It will interest the friends of Mrs. Alexander A. C. Klaucke in this county to learn that she has gone from Dresden, Saxony, Germany, to Weisbaden, Germany, where her address is Emserstrasse 12, and where she expects to remain until after March next.

We are deeply grieved to learn that Mr. Howard M. Zile, of Winfield, is extremely ill and that all hope of his recovery has been abandoned. Mr. Zile is one of the best citizens of this county and his death, which seems nearly impending, will be a great loss to Winfield and the surrounding country for a long distance.

Residents of this city hardly need to be reminded that Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte, Secretary of the United States Navy, and Robert Garrett, Esq., the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, will address a meeting at Odd Fellows' Hall tonight. Indications are that a great crowd will be present to hear them.

Several persons have recently sent us obituary and in memoriam verses for publication without intimating that they intended to pay therefor. Possibly they may have supposed that such publications are made gratuitously. This is an error. The charge for obituaries, in memoriams and tributes of respect is five cents a line.

A splendid monument to the late Gen. Wm. H. Gibson, of Tiffin, Ohio, was unveiled in that city a few days ago. Gen. Gibson was a distinguished soldier in the Civil War, in which he fought in forty-two batteries. The occasion of the unveiling of the monument has especial interest to many of the Westminster people on account of the fact that an address was delivered on the occasion by Mayor Leister, of Tiffin, who is a son of Mr. Simon A. Leister, formerly of this city.

Hagerstown correspondence of Monday's Baltimore Sun says: "Dr. Baughman, of Westminster, and Hill Ardinger, the river guide, and Motter Faughlander, of Williamsport, caught 200 pounds of bass in the Big Pool along the potomac last week. Faughlander landed a four-and-a-half pounder bass." But this is a fish story, "and it grew, and it grew, and it grew." It is due to Westminster's postmaster, however, whose skill with rod and gun are proverbial, to say that he is not responsible for the story.

As usual in this city Hallowe'en was marked by some acts that had better have been left undone, Upsetting wagons, displacing steps and throwing them into the streets, removing signs, shutters and gates, stealing thermometers &c., may look like fun to the perpetrators, but are wrongful and reprehensible actions and should not be indulged in.

The SENTINEL is indebted to Mr. J. Pearre Wantz, secretary of the Maryland State Firemen's Association, for a copy of the printed report of the proceedings of the fourteenth annual convention of that organization, held in this city, on the 6th, 7th and 8th of last June. The report is illustrated with halftone pictures of the officers of the association, members of the executive commitee, and chairmen of other commitees, among them being those of Mr. Wantz, the secretary; John M. Roberts, Esq., of the executive commitee, and Edward C. Tipton, of Hampstead, chairman of the auditing commitee.

Henry C. Turner, deputy game warden of Washington county, was convicted of murder in the second degree, in the Circuit Court for Allegany county, on Saturday last, and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in the Maryland Penitentiary, for killing Joshua Ohler. The testimony showed that Turner was attemping to arrest Ohler for violation of the fish laws of the State in taking bass from the Potomac during a closed season, or in having had the fish in his possession. Ohler resisted arrest and pushed Turner into the river. He fell into water waist deep and at once began to shoot with his revolver, firing four shots one of which caused Ohler's death. Ohler was 72 years old and Turner 52. Ohler formerly resided in this county, and was regarded as a desperate character.

Mr. Nelson Yingling, a farmer near Eastview, met with a serious accident on Wednesday afternoon while returning from Baltimore, where he had taken a load of produce. In descending the hill at Owings Mills he leaned forward to adjust something about the harness on one of the horses and the jostling of the wagon caused him to fall out on the tongue. The horses became frightened and ran away, dragging him quite a distance until they finally ran into some obstruction which arrested their flight. Persons who witnessed the runaway went to his assistance and he was carried, unconscious, into the residence of a citizen of the town, where he was attended by Dr. Campbell. Four hours elapsed before he regained consciousness. Yesterday he was brought to his home near Eastview by Mr. E. B. Arnold, in his automobile. Dr. J. T. Hering, of this city, was called to see him and found him badly bruised about the shoulders, arms and legs. Four of his ribs were broken and his head was bruised, but no evidence of fracture could be discovered. He had made a very narrow escape from death and it will be a considerable time before he recovers from his injuries.

Mr. J. Albert Mitten, son of the manager of the SENTINEL, was elected secretary and assistant treasurer of the Lake Drummond Canal and Water Company, by the board of directors, on Friday last and entered upon his duties on Monday. Five years ago Mr. Mitten began his business life as stenographer to J. H. Price, former freight auditor of the Western Maryland Railroad. Two years later he was promoted to the office of manager under the administration of Mr. H. G. Clark, and when the latter retired was transferred to the office of General Manager Robertson. From this he goes to the responsible station above referred to. These promotions are the best evidences of Mr. Mitten's ability and trustworthiness. The company with which he is now associated has offices in the Maryland Trust Building. Mr. B. H. Griswold is its president and Messrs. Alexander Brown and W. B. Brooks, leading financiers of Baltimore, are among its directors. The canal is a water connection between Norfolk and Pamlico and Albermarle Sounds through Lake Drummond and the Dismal Swamp, is about sixty miles long and is to be made navigable for vessels of a large class.

Entertaining a Pastor.

The Society of "Willing Workers" of the Methodist Protestant Church of this city gave a supper to their pastor, Rev. L. F. Warner, and wife, at the residence of the Misses Forrest, East Green street, on Tuesday evening. There were thirty-five persons present. An excellent supper of chicken, oysters, ice cream and other delicacies was served and most heartily enjoyed. The parlor and dining room were decorated with chrysanthemums and potted plants. The society, of which Miss Maggie Ellis is president, is doing a splendid work in the church, and is a great help to the pastor, and it was to show their appreciation and love for him that the supper was given with so much success.

Gorsuch, Mrs. William Sellers, Misses Annie Murray, Lena Brenning, Eurith Zentz, Rev. S. F. Cassen, Mr. Stephen Parrish, Masters Lester Patterson and Guy Zentz. Caple and Miss Etta Zepp, of Eastview.

Clever Detective Work.

The Baltimore Evening News tells of a piece of clever detective work by Miss Effie Smith, daughter of Mr. Christian H. Smith, of Bachman's Valley. Miss Smith is employed in a music store, on South Broadway, Baltimore, from which, recently, 18 phonograph records were stolen. Their disappearance was detected by her immediately after two women, one of whom had a bandaged hand, had left the store. While confident that one of these women had taken the records, Miss Smith had no knowledge of who they were or where they resided. She had, however, overheard the woman with the bandaged hand, tell her companion that her husband had injured her hand and that she had had him arrested and taken to the Eastern Police Station. To this station Miss Smith and the proprietor of the store went and found that the man arrested was a certain saloon keeper. They then went to the saloon and as they approached it heard a phonograph playing an air which Miss Smith recognized as one of the numbers included in the stolen records. The wife of the proprietor proved to be the woman with the bangaged hand and when charged with the theft confessed and restored the stolen property. She was not prosecuted.

Appeals From Registrars.

Six appeals from the action of registrars of voters in this county, at their recent sittings, upon petition to the Circuit Court, were heard before Judge Thomas on Monday. Among the cases was that of Samuel E. Corbin, who was refused registration in Franklin district. In that case the action of the registrars was overruled and they were ordered to register the applicant.

The other appeals were of five parties whose names were stricken from the lists and who sought the interposition of the court to secure their reinstatement. Four of them were refused, immediately upon the hearing. They were: Wm. H. Todd, colored, Second precinct of Westminster district; James A. G. Fossett, Mt. Airy district; Chas. E. Boyd, Second precinct of Taneytown district; John T. Bellison, Mt. Airy district.

The other petitioner was Judge Harry M. Clabaugh, whose name was stricken from the list of registered voters of the First precinct of Taneytown district. The court did not reach a decision in this case immediately, but held it under consideration.

The ground upon which Judge Clabaugh's name was stricken from the list was, presumably, that he is a resident of the District of Columbia, being Chief Judge of the District Court. On the other hand the contention is that he is a legal resident of Taneytown, where he has a furnished home and, to all interests and purposes, resides with his family several months every year. The court, however, refused his appllcation for reinstatement.

Judge Clabaugh was represented at the hearing of his petition before Judge Thomas by Messrs. Roberts & Crouse and the other petitioners by Jos. D. Brooks, Esq. Geo. O. Brilhart, Esq., appeared for the registrars.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. R. L. Crawford, of Uniontown.

The wedding was a very pretty one and the ushers, Messrs Elmer E. Hesson, the bride's brother, and Leonard Barrick, of Woodsboro, found difficulty in seating the many friends who had gathered to witness the ceremony. The bride was becomingly attired in blue Panama cloth, with hat to match. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Claude H. Barrick, of Woodsboro, wore a dark blue silk. The groom wore a black Prince Albert coat while his best man, Mr. Claude H. Barrick, was dressed in a black cutaway. Two weeks ago the SENTINEL told about Mrs. Harry J. Babylon, residing between this place and Frizellburg, having been kicked by a colt and severely injured. Another accident occurred in the same neighborhood on Sunday last. Charles Miller, aged about seventeen years, son of Mr. Geo. W. Miller, undertook to ride an unbroken mule belonging to Mr. Edward Strevig and was thrown by the animal, which then kicked him and fractured both bones of his left leg about four inches above the ankle. The fracture was adjusted by Drs. Rinehart and Benson.

On Monday night Mr. Daniel Warehime, also of the same neighborhood, was in the village and hitched his horse, attached to a stick wagon, in front of Mr. Howard T. Wantz's store. About half-past ten o'clock the animal broke loose and ran away, dashing through the village at full speed and making quite a clatter. At the mill the wagon was wrecked, the horse kicked himself free and continued his flight, running along roads and across fields for a distance of four or five miles, and coming to a stop in a field of Dr. Rinehart's farm near Tyrone, where he was found Tuesday morning.

Mr. David E. Myerly, near this place, is suffering very much from an injury to one of his limbs, caused by a timber falling on it at the barn raising of Mr. Samuel Harman, near Mayberry, about two weeks ago.

Rev. Jas. B. Stonesifer administered the holy communion to a large congregation on Sunday last. A class of eight was confirmed the day previous.

Recently Mrs. John Roser's cows did not give as large a yield of milk as usual, and she could not account for it, but one morning she discovered the cause. On going to the stable she found some pigs helping themselves to fresh milk from the cows. Mr. Roser lives near Krideler's school house.

One night recently some one tried to gain entrance into both Mr. Damer's and Mr. Snyder's houses, but were scared away; not, however, before some of the inmates were very much frightened.

Piano Recital.

Miss Alice Rich, the piano teacher at Western Maryland College, gave a delightful recital at Alumni Hall last Friday night before a large and appreciative audience. Miss Rich is an artist of exceptional ability for recital work and her program was most wisely arranged to give pleasure as well as to show her mastery of the piano. In the Concerto, which formed the closing number, the orchestral part was admirably played by Miss Charlotte Herron, Miss Rich's assistant in the piano work at the college. The numbers of the program were:

The members of Carroll Encampment No. 17, I. O. O. F., 25 in number, after the business of a special meeting on Friday evening last, took up the line of march to the Buchman Hotel, where the host and hostess had a three course oyster supper in readiness, to which all did full justice. At its conclusion cigars were passed and a social smoke enjoyed.

The festival and supper by the members of Manchester Rebekah Lodge, No. 18, I. O. O. F., on Saturday evening last, proved quite a success socially and financially. The ladies enjoyed a liberal patronage and served more than one hundred suppers; in which the toothsome waffle and cream chicken were large factors. The confectionery, cake and ice cream tables did a fine business, selling all their wares, so that in the wind up the committee swelled the treasury with $50 by the evening's work.

Rev. S. M. Roeder preached his farewell sermon in Trinity Reformed Church of this place on Sunday evening to a large audience. The church has a capacity of between five and six hundred and was full even to the gallery. Every available hitching post in and about the churches and many on Main street were taken up by the teams that brought persons from the other congregations and every section of the surrounding country. This fine audience was gratifying to the speaker who commanded the closest attention to his kind and sincere sayings as parting words to a people he had served 13 years and 5 months. Rev. Roeder held the second place in length of service of all the ministers who have hitherto served the Manchester charge. Rev. Jacob Geiger had the first, having served 31 years and 9 months. Rev. Dr. Rupp served nearly 12 years, Rev. Hoffmeier 10 and others less periods. As a closing part of his discourse Mr. Roeder gave the statistics of his labors &c. The membership of the charge is as follows: Manchester 329, Lineboro 176, Snydersburg 51, total 556; baptisms, Manchester 147, Lineboro 75, Snydersburg 31, total 253; confirmations, Manchester 104, Lineboro 77, Snydersburg 19, total 200; deaths, Manchester 82, Lineboro 32, Snydersburg 6, total 120; received by certificate, 84, dismissed 80; marriages, 98; collected for benevolence, $3,853, an average of $296 per annum; for congregational purposes, including minister's salary, $18,537, an average of $1400 per annum; for Manchester Church repairs, twice, $3000. During these years he traveled 13000 miles attending to his ministerial duties. He left with his family and effects on Wednesday for his new field of labor at Glen Rock. Messrs. Harvey Rhodes, Allen and Clinton Lippy, Theo. Strevig, Frank Warner, Wm. Rhodes and Wesley Snyder, with large teams, transported the furniture &c., to the new home. The members of the Glen Rock charge can congratulate themselves on securing an earnest, faithful christian pastor, whose daily walk and conversation betokens the full dignity of the ministerial office.

Misses Emma and Ada Trump royally entertained the members of the Sewing Circle on Thursday evening of last week. Mrs. Wm. H. Shower had them at her home on the 26th ult., as an introductory to the season's meetings after the summer's vacation. A great deal of fine needle work is done at the meetings and many new ideas are weekly presented to be reduced to practice which make the meetings of more than passing interest.
