SIDE TWO

When Galloway returns send by him the cushions and driving box in the light wagon
Watson made a mistake & sent brother Matans to me - I will send them when I write to you
I despair of getting things all straight until we come down to the condition in which we came into the world and ~~which~~ in which we shall go out of it. What an intricate tangle is in the thread of life! I often think of the little things I was trying to attend to - the potato patch, the cranberries, the milking arrangements, and wonder how they do without me - perhaps better than if I was putting over them - In thinking of the future I always decide to keep hold of Billy at whatever I may cost us. I am glad to be able to hope Louisa is getting settled and will prove useful to you. But I hear Chester Morrill is much love you and prepare for him. With much love to all around you I am off. & very tenderly & fathers

Caspar Morrill
