REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,
ROBERT GARRETT,
OF BALTIMORE COUNTY.

ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6TH.

If you want employment all the year round, and honest money for pay, vote for your Republican candidate for Congress.

If you approve of the splendid work of the first session of the 59th Congress, vote for your Republican candidate for Congress and for more of the same kind of legislation in the Sixtieth Congress.

If you prefer the progress and prosperity of the present time to the business disasters and idleness of ten years ago, under Democracy and a low tariff, vote for your Republican candidate for Congress.

It is now stated that the cost of the transportation of troops and other extraordinary expenses, incurred by the United States in preparing for intervention in Cuba, must be paid out of the Cuban treasury. This is only just, but it will be a little hard on Cuba. Still, her people must be taught to maintain a peaceable and stable government and should be willing to pay the expenses of the schoolmaster through whom she is learning the lesson.

United States Senator Rayner is the victim of a horrible nightmare. Whichever way he turns his gaze he sees looming up in dark and threatening characters, ever enlarging and expanding until it fills his entire vision, the one word, "Annexation." It covers Guatemala, Santo Domingo, Cuba, and as many of the Central American States as can be crowded in. "Wait," he says, "until we finish this business, and then the American people will realize what the ambitionof the President has accomplished when it is too late to retrieve."

With all his talent for sarcastic snarling Mr. Rayner is making himself ridiculous by attributing schemes of this character to Mr. Roosevelt.

The Democratic party appears to be drifting into Socialism. But its going after false gods is nothing new. Rag money, free silver, populism and other issues have each had its turn in alliance with so-called Democracy. And now the party in the great State of New York, with its nearly 2,000,000 voters, has endorsed Wm. R. Hearst as its candidate for Governor, after he had been nominated by the Independence League, a socialistic organization. No wonder many prominent Democrats are praying for Hearst's overwhelming defeat, believing, as they do, that his election will mean a wild scramble of the Democratic rank and file to get on the socialistic band wagon. In the meantime the best thing any real Democrat can do for the benefit of his party is to help elect an overwhelming Republican Congress. If the Democratic party is to live and hold an influential relation to governmental affairs it must be severely disciplined by its real adherents.

DEMOCRATIC TEXT BOOK.

The text book of a political party is as a rule the key-note to the campaign to be made by that party. The keynote of the Democratic party has been sounded by the text book which has just been issued, and it is a key-note of reckless misrepresentation. The recklessness of the text book is shown by its reference to President Roosevelt as having done more to befriend the trusts and corporations, and having shown more disregard of law than any of his predecessors. There is art even in lying, and there is such nonsense in lying as to make the lie helpful to the object of it. This lie regarding President Roosevelt is of the latter character. It is so ridiculous as to be humorous, and it will injure only the Democrat who treats it as other than a huge joke.

President Roosevelt a friend of trusts and monopolies, indeed? Ask the trust promoters why they are opposed to Roosevelt. President Roosevelt has given life and vitality to the Anti-Trust laws, all of which have been enacted by Republican Congresses. The Sherman Anti-trust Law was enacted under the Harrison Administration, and several important cases were prosecuted and won by that Administration. But under the Cleveland Administration the law was a dead letter because no effort was made by Attorney-General Olney to enforce it. President Cleveland expressed his disbelief in the law in his message to Congress, and the Democratic Congress expressed its inability to amend the law or do anything to regulate the trusts.

President McKinley had a foreign war on his hands and many foreign questions to deal with, but he managed to find time to prosecute the trusts that were organized in defiance of law. But President Roosevelt took up this question in his first message, and he followed that with the successful prosecution of the Northern Securities Company as organized in violation of the Sherman Act. It was dissolved, and that was only the beginning of the trust prosecutions by President Roosevelt. More cases have been brought and won by the Attorney-General under this Administration than under all the administrations that preceded it. It will be news to the trust promoters that President Roosevelt has shown partiality to them and befriended them. It will be news to the general public who knows the facts. It will also be news to the public that President Roosevelt has violated or ignored the law. He has been the most rigid enforcer of the law, not only against the trusts, but against all others who have violated the law, even when this punished some of his own friends and officeholders.

It is a good thing for Republicans who are not too well known to the whole country that the Democratic text book editors have followed the old adage of striking high and at a shining light. The public knows just how much value is to be given to the attacks on the President, and the public can put the same value on all other misrepresentations of Republican policies from that source.

Mr. Robert Garrett, the Republican candidate for Congress, has been spending several days in this county, this week, and has met many citizens who, without exception, have been pleased with his manly demeanor and his adherence to purity in politics. Leading Democrats and friends of Mr. Talbott have been heard to speak in the highest terms of Mr. Garrett's character.

DUTY OF EVERY CITIZEN.

This is a "government of the people, by the people, and for the people," and the mere statement of that fact implies that it is the duty of every citizen qualified to take part in the administration, either directly or indirectly, to do so. It needs no argument to demonstrate that it is a high privilege to be vested with such a right, but that it is more than a privilege. It is an obligation and carries with it a responsibility which cannot be delegated. It lies upon each individual who possesses the right to a voice in choosing the officers by whom the government is administered.

An election is to be held in this State on Tuesday, November 6, for the purpose of selecting six Representatives in the Lower House of Congress. It is an election of more than ordinary importance, though but a single candidate is to be elected in each Congressional district. Often citizens of worth and high standing regard such elections with indifference and are unwilling to to take the time required to go to the polls and vote. Or they may refrain from voting upon the theory that duty does not require it, or that, in fact, they should not vote, because by refraining from doing so they cannot be held in any degree responsible for errors and wrongs in government. This is not logical.

Take, for instance, conditions in some parts of the Second Congressional district. It is notorious that the gambling and liquor laws of the State are openly and flagrantly violated in some of the resorts in Baltimore county That liquor saloons are kept wide open on Sunday and all sorts of gambling devices are, on such occasions, in full blast. These conditions are directly chargeable to the influence of Mr. Talbott, the Democratic candidate for Congress in this district. The keepers of the dives and saloons in which the laws are violated, are, without exception, said to be his friends, and it is openly charged that they have escaped prosecution through his influence.

Is it necessary to engage in argument to prove that it is obligatory upon good citizens—at least upon those who entertain political opinions at variance with those of Mr. Talbott—to vote at the coming election for his competitor, in order to put an end to the influence he exerts for the protection of the wrong doers? Has not that malign influence been exerted too long already? Republicans of Carroll county, will you not give your aid in stamping it out by going to the polls and voting for Robert Garrett, one of the purest public men now, or ever heretofore, in this State? By every consideration of duty and responsibility, you owe it, in this crisis, to make your vote count on the side of pure and clean government. Do not fail in the discharge of that duty, by failing to cast your ballot at the election on the 6th of November.

The President's Cuban Policy From a Southern Standpoint.

The Republicans of this country are not singular in their approval of President Roosevelt's Cuban policy. He finds, not only apologists, but warm supporters in some Southern newspapers. For instance, Senator Rayner's tirade against him elicited the following from the Winchester, Va., Evening Star, a staunch Democratic paper:

Senator Rayner is no doubt a very bright man, but he lacks knowledge of the public opinion of this country.

His attack upon the President because of Cuban intervention is neither appropriate nor popular.

If in that regard President Roosevelt is culpable it is not that he has gone too far, but that he has not gone far enough. Cuba must and will belong to the United States and the sooner the better.

Democratic criticism of the President founded neither on equity nor intelligence always reacts upon the party.

This is, practically, an acknowledgement of the fact that the President has done nothing to overthrow Cuban sovereignty, which Senator Rayner took it for granted he had done in deciding to interfere for the restoration of peace and the rehabilitation of stable government in Cuba. But it is far more than that. It is a point blank declaration in favor of the acquisition of our troublesome neighbor, a course which is not generally favored by Republicans.

Of course the Southern press is not a unit on the subject, as will be seen by the following from the Orangeburg, S. C., Times and Democrat:

We think it cowardly and contemptible on the part of the United States to treat Cuba as she is treating her. What right has the United States to run rough shod over the Cuban people simply because she has the power to do so? None whatever.

But the Times and Democrat's opinion is sharply condemned by other South Carolina papers, among them being the Newberry Observer, also strongly Democratic, which, commenting on the aforegoing, says:

Would it be contemptible for a big, strong man, a near relative, to step in and prevent two boys from cutting each other's throat? That is about the situation with Cuba. The government and the insurgents were at the point of war—their armies had gathered for a slaughter. The United States stepped in and brought about peace. It was not only not cowardly and not contemptible, but was a worthy act, and will receive the well-done of all nations and all people—except a few Americans who can see no good in their own government, and who criticise and carp at everything the government does.

Rev. Sam Jones, the noted evangelist, died suddenly on a sleeping car of the Rock Island Railroad, near Perry, Ark., of heart disease, on Monday morning. He was just 59 years old, having been born in Chambers county, Ala., October 17, 1847. His body was embalmed and sent to his home at Cartersville, Ga. Mr. Jones was in early life a lawyer by profession and cared very little about religion. In fact he led a rather riotous life. About the third of a century ago he was converted and abandoned the legal profession for the ministry of the M. E. Church and after several years adopted evangelistic work, in which he became widely celebrated. He was the author of many quaint and expressive, though not always refined, sayings. He leaves a widow and two daughters.

Mr. George A. Bauer, of Highlandtown, Baltimore county, on Thursday week, filed his papers at the State Department in Annapolis as an independent Socialist candidate for Congress in the Second district. The petition is signed by 336 declared voters, 17 of whom reside within the limits of Baltimore city.

The Maryland State Sunday School Convention.

The Maryland State Sunday School convention was held in Baltimore on the 11th and 12th inst., and was a great gathering. It required three large churches to accommodate its meetings. The last meeting was held in the Lyric, and was attended by about two thousand people. A trained chorus of 300 voices furnished the music. Addresses were delivered by Marion Lawrence, International Field Secretary, and Rev. Dr. Phillips, of Richmond. A School of Methods, beginning on the 6th, preceded the convention, and was attended by two hundred students. The Maryland Sunday School Association is doing a great work and merits a generous support. Governor Warfield presented diplomas to sixty-five graduates and delivered to them an admirable address.

Potomac Synod, Reformed Church.

Patomac Synod, Reformed Church in the United States, is in session at Chambersburg, Pa., having begun its sessions in Zion Reformed Church at that place on Tuesday evening. The body consists of about 150 clerical and lay delegates and represents the following eight classes: Zions, Gettysburg, Carlisle, Mercersburg, Juniata, Pa.; Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina. Rev. Dr. J. M. Schick, of Washington, D. C., pastor of the Church attended by President Roosevelt, presided at Wednesday morning's session. Rev. H. H. Apple, of York, Pa., preached the opening sermon and Mr. W. J. Zacharias delivered the address of welcome. Hon. W. Rush Gillan, of Chambersburg, spoke yesterday on "Education in the Reformed Church." Today the members of the synod are at Mercersburg taking part in the dedication of Louck's Hall, of the Mercersburg Academy, the great school built up at that place by Prof. W. Mann Irvine, and which now has about 400 students. The unveiling of a portrait of Rev. Dr. Henry Harbaugh is an event in connection with the unveiling.

Little Ethelyn was our darling,
Pride of all our hearts and home,
But an angel whispered softly
Little Ethelyn, do come home.

Farewell mama and papa dear,
I know 'tis sad without me here;
Jesus calls I must obey,
For I was quickly called away.

By her parents.

Safe at home, so pure and happy,
I will always want to stay;
How my little hand doth beckon
Mama, papa, come this way.

Grandmother Shipley.

In loving memory of our dear infant sister, who died April 11th, 1905, and our dear cousin, Myrl Yingling, who died October 15th, 1906, aged 3 months.

Sleep on little sister, and cousin, sleep
And take thy rest; lay down thy head on
The dear Saviour's breast. We loved them
Well but Jesus loved them best.
When the angels brought the message
That our cousin Myrl must go
None but mothers who have lost one
Could our grief and sorrow know.
We shall see them, yes, some day,
Will be like them when taken away.
Farewell dear sister and cousin Myrl,
Till we meet on the golden shore.

The Latest Fashions

In Suits
$10 to $20

Long Coats are the thing, with long, narrow lapels and semi-shaped backs. The newest idea is to have no vent in back, though many men prefer side or centre vents. All coats are "three button" this year, and those cut either "straight-front" or nearly so, are considered the best style. Colors are mostly dark mixtures,—black, blue, and brown —though greys are still very popular. Plain colors are always stylish.

In Overcoats
$10 to $20

The latest is the "French Flare-Back" model, of which you get some idea from the picture. This is a semi-fitting garment with wide skirts and a deep centre-vent in back, made of the new worsteds and other appropriate fabrics. Rain Coats, both loose and form fitting, are more popular than ever, while the Top-Coat is a garment always in style. Paddocks and Box-Coats are also among the fashionable over-garments of the year.
