REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,
ROBERT GARRETT,
OF BALTIMORE COUNTY.

ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6TH.

It is a little curious to find the Democratic State convention of Alabama endorsing Mr. Bryan and laying on the table a resolution to condemn government ownership of railroads, while Connecticut Democrats ignore the Nebraskan and his railroad theories. If Alabama can be considered as fairly representing Southern sentiment that section, in surrendering the doctrine of secession, must have become enamored of a strong central government. But then Democracy is nothing if not inconsistent.

Hoke Smith is, of course, to be Governor of Georgia. He has been selected by the Democrats of the State as their candidate, and that is tantamount to his election. He won out by a large majority by appeals to prejudice against the negro, and now one of the two leading candidates for the gubernatorial nomination of the Democratic party in South Carolina is covertly resorting to the same tactics. Why such a question should have influence for or against a Democrat in the South is something of a puzzle, as there is certainly no difference of opinion among Southern Democrats concerning it.

WILL THE SOUTH BE RECOGNIZED?

The Baltimore Sun has been commenting editorially upon the fact that, while the Southern States have for thirty years been voting solidly for Democratic candidates for President, not a single nominee of the party for that high office has been taken from that section. The Sun thinks the time has come when the policy of ignoring Southern men should be abandoned. Whether its arguments in that respect will have the effect designed remains to be seen. They are certainly logical and should be convincing. The following of the Republican party in the South—that is, in the States which formed the Southern Confederacy—is so meagre that that party is forced by the sheer logic of the situation to take its candidates from the States to which it must look for majorities. But the Democratic party has no such valid reason for ignoring the best and ablest of its supporters, who are found in the section which has been so long subjected to this treatment.

The South has submitted very patiently to his snubbing, its supposed devotion to the Democratic party apparently leading it to the willing sacrifice of its just claims to recognition because that course seemed necessary to give some show of party success. But while the people of that section still cherish a tender sentiment for the "Lost Cause," and are proud of the achievements of its Lees, Jacksons, Johnsons and other military leaders and heroes, there is no reason to doubt their genuine acceptance of the end of secession as a principle of the government and constitution of the country. They know and concede without equivocation that secession is past revivification. Further, they know that they are sharing in a condition of prosperity that could never have been theirs if they had been separated from the Union.

It is more than possible that their steadfast adhesion to the Democratic party has been due more largely to their fears of the Republican attitude on the negro question, than to their belief that the economic doctrines of that party would be conducive to Southern prosperity. But whatever the cause they have stood staunchly by their Democratic allies and it has been political cowardice on the part of the latter to demand that all Southern Democratic leaders efface themselves from aspirations for the highest honors that a party can bestow.

MR. BRYAN AND GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF RAILROADS.

Appended is an article which was written and put in type as an editorial for last week's SENTINEL, but which was crowded out by local items and advertisements. The article is still appropriate, however. The suggestion that to the consistent Democrat Mr. Bryan's advocacy of the government ownership of railroads must be a most objectionable theory is being verified by much adverse criticism from Democratic sources. But the Democracy is by no means harmonious on the subject. Mr. Bryan has a large following in the party and may control the national convention in 1908 and receive the nomination for the Presidency. Some Democrats who are hostile to his views, but realize his strength with the masses of the party, express the hope that he may be induced to recant, or, at least, consent to ignore the question entirely. But Mr. Bryan isn't one of the recanting kind, and it is not probable that he will be willing to go to that extent, even for the purpose of promoting party harmony. It is doubtful whether he will even agree to permit the question to be held in abeyance. But whatever course he may please to pursue it looks now as if he has thrown a firebrand into the party councils which will burn up all prospect of winning the election of 1908. Following is the article above referred to:

One of the incidents of Mr. Bryan's reception at New York, and perhaps its most important feature, was his speech on the occasion, at Madison Square Garden. He gave utterance to several opinions which, to speak mildly, are offensive to many of the Democrats of the country. Among these was his declaration in favor of the government ownership of trunk line railroads. To the consistent Democrat this must be a most objectional theory. Democrats have always expressed, in theory least—though their practice has not always been therewith consistent—determined opposition to the centralization of power in the General Government. Yet here comes the idol of a large number of Democrats and suggests a measure more thoroughly calculated to concentrate power in the National Goveanment than probably any other scheme that can be conceived. It is true, he applies his theory only to lines extending through more than one State, but even this means the addition of a million or more to the officers and employees of the government, and would make the central power almost as autocratic as that of the Czar of Russia.

Democrats are constantly charging the Republican party with centralizing tendencies and purposes, but here comes a suggestion from a man who is just now held to be the greatest Democrat of them all, that, if adopted, would give the General Government such power as its founders never dreamed of conferring upon it. It is not a matter of wonder that many Democrats are repudiating the suggestion, or that they may be counted upon to repudiate its author if he shall be the candidate of his party for the Presidency in 1908.

THE MAINE ELECTION.

Republicans Victorious, But By Reduced Majorities.

PROHIBITION RE-SUBMISSION THE PRINCIPAL ISSUE.

The State and congressional election in Maine on Monday resulted in a Republican victory, but pluralities were largely reduced through the introduction of an issue outside of national questions. This was the proposition to resubmit the subject of liquor license to the voters of the State. Maine was the birthplace of prohibition and rigid laws have existed in the State for half a century or more, prohibiting the sale of liquor. The Republicans opposed and the Democrats favored resubmission. The result shows that in cities and large towns public sentiment favors the license system. The Democrats carried nearly every town of consequence in the State on this issue, but the rural districts were unaffected by the question and gave their oldtime Republican majorities. The result, therefore, is the re-election of Gov. Wm. T. Cobb, Republican, by a plurality approximating 8,000 and the election of safe Republican majorities in both branches of the legislature. The Republicans also elect all four of the Congressmen from the State. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, conducted a vigorous campaign against Congressman Littlefield, who was a candidate for re-election and who had refused to vote in the House of Representatives for a measure supported by the labor leader. But Mr. Littlefield wins by a thousand plurality. So Maine is in the Republican column notwithstanding the issues and interests combined to bring about the defeat of the party. The result, under the circumstances, is not such as to encourage Democratic hopes of success throughout the country.

About 200 Jews were massacred and 1000 wounded in Siedlce, Russian Poland, Saturday night and Sunday last. It is said that the slaughter was deliberately planned and that so-called christians were warned by the soldiers to mark their homes with ikons before the butchery began. The homes and business houses of the Jews were looted, women were maltreated and the soldiers behaved more like savage brutes than human beings. Not a soldier was killed and few were injured. The story is almost too horrible for belief.

Pickett's Division Association of Confederate veterans and the Philadelpia Brigade Association of Union veterans will hold a reunion at the "Bloody Angle," on the Gettysburg battlefield, tomorrow. Mrs. Pickett, widow of the dead general who led the famous charge in the battle, will be present. An interesting feature of the reunion will be the presentation to the Pickett Association of the sword of General Armistead, at the spot where it was taken 43 years ago.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC, BALTIMORE, MD.

"God's love guard the love of thee
To me if ever we be parted."

It is into this graceful language that Ella Wheeler Wilcox and Luscombe Searelle have translated the ancient Hebraic word "Mispah" which they chose as the title of their new play to be seen at the Academy of Music, Baltimore, next week. The old testament book of Esther has furnished the groundwork for the dramatic production and with its magnificent scenic production, and the musical numbers with which the sentiment of the lines is enhanced and the stirring action intensified, places it entirely within the catalogue of dramatic romances.

THE BREATH OF LIFE.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes; "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A Union Sunday School rally will be held by the ladies of Thomas Chapel, Sept 22nd, beginning at 1.30 P. M., and continuing after night. Prominent speakers and special music will be in attendance; also a number of schools invited to take part in program. Refreshments sold for the benefit of the church. All are invited.

STARVING TO DEATH.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health Tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Sunday of Sept. 23rd will be Banner Day with Brandenburg Church. Service will begin at 10 A. M., and 7.30 P. M. You cannot afford to miss this. There will be notable speakers and singers present.

"TO CURE A FELON"

says Sam. Kendall, of Phillipsburg, Kan., "just cover it over with Bucklen's Arnica Salve and the Salve will do the rest." Quickest cure for Burns, Boils, Sores, Scalds, Wounds, Piles, Salt Rheum, Eczema, Chapped Hands, Sore Feet and Sore Eyes. Only 25c at all drug stores. Guaranteed.

WELL WORTH TRYING.

W. H. Brown, the popular pension attorney, of Pittsfield, Vt., says: "Next to a pension, the best thing to get is Dr. King's New Life Pills." He writes: "they keep my family in splendid health." Quick cure for Headache, Constipation and Biliousness. 25c. Guaranteed at all drug stores.

A notable day for Deer Park M. P. Church, Sept. 30th. Re opening of the church. Preaching by Rev. F. T. Tagg, D. D., at 10.30 A. M., and 2.30 P. M. All former residents are invited. Dinner on the ground. Excellent music. Bring your money along.

The farm is well watered by a running stream. About twenty or twenty-five acres of this farm is covered with a heavy growth of hickory, oak and chestnut timber. There are about ten acres of meadow land, (all can be cultivated), the balance of the land is under a high state of cultivation, and it all well fenced.

This property is situate on the county road leading from Warfieldsburg to Dennings and about midway between said places, and adjoins the lands of Thomas S. Jones, Albin Duvall and others and the next described property, and is now occupied by the undersigned, David B. Haines.
