On Tuesday night Sulphur Spring Lodge No. 130, I. O. O. F., of New Windsor, instituted Banner Encampment No. 36, starting with 82 members. The grand lodge officers were present and helped to organize the encampment. Refreshments were served and a good time enjoyed by all the members.

Temperatures far higher than the seasonable average prevailed in this locality from Friday till Sunday last. The highest range of the thermometer on Friday was about 85°. Monday was much cooler and by Tuesday the mercury had gone down to a minimum of 32 degrees or less. It was very dry, however, and no damage to fruit is anticipated.

The numeipal authorties of this city are having a number of concrete crossins made on East Main street. These crossings, if of sufficient strength to bear the heavy wagon traffic over the street, will be a great convenience to the citizens generally. They are being so constructed as to interfere as little as possible with carriage and wagon driving, and the authorities are to be commeuded for recognizing their necessity and of providing for them in a liberal way.

The executive committee of the Carroll county Christian Endeavor Union met at Union Bridge on Saturday, 16th inst., to arrange for holding the annual convention. May 9th and 10th were selected as the date for the convention, which is to be held at Union Bridge, Chairmen of the several committees charged with making arrangements for the meeting were named, as follows: Convention Committee, Rev. Bennett, founder of the church; Mrs. Charlotte Killmon, Mrs. Wilson Kirby Penn, Miss Charlotte Killmon and Miss Amelia Devilbiss. Supper was served after the baptismal ceremony.

Friends and acquaintances of Mr. William D. Lovell, one of the deputy clerks of the Circuit Court for this county, will readily recognize his picture as it appeared in the Baltimore Sun of Sunday last, though it does not flatter him at all. Mr. Lovell is a prominent member of Sulphur Spring Lodge No. 130, I. O. O. F., New Windsor, was a leader in the work of establishing an encampment at that place and is District Deputy Grand Master. It is in connection with his prominence in Odd Fellowship that the Sun published his picture.

In the christian world this is universally known as Holy Week. It began with Palm Sunday, the day set apart by the church to commemorate the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem, amidst the Hosannas of the multitude which thronged the way, upon which they cast their garments or cut down branches from the palm trees lining the descent of the Mt. of Olives, and strewed them in the way. The day and the week have been solemnly observed by most of the Churches of this city, with nightly religious services, and tonight the Lutheran and Reformed Churches will hold services preparatory to the Holy Communion on Easter Day, this being Good Friday, or the day which commemorates the crucifixion of Our Lord.

Mr. W. O. Hiltabidle, train-master and chief dispatcher of the Western Maryland Railroad, has been appointed general car distributor for the entire system of the Southern Railway, with headquarters in Washington.

The store and dwelling of Oscar Baumgardner, at West Falls, was destroyed by fire Thursday night, 21st inst. Mr. Baumgardner had just reopened his store with a full stock of goods. He was away from home at the time. The loss is about $1,200, partly covered by insurance.

At the sale of the personal property of Mr. Jacob M. Fitze, near this city, on Friday of last week horses brought from $130 to $200; mules $320 for one pair, and $280 for another pair; cows from $40 to $61 and farm implements at high figures. The sale was largely attended. Mr. Fitze advertised his sale in the SENTINEL, besides handbills.

Mr. Matthew Harner, of Taneytown, has in his possession a copy of the New Testament, which he picked up on Little Round Top the day after the close of the battle of Gettysburg. He exhibited the volume at the SENTINEL office on Thursday and said he would be glad to deliver it to its owner or his relatives. It is well preserved and in good condition, Mr. Harner having taken the best possible care of it. Written on the fly-leaf is the name of Charles Smith, Co. M, Second Pennsylvania Cavalry.

Arm Crushed by Wagon.

Mr. Edward H. Bowersox, a driver for the Roller Mills, of North Branch, Baltimore county, is at the Barnard Sanitarium, suffering from a badly crushed arm as the result of being run over by a heavily loaded hay wagon which he was driving on Tuesday. The team ran away on the road near Pikesville and in trying to stop it Mr. Bowersox fell under the wheels, two of which passed over his arm. Mr. Bowersox, is a son of Mr. E. D. Bowersox, of this vicinity and son-in-law of Mr. Joshua Stevenson, near city.

Suicide at Hampstead.

Mr. Andrew L. Lippy, of Hampstead, committed suicide on Wednesday afternoon by hanging himself in the livery stable of Mr. T. W. Murray, at that place. No cause for this act of self-destruction has been suggested. Mr. Lippy was in a despondent frame of mind for some time before, but no reason for his despondency was known, nor was any evidence of its cause adduced before the coroner's jury summoned by Justice William A. Abbott to inquire into the case. The only fact brought out was that the death was undoubtedly the result of the unfortunate man's own act.

Mr. Lippy was a son of the late Joseph Lippy, of Brummel, and was about 40 years old. He was married and his wife survives him him, with a daughter, Miss Grace Lippy, and a son, Edward Lippy. He also leaves a number of brothers and sisters. His funeral takes place this afternoon in Hampstead.

Rise of a Westminster Boy.

It was mentioned in the SENTINEL last week that Mr. Harry M. Kimmey, an efficient and courteous clerk in the Westminster postoffice, had resigned to accept a responsible position in Philadelphia, his resignation to take effect April 1st. He goes to Mr. W. T. Wescott, a manufacturer of high grade confectionery, and will study the business carefully for the purpose of preparing himself for the duties of assistant manager of the establishment. Thus far Mr. Kimmey's career has been marked with great success. Seven years ago he was a stable boy, but he was not long held in that humble station. He is a carriage trimmer and worked at the trade about four years at shops in this city. While learning the trade he studied diligently and at length took a Civil Service examination, in which he made a very creditable grade. While performing his duties in the postoffice to the entire satisfaction of the authorities he became interested in advertisement writing in which he speedily became an adept.

Mr. Kimmey has taken a very active part in all the work of Centenary M. E. Church, of which he is a member, and from which he will be greatly missed when he leaves this city.

Met After Forty-three Years.

The Baltimore American of Monday last relates the following incident, which will interst many readers of the SENTINEL:

"Dr. L. Monmonier, of Long Green, and Dr. J. H. Billingslea, of Westminster, had the pleasure of meeting each other last week at Towson for the first time in forty years, since they were both students at the medical department of the University of Maryland. Dr. Monmonier is serving on the jury at Towson and Dr. Billingslea was there as president of the Reisterstown Turnpike Company in a case against the company. The two physicians had a long chat, going over reminiscenses of their university days. They could only recall three other physicians now living who attended the university with them—Dr. Frank Shaw, of Westminster; Dr. Richards, of St. Marys county, and Dr. Benzinger, of Baltimore. After leaving the university Dr. Monmonier served as assistant surgeon during the Civil War."

The American might have added the interesting fact that Drs. Billingslea and Shaw have both been clerks of the Circuit Court for Carroll county, the former serving one term and the latter resigning during his second term to become a member of Congress.

Maryland Day at Westminster High School.

Maryland Day was celebrated at the Westminster High School on Monday, March 25. The program rendered by the school was of a historical character, relating to the topic assigned by the State Board of Education. Many interesting facts in connection with the State's history were brought out in the several essays prepared by pupils of the high school grades, and by the excellent address delivered by Dr. Geo. W. Ward, principal of the Maryland State Normal School of Baltimore. The program, which was extremely well rendered, was as follows:

Union Mills Items.

The Cantata of "Ruth, the Gleaner," was produced in a very creditable manner, at our village hall, on Saturday evening last, by members of the Lutheran Church of Silver Run. A good sized audience was present.

Lewis Kirkhoff had the little finger of his right hand so badly lacerated by a corn sheller, at Mr. Daniel Leppo's sale, last week, that it had to be amputated at the first joint. Dr. G. L. Wetzel performed the operation.

Mr. Harvey J. Maus sold to Mr. Harry F. Cover & Son, this week, a fat Durham bull that weighed 2100 lbs.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mrs. Harriet P. Seabrook.

Mrs. Harriet Philipina Seabrook, wife of Wm. L. W. Seabrook, editor of this paper, died very suddenly of heart failure, at her home on East Green street, this city, about 8 40 P. M. on Tuesday, aged nearly 70 years. She was born at Mt Philip, near Frederick, a historic homestead, which had been the residence of Dr. Philip Thomas, a prominent Marylander, and which was then owned by her father, April 15th, 1837. She was married to Mr. Seabrook, in Frederick, September 4, 1855, the late Rev. Dr. George Diehl, then pastor of the Lutheran Church of Frederick, having performed the marriage ceremony. In 1857 her husband was elected Commissioner of the Land Office of Maryland and in January, 1858, they removed to Annapolis where they resided for more than ten years before coming to Westminster.

During the first year of the Civil War the buildings of the United States Naval Academy and St. John's College were taken by the government for hospital purposes, and Mrs. Seabrook, in conjunction with Mrs. Brewer, wife of Judge Nicholas Brewer, became a daily visitor to the hospital wards, where she ministered unceasingly to the sick and wounded soldiers. Many a convalescent left the hospital invoking blessings on her head for her kindness, and the descent of many a soldier into the Valley and Shadow of Death was smoothed by her ministrations. She united with the Lutheran Church of Frederick about fifty five years ago and she and her husband were members of the church choir for several years. She was active in church work and an earnest member of the Woman's Missionary Society of Grace Church, this city.

Mrs. Seabrook was a daughter of the late Levin Thomas, of Frederick county, and came from a prominent St. Mary's county family, her grandparents having been Benjamin and Eleanor Wells Thomas, of the latter county, who removed after their marriage to Carroll's Manor, in Frederick county. On her mother's side she was a granddaughter of the late John Dill, who for many years owned the formerly well known Dill House, in Frederick. Many of her near relatives reside in Frederick and vicinity. Her husband and two sons—Rev. Wm. L. Seabrook, of Newberry, S. C., and Clarence Seabrook, connected with the Syracuse Journal, Syracuse, N. Y., survive her.

Funeral from the Lutheran Church, Frederick, upon the arrival of the train leaving Bruceville at 10 35 tomorrow morning. The only service at the house in this city will be at 8.30 tomorrow morning and will simply consist of a brief scripture lesson and prayer.

John H. Seabrook.

Mr. John H. Seabrook, only brother of the editor of the SENTINEL, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. W. Ross Graham, of Dayton, Ohio, in his 78th year. Mr. Seabrook was a native of Frederick county, and for many years was a teacher in the public schools of that county. He also taught the public school at Double Pipe Creek, in this county, for several years. He removed to Dayton about 1884 and his wife, who was Miss Mary M. Eichelberger, daughter of the late Joseph Eichelberger, of Frederick county, died at the former place, twenty years ago. He was a member of the Lutheran Church for more than sixty years.

He is survived by four sons and three daughters—Rev. J. William Seabrook, a prominent clergyman of the M. E. Church in Nebraska; J. Milton Seabrook, of Montgomery county, Ohio; Charles M. Seabrook, Mrs. W. Ross Graham, Mrs. David B. Johnson, of Dayton, Ohio; Guy E. Seabrook, of Springfield, Ohio, and Mrs. Clayton A. Musselwhite, of Lincoln, Neb.

Mrs. Ella R. Zinkhan.

Mrs. Ella R. Zinkhan, wife of Rev. L. F. Zinkhan, superintendent of the Asylum, Hospital and Workhouse, Washington, D. C., died at her home on the hospital grounds, on Tuesday, of acute indigestion. Mrs. Zinkhan was known to a number of the residents of this city. Her husband was formerly secretary of the Maryland Prisoners' Aid Society, and chaplain to the Maryland Penitentiary. He is a minister of the Reformed Church, and is also well known here. Mrs. Zinkhan was a native of Charlestown, Ohio, and was educated at Oberlin College. She was in her 53rd year. Her husband and two sons survive her.

Stephen Franklin.

Mr. Stephen Franklin, a farmer near Dennings, died at his home on Sunday, at the age of 70 years, 10 months, 19 days. Mr. Franklin was a member of St. James M. E. Church South and a worthy citizen. Politically he was a Democrat. He leaves a widow, 3 daughters and 2 sons. His funeral took place on Tuesday and his remains were interred in the burial ground of Bethel M. E. Church, Sams Creek. The pallbearers were Mr. Samuel Stuller, Mr. Brown, Messrs. Wm. Ecker, Charles Stem, Charles Bond, David E. Stem; funeral director, Mr. H. Bankard, of New Windsor.

Miss Mary Hawk.

Miss Mary Hawk died at the home of her niece, Mrs. David Currens, on the Littlestown turnpike, near this city, on Monday morning, 25th inst., aged 85 years, 4 mouths, 8 days. Funeral services were held at the house on Wednesday morning, by Rev. R. W. Doty, after which her remains were taken to Taneytown and interred in the burial ground of the Lutheran Church at that place. Mr. Jas. M. Stoner was funeral director.

John Senft.

Mr. John Senft, a former resident of this district, died in Baltimore, at the residence of his stepson, on the 17th inst., aged about 80 years. He leaves a widow who lives on the home place near the Washington turnpike, about 1 mile from this city. His remains were interred in Baltimore He had only been in Baltimore for a short time.

Mrs. Mary J. Sellers.

Mrs. Mary J., wife of Mr. Geo Sellers, near Brummel, died, at an early hour this morning, aged 64 years, 6 months and 4 days. She leaves no family except her husband. Interment at St. John's (Leister's) Cemetery Sunday morning. Mr. Jas. M. Stoner, funeral director.

Dr. Charles F. Smith.

Dr. Charles F. Smith, a veterinary surgeon, who was formerly associated with Dr. Harstone, of this city, and was well known here, died at his home at Hagerstown, of heart failure, Tuesday evening, aged 50 years. He was a native of Canada, but had been living in Hagerstown about 23 years.

Maryland Day at Sweet Air.

Sweet Air public school, taught by Mr. W. F. Bauruer, enjoyed quite a gala day Monday, 25th inst., the two hundred and seventy-third anniversary of the landing of Lord Baltimore upon the shores of our grand old commonwealth. The exercises opened about 1.30 with devotional services, followed by singing "Maryland My Maryland" by the school. After the reading of the subject matter prepared by the State Superintendent of schools, Prof. Stephens, and lecture on the same by the teacher, recitations, readings and patriotic songs, arranged by pupils and teacher, suitable to the occasion, were next in order. One of the most interesting features of the program was the quiz class, organized among the pupils for the purpose of questioning each other, and the teacher upon the many points not already understood, in reference to Maryland Day and other points of interest in the subject arranged by the State Superintendent, and, strange to say, many came from the smaller pupils of the lower grades showing the great interest taken in the celebration.

WEDDING BELLS.

Heird-Buckingham.

A very pretty home wedding was celebrated at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Buckingham, Green street, this city, on Wednesday night, when their only daughter, Miss Clara B., was married to Mr. Wm. H. Heird, of Rocky Ridge. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. L. F. Warner. The bride wore a gown of white and the groom the conventional black. A number of relatives and friends were present. Refreshments were served. The happy couple received the congratulations of their friends. They have gone on a trip for a few days. The groom is a telegraph operator on the line of the Western Md. Railroad.

Why does not our Mayor order the streets to be paved with cobble stones, thus ending such troublesome things as sink holes.

Wentz's Union Sunday School will be reorganized Sunday, April 7th, in the morning, but if weather should be unfavorable, it will be reorganized in the afternoon. There has been an active interest in the Sunday School for many years, and we hope for even a greater interest this coming summer.

Mr. Miller, our enterprising merchant, intends to have his additional storeroom 32x26 feet, ready for occupancy May 1st.

Services were held in the German Baptist meeting house here in town on Sunday afternoon. The weather was all that could be desired, and they had a crowded house.

The warm weather and winds are drying off the roads nicely. On Saturday Mr. Horatio Black with a load of hay got fast in the mud here in town. With the aid of rocks &c., he managed after some hard work to move on ward.

Silver Run Items.

This is flitting week for this vicinity, and a large number of changes are taking place, when all have moved fully one-third of the houses in our village will have new occupants.

Our village was startled on Tuesday when the news came of the accidental death of Wm. A. Myers, at York. Mr. Myers was a son of Jonas Myers, who resides about a mile east of this place, and was employed in the round-house of the Northern Central Railway, at York, Pa. About six o'clock Tuesday morning, he was at work in an ashpit and was struck by an engine. Just as an engine was being moved by another hostler, he was attracted by the ringing of the bell, and elevated his head to ascertain the cause, when he was beheaded. He was an estimable young man and was about 21 years of age. The funeral services were held in the Lutheran Church, Thursday morning, Rev. John O. Yoder officiating.

Services are being held in the churches here during this week, and interesting studies on the last days of our Saviour are being conducted. The Good Friday service in the Reformed Church was held at 10 A. M. The Easter services will be of an interesting character. The usual morning services will be conducted in both churches. In the Lutheran Church the Sunday School will have charge of the evening service and will render an interesting service. The Sunday School of the Reformed Church will render a service entitled "The Song of Immortality," at 2 30 P. M., on Sunday. This school has a number of instruments that add much to the rendering of their services.

Mrs. J. Harry Maus has been quite ill this week. The last reports are that she is somewhat improved.

The farmers are at work on the fields and active preparations for this year's crop are going on. Gardens too are being cultivated, and altogether the spring is pressing.

The changes of last summer in the rural free delivery of mails are not entirely satisfactory to this section of the county. More recent changes have improved the service somewhat, over that effective August 1st. The Littlestown connection is one of the most valuable features of the delivery, as it gives us delivery of mail in Baltimore and other nearby cities the same day. This connection is more frequently missed, owing to changes in route.

A nice wedding was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Wm. Graf, 1 mile S. W. of town, on Wednesday evening. The contracting parties were Miss Annie, twin daughter of Mrs. Graf, and Mr. Wm. Hersh, near town. Promptly at 8 P. M., the bride and groom accompanied by Miss Murdock, of Columbia, Pa., as bridesmaid and Mr. Horatio Riley as best man; marched into the parlors to the music of a wedding march played by Miss Laura R. Myers. They were met under a beautiful arch and a large Easter bell by the Rev. H. H. Flick, who performed the ritual ceremony and made them man and wife. Congratulations followed from the large company of relatives and friends. Later the guests were invited to the dining room where all enjoyed abundant refreshments. The parlor and dining room were profusely decorated in green and white. The bride received many beautiful and useful presents. The groom is one of our worthy young men who some years ago was among the writer's school boys, and he carries with him into matrimonial life my best wishes for a long and prosperous future.
