocks of earthquake are still being felt, but that losses will not exceed $100,000,000.

BALTIMORE JUBILEE.

Never before have the people of Maryland enjoyed such an opportunity for witnessing such a series of magnificant pageants as will be afforded them at the Greater Baltimore Jubilee and Home-Coming which is to be held September 9th to 16th inclusive. The three big spectacular parades which are to be held September 11th, 12th and 13th, will be on a scale seldom attempted and rarely realized. The original expectations of the Citizens' Committee will unquestionably be surpassed by the mammoth processions, for positions in which applications have been filed so rapidly and numerously that a revision of the entire detail of each day's features has been made necessary to accommodate all who would take part in the grand celebration, which is to commemorate the recovery of the state's metropolis from its trial by fire two and a half years ago.

The three monster parades will be inaugurated Tuesday, September 11th, with a great military display. In this procession, which is to pass through the principal streets, there will be the whole national guard of Maryland, "horse, foot and dragoon." There will also be numerous crack military companies from sister states, including the far famous Light Infantry Blues, of Richmond, Va., which is known the length and breadth of the land as the premier militia body of the South. In addition there will be detachments of regulars from the forts adjacent to Baltimore and among these may be a cavalry troop from Fort Myer with a mounted band. Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte has promised to try to send two warships to Baltimore during Jubilee week, and if he does the jackies from these vessels will take part in the military display, dragging some of their small guns with them.

September 12th the parade will consist of floats bearing displays of the merchants; hosts of the employes of the great manufactories and railroad corporations; thousands of members of the Jr. O. U. A. M. from all over Maryland, and a great concourse of sons of the fatherland, who will constitute a German division. The Pennsylvania and B. & O. R. R. companies expect to send 5000 men each into the parade with a dozen bands, and the railroad division will be headed by the United States Marine Band from Washington. Some of the floats which will be in line will be wondrously beautiful. The Germans are to have one designed by the famous sculptor Hans Schuler, who is now engaged directing work upon it.

The third day's parade will constitute one of the most interesting features of Jubilee week—the firemen's turnout. There will be in line all the Baltimore companies and as many as possible of the companies from out of town which aided in subduing the great fire. The place of honor in line will be given the out of town contingents and the Maryland boys who so promptly responded to the call for aid by their city cousins in time of peril will be given a distinctive place near the fore.

Baltimore will be swarmed with visitors during Jubilee week but assurance comes from headquarters that there will be provided ample room for all, many private families having expressed themselves ready to throw open their homes for the entertainment of the city's guests if it is necessary.

Suit has been brought in the Court of Common Pleas against the Western Maryland Railroad Company by Mr. Malcolm C. Holden, through Attorney William Colton, for $5000 damages. The plaintiff alleges that he was put off a train at New Windsor, Md., on August 2. He was compelled to spend several hours in a heavy downpour of rain, he complains, and returned to Baltimore a few hours later, suffering from the exposure.

Gen. John R. King, of this State, who served for a short time as commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, was presented with a silver service by the National Encampment at Minneapolis last week. Gen. King is U. S. Pension Agent at Washington, and is widely known to the members of the G. A. R. throughout the country.

REBELLION IN CUBA.

Cuba is in a ferment of revolution and the situation is viewed with interest and anxiety by the world. Many causes are assigned for the revolt. It is alleged that its leaders are moved by personal animosity toward the government and by desire to gratify their own ambition for advancement. Again it is reported that the government has used every method to practically convert the island into an oligarchy. It is expressly declared by the constitution that members of town councils shall be elected by the people. The government has ignored this provision and has appointed members of town councils all over the island.

Many arrests of prominent Cubans have been made, and warrants are outstanding for others. The famous guerrilla general Quentin Bandera has been killed in a fight with rural guards. His death is a severe blow to the revolutionists. The rebels are in control of San Juan de Martinez, on the Western railroad, and the management has been warned that if any more troops are sent over the road the bridges will be blown up. The despatches declare that many leading Cubans are assuring the government of their loyalty but that there is an ominous lukewarmness among the masses. The government claims that it will be able to suppress the revolution in two or three weeks, though it is by no means certain that it can make good its pretensions. Havana business men it is said express the opinion that the United States will have to intervene and annex the island before the rebellion can be crushed. The United States will preserve the attitude of non interference and will keep hands off unless the republic should collapse, in which event it would be its duty under the Platt amendment to intervene for the protection of life and property.

Two fires in Howard county occasioned by lightning occurred Tusday night during the thunderstorm that passed over that section. A large barrack on a farm of M. D. Groverman, near Oakdale Mills, Fifth district, in which was stored about 1,200 bushels of unthreshed wheat, was destroyed. The other was a barrack on the farm of Webb Snyder, in the fourth district, which contained 600 bushels of wheat, about 40 tons of hay and a lot of farming implements, all of which were destroyed.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Public School Matters.

The following circular, which has been sent to the teachers of the public schools of Carroll county, is self-explanatory:

WESTMINSTER, MD., Aug. 20, 1906.

To the Public School Teachers of Carroll county:

The Public Schools of Carroll county will open on Monday, September 10th, 1906. That is teaching will begin at that time, as the Teachers' Institute for Carroll will be held later in the school year, and proper and timely notice will be given in regard to holding the same. Several things have come in to make it unadvisable for us to hold the Institute at this time for this year.

Many reasons make it advisable for us to hold a meeting of the Carroll County Teachers' Association on Saturday, September 8th, 1906, in the High School building in Westminster, at 10 o'clock, A. M. I shall be glad to have as many as possible of the teachers attend this Association, which, not being within the school year, is not specially obligatory, but in many ways it will be an advantage to each teacher to be present. Those who so desire may come prepared to take out for the beginning of the year certain school supplies, such as paper, pens, chalk and other things needful at the opening of school.

Grand Mid-Summer Blanket Sale.

Genuine Reductions On Every Lot.

75c Blankets 49c.

Don't miss this rare offering, it will not happen soon again. These cotton Blankets are full size in white, gray and tan, actually worth 75c, during this sale 49c a pair.

Blankets at this time are a little abnormal. Yes, but listen—a money saving opportunity is always acceptable and this is certainly the greatest one of the season.

Think—ninety cents will pay for every dollar's worth of Blankets purchased at this sale, later you will be glad to get them at full value.

Consider—We made this vast purchase of over 1000 pairs of Blankets while the market was low. The same quality is worth one fourth more today. They are the product of the famous Muncy Mills, made of all wool, under the most sanitary processes.

They make their debut today.

11-4 Cotton Blankets.

These extra sized Blankets in white and gray will make good their mission, going at 75c, $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50. If we had to buy the same today, the price would be nearly a half more.

During this Special Sale lasting two Weeks, all Blankets listed below are subject to 10 per cent. discount after which they go to their original price.

10-4 Sanitary Gray's.

They are the Blankets we have sold so many of in the past seasons now $4.00 a pair, during this sale less the 10 per cent. makes the price but $3.60, really worth $5.00 today.

10-4 White Eiderdowns.

These blankets embrace the full meaning of their names. Softly finished, heavy weight, different colored borders, with silk bound edges, were $3.50 but the 10 per cent. discount puts them to $3.15 a pair.

10-4 Red and White Californias.

The glowing comfort produced from these Blankets can only be explained by actual experience. They are a very neatly woven $6.00 Blanket for $5.00 and during this sale less 10 per cent. the price is $4.50 a pair.

10-4 Gettysburg and Korea Grays.

These Blankets are among the nearest things to human warmth. Regular price $2.98 take off 10 per cent. and you get them for $2.68 a pair, genuine $4.00 Blankets.

Pen-Mar Scarlet Blankets

Are strongly fortified against the cold. Coming in strictly all wool.

10-4 regularly $3.98, less 10 per cent. now $3.68 worth $5.00.

11-4 regularly $5.00, less 10 per cent. now $4.50 worth $6.00.

11-4 Wool Wine White Blankets.

We had guard mount inspection and now ready to guard you against cold bleaky winter weather. They are extra large size, neatly decorated with a 6-inch blue border. The regular $3.50 kind, less the 10 per cent makes the price $3.15.

Hanover and Snow-Ball Blankets.

Here is the biggest bargain in the bunch—the color is white and prettily finished with pink and blue borders.

10-4 are $2.98 less 10 per cent. now $2.68 pair worth $4.00.

11-4 are $3.98 less 10 per cent. now $3.68 pair worth $5.00.
